PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St. directly opposite Creeman's store.

PAINTS.

THE LAW OF QUALITY IS AS SURE AS the law of Gravity. Gravity keeps both your feet on the ground. Quality informs your judgment when you are on the "Ground Floor" in the matter of value. Martin-Senour's Paint is the Ground Floor of paint value. It makes good every time. It flows freely, has great covering capacity, shows a beautiful finish, and wears like iron. It will more than meet your expectations in quality brilliancy and durability. Campbell & Best, 134 Hunter St. Next to post office.

HOMES FOR HONEST TOILERS, AND gardens to add to your income, and save your dollars. We have helped many to own their homes, and we will help you. Come in, pay a small deposit to which we add bonus, then prepare to plant garden and build house on our Easy Rent Plant. Others have done this and so can you. Late spring calls for prompt action. Our builders commence Monday 22nd. Your opportunity. Young men, buy our lots, as others have done, and save at least a part of what you earn. Even $5 per month saved, with increasing value of lots, will build up capital and start you on the road to riches. Gardens, all sizes, to rent. T. Hurley, cor. Stewart & Hunter.

FOR SALE—BUILDINGS WORTH $4,000 for $3,000. Lots worth $150 for $100. See Bell, cor. Braidwood and Park Sts. Phone 1281.

PORT MANN, B.C., CANADIAN NORTHern Pacific Coast terminus, attracting millions eastern and British capital. Property adjoining railway's holdings becoming very valuable. Quarter acre lots touching townsite five hundred to six hundred each, quarter cash. Island Investment Company, Limited, Vancouver.

WHILE YOU WORK AND WHILE YOU sleep.—Wage earners make money only while they work. My lot buyers make money while they sleep. Those who have bought from me during the past four years have made by increasing value of lots, more than 50 per cent per annum on the amount invested. And they are worth from $200 to $1200 to-day, because of having wisely imposed a "must" upon themselves to save a little of what they earned. Come in and let us show you a very easy way to do the same. Gardens: I know one man who planted 1 acre of onions, and sold his crop for $800 cash. Was that not making money while he slept? We can supply a few acres ploughed to men who would wish to do likewise. Also a larger place with good buildings and a large poultry plant. Immediate possession. Decide at once, and call for particulars. T. Hurley, corner Stewart and Hunter streets.

WE CAN GIVE YOU ABSOLUTE PROOF that the lots we offer inside the town limits of Edson at $40 each, on easy terms, are a money-making investment, offered below their real value: Edson is a divisional point on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a monthly pay roll of $40,000; Edson is the actual distributing point for the Peace River country, the Brazeau coal fields, and for two hundred miles west on the Canadian Northern; Edson is little more than a year old, and already has more than twelve hundred permanent residents; it costs you one cent to obtain illustrated booklet, and the above mentioned proof; mail us a postcard to-day. The Edson Point Company, 608 McIntyre Block, Winnipeg.

ST. ANNE'S PICTURE.

Combining the value of a rare old picture with the virtue of a sacred relic, what is known as "The Miracle Painting" hangs in the Basilica at the Shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre. This masterpiece was painted by Charles Le Brun for the Marquis de Tracey in the year 1615, and its recent restoration revives an interesting history of the votive offering to "La Bonne Ste. Anne."

The Marquis de Tracey was a special ambassador to New France sent out by Louis XV., and his mission was both political and for the purpose of obtaining accurate information as to the various intrigues that were disrupting the colony. He is said to have also made a voyage of discovery to Hudson Bay. During his stay at Quebec he desired to be cured of some long-endured malady, and with his countess made a devout pilgrimage to the famous shrine, which even in those remote days was deemed a place of wondrous miracles. So profound was his gratitude for benefits derived from this devotion, he forthwith announced his intention of donating an altar-piece to the shrine, a form of bequest much in favor at that time.

Charles Le Brun, the noted French artist, was at the zenith of his successful career as a painter of historical portraits and religious subjects. To him the marquis entrusted the commission for the altarpiece, specifying with much exactitude the composition of the painting. The central figures of Ste. Anne instructing the Blessed Virgin were to be copied from Ruben's original work, which is now in the Antwerp Gallery. The figure of Joseph was to be omitted. The portraits of the Count and Countess de Tracey were to be placed on either side, in attitudes of devotion, and depicted as pilgrims. The Eternal Father and angels and the dove descending were to be seen hovering above, and the coat of arms of the Tracey family was to be placed in the centre of the picture below. Le Brun has worked out this composition with wonderful fidelity, and now that the accumulated dirt of centuries has been removed, the details of the picture may be plainly seen. The painting was ordered in 1615, arriving at Ste. Anne the following year, and has since remained there as the altarpiece of the vestry.

Advice to Municipalities.

Frank advice to Canadian municipalities desiring to borrow in London is tendered by The Financial Times, in referring to the postponement of loans by the cities of Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto. The failure of the recent Vancouver issue to obtain public support is given as the principal reason for the postponement of these proposed loans and the cause of this fiasco as well as the difficulty now being experienced in placing Canadian municipal issues is stated to lie with the municipalities themselves, the reason being that the municipal authorities have a too exalted idea of their credit and are not disposed to listen to the advice constantly tendered by the financial agents.

"An instance of this," says The Financial Times, is provided by Montreal. In the early part of February, when Montreal was making enquiries about a new loan, the statement was made in the Montreal press that the Bank of Montreal, the city's financial agents in London, had stated that an issue of $5,000,000 of four per cent. stock could be made at 99 per cent., but the city authorities would not accept such a price, and the suggestion was made that a better price could be obtained in Paris.

"The policy which the Canadian municipalities have been pursuing is to give their loans to the highest bidder. It has been repeatedly pressed upon the municipalities that they should place themselves in the hands of their financial agents to do the best for them, instead of going outside, and they are now being forced to realise, to their own discomfiture, that it is better to follow their financial agent's advice."

Motoring Through Canada.

A recent issue of Lord Montagu of Beaulieu's paper, "The Car," contains a four-page article contributed by the Hon. Margaret Amherst, who recently made an extensive motor tour through the Dominion, accompanied by several well-known society folk, among whom was Mr. Evelyn Cecil, M.P., whose photographs illustrate the article. Alluding to the ubiquity of the motor car in Canada, the writer says:

"In Eastern cities it is natural enough, but in the West it is certainly surprising to find it in such general use. In Montreal, Toronto, and Ottawa, cars, with their 'hooters' and odor of petrol, are as much a feature of St. Catherine street, or Yonge street, or Wellington street, as of Piccadilly, and the smart appearance of their up-to-date bodies, occupied by chic and fashionable owners, is in no way behind that of their London contemporaries."

Getting Together.

While discussing church union one day recently, a clergyman told a good story about Rev. Dr. Carman, the veteran general superintendent of the Canadian Methodist Church.

Dr. Carman appeared at the Presbyterian General Assembly, bearing greetin from his church. He said: "Presbyterians and Methodists are getting very much alike. You Presbyterians believe in the Final Perseverance of the Saints, but you do not practice what you preach. We Methodists believe in falling from grace, and we live up to our creed. That gets us pretty close together, does it not?"

THE PRAIRIE BACHELOR.

In a part of the west which was virgin prairie six or seven years ago, and where the homesteads are still in all stages of infancy, the bachelor abounds. He has been in the country longer than the married man, and is still in the majority. Sometimes he has some of his own people living with him, or at least a sister, who "holds up" the feminine end of the establishment; but more often he lives alone, being his own housekeeper, cook, washer and baker, in fact, ministering to himself in all things. He has, therefore, many household duties to perform, as well as his day's work on the farm, so that his life is by no means an easy one.

To a man so situated, marriage would bring greater ease and comfort. It would relieve him of many small cares; but, then, a homesteader's wife has a hard time of it, and it may be that chivalrous considerations keep the homesteads so often without a mistress. The bachelor seems quite contented, and no more vulnerable in matter of love than a man who has more to divert his mind. Though the homesteader sees comparatively few women, he is fastidious enough in his ideas of them. He does not even strive for the favor of the fair by trying to look his best. As a rule, he surpasses the average man in height and good looks, generally, but he is as unconscious of this fact as he is of all the rules of becomingness. The laundryman and the clothes presser are far distant, and his own exertions do not extend to giving his garments that care which must be given if the wearer is to look spick and span. These words cannot often be used in describing this bachelor's appearance, and his attire frequently needs all the force of his good looks to carry it off. Indeed, girls, he is not the ready-made prey to your charms that you imagine him to be. So do not extend to him unbounded sympathy for his hardships and the desolateness of his home and his life. No doubt there are such drawbacks present, but he is accustomed to them.

After all, his activities are often only those demanded by the care of a one-roomed shack (of which, by a process of evolution, the house will be the final achievement). But it is said that the narrower the limits, the greater the difficulty in preserving order. Housekeeping bachelors here and there share this opinion, and are so fully convinced of its soundness that they forego all efforts towards tidiness.

But there are some, whether living in shacks or houses, whom no woman could rival in neatness and general domestic ability. They are good cooks, or are looked upon as such. But their reputation has been won by skill in a few simple lines. They attempt nothing elaborate. One of them has explained that recipes in cookery books bring with them a difficulty which baulks the bachelor at the very outset. The first direction is generally "Take a clean dish."

These men are as much addicted to visiting one another as were the three curates in "Shirley," with their perpetual "triangle of visits." It is generally on Sunday that the farmers seek each others' society, forming into twos and threes for the purpose. Sometimes they are five or six strong, yet they are received by an undismayed host. Probably, the fact is that he is well prepared for such an invasion, for it is usually the most capable who have the greatest number of guests. The unmarried homesteader who entertains is surely one of the most hospitable creatures on earth.

Seton a Success.

Ernest Thompson Seton, naturalist to the Government of Manitoba, and chief of the American Scouts, has been a huge success over in England. He has lectured, publicly and privately, a dozen times, and talked with such sound commonsense and acceptability that he has been received rather as an old friend than as a new acquaintance. His quaint enunciation, his imitation of birds and animals, his intimate knowledge of natural history and forest lore have proved most fascinating. The Countess of Carrick, among many others, has taken him up, and has introduced him to everybody worth knowing.

His books are selling by the thousand, and his unique personality gains him friends at every party he goes to. The other night he was at the House of Commons, listening to a coal strike debate, and he dined there in company with the Right Hon. John Burns.

Mr. Thompson Seton has spent a lot of time in several visits to the Zoological Gardens, and a keeper there, not knowing who he was, said to a friend:

"He is just wonderful, that chap; talks to the beasts as though he were one of them himself!"

An Anglo-Canadian Hostess.

Lady Kirkpatrick, who is now in the south of France, is one of the most prominent of Anglo-Canadian hostesses in London. Her connection with social circles in the metropolis, of course, dates from the time, when, as a girl, she made regular visits to that country. Like so many other Canadian ladies, she has succumbed to the charms of the capital, and for some years has made it her residence. Many of the intellectual leaders of Britain and Canada are to be met at her flat in Hyde Park Gate.

Never a Goose Quill.

Only one hitch occurred a few days ago when the West Indies treaty was being finally agreed to. It is customary to sign the treaty with a goose quill, but none could be found. An armed policeman was sent through the city of Ottawa, but searched in vain, with the result that an ordinary pen performed the deed. H.R.H. the Governor-General made a happy speech to the representatives of the two countries after the ceremony of signing had been concluded.

The Prussian Landtag may throw Socialists out the door; but they will probably be voted back through the window.

THE TIMES "Want" Page has passed the experimental stage; its success is now assured. A word to the wise is sufficient.

WILL RUN A FARM.

Earl of Clarendon's Heir Arrives In New Canadian Home.

Lord Hyde, only son and heir of the Earl of Clarendon, his wife, and their two children, the Hon. George Villiers, six, and the Hon. Joan Villiers, three, and Lord Somers, Lady Hyde's brother, have arrived in Canada where they will take up life on a farm.

"It's out of old England and back to the land," he laughed.

Lord Hyde, who is thirty-five years old, told how he expected to till the soil and make a living for himself and family on a 207-acre farm in Pickering, Ont., twenty miles from Toronto.

Both he and Lord Somers are over six feet high, and are splendid specimens of manhood.

"And I shall do my own work, too," said Lady Hyde. "We have brought two servants, but we shall dismiss them, and all the work about the farm house will devolve on me. I can do it. We shall keep only one man, and he will help with the rough work on the farm."

As she spoke Lady Hyde laughed often. She seemed delighted with the back-to-the-soil idea and the prospect of doing the cooking, washing, and ironing and house cleaning.

"Our departure seems to be part of a general exodus from England, due to the present system of taxation," said Lord Hyde. "Canada is very strict about immigrants, and sends back all ne'er-do-wells, so in time, if everybody who was fit emigrated from England only the unfit would be left there.

"I'm a tariff reformer. I believe that Joseph Chamberlain years ago advocated the only practicable thing for the real Englishman, whom everybody wants in the country."

When asked to tell about the farm, he replied:

"My brother-in-law, Lord Somers of Herefordshire, bought the farm last fall, and is there now. There is no house on it, but I have rented an empty house in Pickering, and we shall have to build our farm house.

"No, we are not going in for any especial crop. We shall raise fruit, wheat, and garden truck. When we have developed into real farmers it is likely we shall buy another farm."

"But was the system of taxation the thing that caused you to leave England?" was asked.

"No; there was another reason. One's money can be put out at larger interest in Canada than in England. Besides, I think it will be healthy for the children to have the outdoor life that will be their's on the farm.

"My son will go back to school in the winter, and we too shall return to London when the winter comes on."

While Lord Hyde was discussing his plans Lady Hyde stood between the children. With a hand on either of the children, she suddenly said:

"We are going to teach our children to forget the titles of aristocracy and buckle down to hard work."

Thomas Parr.

Among the extraordinary cases of longevity on record and well attested is that of the Englishman, Thomas Parr, who lived happily in Shropshire at the age of 152. The celebrated Harvey, who dissected him after death, found his body in excellent condition and stated that had it not been for his intemperance he might have lived much longer.

A Double Request.

"I am," replied the gentleman addressed. "What can I do for you?"

"Firstly, what will dissolve a chunk of lead in the human stomach? Secondly, won't you please refrain from publishing recipes for plum pudding hereafter?"

Standard of Musical Value.

The Beater of the Brass Drum—Unimpordent instrument? Himmel! Ven a violin maigs a misdaig, who knows? But ven de pig drum maigs a liddle misdaig eferybody knows.

A Poser.

Tommy—Say, pop.

Tommy's Pop—Well, what is it now?

Tommy—If heaven is a place of perfect peace where do all the policemen go when they die?

Hindu Weddings.

At every well-regulated Hindu wedding a fire has to be lighted in honor of Agni, the fire god.

Friendly Aid.

Jinks—See here, old boy! You ought to do something to reduce your flesh. You are becoming fearfully stout.

Minks—Say, Jinks, you are about the fortieth friend who has made that offensive remark to-day, and I'm getting tired of it. It worries me.

Jinks—That's all right. Worry reduces flesh.

Interpreted.

At the top of the steeple of a Fredericton, N.B., Methodist church, built in 1851, is a golden hand. The hand is closed save that one finger points upward. And the interpretation put upon the position of the fingers is: One points to Heaven, the others to—well, downward.

Heredity.

First Speculator—I must tell of such a cute thing my little boy did the other day.

Second Ditto—What was it?

First Speculator—I took him out in the country to the farm of a friend, and the first thing he did was to ask to see all the lambs in a corner.

Looked Suspicious.

The Stranger—Are you quite sure that was a marriage license you gave me last month?

The Official—Of course! What's the matter?

The Real Danger.

"That's nothing," he said. "The thing that bothers me is what my wife will do to me when I get home."

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:—AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:
T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sloman Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:
18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ...	$27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year	7,000.00
Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital.	$20,000.00

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application, 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved; the application lists may be closed without notice.

WHY LIVING IS DEAR.

When one has to pay exorbitant prices for everything one eats, the natural question is "Why?" To solve the prices of expensive for beef and eggs at any old price, one would naturally look to the prairies where cattle graze and chickens abound. Still, here is what a far Western paper says:

"The real explanation of the increased cost of living has been discovered. It is not the fault or greediness of the middleman in 'cornering' products. It is something far more simple and decisive. It is nature herself who is at fault. Butter, eggs and potatoes are dear because spring is a month behind her time. Nature is guilty. Beef and lamb are skyhigh in price, because the grain crop was so short that it is now near the top notch figure on the markets. Nature again! This discovery will be gratifying to the ultimate consumer. He has not been helped by the flood of talk of soaring prices. He has received no benefit from certain suggestions of combines. The corner grocer has stated that he is hardly making a living, even if his prices took a further ascent. The commission merchant and the wholesaler in various lines have eloquently affirmed that their business is going to the dogs, and that they are not making enough to pay them for their work. The beef barons have testified that they are not profiting by sudden and amazing rises in prices of meats, for they had to pay so much more to the rancher for meat on the hoof. And the rancher and the farmer in turn testified that they were being squeezed in the economic press, and that the profits were being distributed amongst the dealers."

TROUBLESOME GREASERS.

Those gentlemen with the broad silver-striped trousers, $50 somberos and swarthy complexions certainly seem to raise as much noise for their size and numbers as so many blue-bottle flies in an empty sugar barrel.

A single, united uprising against a government may be respected as a popular revolution against abuses or against an intolerable despotism. But when a number of insurgent chieftains arise, wrangling and fighting among themselves as well as against the general government, the inevitable presumption is that no principle is at issue, but that the insurgents are animated by sordid personal motives. We were told that all Mexico was united in support of Madero against President Diaz. But there soon arose a rebellion against him. Then we were told that all Mexico was united in supporting Gomez against Madero. But now there is a revolt against Gomez, and we must suppose that if he were to be installed in President Madero's place, he would have a revolution to face just as Madero has.

In brief, the old Mexican spirit of revolution for revolution's sake seems to be in the saddle again, and to threaten serious mischief. It is, as the New York Tribune declares, a melancholy spectacle, and disappointing to the world, which hoped that the work of President Diaz would prove to be substantial and permanent. But, bad as it is, there is at least still hope that Mexico will keep her troubles within her own bounds and not so implicate the interests of this or any other nation as to give a plausible pretext for any form or degree of intervention.

A REMARKABLE PROPHECY

A remarkable prophecy of the breach between Taft and Roosevelt, now commanding the attention of the United States, appeared in the Farm and Fireside, a well-known agricultural paper of the President's State, in June, 1908, long before Mr. Taft has been elected to the presidency. It is worth reproducing here:

"Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft," said the Farm and Fireside's seer, "will agree much better at the beginning of Mr. Taft's administration than at the close always assuming a Taftier triumph at the November polls.

"The two will go apart. The difference will not mean that Mr. Taft has been either ungrateful or treacherous, or Mr. Roosevelt overarrogant in his demands. 'President Taft'—and in all honesty, too—will be a vastly different individual from 'Candidate Taft.' Now he is the clay; Mr. Roosevelt is the potter. Now he has hopes; then he will have fears. Now he possesses ambitions; then he will face responsibilities.

"Some fine day, should Mr. Taft be in the White House, Mr. Roosevelt—ardent, not keen as to what sure changes ever attend upon 'before' and 'after'—will enter a protest or prefer a request. 'President Taft'—doing his friendly best—will not be able to entertain the one or grant the other. Mr. Roosevelt—doing his friendly best—will not be able to see why. Both men are fine enough to be sensitive, young enough to be angry. And so, in mutual misunderstanding our Damon and Pythias of politics, our modern Jonathan and David, will separate; and what places in politics have known them in their intimacies, their co-partnerships, will so know them no more forever."

If the political historians are to be believed the breach began before Mr. Roosevelt surrendered the reins to a man he had nominated and elected and left Washington. It started, just as the Ohio paper forecasted, in the unwillingness of Mr. Taft to accede to Mr. Roosevelt's requests, and, widening almost as soon as the President was inaugurated with the sidetracking of Mr. Roosevelt's friends, it has become an unbridgable chasm.

When Nostrils are Plugged Your Catarrh is Bad

BY ACTING TO-DAY YOU CAN QUICKLY CURE CATARRH AND AVOID BRONCHITIS, PERHAPS CONSUMPTION.

Most Agreeable and Surest Cure is Catarrhozone, Which Cures Every Curable Case.

Catarrhozone proves especially good in those cases where mucuous drops down the throat, sickens the stomach and pollutes the breath. When the nostrils are stuffed, only a few breaths through the inhaler are needed to clear the passages, and where there is coughing and sore bronchial tubes the soothing, healing properties of Catarrhozone act almost as magic.

Once you stop taking medicine into the stomach and get the healing oils and pure balsams of Catarrhozone at work you can be sure of quick and lasting cure for nose colds, catarrh weak lungs, bronchitis and speaker's sore throat.

13 YEARS OF CATARRH CURED.

"As Catarrhozone has cured me of a Catarrhal Cough and Asthma that lasted thirteen years, I feel I can honestly recommend it. I really used all kinds o medicine, but Catarrhozone was the only one that did any real good. I am entirely cured—have no cough, no bad breathing spells, not a sign of a cold or catarrh about me. But I will always occasionally use 'Catarrhozone' as I prize it so highly."

Mrs. E. L. Osgood, Johnson P. O., Ont.

The complete $1.00 outfit of Catarrhozone is sufficient for 2 months' treatment, and is guaranteed. Smaller size 50c at all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Editorial Notes

If any suffragette throws her hat into the ring you can bet your money it will be one that has been out of fashion for several years.

The announcement of another advance of meat prices is a notification to the people that they will be granted the privilege of paying the expense of the packers' trial.

A Confederate Veteran in Arkansas has just married his tenth wife. It is safe to say that the Civil War was a merry picnic compared to the scrimmages that man has gone through.

"I'm being hit below the belt," exclaims the Hon. Bill Taft. "I never squeal when I'm hit" replies the Hon. Ted Roosevelt. This elegant language indicated the plane upon which the presidential campaigns of the future will be pitched.

Having announced that the nomination of the Hon. Champ Clark for President is assured, the Hon. Willie Hearst, the "angel" of the Speaker's campaign, is now fussing about to see whom he had better nominate for Vice-President.

It doesn't sound well for the Hon. Bill Taft, President of the United States, to exclaim, "Even a cornered rat will fight." But it is a frank admission that the Hon. Ted Roosevelt has chased the Hon. Bill into a very tight place, and is glaring at him savagely.

A New York man who became entangled in some live wires and was shocked into unconsciousness says that death by electrocution is painless. This will be pleasing news for those inmates of the penitentiaries who will soon be invited to take a seat in a peculiarly constructed chair.

Colonel Watterson, who is wont to fix the status of public men with surprising grace and fidelity, has informed the country that the Hon. Ted. Roosevelt is a maniac. But it was only a month or two ago that the Louisville Courier-Journal said: "Colonel Watterson's friendship for Theodore Roosevelt has been abundantly shown in these columns."

Mme. Mary Duclaux has one of the most famous salons in Paris. She may be little known among the theatrical folk or among the gay society set, but in the intellectual circles her fame is great, and scholars go to her drawing room, for there they are sure they will meet the greatest intellects of the day. Though Mme. Duclaux is fifty-five years old she is young in looks, and in spirit. She still retains the poetic emotions that characterized her when, as a girl in her teens, she began to write verse. Born in England, her maiden name was Mary Anderson, and as such she generally is known in the English speaking world.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, May 15.—Comprehensive reports indicating a material improvement in winter wheat since May and predicting that the June statement from the federal government would show a high condition for the spring crop, caused a sharp break in the wheat market to-day. Latest trading left prices heavy, ⅜c to 1⅜c under last night. Corn finished ⅛c lower to ⅛c up; oats, off ⅛c to ¼c to ½c, and provisions varying from 10c down to 5c up.

Liverpool wheat closed ½d higher to ¼d lower than yesterday, and corn ½d lower. Berlin wheat closed ⅝c lower and Buda-Pest, ⅜c lower.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 15.—At Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the receipts for the week ending May 11 were 950 cattle, 400 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 2100 calves. The offerings on the market this morning were 400 cattle, 150 sheep and lambs, 900 hogs and 1000 calves.

Owing to the very limited supply of cattle again the market was stronger and prices scored another advance of 25c per cwt., which was due to the fact that butchers generally were short of supplies of beef and in consequence the demand was brisk and the competition very keen between buyers.

The demand for sheep and lambs was keen, the offerings being limited. The market for hogs was firmer, but prices were unchanged with sales of selected lots at $9.25 to $9.50 per cwt.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 15.—Cattle—Receipts 50; market active, strong; prime steers, $8.40 to $8.80, butcher grades, $6 to $8.25.

Calves—Receipts, 700; market, active, 25c higher, cull to choice, $5.25 to $9.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 10,000; market slow, 15c to 25c lower; choice lambs, $9 to $9.25; cull to fair, $6.50 to $8.90; yearlings, $7.25 to $7.75, sheep, $3.50 to $6.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 2550; market, fairly active, 5c to 10c lower, yorkers, $8.05 to $8.10, pigs, $7.10 to $7.30, mixed, $8.15 to $8.20; heavy, $8.20; roughs, $7 to $7.25; stags, $6 to $6.25.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, May 15.—Cattle—Receipts, 15,000, market strong, beeves, $6.10 to $9.30; Texas steers, $5.90 to $7.60; western steers, $6.10 to $7.85; stockers and feeders, $4.30 to $7; cows and heifers, $3 to $7.80; calves, $5.30 to $8.10.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 9000; market weak; native, $3.75 to $6.25; western, $4 to $6.25; yearlings, $4 to $7.25. Lambs, native, $5 to $8.90; western, $3.75 to $8.90.

Cheese Markets.

MADOC, May 15.—There were 400 cheese boarded; all sold at 12⅝c.

Guelph's New Y. M. C. A.

Guelph, May 16.—The corner-stone of the new $50,000 Y. M. C. A. building for Guelph was laid yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large crowd of prominent citizens. J. G. Lyon occupied the chair, and the stone was laid by W. E. Buckingham, who has taken the lead in the movement, and to whom much of the success is due. The building will likely be completed this fall.

Two Conservationists.

"Nothing lost here but the squeal," declared the pork packer. "Are you as economical in conducting your business?"

"Just about," answered the visitor. "I'm in the lumber business. We waste nothing but the bark."

British Business Methods.

"Has your son brought back any business methods from London?"

"Oh, yes. He thinks we ought to serve tea afternoons and that all the stenographers ought to be blonds."

Up to Date.

"Yes, and they are using last year's Dreadnoughts for targets."

THE CHINESE HOME.

Some of the Curious Details of Oriental Wall Within Wall Life.

It is difficult for the occidental mind to picture the wall within wall life of a Chinese home. Down a narrow lane one passes between two walls behind which may be hovels or palaces, there is no telling which, since the one story roofs beyond ar invisible.

One pulls a string at a gateway, the address of some family of high degree. A servant appears, leads through another gateway, a flowery courtyard, a passageway, perhaps another courtyard, a little room or two and finally into a reception room, with its carved wood wainscoting and furniture, its porcelains and jades and brasses, its blue and green and gold ceiling and its window pattern of paper panes.

Here the hostess appears, offers her occidental guest tea or champagne, or both, with cakes and candied fruit or lotus buds. Then she may lead one through other courtyards, all with the usual one story rooms around them, and into her secluded garden of rocks and pools or pretty paths and bridges, of clustering trees and flowers.

In such a palace as this each courtyard, with its surrounding rooms, may be the special home of one of the sons and his wife and children but somewhere in the maze of walls, under one of the low tiled roofs, is the common dining room, with the kitchen beyond. Here the men of the family eat together twice a day, and afterward the women and children. And somewhere also there is a central family hall, with the ancestral tablets, which must have their tribute of incense at proper seasons. These are held in such reverence that no foot may pass above them and therefore two story dwellings are unknown in regions uncontaminated by foreign influence.

A Czar's Tips.

Some Czars of Russia have shown themselves very lavish with the unlimited income they draw from their subjects. When Nicholas I. visited Windsor Castle for four days in June, 1844, he left a tip of $5,000 for the housekeeper and gave her an additional $10,000 to distribute among the servants. Each of the principal members of the royal household received a gold snuffbox, with the Czar's picture set in diamonds, valued at $2,500. For distribution among the minor officials, according to Sir Charles Murray, there was left with the Lord Chamberlain "literally a sackful of rings, watches, pins and brooches." Altogether, his stay at the castle cost Nicholas about $50,000. — London Chronicle.

BRIGHTER THAN OUR SUN.

None of the modern incandescent, arc or other lights are hail as wonderful as the light that nature provides at all times. There are in the sky many lights that the layman has never heard of that are brighter than the sun. Many of these are noted for the brilliancy of their color and the range of their variations.

For instance, there is a star named Delta Cephei, which in the course of about three days alternately gains and loses a large part of its light. The spectroscope has proved that Delta Cephei consists of two stars revolving around one another, much like a pair of double pinwheels, although they never get far enough apart to be separately visible from the earth.

Even when viewed with a telescope their light is blended into a single star disk, although if we could go near enough to them we should find that they are in reality millions of miles apart. When brightest the united light of the twin stars is two or three times greater than when faintest.

One of the explanations offered by astronomers to account for these changes is that one of the stars composing Delta Cephei has a very thick atmospheric veil, consisting of clouds of condensed metallic vapors, and that when the stars draw near one another in their orbital motion the increase of heat dissipates the obscuring veil and permits the star to which it belongs to shine with a splendor that it cannot obtain when its rays are interrupted by its envelope of clouds.

It is difficult to believe that inhabited worlds could exist in the neighborhood of such a pair of suns as that.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Dredging, Sault Ste Marie, Ont.," will be received until 4 p.m. on Monday, May 20, 1912, for dredging required at Sault Ste Marie in the Province of Ontario.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained on application to the Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the work. Dredges and tugs not owned and registered in Canada shall not be employed in the performance of the work contracted for. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for five per cent (5 per cent) of the contract price which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract, when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of Mr. W. J. Press, Mechanical Engineer, Ottawa, Ont. Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners. Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for an amount equal to ten per cent (10p.c.) of the amount of the tender.

By order,

P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

Dated Ottawa this 1 day of May, 1912.
Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from the Commissioners will not be paid for it.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Wharf or Retaining Wall at Owen Sound, Ont." will be received at this office until 4.00 p.m., on Tuesday, June 4, 1912, for the construction of a Wharf or Retaining Wall at Owen Sound, Grey County, Ont.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the offices of J. G. Sing, Esq., District Engineer, Confederation Life Building, Toronto, Ont.; H. J. Lamb, Esq., District Engineer, Windsor, Ont., and on application to the Postmaster at Owen Sound, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupation and place of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable, the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

By order,

R. C. DESROCHERS,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, May 6, 1912.

Newspapers will not be paid for this advertisement if they insert it without authority from the Department.

SPIES AND ESPIONAGE

INFORMERS HAVE ALWAYS BEEN REGARDED WITH ODIUM.

Moses Started the Business So Far as History Is Concerned—Testimony of the Traitor Is Always Taken With Suspicion—Spies' Work Before Bonaparte's Threatened Invasion of England Cause Excitement

The alleged spies who have provided "copy" of international interest for newspaper readers during recent months were following an occupation of very ancient origin; for did not Moses "by commandment of the Lord" send out twelve spies into the land of Canaan? "To spy" nowadays is a term of almost reproachful meaning. In dictionary language it means "to search by artifice."

But there is a second class of spy—the traitor, to wit; and the man who pursues this calling is invariably considered to have no shreds of honor left—a being belonging to the dregs of society—a creature without shame. Yet the nations of the world place much reliance on spies and traitors, especially in war. For it must be remembered that there are, besides the spies of the army and navy—euphemistically embraced in the "Intelligence Department"—the spies of politics, of police, and other circles.

Informers have been regarded with odium since the palmy days of Athens, and in latter-day Ireland the reputation of being an informer meant that the person concerned was excommunicated from association with large numbers of people. "Approvers" are in English law persons who have been the accomplice of a criminal, but who are brought forward as witness against that offender.

To be an approver to-day is literally to "turn King's evidence"; but the testimony of a traitor is always accepted with a measure of suspicion. Nevertheless, Governments, the world over, encourage the traitor and the spy — or execute him; it depends whether he is "for" or "against" the Government that finds him in possession of valuable facts.

The Government of Britain has about $175,000 a year at disposal for Secret Service Money; and in the case of Le Caron, who was prominent in the memorable Parnell case of 1889, no doubt the authorities thought their outlay had been judicious. He kept the Government in touch with all that was going on in the Fenian organization — the United Brotherhood or Clan na Gael; and three years later wrote a book entitled "Twenty-five Years in the Secret Service."

Le Caron lived to tell the tale. Other spies have not been so fortunate. John Andre, a traitor to Benedict Arnold, was a prominent personage amongst the "haut ton" of Philadelphia when the British army was there in 1777-8, but two years later he suffered death by hanging. It was poor consolation to have a monument erected at Westminster by order of the King; but these facts show that even traitors may be esteemed by somebody.

In war the spy, however, is regarded as a paradox—useful, but not highly honored. He was cunning and capable on behalf of the Japanese in their war with Russia, and he played no small part in the lamented Boer war in the first year of this century. It is odd that the use of the spy is allowed by the Law of Nations, and a general is not less reputable for employing him; but the "medium" carries his life in his hands, though his financial reward may be great.

When found out, he meets an end ignominious and merciless. A fine line is drawn between spy and non-spy. Whether in uniform or otherwise man found in the enemy's camp must give a good account of himself, or he is marked as a spy, with the prospect of being shot or hung. His life may depend on the ingenuity with which he answers questions. He must be audacious and fearless. The traitor is neither; he sells his country, and his benefactors for money.

Long before Boneparte's threatened invasion of England became a bogey that drove thousands within England into insomnia, and his spies were picking up all the news they could, there had been other scouts at work. Between 143 and 145 years ago, schemes were drafted on the continent with a view to England coming under the thumb of one power or another, and "intelligence" was garnered in plenty.

These were the days of the first Earl of Chatham; and in his papers (according to a communication from Miss Mary Morison to the Royal Historical Society), there have been found some relating to a Scottish spy, a military expert, who had been in the pay of the Minister of War in France. The northern traitor was engaged to make a minute inspection of the southern coast, and pick up every possible detail as to the best route for an invading army to reach London, the ultimate or chief objective of the continental enemy.

We now know what the Scotsman compiled for those who were willing to purchase his treacherously-gained knowledge. He drew up such a detailed map of the country between the Thames and La Manche that after advocating Deal as the landing place, he indicated not only villages and hamlets, but also farms, and the amount of transport and provisioning that would be suitable to his scheme.

The spy-traitor went further; he showed how our scattered garrisons could not quickly be mobilized, he held our militia up to opprobrium in these terms—they "only assembled once a year under officers ignorant of the art of war"; he sneered at the puerility of their drill, and recommended that 4,000 French Grenadiers would be quite sufficient to decimate all the militia in England.

"Un peuple mou"—a soft race—was his epithet upon Englanders; they were ignorant of arms, and "cared only for commercial gain." And still Britain is printed [illegible] the [illegible]

Carborundum In Furnaces.

Carborundum, the artificial substitute for emery, which is said to rival the diamond in hardness, is employed because of its extraordinary resistance to heat as a coating for the interior of furnaces. Finely powdered and made into a paste, it is applied with a brush, like paint, to the brick lining. It is said that a layer of only two millimeters in thickness will protect the bricks from the effects of the highest temperature that is produced in ordinary furnace combustion.

Carborundum is itself a product of the electric furnace, being composed of silica and carbon fused in the presence of salt and sawdust.

THE IDLE CLASS.

Those Who Compose It Found Among Rich and Poor Alike.

Whether we agree with what men accounted the world's greatest thinkers have had to say on various subjects of interest to us all is a question each of us has the blessed privilege of deciding for himself. But it doesn't hurt any of us to learn the points of view maintained by thinkers who at least have the faculty enjoyed by very few of us — that of expressing themselves plainly and saying exactly what they want to say. No man was more gifted in this direction than the great Ruskin and the following little talk on work and what it really means is quite worth while, however much the younger generation may look upon the great writer, along with others of his day, as a back number.

There are, says Ruskin, idle poor and idle rich; and there are busy poor and busy rich. Many a beggar is as lazy as if he had $10,000 a year; and many a man of large fortune is busier than his errand boy, and never would think of stopping in the street to play marbles. So that, in a large view, the distinction between workers and idlers, as between knaves and honest men, runs through the very heart and innermost economies of men of all ranks and in all positions.

There is a working class — strong and happy — among both rich and poor; there is an idle class—weak, wicked and miserable — among both rich and poor. And the worst of the misunderstandings arising between the two orders come of the unlucky fact that the wise of one class habitually contemplate the foolish of the other.

If the busy rich people watched and rebuked the idle rich people, all would be right; and if the busy poor people watched and rebuked the idle poor people, all would be right. But each class has a tendency to look for the faults of the other. A hard-working man of property is particularly offended by an idle beggar; and an orderly, but poor, workman is naturally intolerate of the licentious luxury of the rich. And what is severe judgment in the minds of the just men of either class becomes fierce enmity in the unjust—but among the unjust only.

None but the dissolute among the poor look upon the rich as their natural enemies, or desire to pillage their house and divide their property. None but the dissolute among the rich speak in opprobrious terms of the vices and follies of the poor.

Boiled Salad Dressing.

The following boiled dressing is very nice with tomato jelly, fish salads and fresh green salad herbs and with a bit of onion or cress makes a delicious filling for sandwiches; it may also be used on bread or rolls when a butter famine shoots up prices: Beat two eggs together, add a tiny pinch of salt, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, half a scant teaspoonful of ground mustard and half a cupful of milk. Mix well and then stir in a quarter of a cupful of vinegar. Cook the mixture until it thickens, taking care to stir it constantly to prevent curdling. Upon removing from the fire let it cool and then add a few drops of olive oil.

A Russian Sentry.

In 1859 the Russian Emperor saw a soldier in the middle of a grass plot in the palace grounds. Why was there a daily guard, relieved at stated intervals? No one knew. Curiosity was aroused, and at last a veteran was discovered who remembered hearing his father say that the Empress Catherine — she died in 1727 — once saw a snowdrop in bloom at that point unusually early and asked that a guard be stationed there to protect it. And there a sentinel remained for at least 132 years; no one knew how much longer.

Horses In Battle.

Arabian horses show remarkable courage in battle. It is said that when a horse of his breed finds himself wounded and knows instinctively that he will not be able to carry his rider much longer he quickly retires, bearing his master to a place of safety while he has yet sufficient strength. But if, on the other hand, the rider is wounded and falls to the ground the faithful animal remains beside him, unmindful of danger, neighing until assistance is brought.

Ziem and His Models.

When in Venice Ziem, the artist, finding that the native women disliked posing for artists, hired a shop and stocked it with trinkets and cheap jewelry. While his agent bargained with the customers Ziem, hidden away in the back of his shop, made sketches, not caring what his stock was sold for provided only the haggling over it occupied plenty of time.

Doubtful.

"They tell me," said little Binks, "that chauffeurs as a class are very superstitious. I wonder if it is true?"

"I doubt it," said Harkaway. "They don't believe in signs, anyhow. We have a sign up at Squeehawkett reading, 'Speed limit in this town eight miles,' and not one chauffeur in a hundred pays any attention to it."

Evidence.

"What makes you think our great public men don't work as hard as they used to?"

"By the photographs," replied Farmer Corntossel. "When I was a young feller the big men in politics didn't take near as much time to get shaved and have their hair cut."

The Practical Girl.

He—You are the prettiest girl I ever saw.

She—That sounds all right, but I don't know how much the compliment is worth until you tell me how many pretty girls you have seen.

The Pulgat.

Terror-Stricken Paris.

Paris, the beautiful capital of France, is terror-stricken by a sudden increase of crime of all sorts from thievery to murder. Many citizens are afraid to go upon the streets after dark, fearing some violence to themselves or that their homes may be broken into and robbed during their absence. The resources of the police department are being taxed to their utmost and yet the wave of crime sweeps onward.

With murders, robberies and assaults of almost hourly occurrence, and many suicides as well, no part of the city seems to be immune from this strange outbreak. The most restricted aristocratic boulevards and the vilest alley in the city are alike the scenes of violence in the present crisis. From the wealthy Champs Elysee to the poorest district of Montmartre every quarter has been visited. The fashionable Bois de Boulogne has been the scene of one murder and a double suicide already this year.

Ever since the daring daylight robbery some time ago of a bank messenger by highwaymen in an automobile, who escaped after a running battle with the crowd, this epidemic of violence and crime has raged.

An apartment in the Champs Elysee, just above that occupied by Jas. Gordon Bennett, was visited early in the week by thieves, who got plunder valued at several thousand dollars. It is only one among hundreds of other cases that might be mentioned.

Flexible English.

Some of the peculiarities of the English language are amusingly shown in the following little dialogue:

"You'll get run in," said a pedestrian to a wheelman without a light.

"You'll get run into," savagely responded the cyclist as he knocked the pedestrian down.

"You'll get run in, too," said a policeman, stepping from behind a tree.

And just then another scorcher came along without a light so the policeman ran in two.—London Mail.

His Literary Taste.

The young man looked about the book department in some dismay.

"What you got in good stories?" he asked.

"Here is an excellent romance—a detective story," replied the brisk young woman. "I'm quite sure you will like it."

The young man looked doubtful.

"It's got a red cover," he said, "an' th' last book in a red cover I read was punk. Ain't you got nothin' in green?"

Local People to Visit the West.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Belleghem leave next month for Edmonton, Alberta, where they will be the guests of their daughter Mrs. (Dr.) Prust. Dr Prust, since going to that city, has not only done a lucrative practice, but has made some good real estate transactions. As an instance, the doctor a short time ago, purchased three lots in Edmonton for $1500, that he recently disposed of for $6,000.

LADIES OF THE CABINET.

In Ottawa the queens of society reign not, as in some cities, by virtue of the possession of great wealth, but by right of political leadership of their husbands or fathers; and perhaps this acts to some extent as a check upon the inclination (so generally prevalent) toward display in dress, household management and the exercise of hospitality. If ambitious, either for herself or for her husband, the Ottawa woman has other outlets for her energy than mere efforts to outshine her neighbors in the gorgeousness of her apparel or the splendor of her entertainments; and behind the gaieties which keep society at the capital in a whirl for the first few months of each year there is often much of a serious purpose. It is the nature of women, even in this age when in unprecedented numbers they are engaging in independent enterprises, to be intensely interested in the interests of those dear to them, and in political circles the women most averse to entering what they regard as the "province of man" cannot hold entirely aloof from the keen and exciting and unceasing contest of politics. It is impossible that they should not take sides, but, if it is done tactfully and without bitterness, even an opponent likes, I believe, to see a wife standing staunchly by her husband, unceasingly caring for the interests he has at heart, and helping him, in ways old or new, as a woman can.

Whatever idea one may hold on the question of "woman's sphere" in general, one is bound from the nature of the case to take what may be called an old-fashioned view of the leading women at Ottawa. To the outside world they are, first and foremost, the wives or daughters of the Honorable Minister of this or that Department; and as their parts are largely played within the sanctity of home it is less easy to write of them than it would be of their husbands—public men whose public work is not in the least injured by the utmost possible amount of limelight.

Even a glimpse into the lives led by the Government ladies whilst at Ottawa suggests that for part, if not all, of the year they must be very busy women. For instance, take the matter of receptions alone. During the season the wives of the Cabinet Ministers receive on Monday afternoons; and the number of their callers mounts far into the hundreds. It is not obligatory to return these calls, but I was told that this year they had resolved to do so. When, however, one lady had nine hundred callers and another sixteen hundred (with several reception days still to come) it became manifest that to return in person the visits of all these was impossible. And, of course, there are in addition a multiplicity of other social functions, such as dinners and luncheons, at-homes and bridges, to take the time and strength of the social leaders, whether as guests or hostesses.

Many of the ladies belong by birth and education to the two old provinces which were the first to bear the name of Canada. Ontario is represented by Mrs. Sproule, the wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons, at whose table (it is of real interest to know) wine never appears, and also by half a dozen of the Ministers' wives.—Emily P. Weaver in The Saturday Globe.

Passed the Third Degree.

When he was a member of the House of Commons, no one was more fond of referring contemptuously to the "old ladies of the Senate" than Rufus Pope. Despite the fact that he was one of the principal insurgents against the leadership of Mr. Borden while the Conservative party was in the cold shades of Opposition, the new Premier heaped coals of fire upon the head of his "quondam" follower by making him a member of the Senate to succeed the late Senator Baker. Pope went into the Senate filled with all kinds of ideas respecting the reform of the Upper Chamber. He was going to make them sit up and take notice. The days went by, however, and the innocent ones who believed in the professions of practical politicians looked daily for the Pope bomb to burst and shatter the doom of the red chamber. Nothing happened, however, until one day Senator Tom Davis from Prince Albert found the "would-be reformer" fast asleep in his chair while Sir Richard Cartwright was fulminating against protection. Davis shook him, and grasping his hand said:

"Welcome, Rufus, old man. Now I know that you are really a Senator!"—Saturday Night.

Bristol to Participate.

There is now every probability that the City of Bristol, Eng., will be represented at the dedication in August next of the Halifax Memorial Tower, commemorating the first grant of self-governing powers to a British colony, namely, Nova Scotia. It is stated, also, says a Canadian official communique, that the City Council are considering a suggestion that a bronze tablet should be sent from Bristol to be placed in the Tower. A proposal that the tablet should be representative of the departure of the Cabots from Bristol on their first voyage of discovery in 1497, as depicted in Mr. Board's picture at the Art Gallery, was thought to be a very happy one, and it is understood that the Lord Mayor will take action with that object in view. The Royal Colonial Institute, the ports of Liverpool and Glasgow and the city of Edinburgh are being invited to send representatives to the opening ceremony, which will be presided over by the Duke of Connaught.

Immigration Doubles.

Immigration from the United States through the port of Emerson, Man., for March, shows an increase of one hundred per cent. over the same month a year ago, according to Commissioner of Immigration Bruce Walker. The value of effects of American settlers passing through North Portal, Sask., during March totalled $9,000,000.

BUSY VANCOUVER.

Pacific Coast Metropolis Has No Time For Problems.

The lions in their mantles of snow look stolidly down from the north on a busy summer scene in Vancouver these days. These twin peaks, strangely formed like the recumbent king and queen of beasts, always challenge the attention of the stranger, although the eager populace seem busily unconscious of the impressive, silent sentinels. It was once intended to locate this great hive of commerce and industry at Port Moody, on the extreme reach of Burrard Inlet, says S. T. Wood, the well-known writer in a recent article. The men who presented the room and helped to draw upon and form the prospective community for its use were sadly disappointed when the Canadian Pacific decided to locate the metropolis at Vancouver. The city's foreshores, with the exception of a few street ends, are owned by the railway company, but that does not make Vancouver an inland city. There are foreshores owned by that peculiar institution, the Government, and people actually build houses there and live in them.

To some there seems something innately wicked in presuming to live while neither owning nor paying rent for land, but the Vancouver squatters are not sensitive. The vandal outrage that razed the timber of Dead Man's Island has been followed by the location of a shack town on its shores. Although the city could not defend itself against the timber vandals, who have made the island an unsightly blot, it has not only defended itself against the shack-builders, but has successfully carried the war into their territory. They were technically sustained by the same Governmental authority as the triumphant timber vandals, which goes to show that officialis is much the same here as elsewhere.

The city is too busy for problems. The thousand turbaned Sikhs would have been a problem elsewhere, but they do not seem to strain the city's capacity for absorption. In the mills, on the railways, in gardens, in orchards, and on farms they are gradually acquiring western speed and losing their dependent and childish ways. Like all Orientals, they make but small contributions to the unearned increment. For this and other reasons they are locally regarded as undesirable. The Chinaman is exemplifying the economic law through which the ultimate consumer pays the duty. He shifts the $500 tax by asking $40 a month for domestic service. The Japanese exemplify the more aggressive Oriental attitude. Welcomed gladly by the salmon canneries because they are cheaper than white fishermen, they soon got the fishing into their own hands. In spite of theories about the superior courage and determination of the white races its representatives here are reluctant toward going out on the water at night where the Japanese are fishing. It is not hinted that the Japanese would cut a net or line, or do anything which other fishermen would not do. But fishermen are fishermen, and the thousand eyes of night are not always open.

The Japanese will not always remain rowers of boats and haulers of nets. The wheel of chance set in motion by the employment of them by the canners has not exhausted its momentum, and they may displace the white fishermen. They have shown their capacity this spring by organizing a codfish trust, and they control the local market by keeping their fish alive in the tank compartments of a vessel. They have determined there shall be no more bargain days in codfish. The mental subtlety of the Oriental is levying its toll, but it is an excellent corrective of the complacent vanity of the west.

CANADIAN FIREPROOFING IMPREGNATION CO. LTD.

Authorized Capital: $200.000

Send us your order for Antignol today it may be to late tomorrow

This Company has been formed to market a new invention by which wood can be made fireproof. This invention consists of a chemical compound called "Antignol," in which the wood is either immersed for about 24 hours, or—and that applies especially to houses already built—which may be applied to the wood twice or three times with a brush. The solution penetrates deep into the substance of the wood, and after the evaporation of the liquid parts leaves a deposit, which cannot be removed or washed out by rain or moisture of any kind.

Wood impregnated with Antignol will resist fire. Even in a fierce blaze, fed by great quantities of highly inflammable contents of a house or other building, the woodwork would be charred to a small depth, as even bricks or other noncombustible material would, but it would not develop flames itself, therefore not maintain nor conduct the fire. The latter would die out as soon as the source of it was removed or had exhausted itself.

To illustrate this on an every-day occurrence let us take the case of a lamp being overturned, or a burning match or cigar dropped on a carpet or other material easily ignited. The contents of a room, curtains, furniture, etc., would in an instant be aflame, and the whole building would be ablaze and destroyed—with the adjoining buildings included in the destruction—in spite of all efforts to fight the conflagration. In a building impregnated with Antignol that would not be the case. The accident would be confined to the room in which it occurred. The contents of the same would, of course, burn out as well (though at some future time when impregnation will be more general and extended to curtains, furniture, etc., this might be prevented too), but the structure would resist the fire long enough to give people a chance to extinguish it or to allow the fire to die down after the contents of the room had been consumed. ...

As even the most disastrous conflagrations necessarily originate from such small beginnings, which it has not been possible to check in time, and as we have shown, that these initial stages of every fire of the ordinary kind can by means of our impregnations be kept under control or rendered comparatively harmless, the majority of fires in frame buildings may be prevented.

This Is a Bold Statement. But It is True

It is not only verified by leading experts of official standing, but we have made arrangements to demonstrate the efficacy of our impregnation to anyone calling at our offices.

Besides fireproofing the wood Antignol has all the properties of the other wood-preserving impregnation fluids, namely, protecting the wood against decay, germs of decomposition, fungi, etc. It is, therefore, applicable to railway sleepers, telegraph poles, ships, boats, etc.

In a country where disastrous fires occur with an awe-inspiring frequency, where the annual fire-waste is $2.50 per capita, as compared with 30 cents per capita in the old countries, where 25 per cent. of all new buildings simply replace those destroyed by fire—it is well nigh impossible to over-estimate the general and commercial importance of our enterprise.

The Directors of the Company are all experienced business men, and with a market that for a long time to come will be far ahead of our manufacturing capacity, everyone must realize that the shares of this Company offer quite exceptional opportunities for profits.

IN A REBEL'S GRAVE

TOMB OF AMERRY GIROD IS IN HEART OF MONTREAL.

Where Sherbrooke Street Crosses St. Lawrence In the Busiest Part of the Commercial Metropolis Is the Burial Place of the Swashbuckler, Whose Rebellion Was Crushed 75 Years Ago—A Strange Career.

This story tells of the tragic end of a remarkable man whose remains have mouldered into dust in the strangest grave ever dug on the island of Montreal. Two of the great thoroughfares of the Montreal of to-day are Sherbrooke street, running through the heart of the finest residential quarter, and St. Lawrence street, which, running in from the country to the northwest, cuts the city in two and crosses Sherbrooke street at right angles. Beneath the pavement where these streets cross is the grave of this remarkable man, who played the game of rebellion and lost, and then dying a suicide, was buried, according to the custom of the time, at this cross-road. Seventy-five years have passed since that strange burial took place, and the traffic of a great city passes over the grave. The man buried there has long since been forgotten, but the story of the closing scene of his chequered career can be gleaned from history, and it is briefly retold here.

His name was Amerry Girod, and he came to Canada about the year 1827, or ten years before the breaking out of what is commonly called the Papineau rebellion. Whence he came no one precisely knew. By some his birth-place was in Switzerland, by others in the Province of Alsace, then part of France, now part of Germany. He claimed to have passed his youth at a model school of agriculture, and subsequently to have served as an officer of cavalry in Mexico. He was an excellent linguist, speaking not only English and French, but German, Italian and Spanish as well. He seems to have been a soldier of fortune.

Coming to Quebec he won the friendship of Mr. Perreault, prothonotary of the district, who placed him on one of his properties to establish a model farm. The end of the enterprise was heavy debts, which Mr. Perreault had to pay, and the ingratitude of the man whom he had befriended.

Girod then came on to Varennes, on the south side of the St. Lawrence and only a few miles below Montreal. There he found favor with one of the great men of the village, Dr. Duchesnois, a great supporter of Papineau. At Varennes Girod married Dr. Duchesnois' sister-in-law, the daughter of Mr. Ainse, Seignior of St. Therese, and from that time the adventurer lived on the property of his father-in-law, and devoted himself principally to the trade of a political agitator.

It is not proposed to trace the course of that agitation, or of the rebellion in which it culminated, but simply to follow the fortunes of Girod through the bloodiest chapter of the drama—the chapter which tells of the uprising to the west of Montreal, which was crushed at St. Eustache, on December 14, 1837.

One of the earliest overt acts of the St. Eustache insurgents was to plunder the Indian mission of Two Mountains where guns and ammunition were carried away from the Government stores and a small cannon, belonging to the superior of the mission. Girod was one of the party, and he employed his best cunning to persuade the Indians to give up the arms in their possession and their two small cannon. The Indians showed such determination to resist any attempt to remove their property that Girod and his companions departed without the arms they had demanded.

During the two weeks of turmoil that preceded the battle, Girod was one of the principal agitators. At times he seems to have dominated the situation and to have influenced for the worse Dr. Chenier, whom some historians have made the hero of the uprising. Girod was practically the general in command. He forbade the priests to leave the village, and he practically detained them several days as prisoners. He sent men to destroy the bridge at St. Rose, and his men succeeded in making the bridge impassable. He harangued the crowd, but no attempt was made to drill them or to prepare them to resist the troops that would be sent against them. In fact, the misguided insurgents were told that the troops dare not come to St. Eustache, and that the insurgents would take Montreal without drawing a trigger.

But the troops came, and soon all was over. On Dec. 13, Sir John Colborne set out from Montreal with what was a small army in comparison with the force it was going to attack.

On the following day the force reached St. Eustache and at once began the attack, the artillery opening fire upon the church. The battle lasted only a short time and Girod, the swashbuckler, was found when the insurgents surrendered to have gone for reinforcements. The loyalists started out on his trail. Girod's wanderings lasted four days, with his pursuers always on his tracks and ever drawing nearer. He turned northward and then circled to the east, making for the St. Lawrence River. He succeeded in reaching the outskirts of the village of Pointe-aux-Trembles, about eight miles below Montreal.

Girod's body was at once brought up to Montreal, and the authorities ordered that it should be buried at what was then called Cote a Barron, in the middle of the cross-roads of the St. Lawrence Main street and Sherbrooke street."

"And so do things pass away like a tale that is told."—The Montreal Standard.

Are Your Nerves Tired?

This is a question that many a local merchant might be asked, and have trouble, unless he knew the true solution, to answer. Right here is the recipe. One big advertisement in the Daily and Weekly Times. Then, as convalescence advances, put a card or two, with proper selection, in the Classified Ads. of this Great Family Journal. Remember Mr. Merchant or Peterborough citizen, with the opening of the rural mail routes, such, for instance, as noted in this issue, The Times reaches people that no other paper gets to until the news is stale. The children have been trained by Miss Dean, Miss Choate and Mr. Gliddon.

Boys Imitate Michael Angelo.

It seems that there are some bad boys in the north part of the city. The police are after them. Their alleged offences are defacing store fronts and other property by carving their initials thereon. The police have been notified and a number of names secured. This offence, together with that of congregating on street corners, are indictable, and it is the purpose of the authorities to stamp out the evil.

Murray Street Church Succeeds.

The Murray Street Church is advancing and gaining membership each year. At the last meeting Mr. T. F. Matthews presented a motion that the salary of Rev. Mr. Webb be increased by the sum of three hundred dollars, to date from the first of April. This was carried without a dissenting vote. The minister thanked the congregation for this. The Murray street congregation will enter their new edifice Sunday, May 26th, with Rev. J. L. Gilmour, D.D., as the first speaker in the new building. This evening a retrospective luncheon will be held in the old building.

They Will Play Bridge.

At yesterday's session of the police court, Vilke Stanley was handed out a $4.00 fine for trespassing on the C.P.R. bridge. As Stanley did not have the bucks in his jeans he was allowed ten days in which to dig it up. Mr. Seyard was also fined a similar sum for the same offence. Albert Wright, F. O. Silk, Alfred Hagerman, Albert Bettis, Wm. Godfrey, and James McGrath each enriched the civic coffers by $2 and costs respectively, and so did Wm. Lavery. He was fined $2 and costs, a total of $5.75.

Where are You Going Victoria Day?

A great many people are anxiously looking forward to Victoria Day for their first summer outing. Fortunately this year the holiday falls on Friday, which offers pleasure seekers a three-day vacation, with practically no loss of time. The Canadian Pacific Railway will issue return tickets at Single Fare between stations in Canada east of Port Arthur, also to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, N.Y., and Detroit, Mich. Tickets good going May 23rd and 24th. Return limit May 27th. See that your ticket reads via Canadian Pacific railway.

Mrs. Mowry's Funeral.

The funerall of the late Mrs. B. R. Mowry, of Gravenhurst, whose remains arrived here yesterday per G. T.R., took place to Little Lake cemetery, where many of the Peterborough friends assembled to show a last mark of esteem to a lady who was highly esteemed. The flowers both numerous and beautiful. The Rev. H. J. Keith officiated and the pall bearers were composed of three sons and three nephews of the deceased. Among the out-of-town visitors were Mr. Alexander Jackson and daughter, of Lindsay; Mr. John John Carew, of Lindsay, and Mr and Mrs. Joshua Smithson, of Otonabee.

Epworth League Meeting

The seventh annual convention of the Peterborough district Epworth Leagues and Sunday Schools was held Wednesday afternoon and evening in the Lakefield Methodist Church

The convention got under way shortly after two o'clock in the afternoon. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. C. H. Coon, in whose church the convention was held. This was followed by the report of the Sunday School Secretary, Rev. C. E. Cragg. He reported a rather encouraging state of affairs prevailing in the district, although unable to ascertain complete reports from many of the schools. His report was followed by that of the Epworth League secretary, and the election of a nominating committee.

Latest Developments at Minden.

Minden, May 16.—Detective Reburn of Toronto, was in this village a few days last week in connection with the recent murder, and it is understood that he has secured additional information concerning the unfortunate affair.

It is understood that Mr. T. H. Stinson, of Lindsay, and formerly of this village, has been retained to look after "Hecks" Ellis' interests, and that when his trial comes on T. C. Robinette, the well-known criminal lawyer of Toronto, will be engaged to assist Mr. Stinson in his defence.

There are ugly rumors in circulation regarding the manner in which the deed was committed. The statement has been made that information has been given a county official that Porter was short in a different manner than that given out at the inquest, and that the spot where the body was found is only a temporary resting place. Whether these statements can be substantiated will only be known when the trial comes on.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Charles Perry.

One of the best known and most generally respected residents of Peterborough, in the person of Mrs. Charles Perry, has gone. This lady died yesterday morning at her residence, 571 Water street. Mrs. Perry was a granddaughter of the late Dr John Gilchrist, one of the United Empire Loyalists. Mrs. Perry moved into Peterborough when young, with her parents. She was born near Keene.

Mrs. Perry was predeceased by her husband, who was the first representative of West Peterborough after Confederation in 1867, thirty-six years ago, and is survived by her family as follows: Mrs. F. Bliss, of Toronto, Mrs. W. Sabine, of Youngstown, O., Mrs. Devine, of Buffalo, Miss E. Perry and Miss Maude Perry of Peterborough, Frank Perry, of Peterborough, John of Montreal, Geo of New York, and Charles, of Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Perry was probably the oldest member of the congregation of St. John's church. The funeral will be held on Saturday, May 18th, at 2.30 p.m., to the Little Lake cemetery, from the family residence.

LOCAL FUNERALS

What It Costs to Bury People Who Die or Are Buried Here.

Yesterday was one of those dull, "blue" days when one's thoughts naturally go cemetery wards. Thus, possibly, one of the Times' reporters, meeting a local undertaker, asked the question: "About what is the average price for a funeral?" Answer: "Funerals here run in price, say from $50 to $500." "Well," insisted our reporter, "what is the average figure, and what is it charged for?" The undertaker, after a minutes' consideration replied: "Seventy-five dollars is about an average price. Of course the casket, lining, handles, etc all cost money. If the relatives of the deceased want the best they have got to pay for it. $75 however, pays for a fairly well conducted funeral, including a rig for the attendant clergyman." Our informant said that people are particular about the style and material of the casket's linings, the handles, and so forth. Coffins, like every other commodity, have gone up in price. When asked whether the price of a funeral included the cost of hack fare for friends and relatives of the deceased, the undertaker replied, "Not on your life."

MEXICO REBELS RETREAT

and this was soon exhausted. The battle raged under a blazing sun, on blistering desert sands most of the time. Orozco ordered the water cars brought from Rellano, but an open switch and a careless or inexperienced train crew wrecked the cars before they got from the track at Rellano. To save further suffering of his men, Orozco ordered a retreat to Rellano.

There he undoubtedly resolved to make his last stand against the federals. If he is defeated at this strongly entrenched position, the rebels will no doubt scatter in scores of bands, for those who have been watching this revolution don't believe Orozco can hold his troops together if he is decisively defeated at Rellano.

Although he conceded to-night his defeat in the battle before Conejos, Gen. Orozco is by no means dispirited.

"The revolution has just begun," he said, "and we are confident that we will ultimately overthrow Madero for a just revolution will always triumph."

Gen. Orozco will not say how many men he lost, but he admitted that he had not heard from Gen. Campa and Gen. Artugumedo, whom he sent around to the West of Conejos with 2500 men to flank the federals.

Gen. Tellez of the federal army, is believed to have engaged them, and cut off their retreat.

Gen. Orozco was at a loss to understand rumors in circulation to-day that he was killed. "Madero will find me very much alive before many days," he said grimly. Only skirmishing occurred to-day.

New Y.M.C.A. Secretary Welcomed.

Mr. A. A. Hainsworth has reason to be proud of the welcome given him as new General Secretary of the local Y.M.C.A.

The proceedings commenced in the gymnasium, where, under the direction of their physical director, Mr. J. J. Thompson, an exhibition of that work and gymnastics was given by the Junior and Senior leaders. The assembly then adjourned to the parlor, where many prominent citizens had already gathered. Mr. J. J. Turner occupied the chair, and in his address he said he had pleasure in welcoming Mr. Hainsworth as Secretary of the institution. There was much work to do, and he had no doubt but that it would be faithfully carried out. The young men, while yet on the threshold of life, require some guiding influence, and as the Board was representative, there was no reason why there should not be an increase in the membership. He looked forward to a very successful year, and hoped that Mr. Hainsworth's inception would be mutually both useful and profitable.

Speeches of welcome were also given by Messrs. J. W. Bennett, J. J. Hartley, W. Switzer, Alderman G. N. Gordon, Revs. F. J. Sawers and J. W. Riddiford, Alderman G. A. Gillespie, Messrs. A. McFarland and W. J. Connal.

In reply to the various remarks, Mr. Hainsworth said he coveted the opportunity to work in conjunction with the ministers of Peterborough in the great work, and he assured them that he would give his whole heart to the uplifting and welfare of the institution. He asked their cooperation in this for if they would turn to history it would be seen that great battles were not won by the leaders, but by the rank.

Board of Management Refer Back Report of the Committee

ANTIQUATED METHODS

Controller McCarthy Insists That Conditions Be Improved by the Board of Management, and His Method Be Adopted.

MIMICO, Ont., May 17.—"I cannot accept this report," declared Controller J. O. McCarthy at a meeting of the Board of Management of Industrial Schools to discuss the supplementary report of the Executive Committee on the report presented by Commissioners Dr. W. Bruce Smith and Property Commissioner Harris, appointed by the Provincial Government to investigate conditions existing at the Victoria Industrial School.

"The management of the Mimico Industrial School are responsible for such discipline as was shown to have existed at Victoria Industrial School during the time at which Mrs. Spain complained of ill-treatment to her son. That discipline was not right, and the management has not been in keeping with that which is best the world over. It would not be right to pass this report. Again, the committee in its report points out that more cleanliness was important in the school, and that as many boys as possible should be paroled at once.

Feeble-Minded Children.

"Dr. Bruce Smith also pointed out that the Victoria Industrial School was no place for feeble-minded children. The city must take care of them in some other way, and I am willing to do my part to see that the city does take care of them in some other way. Dr. Bruce Smith's report does not mention anyone, but it is up to the whole situation at Mimico from beginning to end."

The clause to which Mr. McCarthy strongly opposed read in part:

"Your executive, with a deep sense of what it believes to be just and right, wishes to place on record its appreciation of and confidence in, the superintendent and staff of the Victoria Industrial School."

Antiquated Methods.

Mr. Lewis thought that the recommendations of the committee did not go far enough. He did not blame the superintendent, but thought the methods employed were out of date.

"Let us try and adopt the system we would like to see then," he said.

It was unanimously resolved to hold the matter over until copies of both reports could be printed and handed to the members. ...

RICHESON FINDS HE MUST DIE

His Spiritual Advisor Gives Gives Him the Last Advice

HE WAS VERY NERVOUS

Former Minister of the Gospel Goes to the Chair, the Straps, and the Current to His Death.

BOSTON, Mass., May 17.—Clarence V. T. Richeson, former minister, knows that he will die in the electric chair for the murder of Avis Linnell. He was told at 10.15 by his spiritual adviser, Rev. Herbert S. Johnston, a Baptist Minister, that Governor Foss had refused to intervene to save his life.

Unaware of the action of Governor Foss in announcing that no action will be taken to save him from death in the electric chair, Clarence V. T. Richeson, ex-minister, arose at 7.35 a.m., to-day, after a restless night—the third spent in the death cell at Charleston Prison.

He did not retire until after midnight, up to which time he smoked cigars incessantly. He smoked at least thirty cigars yesterday.

Immediately after his breakfast of coffee, toast and eggs to-day he called Deputy Warden Allen and asked that his stock of tobacco be replentished. While he was waiting for the cigars to arrive he lighted the stub of one he had smoked last night.

His increasing nervousness and constant moving about the cell made it apparent that he was anxious about his fate.

Received the News Calmly.

According to Guard Hedges, the prisoner received the news with wonderful nerve. Rev. Johnston called at Richeson's cell at 10 o'clock, in company with Deputy Warden Allen. After a cheery good-morning, which was as cheerily returned by Richeson the three conversed on casual subjects which were deftly turned to Richeson's case by Dr. Johnson who finally asked

"Do you wish to know immediately the result of the examination made on you by the alienists?"

Richeson, according to Hedges, drew himself stiffly from his chair, where he had been sitting next the barred door, and said in a scarcely audible voice: "I have been hoping. But I can tell by your expression that you have none. Let me know."

Hedges was unable to distinguish just what was said. At this moment he was called away, another guard having gone on duty at the cell.

A report that Richeson had repudiated his confession of murdering Avis Linnell was circulated here to-day but it was immediately denied by prison authorities and by Rev. Johnson and Attorney Morse.

DUFF-GORDON ON DEFENSIVE CHARGE OF COWARDICE MADE

London, May 17.—Lord Mersey, the President of the Board of Trade commission, with an audience of fashionably dressed women looking on, spent the greater part of to-day during the sitting of the Court of Inquiry into the Titanic disaster, in probing the statement of Charles Hendrickson one of the surviving firemen. He had said Sir Cosmo and Lady Duff-Gordon who were two of the five passengers in the partly filled life boat, had protested against returning to the scene of the disaster to try and rescue some of those struggling in the water.

Sir Cosmo in Court.

Sir Cosmo and Lady Duff-Gordon were both in court, and were given seats near the witness stand, with their legal advisers, including Henry E. Duke, M.P., one of the leading and highest paid lawyers in this country

Charles Hendrickson, whose cross-examination had been postponed until to-day, was called to the stand

Witness was then taken in hand by Mr. Duke and was closely examined.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

WHAT IS THE REASON?

Editor Morning Times.

Sir.—Why is it that certain persons are selected to put in figures for second tenders for our public schools? We have no guarantee through the public press that those tenderers put put in marked cheques. We have had no public notices of it through the press, and we cannot understand why all the mechanics figuring on the work have not had the same chance, as the three or four men selected. Now, we would like to know if the public will stand for any such dealing as that. Now that the plans have been changed and new tenders called for by the Board of Education, why is it that those tendering on the first set of plans are not given a chance to put in figures for the changed plans? What is the reason of it? Are they public favorites, or what?

—Builder.

THE BALL SEASON.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir.—As you are no doubt aware, the baseball news is eagerly read these days, and the town or city having a leading, or successful ball team gets more free advertising thereby than from any other source. Now, I was in Hamilton on Monday and saw the game there between the local professional team and that of the Ambitious City. Judging by the crowd at the game, Hamilton had practically declared a public half holiday. This is a suggestion. Why not inaugurate the ball season here, on May 22nd with a half holiday. Peterborough merchants, property owners and citizens generally are always anxious to have the name of Peterborough brought into the press of Canada to advertise our city and attract manufacturers and possible settlers in our midst. If a half holiday was declared when the game with St. Thomas on the 22nd is played there would be a bumper crowd present. Such a gala event would be telegraphed to all the leading papers of Ontario. Think of the free advertising our bright and growing city

AN ITALIAN BARON ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF A PRINCESS

Rome, May 17.—The trial of Baron Vincenzo Paterno, a former cavalry lieutenant in the Italian army, who on March 2, 1911, murdered Princess Giulia Trigona Di Sant 'Ella, lady-in-waiting to Queen Helena and afterwards attempted to commit suicide, was begun this morning before the Assize Court. The case is exciting an enormous amount of curiosity but the presiding judge has limited the admission of the public to the court in order to avoid the theatrical scenes.

The lawyers of the defence are endeavoring to obtain a postponement of the trial so that the accused may be examined by experts and his mental condition established. They also insist in calling the Duke of Aosta, the Count of Turin, the Minister for War and the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs as witnesses. The presiding judge has refused the latter demands.

The entrance of the prisoner Paterno into court caused a sensation. He is a living wreck and absolutely unrecognizable. Every movement he made was an effort to conceal his face from the public.

JURY FINDS CORDWELL IS GUILTY AND ASKS MERCY

Toronto, May 17.—Joseph Cordwell 67 years of age, was found guilty in the Sessions this morning on the charge of "wounding with attempt to maim" his 60-year-old wife, on Mar. 17th. The jury was out less than half an hour, and made a strong recommendation for mercy to Judge Denton.

Cordwell was sent back to jail to come up at the end of the present court for sentence.

The couple, who ran a grocery store in Sumach street, were married last Christmas day. She was a widow of one year and he a widower of three. The assault came, it is said, as a culmination of domestic differences. In attacking her the aged husband used first a stick, then a claw hammer, and finally a vicious looking instrument termed a box-opener.

Mrs. Cordwell, a delicate little women, went into the witness box and told her story of the family differences.

A detective said that the old man came to the police station and gave himself up, telling what he had done.

CALVE, HANDICAPPED BUT CHARMS AUDIENCE

Toronto, May 17.—Mme. Calve's performance of Carmen, at Massey Hall last night, was rather handicapped owing to the fact that the car containing scenery, props, and scores of the condensed opera went astray between Detroit and Toronto. As a result, the piano furnished by the R. S. Williams and Sons Co., Ltd., was the only accompaniment. Calve had for Carmen, and while the absence of an orchestra was of course manifest, let it be said for Mme. Calve, her conductor and for the piano that the results attained were most exceptional, and that much credit is due all three.

CHILDREN'S NIGHT AT CONSERVATORY

Last night the big hall at the Conservatory was a scene of beauty and a charm of harmony. There was a large attendance. The occasion was the Children's Festival. One hundred and fifty took part in the splendid programme presented. One of the features of the evening was an orchestra of fifteen pieces, the instruments played by little tots, not as big, or not much bigger, than the violins or other musical apparati played by them. It would be invidious to discriminate and say which numbers received the most applause. All were good. Great credit is due to Miss Dean, Miss Choate and Mr. Gliddon for the good results of their training. The soloists of the evening were Carolus Greene, violin; Otto Gliddon, clarinette; Miss P. Long, vocal; Miss Hazel Davidson, reading; Alexis Spellman, cello; Miss Geraldine Delaire, vocal; Paul Gliddon, cornet; Miss Isabel Baird, piano; Lois Braund and Baden Greene, in a violin duet, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," Arthur Johnston, in "The Land of Hope and Glory."

The Festival will be repeated this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

THE WEATHER.

Fine and a little warmer.

FLOYD ALLEN FOUND GUILTY OF FIRST DEGREE MURDER

Wigtheville, Va., May 17.—The trial that resulted in the wholesale murder of March 14 was the outgrowth of the Allen disdain for decencies

Two boys, Sidney and Wesley Edwards, Nephews of Floyd, the head of the Allen clan, entered a church some months ago and cut up so boisterously that the service could not go on. Being of the Allens, no one laid hands on them; but later the rancor boiled, and the congregation finally decided to turn the law on them. Deputy Sheriff Samuels, with a warrant for their arrest, was driving out towards home in his wagon when Floyd Allen, who had set out on horseback to intercept him, met him on the road. Allen jumped from his horse and hauling Samuels down from his seat clubbed him brutally with the butt of his pistol.

The two boys were nevertheless arrested later, and Circuit Judge Massie, who had long been irritated at the actions of the Allens, insisted that Floyd Allen should be arrested and prosecuted for his assault upon the deputy-sheriff. Floyd Allen, after adding to his crime by helping the two boys escape from the jail, was finally brought to trial.

Would Never Go To Jail.

It was an old saying in Carroll County that no Allen would ever go to jail, and when Floyd Allen permitted himself to be tried it is said that he was in the indulgent mood which the families sometimes manifested to the crowded community.

Floyd Allen was to-day found guilty of murder in the first degree, as the outcome of the shooting in the court room on March 14.

UNPLEASANT "LID" REMOVED LITTLE PETER THEN LAUGHED

New York, May 17.—The world of surgery was again startled by a marvelous operation, when Dr. Sovak, of Bellevue, amid the applause of assembled surgeons and nurses, successfully removed an entire graniteware cooking pot from a baby's head.

The pot was not in the head, but stuck fast on top of it, covering the youngster's eyes, but leaving him full room for the exercise of his vocal talents.

Sensation at the Hospital.

The arrival of the patient at the hospital created a sensation. Little Peter (for such is our hero's name), made the old walls ring with his continued wailings. So he was put ahead of several other patients and an immediate operation decided upon.

Realizing that it was a case new to surgery, Dr. Sovak adopted unique methods. Two attendants stood Peter on his head, while the doctor applied soft soap in generous quantities around the edge of the pot. Then by slow and careful manipulation thru' a full half hour, he gradually divorced the baby from the clinging pot.

The unpleasant "lid" removed little Peter sat up stared blankly and indignantly at the doctor for a moment, uttered one hesitant, final yell and then laughed.

He was taken back to his mother, none the worse for his experience.

Peter, who is two years old, was playing on the floor while his mother was sewing. He managed to make his way into the kitchen, and incidentally into the granite pot.

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

PORT MANN, B.C., CANADIAN NORTHern Pacific Coast terminus, attracting millions eastern and British capital. Property adjoining railway's holdings becoming very valuable. Quarter acre lots touching townsite five hundred to six hundred each, quarter cash. Island Investment Company, Limited, Vancouver.

WHILE YOU WORK AND WHILE YOU sleep.—Wage earners make money only while they work. My lot buyers make money while they sleep. Those who have bought from me during the past four years have made by increasing value of lots, more than 50 per cent per annum on the amount invested. And they are worth from $200 to $1200 to-day, because of having wisely imposed a "must" upon themselves to save a little of what they earned. Come in and let us show you a very easy way to do the same. Gardens: I know one man who planted 1 acre of onions, and sold his crop for $800 cash. Was that not making money while he slept? We can supply a few acres ploughed to men who would wish to do likewise. Also a larger place with good buildings and a large poultry plant. Immediate possession. Decide at once, and call for particulars. T. Hurley, corner Stewart and Hunter streets.

WE CAN GIVE YOU ABSOLUTE PROOF that the lots we offer inside the town limits at Edson at $40 each, on easy terms, are a money-making investment, offered below their real value; Edson is a divisional point on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a monthly pay roll of $40,000; Edson is the actual distributing point for the Peace River country, the Brazeau coal fields, and for two hundred miles west on the Canadian Northern; Edson is little more than a year old, and already has more than twelve hundred permanent residents; it costs you one cent to obtain illustrated booklet, and the above mentioned proof; mail us a postcard to-day. The Edson Point Company, 604 McIntyre Block, Winnipeg.

SPOTS ON THE SUN

They Indicate the Aging of Our Orb of Life and Light.

THE GREAT SOLAR TRAGEDY.

A Grim Play In Which the "Star" Is Fighting For Existence, Has Absolutely No Chance to Win and Whose Death Means the End of the World.

Life is a tragedy, the earth a stage, men and women the actors, the "gods" the audience. Some pessimists believe that this great play of life is more comic than tragic in the opinion of the spectators.

However this may be, there is another, vastly greater, tragedy of life at which man himself is an onlooker, although, unfortunately, his own ultimate fate is bound up with the denouement of the play.

It is the life drama of the solar system. Its chief actor is the sun, and men are beginning to rub their eyes and wipe the specks from their glasses as they perceive more and more plainly indications that the "star" of the play is aging.

The fact is becoming only too clear that for him this is no sport, but real, deadly tragedy. He is not acting a part, but fighting for life. He cannot win; he can only prolong the struggle, and when he falls exhausted the stage, the theater, actors, spectators, pit and galleries will go with him in one universal ruin.

Until recently we were only troubled a little in mind by the sun spots. It was evident that they must cut off some radiation, but the amount appeared to be trifling, and their maxima are far apart, ten or eleven years. But now we are confronted by a much more disquieting phenomenon. The sun appears to "fluctuate at irregular intervals of several days and sometimes of several months."

Here is the crux of the whole matter. What does the recognition of the fact that the sun is a veritable star mean? What may it mean to the earth and its inhabitants? These questions can best be answered by considering other variable stars.

Let us take an extreme example. There is in the constellation of the Whale a famous variable star known as Mira the Wonderful. In a period of about ten months on the average it changes from the third—sometimes the second—magnitude to about the ninth and then back again.

That means, in the extreme, a probable difference of between two and three hundred times in the amount of light and heat which it radiates around it at maximum and at minimum.

When it is faintest it cannot be seen with the naked eye; when it is brightest it is a conspicuous object. As it fades it turns reddish in color, and when it brightens it blazes with brilliant spectroscopic lines.

It is probably a sun at least as great as our sun, and it has recently been found that its spectrum resembles in some striking peculiarities the spectra of sun spots.

Did it ever have any worlds to light and nourish? If so think of the condition of those worlds now.

A sun is like a living organism—it wears out. As it ages it becomes more and more variable. It maintains itself and its planets while its radiant power lasts, but it cannot do so forever. It contracts, flickers, struggles, fades and goes out. Its lifetime is millions of years, but it has an end.

"Let us account as a mere nothing," cried Bossuet, "everything that ends, for, though we should multiply years beyond the reach of numbers, yet all would be nothing when the fatal term is reached."—Garrett P. Serviss in New York American.

Ham Experts.

In certain watering places of Europe men make fortunes in ham shops. There is said to be such a shop in Carlsbad, where a man in white garments slices the lean Prague ham or the fatter Westphalian for the people who are at the springs. It is said that none there are really judges of ham until they can argue every morning outside the shop for a quarter of an hour as to what breed of pig gives the most appetizing slice. At Marienbad the representatives of the most exclusive circles of society in the world lunch on lean ham.—Argonaut.

The Sign of Equality.

Robert Recorde introduced the sign of equality into algebra. Recorde was the first English author who wrote on the subject of algebra. In his treatise called "Whetstone of Witte," published about 1557, he says: "To avoide the tediouse repetition of these words, is equalle to, I will sette, as I doe often in worke use, a paire of parallel lines of one lengthe, thus: =, because no 2 thynges can be more equalle."

Just the Other Way.

"I suppose," observed the envious person, "that when you go to Europe the whole continent tips up."

"Not at all," said the experienced traveler. "When I go to Europe I usually have to tip the whole continent."—Chicago Tribune.

An Offset.

"Did you lend that forgetful friend of ours the book he asked for?"

"Yes. But I took care to borrow his umbrella the same day."—Washington Star.

Debt has a small beginning, but a giant's growth and strength.—Beaconsfield.

Boys Imitate Michael Angelo.

It seems that there are some bad boys in the north part of the city. The police are after them. Their alleged offences are defacing store fronts and other property by carving their initials thereon. The police have been notified and a number of names secured. This offence, together with that of congregating on street corners, are indictable, and it is the purpose of the authorities to stamp out the evil.

PUZZLED THE JAILERS.

Lafayette and His Friends Whistled the News to One Another.

The Marquis Lafayette during his career in France took a very active part in politics. In 1792 he opposed the Jacobins, and when they came into power he was deprived of his command in the army of the frontier.

In company with some of his general officers he fled to Liege, where all of them were seized by the Austrians and for a long time imprisoned in the Castle of Olmutz, in Moravia.

Their life was a very lonely one. Each of them was kept in solitary confinement, but their apartments were so arranged that they were all within hearing of one another when standing at the windows. This fact suggested to them a method of communicating with each other without any outsider being able to understand the meaning of what they were doing, and the following ingenious plan was decided upon and carried out.

There were at that time in Paris many popular ballads which were sung at the corners of the streets and other public places. The words belonging to the tunes were familiar to everybody, and to strike up a few of the notes was to recall to memory the words that accompanied them.

By this means the prisoners succeeded in composing for themselves a vocal vocabulary. They whistled certain parts of the airs at their windows, and in a short time the vocabulary became so complete and comprehensive that two or three notes from each air formed their alphabet.

In this way they communicated news to each other about their families and many other subjects, and when one of them was fortunate enough to secure a copy of The Gazette de France, the Paris newspaper, he whistled the contents of it to his companions in captivity.

The commandant of the fortress was told about these mysterious concerts, and he determined that he would find out what they meant.

He spent hours in listening to the whistling and set men to listen, but the whole thing was a mystery to him. Indeed, the most skillful solver of puzzles would have been unable to detect the intention and real expression of the notes heard.

Then he ordered that the whistling should stop but the prisoners paid no attention to the order, and at last, tired out and baffled, he stopped trying to prevent what he could not understand.

The Last Straw.

An old woman entered a savings bank the other day and walked up to the desk.

"Do you want to withdraw or deposit?" asked the clerk.

"Naw, Oi dean't. Oi wants to put some in," was the reply.

The clerk pushed up the book for her signature, and said, "Sign on this line, please."

"Me whole name?"

"Yes."

"Before Oi was married?"

"No; just as it is now."

"Oi can't wroite."

Trucks For Their Tails.

The flat-tailed breed of sheep has been known from very early times and still exists in Africa and Asia. In these sheep practically all the fat in the body collects in the tails, which may weigh as much as forty pounds. In such cases the tail is supported on a little truck, with which the sheep is furnished by the shepherds to avoid rubbing it raw against the ground. This practice was known to the ancient Greek writer Herodotus and is still carried on.

To Certify Posting.

To meet the requirements of very many persons not wishing to go to the expense of registering a letter, but desiring merely to have proof of posting, which may be produced in the event of a dispute, arrangements have been made by the Postmaster-General of Great Britain whereby a certificate of posting may be obtained for 1 cent on application at any post-office.

Decrease In Immigration.

In County Cork.

"I suppose you have an old age pension, Mr. Kelly?"

"Ould age pension? Faith an' Oi cuddn't touch wan, the bad luck they bring. Luk at the number of ould age pensioners bes dyin' ivery year!"—London Opinion.

Her View.

The Brother—She's got lovable eyes, kissable lips, a huggable shape and holdable hands.

Pleasant For Guy.

The heroic moments of our lives are not always recognized as such by those around us. While Guy was making a noble effort to mow the lawn one sizzling afternoon a neighbor crossed the street to talk "heat prostrations" with Mrs. Guy, and Guy's small daughter answered the ring of the bell.

"Where's mamma, sweetheart?" asked the visitor.

"I don't know where my mamma is," hesitated the small person; "but"—brightening—"but my papa is out in the yard playing wis his little wagon."

Obvious.

"I guess, Mr. Shoogaand," said the observant customer to his grocer, "that you never took music lessons."

"I never did. Why?"

"Oh, I thought maybe if you had you might be more correct in your scales."—Browning's Magazine.

Serio Comic.

"And so this is the end," said the hero as he bent over the form of the dying heroine, while the orchestra played soft sad music. "Thank heaven for that!" exclaimed a pathetic voice from the gallery.—London Tit Bits.

SPORT IN GERMANY.

It Is Found Outside of Games, Which Are Not Popular There.

An Englishman finds it hard to conceive of "sport" except as embodied in some "game." But the German, says Ida A. R. Wylie in her book on Germany, gets his sport without finding it necessary to play any game at all. Exercise that brings him into close relation with nature is more to his taste. The man that sees no pleasure in tiring himself out on a tennis court or a football field travels miles on skis through the forests, skates every free minute of his day and in the heat of the summer goes on long tours among the mountains.

At his own particular sports the German is a first-class man, and even the German woman reveals an energy that is simply astonishing. All German girls can skate well; most of them are good swimmers and walkers and proficient in winter sports. It is only when you ask them to play games that they fail.

This dislike of games reveals an interesting trait in the German character—namely, indifference to a success the only value of which lies in the defeat of some one else. In school a German boy works hard, not for a prize, not because he wants to do better than a comrade, but because he sees a distinct personal value in knowledge. His attitude in sport is quite in keeping.

"And suppose I do run myself hot and tired over a ridiculous patch of ground after a ridiculous ball, and suppose I do win a game, what good will it do me?"

"You will have had splendid exercise," says the Englishman.

"Yes, but if I wanted exercise I would rather go for a walk through the forest or make a bicycling tour. Then I should perhaps learn something at the same time. At any rate, I should be enjoying nature."

"But then there would be no game!" retorts the Englishman.

"No game? What is the good of a game? Am I wiser or better if I beat you at tennis?"

"No, but the fun of it"—

"I don't see any fun in beating somebody at something which has no value. That is childish and a waste of time."

Toothpicks.

Toothpicks were in common use in ancient Rome. Sometimes they were made of quills, but preferably of the wood of the mastic or lentisk tree, whose astringent and aromatic gum is known to modern dentistry. Martial's epigrams frequently mention the dentiscalpium or toothpick and recommended the wooden kind above the quill. The toothpick was taken to England by travelers from Italy and France.

As Nares says, "The using of it in public was long deemed an affected mark of gentility."

The most fantastic use to which the toothpick has ever been put was the sixteenth and seventeenth century fashion of wearing it in the hat as a trophy or an ornament.

It Was Heavy.

"When I was in Ireland," said the funny man, "my landlady made a cake. Well, I tried to eat this cake, and then I threw it in the fire. The fire went out. The landlady had some ducks, so I thought I would revenge myself by giving it to"—

"Yes," came the chorus, "we all know that story. The ducks died."

"Oh, no, they didn't!" came the reply. That's where you're wrong. The ducks ate the cake, went for a swim and they sank!"

And then there was a painful silence.

Not a Somnambulist.

A certain playwright and novelist, is a very early riser, and when the English playwright and novelist Arnold Bennett visited him at his home the host said the first evening at dinner:

"I believe in the simple life. I get up with the sun. Will you take a ten mile walk with me at six o'clock to-morrow morning?"

"Thank you," the Englishman answered, "but I don't walk in my sleep."

Clever Messengers.

The chairman of the London District Messenger Company, in presenting a messenger boy with a medal for efficiency shown in bearing a special message to Liege and Brussels, said that messengers of the company had repeatedly been sent from London to Italy, Switzerland, Turkey, France, Germany, America and South Africa.

A Nocturne.

"You will have to accompany me," said the new and zealous officer of the law, laying a firm hand on the arm of the seedy young man who was making night hideous with a cornet.

"Certainly," said the musician, affectionately linking his arm in the policeman's. "What do you wish to sing and in what key?"

"Age Cannot Wither."

"You still stick to that old ten-year-old nag of yours, I see, Blithers," said Dubbleigh. "Why don't you get a motor?"

"Well," said Blithers, "I've sort of found that there is more style to a 1902 model horse than there is to a 1902 model car."

No Changes.

"Why don't you work up some improvements in this department?" demanded the proprietor.

"Well, sir, the work has always been done this way. Could I have an increase of salary?"

"Why should you? This job has always drawn $8 a week."

She Had Retired.

"Is that hair restorer any good?"

"Fine! I put a bottle of it on my wife's dressing table the other night and when I got home from the club the dressing table was covered with hair."

The White Man In Africa.

"The footprint of the white man is like the footprint of the elephant," says a Swazi native proverb—"it remains in the ground."

Another proverb: "White men are like and yet unlike quails. When you see one in your country you will soon see a flock. But the quails leave you in. the white men never."

ONTARIO.

Provincial Loans of $2,000,000 and $210,000.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, under the authority of Chapter 4, of the Statutes of Ontario, 1911, invites subscriptions from the public for a loan of $2,000,000 on bonds of the Province of Ontario, or "Ontario Government Stock"

The bonds will be dated 1st May, 1912, and payable on the 1st November, 1941, in denominations of $1,000 each, with coupons attached for interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, payable half-yearly, on the 1st of May and 1st of November in each year, at the office of the Provincial Treasurer, Toronto, or at the offices of the Bank of Montreal, in Montreal, Canada, and in New York N.Y., at the holder's option. Bonds will be made payable to bearer, but on request will be registered in the office of the Provincial Treasurer, and endorsed as payable only to the order of certain persons or corporations, and on request of holders will be exchanged for "Ontario Government Stock" at any time.

Also balance of Algonquin Park Loan of $210,000, on the same terms and with the same dates, under the authority of Chapter 9, 1 George V.

The issue price during the month of May, 1912, will be 102 for each $100, and after the 31st day of May, 1912, the issue price will be 102 and interest accrued from the 1st of May, 1912.

ALL BONDS AND INCREASED STOCK ISSUED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE SAID ACT ARE FREE FROM ALL ONTARIO PROVINCIAL TAXES, CHARGES, SUCCESSION DUTY AND IMPOSITIONS WHATSOEVER.

Purchasers of Stock or Bonds will be required to send certified cheque with the application, payable to the order of the "Provincial Treasurer of Ontario."

This loan is raised upon the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Ontario, and is chargeable thereupon.

Capitalization. - - Authorized $150,000 To Be Issued. $110,000

PAR VALUE $100.00 PER SHARE.

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:---AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sisman Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:
18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ... $27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year 7,000.00
Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital. $20,000.00

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application, 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved the application lists may be closed without notice.

Murray Street Church Success.

The Murray Street Church is advancing and gaining membership each year. At the last meeting Mr. T. F. Matthews presented a motion that the salary of Rev. Mr. Webb be increased by the sum of three hundred dollars, to date from the first of April. This was carried without a dissenting vote. The minister thanked the congregation for this. The Murray street congregation will enter their new edifice Sunday, May 26th.

HIGH BEEF AND HOUSEWIVES.

The apologists for the Meat Trust say that cattle are scarce, and that is why the price of meat is continually going up. If this be true then the importation of cattle from places where they are plentiful ought to bring down prices. The packers claim that conditions responsible for the increase in prices have been developing for the past two months, yet it would not take long to bring beef from Brazil and other South American countries. How much beef is in cold storage and how much is necessary to meet the public demand is known only to the packers, but in the Eastern States the Housewives Leagues realize that something is wrong, and they have proposed to boycott the products of the Meat Trust until the prices come down to a "square deal." After their success with the butter boycott they are confident that they will be able to force down the price of beef. Let us all hope that victory will perch on the banners of the housewives.

SIKHS FIGHTING DEPORTATION.

The Sikh question of Canada is not yet settled. There is no intention of reversing any previous action in admitting the few thousands who are already here, yet there is a quiet, but very manifest, determination to admit no more. The recent order from Ottawa for the deportation of the two Hindu women and their children who are claimed to be illegally in Canada is proof of this. But the Sikhs are not willing to accept the situation as it stands, and have appealed to the British Secretary of State for India. This is their appeal: "Kahla Dewan and United India League, Vancouver, implore your office to stop deportation ordered by the Dominion Government of the Sikh ladies and their children under wrong interpretation of the immigration laws. This is a gross breach of imperial unity by an attack on the Sikh homes." The affair seems a very regrettable one. The simplest and easiest way would be to admit all British subjects freely to all parts of the British empire, but there are few, very few, to champion such a course. To most of us it seems theoretically plausible, but practically impossible, on account of national considerations, and we have no doubt that the Secretary of State for India will look upon the matter as one to be settled by the Dominion Government and not by the Home authorities.

FALSE CONGREGATIONALISM

There are a whole lot of people in Canada who seem to think that our cousins to the South are thinking only of the almighty dollar. Still the Boston Herald, one of America's leading papers has the following editorial:

"It was probably with a certain surprise that many observed that the most significant part of Mr. Van Ness's sermon on Sunday, at the farewell service in the historic Second Church, was an arraignment of the church for its abandonment of congregational usage. This abandonment of the policy upon which our old New England churches were originally based, and which is popularly supposed still to obtain among them, has been gradual, but, Mr. Van Ness declares, is now almost complete. The surprise at the prominence given to this point upon such a memorable occasion will not be so great as the surprise with which most readers will learn the facts which the minister of the Second Church barely touched upon. He confined himself to his own church; but the case is probably the same in every Unitarian church in the Back Bay, as it has become with multitudes of congregational churches of various denominations in very wide regions. Mr. Van Ness's impeachment is therefore a general one, and, whatever churches of other polities may think about it, everyone who believes in real congregationalism will feel deeply that the impeachment is salutary and necessary.

"The situation is that government by the congregation in these churches has gradually been supplanted by government by a little group of pew proprietors in each church. The steps by which this fundamental change gradually came about would be interesting. The process, at any rate, is now so complete that all the responsible affairs of the churches are transacted by these little groups of pew proprietors within the congregation. They may not constitute a quarter of the members of the church, but the members who hire pews instead of owning them or who are related to the church in any other way than that of owning pews, have no vote whatever in church affairs. It seems incredible that a lot of our New England churches, with the democratic origin and tradition of which they boast, have been willing to put up with such a state of things as that so conspicuously exposed in this sermon. But the facts are as stated."

Editorial Notes

A few days ago a corps of the Salvation Army paraded in the streets of Quebec, and the officer was arrested and fined $10. And yet we are told that there is little or no intolerance in Roman Catholic Quebec, but Protestants are treated most generously. We suppose that poor Salvation Army officer thinks so!

Hon. Mr. McBride is pleased to have so strong a man as Winston Churchill at the head of the Admiralty when the naval duty of Canada is about to come under discussion. Mr. Churchill is a plain-spoken and practical public man; and we may hope that he will tell our representatives exactly where the British Navy needs assistance.

Taft says that Roosevelt emasculated his arbitration treaties. Roosevelt told the truth about them—that is all. "Teddy" may have his faults, but he is a poor hypocrite, especially on the philanthropic "lay." So far as the Taft treaties were effective, they were worthless, and so far as they promise to be worth anything, they would have been ineffective.

The Progressives of both parties are appealing to the people of Ohio to kill the two "conservative" candidates. By a curious chance, they both happen to be Ohio men. And Ohio can kill them both. But it cannot name the candidates who are to replace them. That is, Ohio can kill Governor Harmon, but it cannot decide between Wilson, Clark, Underwood and Bryan.

The appearance of Oscar Underwood the "floor leader" of the Democrats in Congress among the serious candidates for the Presidential nomination may mean a great deal. If neither Clark nor Wilson can be nominated, Underwood would make a capital compromise candidate. Then he is a Southerner and American feeling is to-day so friendly to the long-ostracised South that this would be a positive strength to his candidature.

"When is a veteran not a veteran?" is the question which Col. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, has been called upon to answer every day of the week since he undertook to recompense the men of '66 and '70 who took part in the Fenian troubles. The minister is perturbed, for the applications which are daily pouring in from every part of the Dominion, from various parts of the United States. It is estimated that 10,000 volunteered for service during the time of the raids. Many of these never came nearer to smelling powder than the drilling stage.

The Scientific American, discussing the sinking of the Titanic, makes reference to the speed at which she was travelling. The writer says that the 60,000 ton ship, travelling at twenty-one knots, represented an energy of 1,161,000 foot-tons. At ten knots her energy would have been only 290,250 foot-tons, as the energy of a moving mass increases as the square of the distance. This means that in striking the iceberg she struck a blow equal to the combined broadsides of twenty 12-inch guns. Could any ship hope to survive such a blow?

In Toronto, "the good," lives an old couple who have but very limited resources. Their son earns $17 a week, and he allowed his parents for some time four cents a day, to provide them with a pint of milk. Lately, however, this allowance ceased, and a charitable society had to step in and provide the pint of milk a day. Our law does not compel children to support their parents. But why should an old, respectable, hard-working couple be compelled to beg a pint of milk from either their own children or strangers? Have they not earned their old-age pension from the state? What do you think?

LAUGHS WITH JOY NO MORE INDIGESTION

Montreal Man So Ill, Thought He Would Die of Stomach Disorders.

Just read what Mr. Larose says of the curative powers of Dr. Hamilton's Pills:

"I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for five years. I suffered so much that I could hardly attend to my work. I was weak and lost all courage. I enjoyed no rest until I decided to follow your treatment. To my great surprise I immediately began to feel better. I am now using the second box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I feel so well that I want to tell you that I owe this great change to your famous pills. I recommend Dr. Hamilton's Pills to every person who is suffering from dyspepsia. Your grateful servant, D. R. Larose, 338 Joliette-st., Montreal, P.Q.

All who have weak stomachs, and those who suffer from indigestion, headaches, biliousness, can be perfectly cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Successfully used for many years, mild and safe. 25c per box, all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 16.—Minutes counted for days this afternoon on the board of trade. In a single quarter of an hour values that had required a fortnight to pile up were swept away in a whirl of stop-loss selling. Surprising improvement of the crop outlook was said to be an underlying cause. The end of the session left traders in a daze with wheat prices 3c to 4 3-4c lower than the night before, and with the break extending to all other grains and to provisions as well—corn off 3-4c to 4 1-8c, oats 7-8c to 2 3-8c, and packing house products 12 1-2c to 22 1-2c to 85c.

Liverpool wheat closed ⅛d lower to ⅛d higher than yesterday, and corn ⅛d to ¼d lower. Other European grain exchanges were closed.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 16.—A feature of the local grain trade was the increased demand from country points for Manitoba feed wheat and barley, owing to the very high prices ruling for American corn. The foreign demand for Manitoba spring wheat is still very limited.

The butter market is fairly active and firm under a good demand from western buyers for supplies, consequently stocks on spot are kept well cleaned up. The cheese situation is strong, there being a good demand from exporters to fill their short sales made some time ago at much lower prices than are ruling now.

NO OPERATION WAS EVER NEEDED HERE

BECAUSE MRS GOODINE USED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Doctor Said She Would Have to Undergo Operation, But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her.

Central Kingsclear, York Co., N.B. May 17.—(Special)—"The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation." So said Mrs. J. V. Goodine, of this place. But she smiled as she made the remark, for all need of the dreaded operation had vanished. Mrs. Goodine used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and is a well woman. Given in brief in her own words, Mrs. Goodine's experience is as follows:—

"I was very miserable with Kidney Disease and unable to do my own work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation. After using three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was all better and able to do my work. This statement is true, as you can easily prove by enquiring among my neighbors."

ELECT OUR SENATORS

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir,—An amendment to the constitution of the United States, providing for the popular election of United States senators, now goes to the legislatures of the forty-eight states for their adoption. Is it not time the Senators of our fast growing Dominion be chosen, directly by the people? The Senate is, in Nationaly Government, somewhat like the safety valve on a boiler. At present the Senate is composed of men, many of them that should have retired on superannuation. The Senate of Canada is nominated by the Government in power. The Senate has to pass on all legislation passed by Parliament. This is a matter that gives the Senate, in my humble opinion, an unwarranted, although constitutional power. If the Senate has a majority in sympathy with the Government in power, any law might be passed. If the Senate has a majority against the Government in power, the best legislation possible of enaction may be turned down. Mr. Editor, to avoid these contingencies, I think the Senators of Canada should be elected by the people for whom they pass the laws.

Headaches Over the Eyes Means Frontal Catarrh

APT TO GET INTO EARS, CAUSING DEAFNESS, OR TO REACH THE LUNGS AND END IN CONSUMPTION.

You Can Cure Catarrh in Any Stage by Breathing the Healing Balsamic Fumes of Catarrhozone, and Here is Proof.

Mr. Uric Berault, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Sweetsburg, Que., inherited catarrh from his mother. The disease spread through his system till he was a physical wreck.

"As a child," said Mr. Berault, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages.

"I grew pale and emaciated, lost all desire for food, and got into such a dreadful condition that my friends said that Catarrh was fairly eating me up.

"Every organ of my body seemed affected, and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrhozone and I inhaled it ten minutes at a time every few hours, and was rewarded in a few days by a wonderful improvement.

"Catarrhozone pleased me, and the doctor so well that I used it continuously, and took Ferrozone Tablets after each meal to build up my strength. In about three weeks I was quite recovered and the doctor says no remedy but Catarrhozone could work such a miracle.

"Everyone in town knows I was just about dead with catarrh, and my cure is an evidence of what Catarrhozone can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrhozone."

Two months' treatment, large size, price $1, and guaranteed. Small size 50c, all reliable dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont. Beware of dangerous substitutes and imitations for Catarrhozone.

HOW IT'S MINTED.

The Manner in Which Canada's New Gold Coins are Turned Out.

Ottawa, May 16.—The $10 gold piece, just issued, has for the obverse impression, His Majesty's effigy, consisting of head and bust, wearing the Imperial Crown and the robe of state with the collar of the garter, and looking to the left, with the inscription, "Georgius V Dei Gratia Rex et Imperator," and for the reverse a shield bearing the arms of the Dominion of Canada, within a wreath of maple leaves, surmounted by the inscription "Canada," and bearing underneath the words "Ten Dollars" with date of issue and with a graining upon the edge.

The $5 piece has the same obverse impression and inscription as the $10 and for the reverse a shield bearing the arms of the Dominion of Canada, within a wreath of maple leaves surmounted by the inscription "Canada" and bearing underneath the words, "Five Dollars," with the date of issue and with a graining upon the edge

Independent Banner Shows a Number Of Views of Peterborough.

The Industrial Banner, of London, Ont., in its issue for May, devotes nearly two pages to Peterborough. On the fourth page appears a number of pictures of this city, including one of the new concrete and steel bridge at Smith street, a view of George street and one of Victoria Park. The accompanying article is headed, "They've Got Hustlers in Peterborough." Thanks are given President Moore for furnishing the pictures and particulars about the city. The leading article says:

"There was only one matter in which it looked safe to assert ourselves, and that was when they sent us on a supply of cuts illustrative of the city that would have probably put any of the Toronto dailies out of business. We just had to buck up and select a few or else there would have been just about two and a third inches left for reading matter in this edition.

"Owing to stress of work the matter of a convention number had just about been abandoned, and probably would have been but for the insistence of Hugh Robertson, and then to think of the trick they worked over us in rushing the job. With the kind of hustling that Peterborough bunch put up we should have had at least an eight page issue, for as a matter of fact, at last, in desperation, we had to issue orders for them to quit or it would be a case of swamp-out.

IS S. M. R. OLIVER NON COMPOS MENTIS ASKED

Toronto, May 17.—The question of whether R. M. Oliver obtained the sum of $57 by false pretences from Matthew Foggins is completely obscured by the more important issue as to his sanity or insanity. This was the problem which the court set itself to unravel this morning, and after a discussion in which Magistrat Denison, Crown Attorney Corley and Mr. J. W. Curry, K.C., counsel for the defence, participated, the matter was postponed until May 21st when the doctors will give their evidence.

When the case was called Mr Curry started the ball rolling by declaring that the prisoner was insane at the time the alleged fraud took place.

Magistrate Denison: "Oh yes, but a few days afterwards that he was sane. He might be out a few days and do something else. The insanity was apparently a little temporary matter which he soon got over."

Still a Little Bit That Way.

Mr. Curry: "It may be that the man is still that way. I understand that he was going out from the jail under his father's control."

Mr. Corley: "Yes, and then walked down here by himself."

Magistrate: "At any rate the scheme of temporary insanity secured his release from jail."

Mr. Curry: "Well, his father went his bond, and he was released in his care. This is the usual course where such persons are not dangerous." Counsel then read the report of the jail doctors to the effect that the man had recovered sufficiently during incarceration to be committed to the care of relatives or friends.

HAPPY IN ADVERSITY.

A Change That Business Reverses Wrought in One Family.

A husband suddenly lost his position, and the family of wife and three children in a day found themselves transformed from having plenty to almost nothing. Three months after he lost his position a friend called and was amazed to find the family happier than ever before—the children busy and cheerful, the wife's eyes sparkling and the husband working at one-third his previous salary.

"One might think you all enjoyed your reverses," said the friend.

"Really we do," said the wife. "Nothing in the world could have happened to bring us so close together. Before, the children were rapidly acquiring their own interests, and several times I felt that I was not so close to them as I would like. When George's reversal came we decided not to deceive the children and give them everything as before, as was our first instinctive inclination. We took them frankly into our confidence and told them what had happened and what it would mean to them. We dealt honestly with them, and they felt it and appreciated it.

"And you see the result. They are just thriving on the opportunities for healthful sacrifice, the chance to share in the family responsibilities, and as a family we are closer, healthier and really happier than ever before. Evidently we needed exactly what happened, and we do not regret it the least little bit."—Ladies' Home Journal.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

At a certain stage of the battle of Wagram, which took place in 1809, the proceedings developed into a great hare hunt. There were 400,000 hunters, half French and half Austrians.

The plain was, it is related, covered with hares, which the long advance of the two armies had driven into a narrow space. Frightened by the guns of the French, they ran for their lives and continued to run until they reached the Austrian lines. There they were none the less terrified and came rushing back upon the French.

The soldiers were greatly interested by the frantic movements of the hares and could hardly be restrained from making after them.

There occurred a charge by the Austrian cavalry, which, of course, took no account of the hares. The horses plunged in among them, and they rushed in dismay among the ranks of the French soldiers, who, confused by so strange an attack, began bayoneting the hares. Other soldiers not immediately pressed by the onset of the enemy caught up the trembling animals in their hands.

There was that day a great slaughter of men and hares, and many a shot destined for the enemy struck one of these poor animals, who doubtless believed that the great armies had come there expressly to hunt them instead of to hunt each other.—Harper's.

CHICAGO IN ITS YOUTH.

It Got One Weekly Mail, by Horseback, From the East in 1832.

Extracts from the first city directory of Chicago reprinted in the Record-Herald show, for the most part, a feeling of satisfaction in the compiler. The directory appeared in 1844. "Our common schools," he writes, "are worthy of special notice." Regarding entertainment for the stranger within the gates, he is able to note definite improvement. Whereas, "In early times our inns were miserable in the extreme," now "we have eighteen hotels and houses of public entertainment, many of them large and splendid establishments, not inferior to any in the west."

He hazards a prophecy which has been more than fulfilled when he says: "We have four large packing houses, and all of them have done a heavy business thus far. The pork packing is only just commencing, but will, it is thought, be extensive."

The progress that had been made in postal facilities is shown by this record: "A weekly mail from the east was received here on horseback in 1832. The next year it was received in a one horse wagon weekly. In 1833 a two horse wagon was substituted. In 1834 a four horse stage line was established semiweekly; triweekly in 1835. In 1837 there was a daily eastern mail. There are now received and made up at this office forty-eight mails weekly, and the receipts of the office amount to about $10,000."

In one or two respects the narrator cannot speak so cheerfully. He is compelled to acknowledge a debt of $8,977.25. He adds, however, that "The credit of the city is now established upon a permanent foundation and cannot easily be shaken." But for the stage he sees no immediate hope. This is his plaint: "Our theater—a very pretty one—has been in operation the past season and met with some encouragement, but it must be confessed that at present the prospects of the drama are not flattering."

TWO DORE SKETCHES.

One That Was Stolen and Another That Was Confiscated.

While Gustave Dore was at Ischl and wandering about the mountains he became much interested in a country wedding and sketched it on the spot. He put the sketch in a book in the pocket of his paletot and went back to the hotel to dinner. After dinner he looked for the sketch. It was gone.

Angry at the theft, the artist called the landlord and made complaint, but no trace of the book was found. From Ischl Dore went to Vienna, and there he found a letter and a parcel awaiting him. The letter, which was anonymous, read thus:

> Sir, I stole your book at Ischl. The sketch was so charming that I could not resist the temptation of having it in my possession, and I knew very well that you would never consent to sell to me. But theft is neither my trade nor my habit, and I beg you to accept as a souvenir of my crime and my enthusiasm for your talent the walking stick which will reach you at the same time as this letter.

The cane was a massive one with a gold head, in which was set a gem of value.

On another occasion the artist lost his passport while on a tour in Switzerland. At Lucerne he asked to be allowed to speak to the mayor, to whom he gave his name.

"You say that you are M. Gustave Dore, and I believe you," said the mayor, "but," and he produced a piece of paper and a pencil, "you can easily prove it."

Dore looked around him and saw some peasants selling potatoes in the street. With a few clever touches he reproduced the homely scene and, appending his name to the sketch, gave it to the mayor.

"Your passport is all right," remarked the official, "but you must allow me to keep it and to offer you in return one of the ordinary form."—New York Sun.

Hymns In Theaters.

In south Wales when the people are pleased with the work of an actor they have a custom of showing their appreciation by singing hymns at the close of the performance. Henry Irving was once playing at Swansea when he was surprised to hear the audience burst into "Lead, Kindly Light," when he appeared before the curtain in response to a call. At the close of the engagement the great actor was deeply touched by the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," rendered in the most reverent manner.—London Spectator.

Too Inquisitive.

"Bridget, didn't I hear you quarreling with the milkman this morning?"

"Sure not! His hired girl's sick, an' I was inquirin' afther her. But he's an impolite divil."

"How's that?"

"Says I, 'How's your milkmaid?' An' he looked mad an' says, 'That's a thrade secret.'"—Kansas City Journal.

A Mean Hint.

"What did she play?"

"The 'Last Hope'—such an appropriate selection!"

"Why do you say so?"

Demure, but Determined.

A bride looks so modest and demure at a wedding that it is hard to suspect her of having bossed the affair with an iron hand.—Atchison Globe.

Bells and Bees.

It is a foolish notion to suppose that the ringing of bells or "tanging" of tin pans will cause a swarm of bees to settle. The real origin of this custom dated back to the reign of Alfred the Great, who, in order to prevent disputes regarding the ownership of a swarm, ordered that the owner should always ring a bell when his bees swarmed, and ever since then the good farmer's wife has been rushing out with ringing bells whenever the bees swarmed, and the fact that they settled verified, in her own mind, the belief that the bell did it.—London Standard.

MR. CRANE HONORED.

Banquet in Honor of St. Paul's Organist, After 19 Years' Service.

Mr. John Crane, the popular manager of the Dominion Bank, who has for years been organist of St Paul's church, recently resigned that position. On Thursday night the members of the choir of that Church paid Mr. Crane a practical tribute of their esteem and recognition of his services. A banquet was given in his honor in the Sunday school hall, Mr. T. H. Hooper catering. A very pleasant evening was spent. Rev. Robt. Pogue responded to "The Church and its Ordinances." Mr. Logan proposed "The Ladies" seconded by Mr. Perrin. The toast to "Our Retiring Leader" was proposed by Mr. Logan, who referred to the splendid services Mr. Crane had rendered during the past 19 years in the position of choir master and organist of St. Paul's. On behalf of the choir he conveyed to Mr. Crane the appreciation of the members of his courtesy and the kindliness he had always shown in his relations with the choir.

Mr. Crane thanked the members for their expression of appreciation. The Board of Management was proposed by Mr. Crane and responded to by Mr Moore and Mr. Connal. A very pleasant evening was closed by the singing of Blest Be The Tie That Binds.

ORGAN RECITAL.

By Mr. John Allan, of Crescent St. Presbyterian Church, Montreal, at St. Paul's Church, Monday May 20, at 8 p.m., assisted by Miss Brock, (contralto) and Miss Chalmers, (soprano).

TROUBLE IN COURT.

Patrick Lavery is Sent to Higher Court for Assaulting an Officer.

At yesterday's session of the police court Patrick Lavery was charged with unlawfully assaulting a police officer while the latter was attempting to arrest William Lavery, brother of the accused. The offence is alleged to have taken place Tuesday evening, May 14, near the corner of George and Charlotte streets, and the officer upon whom the assault was directed was P. C. Kane. It seems that when Lavery and the officer got into the mixup a crowd gathered quickly.

Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the accused and would neither plead nor elect for his client. A short passage at arms ensued between the Counsel for the defence and the Magistrate, which resulted in the former leaving the courtroom

P. C. Kane, the witness in the case was first called. He stated that on the evening in question he had occasion to arrest Lavery, as the latter was in a state of intoxication and was very profane in his remarks. and no other option remained but to place the offender under arrest.

To this Patrick Lavery, brother of the man whom Kane was trying to arrest, objected. A scuffle ensued in which the prisoner took an active part, taking hold of the officer by the coat collar The arrival of Detective Newhall brought order out of chaos and culminated in Lavery's arrest.

As the counsel would neither plead or elect as to how he would be tried, Magistrate Dumble committed him to a higher court. The case will probably be tried by His Honor Judge Huycke in the County Court at a date which has not yet been decided upon.

FIREPROOF FRAME BUILDINGS

CANADIAN FIREPROOFING IMPREGNATION CO. LTD.

Authorized Capital: $200.000
Divided Into 20.000 Shares, Par Value, $10.00

Send us your order for Antignol today it may be to late tomorrow

This Company has been formed to market a new invention by which wood can be made fireproof. This invention consists of a chemical compound called "Antignol," in which the wood is either immersed for about 24 hours, or—and that applies especially to houses already built—which may be applied to the wood twice or three times with a brush. The solution penetrates deep into the substance of the wood, and after the evaporation of the liquid parts leaves a deposit, which cannot be removed or washed out by rain or moisture of any kind.

Wood impregnated with Antignol will resist fire. Even in a fierce blaze, fed by great quantities of highly inflammable contents of a house or other building, the woodwork would be charred to a small depth, as even bricks or other noncombustible material would, but it would not develop flames itself, therefore not maintain nor conduct the fire. The latter would die out as soon as the source of it was removed or had exhausted itself.

To illustrate this on an every-day occurrence let us take the case of a lamp being overturned, or a burning match or cigar dropped on a carpet or other material easily ignited. The contents of a room, curtains, furniture, etc., would in an instant be aflame, and the whole building would be ablaze and destroyed—with the adjoining buildings included in the destruction—in spite of all efforts to fight the conflagration. In a building impregnated with Antignol that would not be the case. The accident would be confined to the room in which it occurred. The contents of the same would, of course, burn out as well (though at some future time when impregnation will be more general and extended to curtains, furniture, etc., this might be prevented too), but the structure would resist the fire long enough to give people a chance to extinguish it or to allow the fire to die down after the contents of the room had been consumed. ...

As even the most disastrous conflagrations necessarily originate from such small beginnings, which it has not been possible to check in time, and as we have shown, that these initial stages of every fire of the ordinary kind can by means of our impregnations be kept under control or rendered comparatively harmless, the majority of fires in frame buildings may be prevented.

This Is a Bold Statement. But It is True

It is not only verified by leading experts of official standing, but we have made arrangements to demonstrate the efficacy of our impregnation to anyone calling at our offices.

Besides fireproofing the wood Antignol has all the properties of the other wood-preserving impregnation fluids, namely, protecting the wood against decay, germs of decomposition, fungi, etc. It is, therefore, applicable to railway sleepers, telegraph poles, ships, boats, etc.

In a country where disastrous fires occur with an awe-inspiring frequency, where the annual fire-waste is $2.50 per capita, as compared with 30 cents per capita in the old countries, where 25 per cent. of all new buildings simply replace those destroyed by fire—it is well nigh impossible to over-estimate the general and commercial importance of our enterprise.

The Directors of the Company are all experienced business men, and with a market that for a long time to come will be far ahead of our manufacturing capacity, everyone must realize that the shares of this Company offer quite exceptional opportunities for profits.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Dredging, Sault Ste Marie, Ont.," will be received until 4 p.m. on Monday, May 20, 1912, for dredging required at Sault Ste Marie in the Province of Ontario.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained on application to the Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the work. Dredges and tugs not owned and registered in Canada shall not be employed in the performance of the work contracted for. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for five per cent (5 per cent) of the contract price which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract, when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By Order.
R. C. DESROCHERS
Secretary.

C. Mills	11
E. C. Boswell	6
H. Routley	6

The next regular shoot will be held on the evening of Thursday, June 6.

A Noted Musician Here.

This morning a trombone soloist will arrive in the city from England who will be a great addition to the 57th Regiment. This is Mr. Arthur Taylor, a graduate of Kneller Hall, England. Mr. Taylor has been a musician, a trombone soloist, in several of the crack regiments of England. He filled that position for 13 years in the band of the Surrey Regiment, five years in the guards, and a similar time with other well known regiments. Mr. Taylor will take the position of trombone soloist in the local regiment. The fact of his graduating from Kneller Hall is a sufficient guarantee of his musical abilities.

NORTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL MEETING

Town Hall, North Monaghan.
May 15th, 1912, 2 p.m.

All the members being present.

A plan of the Stinson lot on the gravel road, consisting of Park lot 19 and part of Park lot 20, being part of township lot 12, concession 12, and shown on registered plan No 11, for the township of North Monaghan, was presented by Mr. Morrison for acceptance by the Council.

The Municipality of North Monaghan, by the Council thereof, accepts Second and Third Avenue, each being 60 ft. in width, but does not accept Fourth Avenue, it not being the required width. The Reeve and Clerk are authorized to attach their names and the corporate seal.

Mr. John Armstrong appeared before the Council and asked them to take action regarding the water being dammed back on his farm on the 9th concession. Other parties owning land in the course of the natural fall for the water would not clear out the course to let the water away, Mr. Armstrong claims.

Moved by Mr. Forster, seconded by Mr. May, that the matter be referred to the Township Solicitor.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Forster, seconded by Mr. Morrow, that Mr. May be appointed with power to act in regard to Mr. T. Hurley's application to have Business street graded and also to look into his request regarding Ford avenue.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Robson, seconded by Mr. Morrow, that the following bills be approved for payment:

D. J. Kennedy, 65 loads dirt at 20c		$18.00
Foster Moncrief, repairing culverts		11.90
Andrew Hogg, repairing washout		19.20
George Moncrief, repairing culvert		3.00
A. E. Saunders, charity re S. Carnahan		6.00
W. G. Howden, sessional allowance		15.00
H. J. Forster	do.	15.00
William Robson	do.	15.00
James C. Morrow	do.	15.00
Geo. H. May	do.	15.00
Bruce Johnson, ½ year's salary as Clerk		50.00
W. H. Bradburn, ½ year's salary as Treasurer		25.00
		$208.10

Moved by Mr. Forster, seconded by Mr. Robson, that Mr. W. G. Howden's plan of Park lot No. 9, township lot 13, con., 11, North Monaghan be accepted and approved for registration, and the Clerk and Reeve be authorized to attach their names and the corporate seal of the township. The Council also accepts Howden St as shown on this plan, and being 60 ft. in width.

The Council then adjourned to meet again at the Clerk's on Saturday, May 25th at 2 p.m.

Bruce Johnston, Clerk.

Court of Revision,

Town Hall, May 15th, 1912, 2 p.m.

Moved by Mr. Robson, seconded by Mr. May, that Mr. Howden be Chairman of the Court of Revision, each member being duly sworn as a member of the said Court.

Francis Kerr made application to have the lots 4 and 5 on Plan 30 assessed to the proper owners, Mr. S. S. J. Ridyard and James Cochrane. The error in this assessment was corrected accordingly and the appeal granted.

Mr. LeVasseur's appeal was considered not necessary, he not being assessed as stated in his appeal.

Moved by Mr. May, seconded by Mr. Forster, that Mr. Thos. Lush's appeal be granted, and that his assessment be reduced from $700 to $600.

The appeal of Mr. Alex. A. Preston was adjusted by the Assessor previous to the Court of Revision, and Mr. Preston did not appear before the Court.

Mr. Switzer, for the Toronto Loan and Savings Co., made application to have lots 61 and 62 and part of 63 on Plan 41 assessed to Mr. I. Parks.

Moved by Mr. Morrow, seconded by Mr. Robson, that Mr. Switzer's request be granted.—Carried.

The Toronto Loan and Savings Co. also appealed to have the number of acres as given in the assessment roll reduced from 20 acres to 11 acres. Mr. Switzer claimed that 11 acres was what they totalled now.

Moved by Mr. Forster, seconded by Mr. Morrow that the appeal of the Toronto Savings and Loan Co. be granted, and that the number of acres as shown on the assessment roll be reduced from 20 acres to 11 acres.—Carried.

The Toronto Savings and Loan Co appealed to have their assessment reduced, claiming an over charge on land.

Moved by Mr. Morrow, seconded by Mr Robson, that the assessment on portion of land on the Sugar Beet property now owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Co., be reduced from $5000 to $2,750.

That the assessment on this portion of this property which is subdivided as shown on plan 41 be reduced from $4340 to $2950, or from $70 per lot to $50 per lot.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Forster, seconded by Mr May, that the assessment on Mr J. T. O'Connell's property as shown on plans Nos. 45 and 50, be reduced from $12,750 to $5,160, or from $66 per lot to $25 per lot.

Moved by Mr. May, seconded by Mr Morrow that Mr. Israel Payne's assessment be reduced from $4186 to $2025, or to $25 per lot.—Carried.—Plan No. 48.

Moved by Mr. May, seconded by Mr Morrow, that Mr. F. T. Hurley's assessment be reduced from $4150 to $2074, or from $50 to $25 per lot.—Plan No. 48.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. May, seconded by Mr. Morrow, that Mr. T. Hurley's assessment of plan No. 37 be reduced from $3700 to $1640, or from $45 per lot to $20 per lot.—As shown on plan No. 37.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Morrow, seconded by Mr. May, that Mr. Geo. Moncrief's appeal be allowed and that the house and lot on the Campbell property be assessed to Miss Bella Campbell.—Carried.

Bruce Johnston, Clerk.

PREPARING IN ENGLAND AS IF WAR LOOMED AHEAD

Arsenals Working Overtime and Great Purchases of Coal Being Made--Trying to Discredit German Ambassador.

London, May 18.—Winston Churchill's announcement of his intention to present supplementary naval estimates providing for additional men, money and war material, is another sign of serious tension still existing between Germany and ourselves. Our arsenals are working overtime to produce reserves of ammunition, and the Admiralty is making great purchases of coal. Everything is being prepared as though war loomed early ahead. The King's visit to Aldershot this week showed the high efficency to which the British army has now attained. Competent critics are agreed that its state has been transformed since the Boer War, and that to-day it is, man for man, among the most keen and workmanlike in the world.

Baron Marschall von Bieberstein's appointment by Germany as Ambassador at London has aroused a tremendous semi-official press campaign. England has been overwhelmed with stories, largely of French origin, aimed atdiscrediting the Ambassador and making impossible any advance in Anglo-German rapprochement.

Apathy in Parliament Causes Speculation.

Politically, the strange Porliamentary apathy continues to arouse speculation. Great debates are conducted to half empty benches. On Thursday, the Welsh Disestablishment bill passed its second reading in a painfully indifferent House. There are many suggtstions in the air that the Government will consent to considerable modifications in its scheme of Welsh disendowment.

Canadian Financial Standing in Danger.

Many years of steady growth, increasing values, and sound finance have built up an enviable position for Canadian securities in London. This public confidence threatens to be shattered by the extravagant exploitation of a group of land boomers who are now trying by every trick to sell Canadian townsites and farm lands here. These exploiters charge often tenfold the proper value, and trade on the ignorance of the British public. Their advertisements and absurd promises have so been answered that, encouraged by their success, they are now, I understand, planning campaigns on still larger scale. Some of these schemes are bound to react dangerously upon the great body of sound Canadian propositions. Canadians here urge Lord Strathcona to take the initiative by publicly branding some of the worst of these schemes as unworthy of English support. Canadians in London urge this not merely for the sake of protecting English fools, but also in order that the reaction against their unchecked folly may not dull Canadian prestige here.

PRESIDENT TAFT IS SORE ON ACCOUNT OF ROOSEVELT'S LIES

Toledo, O., May 18.—"I've got tired being lied about and held up to the country as having violated every rule of conduct when I am not conscious that I have violated any," shouted President Taft here last night. In the course of a speech to a crowd that filled every available seat and blocked the aisles of the Toledo auditorium.

Mr. Taft's speech was one of the most bitter and one of the most plain spoken that he has made since he began to answer the charges of Col. Roosevelt and to use hot shot of his own. The President bluntly charged that Walter Brown of Toledo, one of Roosevelt's leaders here had ceased to be a Taft supporter because the President refused to accept his recommendation for judicial appointments. He declared that the opposition to him on the part of Dan. Hanna of Cleveland, came as a consequence of indictments against Mr. Hanna by the Taft Department of Justice.

The President reached Toledo more than two hours late and many of the crowd in the auditorium had been waiting for longer to see and hear him. After he entered the hall hundreds of persons remained outside unable to gain entrance and besieged the police. When the doors were finally opened again, those who wished went in, they made so much noise that Mr. Taft had to stop speaking for more than five minutes. His appeals to the crowd for a square deal andhis attacks on Mr. Roosevelt were cheered in emphatic fashion. It was the most demonstrative gathering Mr. Taft has addressed on his present trip.

A NEW SECRETARY

At a meeting of the Liberal of the London Life Association West Peterborough, held on Saturday evening, Mr. George Southwell, District Manager of the London Life Association was elected Secretary of the Association in place of Mr. James Edgar, resigned. Mr. Southwell is an excellent choice, and will, we believe, make an ideal Secretary.

THOROGOOD IS GIVEN SEVEN LONG YEARS

Toronto, May 18.—Walter Thorogood, who was convicted by a jury in the Assizes last night on a charge ofmanslaughter was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary by Mr. Justice Latchford this morning. The case arose out of the killing of Joseph Sabino in a Yonge street pool room on Good Friday night. Thorogood struck the Italian on the head with a billiard cue and fractured his skull.

"This is not a case where any great leniency can be shown you," said his Lordship, in imposing sentence. "After a very able defence a jury has found you guilty and the veedict in my mind is the right one.

"Thereis not the slightest doubt that all your friends who gave evidence in your behalf, and said you did not strike with the cue, but only threwit, knew perfectly well that that was not true. Against their story is an established fact, making the tale as you and your friends swore it to be without further foundation than that the cue fell from your hand after the blow was struck.

"You began, I believe, by being the aggressor. In the first place a man like you, having to go to work at 2 o'clock in the morning, had nobusiness to frequent such a place. There is not much excuse, either, for men such as those who appeared in your behalf, being there. There is this much to be said, that there is very little recreation in this city for young men and the result is that they frequent lacivious theatres and pool rooms."

The judge then pronounced the sentence of seven years, and the prisoner had to be carried to his cell,

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, disheartened by the obstacles to her divorce from Harry K. Thaw, is directing an effort to collect $15,000, the amount of three checks given to her by her husband and his mother immediately after Thaw's commitment to Matteawan. Payment on these checks was stopped.

With the beautiful baby boy whose constant and devoted companion she has been ever since his birth in Europe twenty-one months ago and with $15,000 capital she hopes to cut loose forever from Thaw, abandoning the $5,000 a year she long has received from him. She wants to avoid testifying at any further Thaw hearings, as such curiosity now repeated would involve probably an exploitation of the infant to whom she is tenderly attached and whose young life already has had more than its share of mystery.

CONDEMNED MURDERER MOANS AND RAVES IN DEATH CELL

Boston, May 18.—A deep sleep, superinduced by apiates, shut out a world of agonies from the troubled mind of Clarence V. T. Richeson during the earlier hours of the day.

The iron will of the former clergyman, who awaits death by electrocution next week for the murder of Miss Avis Linnell, gave way last condemned man was alternately beseeching his counsel to have his body interred beside that of his mother in Virginia, and hysterically raving over the fancied persecution of the two guards forming his death watch.

Richeson learned definitely for the first time yesterday that he must meet death by electricution. Through the day he bore himself up with fortitude. Little by little the awful import of the decision he had heard began to impress itself upon him. Some one of those who entered the death chamber imparted to the prisoner the fact that his father did not care to have his body taken toVirginiafor burial. Richeson at once gave way to his emotions and implored of his counsel, Wm. A. Morse, that arrangements be made that he might lie beside his mother in the family plot.

Discussed the Execution.

As the day wore on other incidents occurred to distract and disturb the condemned man. The discussion between Richeson, his counsel and spiritual advisers turned upon the execution, and the prisoner begged both Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, and Rev. Stebbins, the prison chaplain, to walk to the chair with him. Richeson also expressed a wish that Attorney Morse should be present during the last few minutes, and further exacted a promise that either one or the other of the ministers would remain constantly with him until he died.

In the meantime Richeson did not eat his dinner or supper. It was nearly twelve hours after he learned that he must die next week that he burst out in a paroxysm of grief and hysteria. Fully clothed, the stricken man threw himself upon his cot and moaned and shrieked in misery. His arms and shoulders twitched and shook, his face was drawn in agony, and from time to time as his glance fell upon the tworguards set in death watch over him, he would scream out in horror, crying, "They're watching me! They're watching me!"

Warden B. F. Briggs was notified and hurried to the death house. He found conditions even worse than he had feared, and sent for the prison physician. He was not at home, and Dr. Frederick L. Lyons, of Charlestown, was called.

When Dr. Lyons arrived, Richeson was still more or less hysterical, but apparently unconscious. Dr. Lyons administered a sedative and the prisoner went to sleep about 2 o'clock, remaining in a deep slumber until a late hour.

CANADA WILL DO SHARE IN THE NATIONAL DEFENCE

Five Nations Are Getting Together, Not For Oppression But For Mutual Defence.

Toronto, May 18.—Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance, and Mr. N. W. Rowell, leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, were the guests of honor at the house dinner given last night by the National Club, of which both are members. Mr. W. P. Grundy, president of the club, presided.

The toast to the health of Hon. Mr. White was proposed by the chairman, who paid a high tribute to the ability and integrity of Canada's Minister of Finance. Vice-President A. L. Malone, in a happy speech, performed a similar function for Mr. Rowell. In response Messrs. White and Rowell delivered rousing addresses, striking with no uncertain beat the true Imperialist note so dear to Canadians notwithstanding the distinguished guests which the National Club has honored in the past, rarely have its members listened to two such inspiring speeches as those delivered last night by two of their own company.

So impressed were the officers with so unusual character of the addresses and their unusual national spirit, that they decided to authorize the preparation of a report of the meeting to be issued as soon as possible in pamphlet form.

Mr. White spoke as follows:

"I assure you I esteem very highly the honor of a banquet from such an organization as the National Club with its fine traditions as a social, public spirited and patriotic institution and with its select membership of those most eminent in the commercial, financial and professional life of this great, growing, prosperous and progressive city of Toronto. And I assure you that I esteem the honor none the less because it comes to me not in my public capacity, but as a member of the club, as one of yourselves, or rather one of ourselves one who has known and has been known by you all in the most pleasant way over a business and social acquaintance of very many years. I think few of us quite realize what we owe in the way of pleasure and relaxation to the minute chat on the street and the daily luncheon at the club with those with whom we habitually fraternize in the business and professional world. I assure you that the most trying feature of the change which I have made to public life has been the loss of the comradeship of friends, of those whom I see before me and many others with whom I have had the pleasure and advantage of so many years' association.

WIFE WAS MURDERED BY HER HUSBAND IN THE STREET

Hamilton, Ont., May 18.—Crazed by jealousy, Frank Truckle shortly after eleven o'clock this morning shot and killed his wife at the corner of Park and Merrick streets in full view of many people and then made a thrilling dash for liberty, jumping into an automobile and holding a revolver to the driver's head, threatened to kill the chauffeur unless he hurried him away.

Men in automobiles and on motor cycles followed the murderer and when Truckle found himself cornered on Charles street near the mouth of the T.H. & B. tunnel he turned the weaponon himself, firing several shots He was taken to the city Hospital and is not expected to recover.

Complained to the Police.

Truckle and his wife had not been living together. He was very jealous of her and had complained to the police about her. She was employed as a dining room girl at a temperance hotel on Merrick street. The husband called there last night and they had a long talk. This morning the man returned to the hotel and asked the woman to go for a walk with him.

She consented and they had gone only a block when Truckle suddenly drew a revolver and fired two shots through the woman's heart. He held the revolver against her body so as not to miss.

MME. NAVRATIL IN NEW YORK AND GETS HER CHILDREN

New York, May 18.—Mme. Marcelle Navratil, of Nice, on her arrival, claimed her two baby sons who were saved from the Titanic wreck and who have been held in New York awaiting her arrival since the Carpathia brought them here on April 18. The waifs were brought to shore by Miss Margaret Hays, of 304 West 83rd street. The identification was certified when Michel, the elder of the two, saw his mother in the doorway of the Children's Society Nursery, and crying "Oh, mamma!" rushed into her arms.

Michel is four years old and his brother Edmund is two and a half. When Mme. Navratil appeared in the doorway Edmund did not appear to recognize his mother. However, when he saw Michel in his mother's arms he dropped the picture book he was scanning and crying "Maman-Maman!" rushed to her also. Mme. Navratil fainted and two nurses were summoned to care for her.

Mme. Navratil was met at the pier by Thomas D. Walsh, superintendent of the Children's Society; Miss Margaret Hays, into whose care the children were given by an unidentified man when the Titanic sank; Frank P. Hays, her father, and Mlle. Rose Bruno, of Elkins Park, Pa., a cousin of Mme. Navratil. The party drove at once to the headquarters of the Children's Society, at Fourth avenue and Twenty-third street and there, in the nursery on the fifth floor, Mme. Navratil met the children from whom she had been separated since Easter.

LOCAL AUTO CLUB IS DOING GOOD WORK

The members of the local automobile club are certainly true sports. They are going to help the opening of of the baseball season at the first game, by placing their joy-wagons at the convenience, and, incidentally, advertisement of the officers of the ball club.

Members of the association will send large deputations to the city and county councils to urge the building of good roads. These deputations will likely be sent to the next meetings of the respective councils.

POLLUTING THE WATER.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see that the town council of Lindsay is considering whether to send two or three delegates to the annual meeting of the Ontario Municipal Board of Health, in Toronto, on June 18th. The object of sending such delegates is to demand that none of the waters leading towards Lindsay's source of drinking water, be polluted. As the health of the community is its first and most serious consideration. Why not have this city represented for a similar purpose?

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

PAINTS.

THE LAW OF QUALITY IS AS SURE AS the law of Gravity. Gravity keeps both your feet on the ground. Quality informs your judgment when you are on the "Ground Floor" in the matter of value. Martin-Senour's Paint is the Ground Floor of paint value. It makes good every time. It flows freely, has great covering capacity, shows a beautiful finish, and wears like iron. It will more than meet your expectations in quality brilliancy and durability. Campbell & Best, 134 Hunter St. Next to post office.

HOMES FOR HONEST TOILERS, AND gardens to add to your income, and save your dollars. We have helped many to own their homes, and we will help you. Come in, pay a small deposit to which we add bonus, then prepare to plant garden and build house on our Easy Rent Plan. Others have done this and so can you. Late spring calls for prompt action. Our builders commence Monday 22nd. Your opportunity. Young men, buy our lots, as others have done, and save at least a part of what you earn. Even $5 per month saved, with increasing value of lots, will build up capital and start you on the road to riches. Gardens, all sizes, to rent. T. Hurley, cor. Stewart & Hunter.

FOR SALE—BUILDINGS WORTH $4,000 for $3,000. Lots worth $150 for $100. See J. Bell, cor. Braidwood and Park Sts. Phone 1288.

PORT MANN, B.C., CANADIAN NORTHERN Pacific Coast terminus, attracting millions eastern and British capital. Property adjoining railway's holdings becoming very valuable. Quarter acre lots touching townsite five hundred to six hundred each, quarter cash. Island Investment Company, Limited, Vancouver.

WHILE YOU WORK AND WHILE YOU sleep.—Wage earners make money only while they work. My lot buyers make money while they sleep. Those who have bought from me during the past four years have made by increasing value of lots, more than 50 per cent per annum on the amount invested. And they are worth from $200 to $1200 to-day, because of having wisely imposed a "must" upon themselves to save a little of what they earned. Come in and let us show you a very easy way to do the same. Gardens: I know one man who planted 1 acre of onions, and sold his crop for $900 cash. Was that not making money while he slept? We can supply a few acres ploughed to men who would wish to do likewise. Also a larger place with good buildings and a large poultry plant. Immediate possession. Decide at once, and call for particulars. T. Hurley, corner Stewart and Hunter streets.

WE CAN GIVE YOU ABSOLUTE PROOF that the lots we offer inside the town limits of Edson at $40 each, on easy terms, are a money-making investment, offered below their real value; Edson is a divisional point on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a monthly pay roll of $40,000; Edson is the actual distributing point for the Peace River country, the Brazeau coal fields, and for two hundred miles west on the Canadian Northern; Edson is little more than a year old, and already has more than twelve hundred permanent residents; it costs you one cent to obtain illustrated booklet, and the above mentioned proof; mail us a postcard to-day. The Edson Point Company, 808 McIntyre Block, Winnipeg.

SPOTS ON THE SUN

They Indicate the Aging of Our Orb of Life and Light.

THE GREAT SOLAR TRAGEDY.

A Grim Play In Which the "Star" Is Fighting For Existence, Has Absolutely No Chance to Win and Whose Death Means the End of the World.

Life is a tragedy, the earth a stage, men and women the actors, the "gods" the audience. Some pessimists believe that this great play of life is more comic than tragic in the opinion of the spectators.

However this may be, there is another, vastly greater, tragedy of life at which man himself is an onlooker, although, unfortunately, his own ultimate fate is bound up with the denouement of the play.

It is the life drama of the solar system. Its chief actor is the sun, and men are beginning to rub their eyes and wipe the specks from their glasses as they perceive more and more plainly indications that the "star" of the play is aging.

The fact is becoming only too clear that for him this is no sport, but real, deadly tragedy. He is not acting a part, but fighting for life. He cannot win; he can only prolong the struggle, and when he falls exhausted the stage, the theater, actors, spectators, pit and galleries will go with him in one universal ruin.

Until recently we were only troubled a little in mind by the sun spots. It was evident that they must cut off some radiation, but the amount appeared to be trifling, and their maxima are far apart, ten or eleven years. But now we are confronted by a much more disquieting phenomenon. The sun appears to "fluctuate at irregular intervals of several days and sometimes of several months."

Here is the crux of the whole matter. What does the recognition of the fact that the sun is a veritable star mean? What may it mean to the earth and its inhabitants? These questions can best be answered by considering other variable stars.

Let us take an extreme example. There is in the constellation of the Whale a famous variable star known as Mira the Wonderful. In a period of about ten months on the average it changes from the third—sometimes the second—magnitude to about the ninth and then back again.

That means, in the extreme, a probable difference of between two and three hundred times in the amount of light and heat which it radiates around it at maximum and at minimum.

When it is faintest it cannot be seen with the naked eye; when it is brightest it is a conspicuous object. As it fades it turns reddish in color, and when it brightens it blazes with brilliant spectroscopic lines.

It is probably a sun at least as great as our sun, and it has recently been found that its spectrum resembles in some striking peculiarities the spectra of sun spots.

Did it ever have any worlds to light and nourish? If so think of the condition of those worlds now.

A sun is like a living organism—it wears out. As it ages it becomes more and more variable. It maintains itself and its planets while its radiant power lasts, but it cannot do so forever. It contracts, flickers, struggles, fades and goes out. Its lifetime is millions of years, but it has an end.

"Let us account as a mere nothing," cried Bossuet, "everything that ends, for, though we should multiply years beyond the reach of numbers, yet all would be nothing when the fatal term is reached."—Garrett P. Serviss in New York American.

Ham Experts.

In certain watering places of Europe men make fortunes in ham shops. There is said to be such a shop in Carlsbad, where a man in white garments slices the lean Prague ham or the fatter Westphalian for the people who are at the springs. It is said that none there are really judges of ham until they can argue every morning outside the shop for a quarter of an hour as to what breed of pig gives the most appetizing slice. At Marienbad the representatives of the most exclusive circles of society in the world lunch on lean ham.—Argonaut.

The Sign of Equality.

Robert Recorde introduced the sign of equality into algebra. Recorde was the first English author who wrote on the subject of algebra. In his treatise called "Whetstone of Witte," published about 1557, he says: "To avoide the tediouse repetition of these words, is equalle to, I will sette, as I doe often in worke use, a paire of parallel lines of one lengthe, thus: =, because no 2 thynges can be more equalle."

Just the Other Way.

"I suppose," observed the envious person, "that when you go to Europe the whole continent tips up."

"Not at all," said the experienced traveler. "When I go to Europe I usually have to tip the whole continent."—Chicago Tribune.

An Offset.

"Did you lend that forgetful friend of ours the book he asked for?"

"Yes. But I took care to borrow his umbrella the same day."—Washington Star.

Debt has a small beginning, but a giant's growth and strength.—Beaconsfield.

Boys Imitate Michael Angelo.

It seems that there are some bad boys in the north part of the city. The police are after them. Their alleged offences are defacing store fronts and other property by carving their initials thereon. The police have been notified and a number of names secured. This offence, together with that of congregating on street corners, are indictable, and it is the purpose of the authorities to stamp out the evil.

PUZZLED THE JAILERS.

Lafayette and His Friends Whistled the News to One Another.

The Marquis Lafayette during his career in France took a very active part in politics. In 1792 he opposed the Jacobins, and when they came into power he was deprived of his command in the army of the frontier.

In company with some of his general officers he fled to Liege, where all of them were seized by the Austrians and for a long time imprisoned in the Castle of Olmutz, in Moravia.

Their life was a very lonely one. Each of them was kept in solitary confinement, but their apartments were so arranged that they were all within hearing of one another when standing at the windows. This fact suggested to them a method of communicating with each other without any outsider being able to understand the meaning of what they were doing, and the following ingenious plan was decided upon and carried out.

There were at that time in Paris many popular ballads which were sung at the corners of the streets and other public places. The words belonging to the tunes were familiar to everybody, and to strike up a few of the notes was to recall to memory the words that accompanied them.

By this means the prisoners succeeded in composing for themselves a vocal vocabulary. They whistled certain parts of the airs at their windows, and in a short time the vocabulary became so complete and comprehensive that two or three notes from each air formed their alphabet.

In this way they communicated news to each other about their families and many other subjects, and when one of them was fortunate enough to secure a copy of The Gazette de France, the Paris newspaper, he whistled the contents of it to his companions in captivity.

The commandant of the fortress was told about these mysterious concerts, and he determined that he would find out what they meant.

He spent hours in listening to the whistling and set men to listen, but the whole thing was a mystery to him. Indeed, the most skillful solver of puzzles would have been unable to detect the intention and real expression of the notes heard.

Then he ordered that the whistling should stop but the prisoners paid no attention to the order, and at last, tired out and baffled, he stopped trying to prevent what he could not understand.

The Last Straw.

An old woman entered a savings bank the other day and walked up to the desk.

"Do you want to withdraw or deposit?" asked the clerk.

"Naw, Oi doan't. Oi wants to put some in," was the reply.

"Me whole name?"

"Yes."

"Before Oi was married?"

"No; just as it is now."

"Oi can't wroite."

Trucks For Their Tails.

The flat-tailed breed of sheep has been known from very early times and still exists in Africa and Asia. In these sheep practically all the fat in the body collects in the tails, which may weigh as much as forty pounds. In such cases the tail is supported on a little truck, with which the sheep is furnished by the shepherds to avoid rubbing it raw against the ground. This practice was known to the ancient Greek writer Herodotus and is still carried on.

To Certify Posting.

To meet the requirements of very many persons not wishing to go to the expense of registering a letter, but desiring merely to have proof of posting, which may be produced in the event of a dispute, arrangements have been made by the Postmaster-General of Great Britain whereby a certificate of posting may be obtained for 1 cent on application at any post-office.

Decrease In Immigration.

In County Cork.

"I suppose you have an old age pension, Mr. Kelly?"

"Ould age pension? Faith an' Oi cuddn't touch wan, the bad luck they bring. Luk at the number of ould age pensioners bes dyin' ivery year!"—London Opinion.

Her View.

The Brother—She's got lovable eyes, kissable lips, a huggable shape and holdable hands.

Pleasant For Guy.

The heroic moments of our lives are not always recognized as such by those around us. While Guy was making a noble effort to mow the lawn one sizzling afternoon a neighbor crossed the street to talk "heat prostrations" with Mrs. Guy, and Guy's small daughter answered the ring of the bell.

"Where's mamma, sweetheart?" asked the visitor.

"I don't know where my mamma is," hesitated the small person; "but"—brightening—"but my papa is out in the yard playing wis his little wagon."

Obvious.

"I guess, Mr. Shooguand," said the observant customer to his grocer, "that you never took music lessons."

"I never did. Why?"

"Oh. I thought maybe if you had you might be more correct in your scales."—Browning's Magazine.

Serio Comic.

"And so this is the end," said the hero as he bent over the form of the dying heroine, while the orchestra played soft sad music. "Thank heaven for that!" exclaimed a pathetic voice from the gallery.—London Tit-Bits.

SPORT IN GERMANY.

It Is Found Outside of Games, Which Are Not Popular There.

An Englishman finds it hard to conceive of "sport" except as embodied in some "game." But the German, says Ida A. R. Wylie in her book on Germany, gets his sport without finding it necessary to play any game at all. Exercise that brings him into close relation with nature is more to his taste. The man that sees no pleasure in tiring himself out on a tennis court or a football field travels miles on skis through the forests, skates every free minute of his day and in the heat of the summer goes on long tours among the mountains.

At his own particular sports the German is a first-class man, and even the German woman reveals an energy that is simply astonishing. All German girls can skate well; most of them are good swimmers and walkers and proficient in winter sports. It is only when you ask them to play games that they fail.

This dislike of games reveals an interesting trait in the German character—namely, indifference to a success the only value of which lies in the defeat of some one else. In school a German boy works hard, not for a prize, not because he wants to do better than a comrade, but because he sees a distinct personal value in knowledge. His attitude in sport is quite in keeping.

"And suppose I do run myself hot and tired over a ridiculous patch of ground after a ridiculous ball, and suppose I do win a game, what good will it do me?"

"You will have had splendid exercise," says the Englishman.

"Yes, but if I wanted exercise I would rather go for a walk through the forest or make a bicycling tour. Then I should perhaps learn something at the same time. At any rate, I should be enjoying nature."

"But then there would be no game!" retorts the Englishman.

"No game? What is the good of a game? Am I wiser or better if I beat you at tennis?"

"No, but the fun of it"—

"I don't see any fun in beating somebody at something which has no value. That is childish and a waste of time."

Toothpicks.

Toothpicks were in common use in ancient Rome. Sometimes they were made of quills, but preferably of the wood of the mastic or lentisk tree, whose astringent and aromatic gum is known to modern dentistry. Martial's epigrams frequently mention the dentiscalpium or toothpick and recommended the wooden kind above the quill. The toothpick was taken to England by travelers from Italy and France.

As Nares says, "The using of it in public was long deemed an affected mark of gentility."

The most fantastic use to which the toothpick has ever been put was the sixteenth and seventeenth century fashion of wearing it in the hat as a trophy or an ornament.

It Was Heavy.

"When I was in Ireland," said the funny man, "my landlady made a cake. Well, I tried to eat this cake, and then I threw it in the fire. The fire went out. The landlady had some ducks, so I thought I would revenge myself by giving it to"—

"Yes," came the chorus, "we all know that story. The ducks died."

"Oh, no, they didn't!" came the reply. That's where you're wrong. The ducks ate the cake, went for a swim and they sank!"

And then there was a painful silence.

Not a Somnambulist.

A certain playwright and novelist, is a very early riser, and when the English playwright and novelist Arnold Bennett visited him at his home the host said the first evening at dinner:

"I believe in the simple life. I get up with the sun. Will you take a ten mile walk with me at six o'clock to-morrow morning?"

"Thank you," the Englishman answered, "but I don't walk in my sleep."

Clever Messengers.

The chairman of the London District Messenger Company, in presenting a messenger boy with a medal for efficiency shown in bearing a special message to Liege and Brussels, said that messengers of the company had repeatedly been sent from London to Italy, Switzerland, Turkey, France, Germany, America and South Africa.

A Nocturne.

"You will have to accompany me," said the new and zealous officer of the law, laying a firm hand on the arm of the seedy young man who was making night hideous with a cornet.

"Certainly," said the musician, affectionately linking his arm in the policeman's. "What do you wish to sing and in what key?"

"Age Cannot Wither."

"You still stick to that old ten-year-old nag of yours, I see, Blithers," said Dubbleigh. "Why don't you get a motor?"

"Well," said Blithers, "I've sort of found that there is more style to a 1902 model horse than there is to a 1903 model car."

No Changes.

"Why don't you work up some improvements in this department?" demanded the proprietor.

"Well, sir, the work has always been done this way. Could I have an increase of salary?"

"Why should you? This job has always drawn $8 a week."

She Had Retired.

"Is that hair restorer any good?"

"Fine! I put a bottle of it on my wife's dressing table the other night and when I got home from the club the dressing table was covered with hair."

The White Man In Africa.

"The footprint of the white man is like the footprint of the elephant," says a Swazi native proverb—"it remains in the ground."

Another proverb: "White men are like and yet unlike quails. When you see one in your country you will soon see a flock. But the quails leave you; the white men never."

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:---AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sisman Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:

18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ...	$27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year	7,000.00
Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital.	$20,000.00

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application, 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved the application lists may be closed without notice.

Prospectus and application forms sent on request.

BLOCKADING THE AEGEAN.

Four more islands in the Aegean have been occupied by the Italians. This latest news makes it possible to form an idea of the plan by which it is hoped to hasten the end of the war. Reference to the map published on the foreign page of Sunday's Herald will show that the islands effectively occupied so far form a chain, with which the traffic of the Aegean sea can be closed at will by those who hold the ends. One of these ends is Nisera, or Nisyro, just south of Kos. From Nisera the links are carried to Tilos, thence to Rhodes, and from Rhodes to Karpathos and Kaso. Beyond Kaso stretches Crete, where the Turkish Suzerain can look for little comfort from his turbulent vassals. Equidistant from all is Stamphalia, the Italian naval base. Not a barge can get through now without Italy's consent.

Clearly, there is method in Italy's madness. Activities in Tripoli have been curtailed, on account of the summer heat and because of impatience with the tedious and costly campaign. Both from political and military points of view, the latest stroke is a clever one. If it helps to bring the war to a close, most people will applaud it, whichever way their sympathies lie.

WHICH WILL CHICAGO CHOOSE?

Many surmises have been made in the press of this Continent about the result of the Chicago Convention.

Roosevelt will carry by far the larger part of the delegates that remain to be elected. This is to be inferred from recent returns.

This will bring the two candidates into the Chicago convention with a not greatly differing number of votes. At least the present disparity in Taft's and Roosevelt's footings will be very much reduced by June 18. The southern states, which made their selections early, gave Taft a long numerical lead at the start over Roosevelt. But that advantage is now in course of dissipation.

With the two sides not so unevenly balanced as now, the Roosevelt faction—will be the more alert, aggressive and enthusiastic. It will go before the convention and its various preliminary bodies with the argument that its candidate has run vastly better than Mr. Taft in the states to which the Republican party must in November look for its electoral vote. This is undeniably true.

The Roosevelt faction will also show that it has done far better than Taft in the direct primary states. This will be cited as evidence of the closeness of their candidate to the people, and so of his availability in November.

These arguments will be in the air of Chicago when the national committee considers the dispute over the temporary roll. They will be whispered about when the committee on credentials rehearses the same troubles. And it will be difficult for the governing body of the party to act in complete disregard of such atmospheric conditions. What it will ultimately do depends on the action of the states which are yet to select their delegates. They must give some emphatic check of the Roosevelt tide to impart to the backbone of the national committee that degree of inflexibility which will be necessary for Taft's nomination. If that body yields on the contests, Taft cannot be nominated. If the administration management gradually loses its hold on the southern delegates, Taft cannot be nominated.

And these things depend on what happens in the next two weeks, particularly in Ohio and New Jersey. Viewed purely as a contest, there has rarely been a prettier, or one that has remained indecisive for a longer time.

FACT AND FICTION.

Time was when all book heroines were paragons, and every leading lady was the embodiment of perfect womanhood, and even on the street a lady could be recognized, on sight, by her refined appearance and tasteful apparel. But times have changed: the "paragon" has been succeeded by the "minx" in fiction; upon the stage the "perfect being" has become a "problem in pathology," and on the street who can discern the lady by her tasteful attire or modesty of garb?

There has been a reaction from the over-refinement and affectation which characterized the midvictorian era, and it has been no doubt a wholesome tonic to step into the practical and realistic world peopled by folks of our acquaintance. The "elegant female," who blushed and fainted upon the slightest provocation, finds no response in the heart of the up-to-date young person, nor do we sigh for her return to the stage or the novel.

Now the pendulum has swung too far the other way. Too many have forsaken the normal for the abnormal in fact and fiction. The painful unreality of the woman who wept and fainted is more than equalled by the unreality of the female freak, who often figures in novels and is often seen on the boards: the freak labelled "a modern woman." She has a healthy body and an unhealthy mind. She is a selfish egotist, lacking in modesty and delicacy, as well as all true womanly ideals. Why should we be asked to spend our leisure hours in her society? If we are seeking for either amusement or edification we cannot find it in the company of the morbid females who do their utmost to reduce living to the lowest material terms. They may be interesting in the field of scientific research, admirably suited to discussion in the medical journals, but the sooner we succeed in eliminating them from the role of "leading lady" the better for art and life. With the banishing of the freak from the limelight both in the novel and on the stage we may perchance abolish the present tendency to personate her on the street.

AMERICA'S DUTY TO MEXICO

Chiefly because the sympathy and active support of American citizens were on the side of the revolutionists, Porfirio Diaz was driven out of power in Mexico, and Francesco I. Madero was put into his place. If the same amount of support from this side of the border could now restore Diaz it would probably be forthcoming. Events have proved that Diaz, the "czar," the "dictator," the "tyrant," the "oppressor," maintained order in Mexico from the day of his triumph in 1876 until just before his fall only because he could exercise the power of a ruler, rather than that of a president.

Madero has tried Republican theories in, so far as his weak and vacillating administration can be said to have tried anything. Half of the country is again in arms. Everywhere there is some form of revolution, whether it be the brigandage that makes unsafe the highways of the south or the well organized bands of malcontents who are foraging their way through the north. Everywhere business is at a standstill. Many foreigners, whose investments were not in the soil, have already sought the comparatively peaceful lands of Central America.

There is a good deal of talk about our duty in Mexico. Just at present our most important duty is to leave Mexico alone. American citizens who invested money in Mexican mines and farms took big risks, because they expected big returns. Most of them may be classed as speculators. The United States need not use its authority to save their profits. Through filing an inventory of their property with the consular agent of the United States, they can establish a good basis for future claims against the Mexican government, if that property should be destroyed.

Our first war with Mexico added a lack-lustre chapter to our history. There is no reason to suppose that we could harvest glory with a second. The situation at present is less tense than it has been many times before, and for that reason we are in the proper mood to reaffirm our hands-off policy.

Editorial Notes

Not a few of the reluctant converts in the United States, to the cause of good government, whose conversion occurred after the January primary, will witness the inauguration of Judge Hall. They are prepared to approve his programme of reform legislation, provided there is no teeth in it, and to support his administration cordially if it is shaped so as to allow them to resume business at the same old ring stand in the next three or four years.

A London fashion paper says that trousers are to be shorter than ever in order to show more of the sock. The style ought to be popular with the citizens along the creek that rose, who are required to wade to or from their homes.

The Hon. James J. Hill has reached the optimistic conclusion that politics is not going to have a depressing effect on business. We are glad to note that he has revised his recent pessimistic opinion that politics was playing the devil and Tom Walker with the whole country.

The New York messenger boy who found and returned $510,000 stock certificates that had been lost, and received twenty-five cents reward, doubtless regards himself as about as low in the percentage column as the New Orleans baseball club.

Chauncey M. Depew, who is 78 years old and still frisky, says: "A great deal of what I got out of life I got out of other people." Quite true. It was the discovery of this fact that got Chauncey out of the United States Senate.

"Theodore Roosevelt," declares The Baltimore American, "is the greatest demagogue this country has ever produced." Thus the Hon. Teddy is given the distinction long enjoyed by Governor Stubbs of Kansas.

Roosevelt's counsel to the negro politicians is to look out for bribe money. This is exactly what they are looking for, and grumbling because it is so slow in showing up.

The progressive Democrats of Pennsylvania had to fight hard for years, but at last they have got Colonel Jim Guffey's "goat", hide, horns and all. Congressman Palmer, the new leader of the Pennsylvania Democracy has shown that he has more brains than Guffey and all the men behind Guffey.

THE TIMES "Want" Page has passed the experimental stage; its success is now assured. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, May 17.—Strain in the wheat trade, altho unmistakably evident to-day, diminished when the fact became clear that no person or firm would be obliged to suspend. Signs of a revival of flour business and of demand for cash wheat cut a figure in partly restoring confidence, but not until the market had fallen more than 2 cents below last night's level. The close was irregular, ranging from ⅝c to ⅝c net decline to ⅛c advance. Corn finished ⅛c to ⅝c off to 1⅛c up, oats unchanged to ⅝c down, and provisions varying from 10c loss to 17½c gain.

Liverpool wheat closed ⅛d to ⅛d lower than yesterday and corn unchanged. Paris wheat closed 1⅛c to 1⅝c lower, Berlin 1c lower, Buda-Pest 1⅛c lower.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 17.—Business in Manitoba wheat over the cable continues dull, owing to the very low prices being bid for shipment in all positions. The foreign demand for oats was fair, but cables were again weaker and the prices bid showed a further decline of 3d per quarter. The undertone to the cheese market continues strong and prices have scored a further advance of ⅛c to ⅛c per lb., owing to the good demand from exporters for supplies and the higher prices ruling in the country. The butter market is firm with a good demand from the west and a fairly active trade was done on spot. Demand for eggs is good and the trade is fairly active at steady prices. Provisions are firm under a good demand.

KILLED ONE ANOTHER.

Peasley With a Bullet in His Heart Shot His Opponent Dead.

In his book "Vigilante Days and Ways" Nathaniel Pitt Langford, the author, tells this story of a typical double tragedy of those times:

"One of the most memorable fights in Nevada took place between Martin Barnhardt and Thomas Peasley. Peasley was a man of striking presence and fine ability. He had been sergeant-at-arms in the Nevada assembly. In a quarrel with Barnhardt at Carson City he had been wounded in the arm. Both Barnhardt and Peasley claimed to be 'chief,' always a sufficient cause of quarrel between men of their stamp. Meeting Peasley one day after the fight, Barnhardt tauntingly asked him if he was as good a man then as he was at Carson.

"'This,' replied Peasley, 'is neither the time nor place to test that question.'

"Soon afterward while Peasley was seated in the office of the Ormsby House in Carson engaged in conversation with some friends Barnhardt entered and, approaching him, asked, 'Are you heeled?'

"'For heaven's sake,' rejoined Peasley, 'are you always spoiling for a fight?'

"'Yes,' cried Barnhardt, and without further notice fired his revolver. The ball passed through Peasley's heart. Seeing that he had inflicted a fatal wound, Barnhardt fled to the washroom, closing the windowed door after him. Peasley rose and staggered to the door. Thrusting his pistol through the sash, he fired and killed Barnhardt instantly. Falling back in the arms of his friends, they laid him upon a billiard table.

"'Is Barnhardt dead?' he whispered as life was ebbing.

"'He is,' was the answer given by half a dozen sorrowing friends.

"'It is well. Pull my boots off and send for my brother Andy,' and with these words on his lips he expired."

Chronic Throat Trouble Permanently Cured

Seven Days' Use of Catarrhozone Performed Regular Miracle.

Miss Counter's Case Proves the Wonderful Efficacy of Catarrhozone in all Throat and Nose Diseases.

doctors here and specialists in Detroit without benefit, I went to my druggist and asked him for the best remedy he had for cold on the lungs.

Windsor, Ont., April 19. — Miss Counter's case will prove of great interest to everyone troubled with sore throat, bronchitis or weak lungs.

When asked for a statement Miss Counter said "About seven years ago I contracted a heavy cold that settled on my lungs and resisted all treatment. After I had tried several He recommended Catarrhozone, which cured my cold in one week. It brought back my voice and I have been ever since free from my old trouble. For coughs, colds and lung trouble I am sure that Catarrhozone is the best remedy. It goes right to the sore spot, gives quick relief, and makes a lasting cure."

Catarrhozone cures because its healing vapor is inhaled to the very places that are sore and inflamed.

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing and Catarrh by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor and imitator. Look for Catarrhozone only. 50c and $1.00 at all dealers, or by mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston.

SEVRES PORCELAIN.

An Artistic Flower Group That Deceived a French King.

The manufacture of Sevres ware is one of the oldest and most characteristic arts of the French. The Sevres potteries have long been under the direct control and patronage of the government and are in receipt of an annual subsidy.

A royal porcelain factory was first established at Vincennes in 1745 under Louis XV. and produced many notable pieces of ware, particularly bouquets. On one occasion, it is related, his majesty was the victim of a practical joke. One of the exceedingly lifelike bouquets having been placed in his greenhouse by Mme. de Pompadour, the king on his next visit to the place stooped and in all good faith attempted to smell the rare exotic.

The factory was transferred from Vincennes to Sevres in 1756, since which date it has sent forth works of almost inestimable value. Porcelain pastes, colored by metallic oxides, are now compounded there which resist the action of the most fiery furnace, and the enamels and glazes have a marvelous transparency and luster. Almost every tint which can be imparted to porcelain is here—white, turquoise, blue, all the greens, the delicate rose pink which has received the name of Du Barry and even scarlet, one of the most difficult colors to retain under the intense heat of the baking furnaces.

Sevres porcelain has always been an expensive production, for the most skilled artists have been employed in its manufacture. Formerly the finest pieces were made solely for royalty and were sold only by royal permission. The prices paid in modern times for some of these specimens have steadily increased until they have become startling.—Exchange.

A Man Who Really Hated Women.

A will of a confirmed woman hater, writes Virgil M. Harris in "Ancient Curious and Famous Wills," is that of a rich old bachelor who had endured much from attempts made by his family to put him under the yoke of matrimony and who wrote: "I beg that my executors will see that I am buried where there is no woman interred, either to the right or to the left of me. Should this not be practicable in the ordinary course of things I direct that they purchase three graves and bury me in the middle of one of the three, leaving the two others unoccupied."

Pemmican.

Pemmican, the prepared food used so much on polar expeditions, consists of two parts lean meat and one part fat, with two ounces of raisins to the pound. Only the choicest cuts from the choicest beef are used. The lean and the fat and the raisins are ground and mixed and then packed in hermetically sealed cans. It is eaten raw. It is frozen when the time comes to use it, and cooking would detract from its nutritive qualities.

Starting the Feud.

"The baby likes to play with my hair."

"But you don't trust him with it when you are out, do you?" inquired her caller.

And thus a coolness arose between two women who had been lifelong friends.—Washington Herald.

Temper.

Temper causes the greatest affairs to be decided by the most paltry reasons. It obscures every talent, paralyzes every energy and renders its victims insupportable.

Obvious.

"I guess, Mr. Shoogsand," said the observant customer to his grocer, "that you never took music lessons."

"I never did. Why?"

"Oh, I thought maybe if you had you might be more correct in your scales."—Browning's Magazine.

Serio Comic.

"And so this is the end," said the hero as he bent over the form of the dying heroine, while the orchestra played soft sad music. "Thank heaven for that!" exclaimed a pathetic voice from the gallery.—London Tit-Bits.

AN ARMY OF PECCARIES.

Fierce Fighters Are These Tusked Wild Pigs of South America.

The peccaries of South America are formidable because they attacked their enemies in large bodies and with great vigor and bravery. The method and skill of their charges suggest that they are led by chiefs skillful enough in predatory warfare to direct the surrounding and destruction of a powerful jaguar.

The object to be stormed is surrounded in silence by a circle of hundreds of peccaries. At a given signal a simultaneous snapping of teeth occurs, which is followed by a converging rush toward the center. The largest and strongest reach the front first, and the smallest and weakest bring up in the rear. Those in front are pushed on by the mass in the rear, so that the enemy is constantly confronted by a rank of foes, no matter how many he may have disabled.

An American engineer while surveying a Brazilian forest for a railway route encountered a herd of peccaries one night and with difficulty drove them off. His experience affords an illustration of the bravery of these wild pigs.

One day he and his party came upon a morass, the furrowed ground, trodden grass, turbid pools and pigsty odor of which indicated that it was the headquarters of all the peccaries in the vicinity. But not a pig was to be seen.

The camp was fortified. In the night there came an alarm. Suddenly from all around rose the sound of simultaneous snapping of teeth, and then came the charge of hundreds of black animals rushing toward the fort.

Guns were discharged, and the occupants reached down and slashed with their knives at the swarming pigs below. Numbers of these were cut down by the men in the fort, but others, impelled by those in the rear, threw themselves forward, ripping and slashing with their sharp tusks.

Suddenly the attack ceased. The animals had silently withdrawn. Then without a moment's warning save the crash of teeth came another wild charge, and the fight was renewed. Again the pigs drew off, and again they renewed the battle. Seven times they charged during the night, and not until daybreak was the last grunt heard.—Harper's.

WASTE OF SUPPLIES.

A Business Problem and the Way One Factory Solved It.

In one manufacturing plant the superintendent found that his men were careless with supplies. He decided that too much material was kept on hand in the shop. Mechanics found it an easier matter to throw away slightly damaged or spoiled work and begin on a new piece than to take precautions in turning out their work, remarks a writer in Business. He therefore devised a stores order which made every foreman responsible for raw material issued to his department. New material could not be had from the general store except on requisition, and the general store would honor no requisition unless it was O. K.'d by the foreman. These lists were kept on file and totaled at the end of each month to enable the superintendent to make comparisons.

This put the foreman on his guard not to fill out a requisition for something which he did not absolutely need, and the first six months after adopting this rule expenses in one department alone were cut nearly 20 per cent without sacrificing efficiency. The foreman also claimed that it had a tendency to develop his men into more skilled mechanics because they were under the necessity of accounting for the work they spoiled in machining.

The Postmark.

Great Britain, it is said, can, without fear of contradiction, claim the honor of having originated the postmark. The first one, which was used in London as long ago as 1660, was a very simple affair, consisting of a small circle divided into two parts. In the top portion were two letters indicating the month, while in the lower half the day of the month was shown. No endeavor was made to denote the year, and it is only by the dates of the letters on which the mark is impressed that it is possible to fix the date of its use.—London Standard.

Venus.

Venus is both a morning and evening star because she always accompanies the sun, never receding from him beyond certain limits, while the rest of the planets, with the exception of Mercury, are seen at all possible angular distances from the sun. When Venus is to the west of the sun she rises before him and is a morning star, but when she is to the east of the sun she rises after him and is an evening star.

Although "The Star Spangled Banner" has been popularly adopted as a national air and under army and navy regulations is played at morning and evening "colors," it has never been adopted as the national anthem by congress.

STORY OF A WILL.

Plans For a Gigantic Accumulation That Were Frustrated.

In 1797 there died in London a merchant named Peter Thelusson, of foreign extraction, who bequeathed £100,000 to his wife and children and the rest of his property, amounting to upward of £600,000, to trustees, with instructions that the money was to be invested and the interest suffered to accumulate until his three sons and all their sons should have died, when the entire property was to be transferred to his eldest great-grandson. In the event of no such heir being then alive the accumulated property was to be appropriated to the reduction of the national debt.

Many calculations were made as to the probable amount which the accumulations were likely to reach, and according to the lowest computation it was believed that the sum would in seventy years amount to £19,000,000. The family of the deceased disputed the validity of the will, and some years were passed in litigation, the result being that the document was declared valid, but an act of parliament was passed in 1800 rendering null and void all bequests for the purposes of accumulation for longer than twenty years after the testator's death.

The last grandson of Peter Thelusson died in 1856, fifty-nine years after the death of the author of the will. Prolonged litigation again ensued, and when, in 1859, the house of lords decided that Charles Thelusson was the heir the legal expenses and costs of maintenance were found to have swallowed up the whole of the accumulated profits, leaving to the heir a sum as nearly as possible equal to the original bequest.—Pearson's.

A Rural Financier.

Boggs had managed to ditch his car and, after hailing a passing farmer, tried to arrange a dicker for help.

"Why ya-as, brother," said the farmer, bringing his team to a standstill, "I'll help ye out. Le's see what it'll come to—one day's use o' the team, $5"—

"One day?" retorted Boggs. "'Tisn't going to take you a day to haul that machine out, is it?"

"Why, no," returned the farmer, "but arter I git the $5 I don't callate to do no more work until tomorrer."—Harper's.

No Idolatry There.

"I hope you are not bringing up your children to worship money, Hawkins," said Dubbleigh.

"No, indeed," sighed Hawkins. "Why, Dubb, my children despise money so much that the minute a dollar comes their way they get rid of it as fast as they can."—Harper's.

Teaching Europe.

Canada is spreading out. It was not long ago that we stood open-mouthed at the luxury of Europe, and now we are teaching it things. The C.P.R. has invaded Austria. The company has made a contract with the Austrian Government to supply and operate a system of observation cars on the most picturesque sections of the Austrian State Railways, including the main route to Vienna via Zurich. The Swiss Government is also interested in the project. Concession has been obtained from Austria that Zurich shall be the eastern terminus. Great interest is shown in the innovation throughout the dual monarchy. Hungarian politicians are already demanding that the service be extended to Budapest.

Canadian Pacific engineers have been selected as being the most experienced in similar conditions prevailing in the Rocky Mountains of North America. The cars are already under construction and will be especially adapted to meet local conditions. They will have a length of 22 1-2 metres and will be the longest four-axle cars in Europe. The seating capacity of each car will be 32 passengers. Seats in these cars will cost a supplementary fare of only $1 and will be available for second-class as well as first-class passengers. This provision was adopted at the request of the Austrian Government, which desires to make the service a popular one.

B. C.'s Big Game.

With the exception of antelope and musk-ox, British Columbia has every species of big game that exists on the continent; even the rarest of them being found in fair quantities. In addition, there are wild fowl and game birds of various species, some native and others acclimatised, that furnish sport; while the waters afford the finest trout and salmon fishing in the world. It is probable that there are more moose to the square mile in the Canadian Rockies than in any other part of the continent, and every year their numbers seem to increase. So far, the country has never been hunted except by a few prospectors. Whether the horns attain the large size of the Cassier moose has yet to be determined, but some very fine heads have been seen. In this district, cariboo are very plentiful on the higher plateau, and in places both grizzly and black bear are numerous.

A Profitable Deal.

Twenty years ago Dr. Coleridge of Ingersoll gave a gold watch, an inexpensive one at that, for 1,600 feet of land on Soudan avenue, Toronto. The owner got tired carrying them and was quite willing to take $25 for the bunch, but as the doctor's watch was just what he wanted, the doctor got the lots.

Recently Dr. Coleridge sold the property for $11 a foot, or nearly $18,000. And, the man who bought them, a local operator, has had a half dozen chances to sell them again at $15 a foot.

SQUARED THE ACCOUNT.

Pauncefote Turned His Critic's Words Back Upon Him.

The late Lord Pauncefote while attending the peace congress at The Hague attracted the attention of the delegates by taking notes with a fountain pen the handle of which was formed by the shell of a dumdum bullet. One day, says a biographer, the representative of a foreign power, excited by the heat of the discussion in the interests of peace, said to him sharply:

"My lord, it isn't right for you to use that murderous shell in this congress. The instruments used by persons are almost emblematic. They can become a part of themselves, an expression of their ideas and of their personality."

Lord Pauncefote smiled, but said nothing. The following day his critic, wanting to write something, turned to the English diplomat to borrow a pen. The ambassador pulled out of his pocket an old fashioned pen made of a gray goose quill and after the borrower had finished said:

The Puzzling Red Eyed Vireo.

The bird traveler that gives the naturalist the hardest transportation problem to solve is the red eyed vireo. It winters in Central America and appears each spring at the mouth of the Mississippi, traveling twenty miles a day. At this leisurely rate it proceeds for six weeks, all the way up to the latitude of northern Nebraska. Then suddenly, in the space of twenty-four hours and before a single red eyed vireo has been seen anywhere in the region between, numbers of the birds appear in British Columbia, a thousand miles to the northwest. This puzzling performance is repeated every year. Unless the red eyed vireo flies a thousand miles in a single night how does it manage this bewildering schedule? Nobody knows; but, then, nobody knows either where the chimney swift goes for five months out of every year.

Beginnings of Clubs.

The first club of modern England seems to have been the circle at the Mermaid that Sir Walter Raleigh founded and Shakespeare joined. But in the seventeenth century clubs began to spring up like mushrooms. There was the Calves' Head club, whose members met and dined off calves' heads to show their contempt for the decapitated Charles I. Then came the Kit-Kat club, which, according to Addison, took its name from a mutton pie. One Christopher Kat, a pastry cook of Shire lane, was a distinguished constructor of mutton pies, and his productions were called Kit-Kats. The club meeting in his house and eating his pies acquired the pies' name for its own.—London Telegraph.

Stopped Patti's Mouth.

Mme. Patti had a curious experience some years ago when she was singing in a duet with Santley at a concert in England. Santley suddenly began laughing, and they came to a stop. For a moment there was much mystification among the audience. Then Patti stepped forward and explained, "The cause of all this merriment is that a wasp has been trying to get into my mouth, and we could not get on."

The Murray street congregation will enter their new edifice Sunday, May 26th,

HAPPY IN ADVERSITY.

A Change That Business Reverses Wrought In One Family.

A husband suddenly lost his position, and the family of wife and three children in a day found themselves transformed from having plenty to almost nothing. Three months after he lost his position a friend called and was amazed to find the family happier than ever before—the children busy and cheerful, the wife's eyes sparkling and the husband working at one-third his previous salary.

"One might think you all enjoyed your reverses," said the friend.

"Really we do," said the wife. "Nothing in the world could have happened to bring us so close together. Before, the children were rapidly acquiring their own interests, and several times I felt that I was not so close to them as I would like. When George's reversal came we decided not to deceive the children and give them everything as before, as was our first instinctive inclination. We took them frankly into our confidence and told them what had happened and what it would mean to them. We dealt honestly with them, and they felt it and appreciated it.

"And you see the result. They are just thriving on the opportunities for healthful sacrifice, the chance to share in the family responsibilities, and as a family we are closer, healthier and really happier than ever before. Evidently we needed exactly what happened, and we do not regret it the least little bit."—Ladies' Home Journal.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

Curious Hare Hunt That Occurred at the Battle of Wagram.

At a certain stage of the battle of Wagram, which took place in 1809, the proceedings developed into a great hare hunt. There were 400,000 hunters, half French and half Austrians.

The plain was, it is related, covered with hares, which the long advance of the two armies had driven into a narrow space. Frightened by the guns of the French, they ran for their lives and continued to run until they reached the Austrian lines. There they were none the less terrified and came rushing back upon the French.

The soldiers were greatly interested by the frantic movements of the hares and could hardly be restrained from making after them.

There occurred a charge by the Austrian cavalry, which, of course, took no account of the hares. The horses plunged in among them, and they rushed in dismay among the ranks of the French soldiers, who, confused by so strange an attack, began bayoneting the hares. Other soldiers not immediately pressed by the onset of the enemy caught up the trembling animals in their hands.

There was that day a great slaughter of men and hares, and many a shot destined for the enemy struck one of these poor animals, who doubtless believed that the great armies had come there expressly to hunt them instead of to hunt each other.—Harper's.

CANADIAN FIREPROOFING IMPREGNATION CO. LTD.

Authorized Capital: $200.000
Divided Into 20.000 Shares, Par Value, $10.00

Send us your order for Antignol today it may be to late tomorrow

This Company has been formed to market a new invention by which wood can be made fireproof. This invention consists of a chemical compound called "Antignol," in which the wood is either immersed for about 24 hours, or—and that applies especially to houses already built—which may be applied to the wood twice or three times with a brush. The solution penetrates deep into the substance of the wood, and after the evaporation of the liquid parts leaves a deposit, which cannot be removed or washed out by rain or moisture of any kind.

Wood impregnated with Antignol will resist fire. Even in a fierce blaze, fed by great quantities of highly inflammable contents of a house or other building, the woodwork would be charred to a small depth, as even bricks or other noncombustible material would, but it would not develop flames itself, therefore not maintain nor conduct the fire. The latter would die out as soon as the source of it was removed or had exhausted itself.

To illustrate this on an every-day occurrence let us take the case of a lamp being overturned, or a burning match or cigar dropped on a carpet or other material easily ignited. The contents of a room, curtains, furniture, etc., would in an instant be aflame, and the whole building would be ablaze and destroyed—with the adjoining buildings included in the destruction—in spite of all efforts to fight the conflagration. In a building impregnated with Antignol that would not be the case. The accident would be confined to the room in which it occurred. The contents of the same would, of course, burn out as well (though at some future time when impregnation will be more general and extended to curtains, furniture, etc., this might be prevented too), but the structure would resist the fire long enough to give people a chance to extinguish it or to allow the fire to die down after the contents of the room had been consumed. ...

As even the most disastrous conflagrations necessarily originate from such small beginnings, which it has not been possible to check in time, and as we have shown, that these initial stages of every fire of the ordinary kind can by means of our impregnations be kept under control or rendered comparatively harmless, the majority of fires in frame buildings may be prevented.

This Is a Bold Statement. But It is True

It is not only verified by leading experts of official standing, but we have made arrangements to demonstrate the efficacy of our impregnation to anyone calling at our offices.

Besides fireproofing the wood Antignol has all the properties of the other wood-preserving impregnation fluids, namely, protecting the wood against decay, germs of decomposition, fungi, etc. It is, therefore, applicable to railway sleepers, telegraph poles, ships, boats, etc.

In a country where disastrous fires occur with an awe-inspiring frequency, where the annual fire-waste is $2.50 per capita, as compared with 30 cents per capita in the old countries, where 25 per cent. of all new buildings simply replace those destroyed by fire—it is well nigh impossible to over-estimate the general and commercial importance of our enterprise.

The Directors of the Company are all experienced business men, and with a market that for a long time to come will be far ahead of our manufacturing capacity, everyone must realise that the shares of this Company offer quite exceptional opportunities for profits.

Situated one and one third miles from the Post Office in the direct line of the City's growth. Streets all graded, and beautified by parks and artificial lakes.

Comparison

Calgary 5 Years Ago

HAD A population of about 12.000.
4 Railway lines.
No street car line.
Very limited natural resources.
YET Calgary has grown to a population of 60,000.
AND lots that sold FIVE YEARS AGO for $100 are selling to-day for $1,500 to $2,000 each.

Moose Jaw Today

HAS A population of over $20,000.
5 Railway lines in operation.
4 more lines almost completed.
A modern street car system.
An ample supply of good coal.
IS the centre of Canada's greatest wheat belt.
An important Divisional Point of the C.P.R.
The terminal of the "Soo Line"---the line that brings thousands of prosperous American settlers to Saskatchewan.

Therefore

is just starting on her first boom.

Over the Century Mark.

Mr. Joseph Mantell, a former resident of this city, but now living in Toronto, has passed the century mark, in his progress through life, with three years to spare. Last summer he moved to Toronto with his granddaughter, Mrs. J. C. Edwards. While a resident of Peterborough Mr. Mantell possessed a vigour and energy that was a source of wonderment and admiration to those who were acquainted with him. He is a member of the Masonic Order.

The Gun Club Score.

The regular shoot of the Peterborough Gun Club was held Thursday evening at the driving park. On account of the wet weather and high wind the attendance was small, as were the scores, which were as follows:

C. Woods	15
J. Harris	12
C. Mills	11
E. C. Boswell	6
H. Routley	6

The next regular shoot will be held on the evening of Thursday, June 6.

A gentleman says "I wear mine constantly, scarcely know they are on, but have perfect sight far and near." They are worth all they cost me, and I want another pair in case of accident." J. W. Improvements to Hunter St. Building.

Mr. Tom Rutherford, the local contractor is busy at the former Noble Temperance House, owned by Mr. Eastwood. Mr. Rutherford has beams and other supplies on the ground ready to tear down the rear, or south part of the building. This will be rebuilt to the height of the present structure, but carried some feet south.

An International Mixture.

Lindsay had a drunk in the police court last Friday, from the Scottish named town of Tweed. He was a French-Irishman! A Canadian express cart brought him to the station and his fine was paid, so a Lindsay gentleman informed us on Saturday with two American silver dollars, taken out of a purse "made in Germany."

Lakefield Pastor for Toronto.

The Times was given to understand yesterday, that Rev. Mr. McCorcindale, pastor u the Presbyterian church at Lakefield, will spend some weeks in Toronto this summer. Mr. MacCorcindale, we are informed, is to relieve the well known Toronto divine, Rev. Crawford Brown, during the latter's absence on vacation.

Closing of Old Murray St. Church.

Last night services in Murray St. church sounded the requiem of that sacred edifice, pending the opening of the splendid new structure. It is now over a quarter of a century since the congregation moved into Murray street church, and many precious memories linger round the edifice. The services of yesterday were of an appropriate character, and doubtless every member was making a special effort to partake in the services.

Ruled Off the Oval.

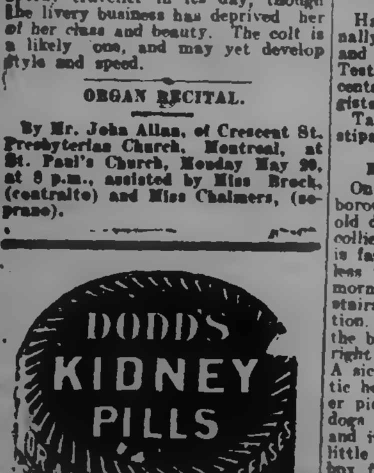
A large number of young men went out to Nicholls Oval to have a ball practice Saturday afternoon. They complain that the local "Pros" had been practicing there for over a week, and that they were not allowed on the grounds—not even to play under the trees; but other organizations could go out there and play tennis all afternoon unmolested or interfered with. The boys had to walk another mile and a half to a lot for their practice.

A Tiny Colt.

Mr. James Hill, of Bobcaygeon has a colt that is so unusually small that ladies and children exclaim when they see it, "the darling! the weeney-teeney little thing!" The little animal, though otherwise well formed and healthy, only weighed 21 pounds the day after birth, and could run under its mother with several inches to spare. Its sire is Dan Finister, and its mother was a speedy traveller in its day, though the livery business has deprived her of her class and beauty. The colt is a likely one, and may yet develop style and speed.

ORGAN RECITAL.

By Mr. John Allan, of Crescent St. Presbyterian Church, Montreal, at St. Paul's Church, Monday May 20, at 8 p.m., assisted by Miss Brock, (contralto) and Miss Chalmers, (soprano).



Dangerous Potatoes.

Local farmers and gardeners are earnestly advised to use every precaution with their potatoes. The scarcity of the tuber in Ontario during the last few months has led to importations which are distinctly inferior—some of them even dangerous. From Prince Edward Island potatoes have been coming into Ontario of which the flesh is streaked or mottled with a dark color rendering it unpleasant to the sight, if not unwholesome to consume. Even worse; there have been imported into Canada potatoes from Europe infected with canker.

New Organist at St. Paul's.

Mr. John Allen, at present organist of Crescent street Presbyterian church, Montreal, and formerly organist of St. Peter's church, Aberdeen, played the organ of St. Paul's church yesterday at both services. Mr. Allen is an organist of exceptional ability and his visit to Peterborough has especial present, as well as prospective musical interest.

The River Beautiful.

Mr. J. J. Gillman, who has reopened Jubilee Point House, states that the river never looked better than at present. All the way down to the lake every thing is at the height of its beauty, and he expects to see quite a number of citizens go on the [illegible] season. May 24th to [illegible] Gillman is looking [illegible] year at Rice Lake, and expects the season to open earlier than usual.

Local Man Wins Medal.

Mr. Claude Brady, of this city, is mentioned among those gaining honors, in fact a medal at the recent examinations of the Ontario College of Pharmacy. His medal was awarded for proficiency in chemistry. Mr. Brady is at present in Toronto, taking a special course in Opthamology, and will return to Peterborough about May 27th, to accept a position with his former employer, Mr. J. Lynch, Hunter street.

New Street Car Service.

When the street railway extension is completed to Brownsville, it is intimated that two cars will be run on this division with a switch just south of the C.G.E. gate on Park street. The switch will be practically at the half-way point on this division. The service will be in point of time practically as at present, the main point, however, is that the line has been doubled in length and the same number of trips will be made every hour as were made over the old line.

Boys Cut Out Burglar Alarm.

Two boys were charged in Saturday's police court with having entered the store of Mr. David Flynn, a Concession street grocer, and robbing the till of $18, on Thursday night last. The youth who appeared admitted having ransacked the till on four different occasions. It appears that the proprietor of the store lived in the rear of the shop and depended upon a small bell attached to a cord to appraise him of the presence of customers in the store. The boys were too foxy, however, and cut out the burglar alarm. The boys were sent to the Shelter till to-day.

POSTUM

"There's a Reason."

The Moulders' Strike.

There was a modification of the moulders' strike on Saturday. A Times representative called at the office of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Co. and asked the question "How is the moulding situation? Have your men signed on yet?" Mr. Hamilton replied, "No." "Does the fact of the moulders going out affect the rest of your factory?" "No; not a cent's worth. We have enough castings ahead for many a day. It seems that the Lock Manufacturing Company's moulders signed on on Saturday. The moulders of the William Hamilton Mfg. Co. will also go to work to-day. The Times was informed that the last named company has always had their moulders employed on piece work, so that the nine hour day there did not count.

Recovers After a Bad Fall.

Only a little true story of Peterborough home life. The nine year old daughter of a local family got a collie pup on Saturday. The puppy is fat, wriggly and "comfy." It is less than a month old. Yesterday morning it was playing on the upstairs landing of the house in question. Suddenly it slipped through the ballusters of the front staircase, right at the head of the stairs. A sickening thud! A series of frantic howls as the puppy's little owner picked it up in her arms. The dogs eyes rolled, its body quivered, and it was given up for dead. The little body was tenderly laid in a box full of straw awaiting interment. About an hour afterward the family cat was heard growling. The broken-hearted daughter of the house went to see what was wrong with pussy. The cat was objecting because that collie put that fell a good twelve feet, had not only come back to life, but was lapping up the saucer of milk left for puss!

Does Your Back Ache?

IF YOU HAVE BLADDER OR URINARY TROUBLES AND WEAKNESS OF THE KIDNEYS — READ BELOW.

Your back aches and fairly groans with the distress of kidney trouble.

You're discouraged, but you mustn't give up. The battle can be quickly won when Dr. Hamilton's Pills get to work. These kidney specialists bring new health and vitality to young and old alike. Even one box proves their marvelous power. Continue this great healer, and your kidneys will become as strong, as vigorous, as able to work as new ones:

Mrs. W. C. Rossiter, wife of a well-known merchant in Kensington writes as follows:—

"Ten years ago my kidney trouble started. I suffered dreadful pains in my spine and around my waist, my back feeling as if hot irons were running through. I couldn't sleep, I had no appetite, was pale, thin and very nervous. Cruel headaches, and despondency added to my burden. Not until I had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills did I get any relief. They proved capital and helped me immediately. Eight boxes made me well, and now I do my own housework, feel and look the picture of health."

Your complete restoration to health is certain with Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Refuse substitutes. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Martin Neary.

On Saturday morning, Margaret McDonough, daughter of the late Mr. James McDonough, and wife of Mr. Martin Neary, passed away. The deceased was born in Ireland, and had been a resident of Peterborough since a girl. She was 42 years of age. She is survived by her husband and four sons and three daughters. The children are James, Frank Martin, Patrick, Mary, Margaret and Dorothy, all residing in Peterborough and two sisters are also left, Mrs. O'Malley, of Peterborough, and Mary living in Washington, D.C.

The funeral will take place this morning at 9 o'clock from the family residence, 27 Aylmer street, to the Church of the Sacred Heart and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers heal up; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and mental systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard earned dollars.

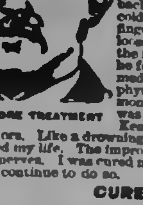
THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS



BEFORE TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

PRIVATE RESOURCES FAIL AGAINST WHITE PLAGUE

Governments and Municipalities Must Take More of the Burden Upon Themselves.

Toronto, May 20.—Private philanthropy is insufficient for the great task and Governments and municipalities must take more of the burden upon themselves, said J. George Adami, M.D.,F.R.S., Montreal, president of tde Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, in his annual address to that association this afternoon. Dr. Adami outlined what had been done, and urged that to cope adequately with the ravages of the disease there must be co-operation between Dominion, Provinces, municipalities, universities, and special associations. One of the great strongholds of the disease, he said, was in the crowded tenements.

Dangers of Infection.

"In impoverished families, impoverished often through the enfeeblement of the bread-winner affected with the disease," he said, "it is too often impossible to afford a separate room fot the invalid. Too often other members of the family use, and even sleep in, the room along with the patient, and insidiously, but surely other members of the family become infected. These are, as I say the main foci of the infection. It is these cases that economically inflict the greatest loss upon the community for they perpetuate the disease. Segregate them and they are harmless. Until very recently, we in Canada did little or nothing for this order of cases. The Mother Country for long years has taken care of them, and as Kock, Newsholme and others have shown, it is in consequence of the plentiful provision of workhouses and hospitals throughout the land for such incurable cases that England enjoys her pre-eminence among all countries in the world in the reduction of tuberculosis mortality during the last sixty years.

The necessity for systematic control of the tuberculosis plague was urged in a paper by Dr. D. A. Craig. His paper dealt with the need of the notification of the authorities of the existence of cases of the disease, for the living cases, and not the dead, were the most flagrant agencies for its propagation."

Mighty Poor Reasoning

According to the reasoning of the Examiner, Mr. Burnham is responsible for all accidents to public works. If so, the Hon. J. R. Stratton, who was a member supporting the Government in power, is responsible for the collapse of the Quebec Bridge, which cost the country seven millions of dollars, seventy-five valuable lives. Our contemporary might explain this.

RAILWAY BOARD OF COMMISSRS TO SIT HERE ON MAY 31ST

The City Fathers met in special session last night, mainly for the purpose of dealing with the railway crossing at the junction of the tracks with King and Sherbrooke streets.

Matthews-Laing, Limited, asked permission to lay an 8-inch pipe into their premises for the installation of a sprinkler system. The City Engineer reported favorably on this request, which was granted.

The secretary of the Board of Railway Commissioners wrote that this board will sit at the Court House Peterborough, at 9 o'clock, May 31st when questions in which the City is interested will be taken up.

One of these questions is the protection of the Grand Trunk railway crossings at the corners of King and Sherbrooke streets, to which a ratepayer has objected to the railway board as being dangerous.

This matter was referred to the Manufacturers' Committee and the City Solicitor, to oppose the City being assessed for any portion of the cost of maintenance of protection at these crossings. Of course, the Council was a unit, however, in not opposing the protection of these crossings providing such is furnished at the railway's own cost entirely.

Sanitary Inspector Spence reported that the garbage ground in rear of Nicholls Hospital is perfectly satisfactory, and is at present and will be in future, cared for in a manner free of nuisance to anyone.

NO RELATIVES WILL INTERVIEW RICHESON AGAIN IN HIS LIFE

Boston, Mass., May 20.—A genuine desire that the last hour of his earthly existence might come speedily, was apparently the dominating thought in the mind of Clarence V. T. Richeson as he rose from his prison bed to-day. The young Virginian, who shortly after midnight tonight will probably pay the penalty of his crime for the murder of Miss Avis Linnell, has become completely reconciled to his fate and courageously faces the future.

"I will be ready when you want me, warden," he said to Warden Bridges late last night, when that official paid him a brief visit. "Do not worry, I shall not break down."

Faithful to his promise Richeson in his general bearing and in his conversation with his two spiritual advisers who have never left him alone for a moment during these last few days, bore up well through his last Sunday on earth. He even was cheerful as he sang some favorite hymns with Chaplain Stebbins until a late hour last night. Then he would read from the Psalms and his expositions of the lessons were referred to by the Chaplain as wonderfully eloquent and learned. It was not until daylight this morning that he fell into a fitful sleep.

FEDERALS BEAT MEXICANS BACK

Government Troops Win in a Vigorous Encounter

El Paso, Tex., May 17.

FROM being on the defensive, the Mexican Government troops have within the last twenty-four hours pushed the attack vigorously, forcing the rebels northward nearly twenty miles to Conejos, about two hundred miles south of Chihuahua.

Personal and other towns occupied by the liberal forces within the week were evacuated to the federals.

The facts became known at four o'clock Saturday morning when a telegraph interview was arranged between General Joaquin Telles at the staff headquarters of the federal troops north of Bermejillo and an Associated Press reporter.

It was learned that since early Friday, when communication was established with the headquarters of General Victoriano Huerta, the federal commander in chief, the latter had advanced nearly thirty miles.

18,000 Men in Armies.

Huerta at daybreak Saturday was near Personal and his outposts were pitched northward toward Conejo. Bringing up the rear are the forces of General Rabajo, while off toward the northwest near Sierra Mojada, General Trucy Aubert, 4000 men theatens to come due east to Escalon to flank the main body of the insurrectos under Orozco. The federal forces now number nearly 10,000 men and latest estimates give Orozco several thousand fighters. With reserves it is estimated that altogether about 18,000 men are spread over the barren plains of desert sand within a radius o 75 miles.

The moon illuminated the region most of the night, and the Government troops crept cautiously north.

Shortage of water and food, and general unsanitary conditions are having effect on both armies. Fever among the soldiers is prevalent.

Manoeuvres of the last twenty-four hours indicate that General Salazar, the rebel officer next in command to Orozco, was driven back and closely pushed by General Aubert all the way from Cuatro-Cienegas to Sierra Mojada.

Gen. Huerta, the federal chief, reached the front Friday night near Personal, but his camp could not be reached by wire. General Tellex was last in touch with him at midnight.

LOADED DICE ON THE ACCUSED

Bunch of Jews Brought Before Ousley

ARRESTED IN ALBERTA

Gambling With Cards and Dice for Heavy Stakes, and Jewellery Leads to Interesting Case.

Moosejaw, Sask., May 20.—Last August four Jews met in a Moose Jaw hotel and had several all night sessions of cards and craps, putting up heavy stakes. One, Jacob Kruger, lost $300 cash and $400 borrowed on a diamond ring, inside of a few hours. Another named Adilman lost $193 and discovered the use of loaded dice. He got his money back. A few weeks afterward Kruger met Adilman in Winnipeg, and for the first time learned from him that loaded dice had been used. He set out to find the other four men, Craig, Miller Cohen and Stahl. He succeeded in having them arrested two weeks ago Yesterday Craig was sentenced by Judge Ouseley to three years in the penitentiary, and Miller, who is being tried separately, is having a protracted trial. It started yesterday afternoon, continued all this morning and is in progress this afternoon.

The case of Louis Lapische, alias Miller, charged with conspiring to defraud and cheat David Kruger, by means of loaded dice, was resumed before Judge Ouseley this morning. The case is resolving itself into an educational class for the unsphisicated, who would like to know something about the pros and cons of craps, either square deal or otherwise.

The evidence was the same as in the case of Craig, who was yesterday morning sentenced to three years in the penetentiary for trying to defraud. In the course of evidence given by Chief Johnson and Detective Townsend, the court was informed of the method of testing loaded dice. The chief took from his pocket a lead pencil and punctured certain parts of the apparently level dice as easily as putting his pencil into a piece of soft putty. The flabby substance was covered with black spots.

Louse Lapische, alias Miller, was fined $200 and ordered to return the diamond ring to Jacob Kruger, in default he was ordered to serve three years in Prince Albert penitentiary.

A DRY DOCK FOR PETERBOROUGH

Peterborough is the key to the Trent Canal System. This is a fact admitted by all knowing the typography of the country through which its course is laid. In view of this fact, a number of leading citizens have decided to make a strong appeal to the Dominion Government for a dry dock at this city. Those promulgating this idea, have strong grounds for their action, and irrefutable arguments to endorse their contention.

The Little Lake, washing the shore of the city, is an ideal spot for such an undertaking. A dry dock could be built here at minimum cost, and steamboat owners along the whole route of the canal would use it. There is a natural fall of eight feet in the water between the lift lock and the spot proposed for the dock, thus making the latter self-acting. Another strong argument advanced in favor of a dry dock here is the proximity of such a structure to machine shops and competing railways, so that boat owners could procure castings and other supplies on short notice, and at little expense. The above are only a few of the arguments to be brought to bear on the government. No doubt, Mr. J. H. Burnham, with his proverbial enterprise, will be first in the field, of all members along the route of the Canal to recommend the erection of a dry dock here. We trust that the Board of Trade and the City Council will co-operate with Mr. Burnham in trying to get this badly-needed structure for Peterborough.

NO SUCCESSOR YET FOR LATE JUDGE J. P. MABEE

Three Names Mentioned For Vacancy At Head Of Dominion Railway Board

Toronto, May 20.—It is not true as stated, that a successor to the late J. P. Mabee as Chairman of the Railway Commission has been chosen. It is certain that no member of the present board will be promoted to the chairmanship. It is just as certain that partisan considerations will be absolutely ignored in filling the vacancy.

The names most favorably mentioned are Hon. J. H. Hanna, Provincial Secretary for Ontario, Hon Arthur Drysdale, Superior Court Judge of Nova Scotia, and Mr. H. L. Drayton K.C., Corporation Counsel for Toronto.

It is felt that any one of the three would make an excellent chairman, but as yet the office has been offered to none of them nor is it settled that any one of the three would accept the office in case he should be finally selected.

If in the judgment of the Government one thought to be stronger than any of those named should be discovered he will be approached

None of those mentioned are actual candidates for the position. Their names naturally appear in discussion not through any effort of their own.

The Lobbies Clear

We are pleased to note that the humble effort of The Times to protect the public of Peterborough at the moving picture houses, has borne good fruit. The dangerous crowding of the lobbies, the worst danger of all, in our opinion, has been eliminated. This is a matter in which The Times had no animus against such houses. All we wanted to do was our duty to the public, and prevent, as far as lay in our power, a possible catastrophy. The owners of such places will recognize sooner or later, that our action was in their interest as well as in that of the public.

TORONTO SCARED OF A WATER FAMINE WILL SPEND MILLIONS

Toronto, May 20.—"I do not wish to be a calamity howler or to start a panic, but unless something is done immediately in regard to Toronto's water supply we shall have a water famine this summer," said Mr. Willis Chipman this morning by way of comment on the "report upon existing waterworks system, and upon an additional water supply," just presented.

On March 7th, 1911, the City Council directed Messrs. J. G. Sing, Isham Randolph, T. Aird Murray and Willis Chipman to prepare such a report. The results of the researches of these engineering experts, not only in Canada, but in the principal cities of the United States, are embodied in this voluminous report of 153 pages, accompanied by 20 maps and plans. It is a mine of information for the city on waterworks matters, and its recommendations, calling for immediate action, contain much which may well startle Council and the citizen public into activity

"We must act or prepare for a water famine," reiterated Chairman J. G. Sing, of the Commission.

Mains Are Inadequate.

"The reports shows the inadequacy of the mains of the city," continued Mr. Chipman. "One part of the system is just as weak as another. The mains, as well as the intake, are weak; and the best evidence of this fact is that to-day the reservoir is half full of water. The increase in the pipe system of the city has not kept pace with the increase in population. We are woefully behind any other city on the Great Lakes in pumping machinery and large mains. Unless something is done in this city we shall assuredly have a water famine this summer. Another pipe should be put under the G.T.R. track Grand Trunk or no Grand Trunk."

Mr. Chipman would not say that the best efforts the city could put forth at this late date will avert the water famine.

CHINESE FIGHT THE NEW LAW

Say Yellow Race Will Unite to Boycott the Whites.

Moose Jaw, May 17.—Regarding the new act which was passed at the last session of the legislature, prohibiting the employment of white female help in oriental places of business, the Chinese of the city, following the stand taken by the Japanese, are determined to fight the new law to the last ditch.

The law came into effect on May 1, but so far no prosecutions have been made. Charlie Chow, one of the best known local Chinese, yesterday received a letter from the Chinese consul at Vancouver, urging that the local Celestials get together and fight the new act. In addition to this the letter states that 470,000,000 of the Chinese race will unite in a body to answer this twentieth century question prohibiting members of their race employing white labor, prohibiting Chinese subjects to work in the numerous places of business in Hong Kong and Canton which are conducted by British and American firms.

Furthermore the letter states that although the new act would affect over 1000 Chinese in the province of Saskatchewan, this would be easily offset should a boycott of Chinese labor be brought about on the commercial houses of Hong Kong city and Canton.

Deputy Chief of Police de Rossiter was around the principal oriental places of business where white female help is employed, taking the names of those employed, and while nothing has been done up to the present, it is the opinion of Charlie Chow that there will be several prosecutions today. Wong Kwong Shop, the Chinese consul at Ottawa, has been wired for and replied that he would be in the city not later than Friday next to confer with the prominent local Chinese in connection with the new law, and urged that the Chinese subjects get together in the meantime to fight the new act.

JEKYLL & HYDE ANNECDOTE

Man Claiming to Be George A. Kimmet Tells a Strange Tale.

Chicago, May 18.—The man who says he is George A. Kimmet, whose skull recently was operated on by Chicago surgeons, last night issued a statement in which he declared he had lived a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde life. "If you remember the story of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde you can understand my plight," he said. After fourteen years of darkness I have regained my lost personality and my better nature has asserted itself

"I now remember every detail of the assault which changed my life. I know the names oi my assailants. Their attack had been carefully planned. I was slugged on Sixteenth St., St. Louis, in July, 1898, after having been taken there drugged from the Midland hotel, Kansas City.

"I had $520 in the American National bank at Kansas City. One of my enemies telephoned in my name and had the money taken to the Midland hotel. Since this operation I remember counting that money when it was given me by the cashier I now remember dropping a coin as I counted. This was picked up by the cashier and returned to me.

"Another fact that came back to me since the operation is my return to Niles, Mich., where I became cashier of the first National bank, taking the place of George Howard who was reported to have been drowned in a lake near the city."

The Kimmet claimant said the names of the three men who, he says, slugged him and caused him to lose his money, will not be told until the mother of George A. Kimmet, who brands the claimant as an impostor, begins her case in St. Louis this month for the recovery of $25,000 from an insurance company in which she says her dead son held a policy.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents

THE USE OF PROFANITY.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir, Does it not seem too bad that men, particularly young men, standing or walking on George street use such profane language? On Saturday I happened to walk up that street behind two young ladies. On these occasions I heard blasphemous language used by young men, evidently in the hearing of these girls. Now that public sentiment is evidently stamping out the drink habit of former days, why not use public opinion to eliminate the awful use of our Lord as a by-word?

—J. H. Reesor

A SMALL DEAL.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir.—In the Examiner of Friday appears an article, small in size but significant in substance, about the Lift Lock. The piece referred to says: "The opening of the Lift Lock was promised for May 10th and it is now May 17th. To-day a launch had to be portaged. Spending a million," more or less, on the lift lock, and then "backing" steam launches up a sixty-five foot raise don't seem to hitch."

Now, this little article seems teeming with a venom that comes with poor grace from Mr. Stratton's paper. The Examiner seems to go out of its way to get a crack at the present member for West Peterborough. Who spent that million dollars or so, the Conservative or the Grit Government?

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 396 George St. directly opposite Creeman's store.

PAINTS.

THE LAW OF QUALITY IS AS SURE AS the law of Gravity. Gravity keeps both your feet on the ground. Quality informs your judgment when you are on the "Ground Floor" in the matter of value. Martin-Senour's Paint is the Ground Floor of paint value. It makes good every time. It flows freely, has great covering capacity, shows a beautiful finish, and wears like iron. It will more than meet your expectations in quality brilliancy and durability. Campbell & Best, 134 Hunter St. Next to post office.

PORT MANN, B.C., CANADIAN NORTHern Pacific Coast terminus, attracting millions eastern and British capital. Property adjoining railway's holdings becoming very valuable. Quarter acre lots touching townsite five hundred to six hundred each, quarter cash. Island Investment Company, Limited, Vancouver.

WHILE YOU WORK AND WHILE YOU sleep.—Wage earners make money only while they work. My lot buyers make money while they sleep. Those who have bought from me during the past four years have made by increasing value of lots, more than 90 per cent per annum on the amount invested. And they are worth from $800 to $1200 to-day, because of having wisely imposed a "must" upon themselves to save a little of what they earned. Come in and let us show you a very easy way to do the same. Gardens: I know one man who planted 1 acre of onions, and sold his crop for $800 cash. Was that not making money while he slept? We can supply a few acres ploughed to men who would wish to do likewise. Also a larger place with good buildings and a large poultry plant. Immediate possession. Decide at once, and call for particulars. T. Hurley, corner Stewart and Hunter streets.

WE CAN GIVE YOU ABSOLUTE PROOF that the lots we offer inside the town limits of Edson at $40 each, on easy terms, are a money-making investment, offered below their real value; Edson is a divisional point on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a monthly pay roll of $40,000; Edson is the actual distributing point for the Peace River country, the Brazeau coal fields, and for two hundred miles west on the Canadian Northern; Edson is little more than a year old, and already has more than twelve hundred permanent residents; it costs you one cent to obtain illustrated booklet, and the above mentioned proof; mail us a postcard to-day. The Edson Point Company, 608 McIntyre Block, Winnipeg.

ST. ANNE'S PICTURE.

Combining the value of a rare old picture with the virtue of a sacred relic, what is known as "The Miracle Painting" hangs in the Basilica at the Shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre. This masterpiece was painted by Charles Le Brun for the Marquis de Tracey in the year 1615, and its recent restoration revives an interesting history of the votive offering to "La Bonne Ste. Anne."

The Marquis de Tracey was a special ambassador to New France sent out by Louis XV., and his mission was both political and for the purpose of obtaining accurate information as to the various intrigues that were disrupting the colony. He is said to have also made a voyage of discovery to Hudson Bay. During his stay at Quebec he desired to be cured of some long-endured malady, and with his countess made a devout pilgrimage to the famous shrine, which even in those remote days was deemed a place of wondrous miracles. So profound was his gratitude for benefits derived from this devotion, he forthwith announced his intention of donating an altar-piece to the shrine, a form of bequest much in favor at that time.

Charles Le Brun, the noted French artist, was at the zenith of his successful career as a painter of historical portraits and religious subjects. To him the marquis entrusted the commission for the altarpiece, specifying with much exactitude the composition of the painting. The central figures of Ste. Anne instructing the Blessed Virgin were to be copied from Ruben's original work, which is now in the Antwerp Gallery. The figure of Joseph was to be omitted. The portraits of the Count and Countess de Tracey were to be placed on either side, in attitudes of devotion, and depicted as pilgrims. The Eternal Father and angels and the dove descending were to be seen hovering above, and the coat of arms of the Tracey family was to be placed in the centre of the picture below. Le Brun has worked out this composition with wonderful fidelity, and now that the accumulated dirt of centuries has been removed, the details of the picture may be plainly seen. The painting was ordered in 1615, arriving at Ste. Anne the following year, and has since remained there as the altarpiece of the vestry.

The work of restoration has recently been completed by Mr. J. Purvee Carter, art curator of Laval University, under instructions from the Redemptorist Fathers, who have charge of the many interesting sacred relics preserved at the shrine.

Advice to Municipalities.

Frank advice to Canadian municipalities desiring to borrow in London is tendered by The Financial Times, in referring to the postponement of loans by the cities of Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto. The failure of the recent Vancouver issue to obtain public support is given as the principal reason for the postponement of these proposed loans and the cause of this fiasco as well as the difficulty now being experienced in placing Canadian municipal issues is stated to lie with the municipalities themselves, the reason being that the municipal authorities have a too exalted idea of their credit and are not disposed to listen to the advice constantly tendered by the financial agents.

"An instance of this," says The Financial Times, is provided by Montreal. In the early part of February, when Montreal was making enquiries about a new loan, the statement was made in the Montreal press that the Bank of Montreal, the city's financial agents in London, had stated that an issue of $5,000,000 of four per cent. stock could be made at 99 per cent., but the city authorities would not accept such a price, and the suggestion was made that a better price could be obtained in Paris.

"The policy which the Canadian municipalities have been pursuing is to give their loans to the highest bidder. It has been repeatedly pressed upon the municipalities that they should place themselves in the hands of their financial agents to do the best for them, instead of going outside, and they are now being forced to realise, to their own discomfiture, that it is better to follow their financial agent's advice."

Motoring Through Canada.

A recent issue of Lord Montagu of Beaulieu's paper, "The Car," contains a four-page article contributed by the Hon. Margaret Amherst, who recently made an extensive motor tour through the Dominion, accompanied by several well-known society folk, among whom was Mr. Evelyn Cecil, M.P., whose photographs illustrate the article. Alluding to the ubiquity of the motor car in Canada, the writer says:

"In Eastern cities it is natural enough, but in the West it is certainly surprising to find it in such general use. In Montreal, Toronto, and Ottawa, cars, with their 'hooters' and odor of petrol, are as much a feature of St. Catherine street, or Yonge street, or Wellington street, as of Piccadilly, and the smart appearance of their up-to-date bodies, occupied by chic and fashionable owners, is in no way behind that of their London contemporaries."

Getting Together.

While discussing church union one day recently, a clergyman told a good story about Rev. Dr. Carman, the veteran general superintendent of the Canadian Methodist Church.

Dr. Carman appeared at the Presbyterian General Assembly, bearing greetin from his church. He said: "Presbyterians and Methodists are getting very much alike. You Presbyterians believe in the Final Perseverance of the Saints, but you do not practice what you preach. We Methodists believe in falling from grace, and we live up to our creed. That gets us pretty close together, does it not?"

If the prices of living in Peterborough continue to soar as they have done, there will be no need for the parsons to say, "Lay not up treasure, etc."

The "Made-in-Canada" exhibition train, passed through on the C.P.R. at 4 a.m. Saturday morning. It contained eleven cars, the windows of which were closely curtained.

THE PRAIRIE BACHELOR.

In a part of the west which was virgin prairie six or seven years ago, and where the homesteads are still in all stages of infancy, the bachelor abounds. He has been in the country longer than the married man, and is still in the majority. Sometimes he has some of his own people living with him, or at least a sister, who "holds up" the feminine end of the establishment; but more often he lives alone, being his own housekeeper, cook, washer and baker, in fact, ministering to himself in all things. He has, therefore, many household duties to perform, as well as his day's work on the farm, so that his life is by no means an easy one.

To a man so situated, marriage would bring greater ease and comfort. It would relieve him of many small cares; but, then, a homesteader's wife has a hard time of it, and it may be that chivalrous considerations keep the homesteads so often without a mistress. The bachelor seems quite contented, and no more vulnerable in matter of love than a man who has more to divert his mind. Though the homesteader sees comparatively few women, he is fastidious enough in his ideas of them. He does not even strive for the favor of the fair by trying to look his best. As a rule, he surpasses the average man in height and good looks, generally, but he is as unconscious of this fact as he is of all the rules of becomingness. The laundryman and the clothes presser are far distant, and his own exertions do not extend to giving his garments that care which must be given if the wearer is to look speck and span. These words cannot often be used in describing this bachelor's appearance, and his attire frequently needs all the force of his good looks to carry it off. Indeed, girls, he is not the ready-made prey to your charms that you imagine him to be. So do not extend to him unbounded sympathy for his hardships and the desolateness of his home and his life. No doubt there are such drawbacks present, but he is accustomed to them.

After all, his activities are often only those demanded by the care of a one-roomed shack (of which, by a process of evolution, the house will be the final achievement). But it is said that the narrower the limits, the greater the difficulty in preserving order. Housekeeping bachelors here and there share this opinion, and are so fully convinced of its soundness that they forego all efforts towards tidiness.

But there are some, whether living in shacks or houses, whom no woman could rival in neatness and general domestic ability. They are good cooks, or are looked upon as such. But their reputation has been won by skill in a few simple lines. They attempt nothing elaborate. One of them has explained that recipes in cookery books bring with them a difficulty which baulks the bachelor at the very outset. The first direction is generally: "Take a clean dish."

These men are as much addicted to visiting one another as were the three curates in "Shirley," with their perpetual "triangle of visits." It is generally on Sunday that the farmers seek each others' society, forming into twos and threes for the purpose. Sometimes they are five or six strong, yet they are received by an undismayed host. Probably, the fact is that he is well prepared for such an invasion, for it is usually the most capable who have the greatest number of guests. The unmarried homesteader who entertains is surely one of the most hospitable creatures on earth.

Seton a Success.

Ernest Thompson Seton, naturalist to the Government of Manitoba, and chief of the American Scouts, has been a huge success over in England. He has lectured, publicly and privately, a dozen times, and talked with such sound commonsense and acceptability that he has been received rather as an old friend than as a new acquaintance. His quaint enunciation, his imitation of birds and animals, his intimate knowledge of natural history and forest lore have proved most fascinating. The Countess of Carrick, among many others, has taken him up, and has introduced him to everybody worth knowing.

His books are selling by the thousand, and his unique personality gains him friends at every party he goes to. The other night he was at the House of Commons, listening to a coal strike debate, and he dined there in company with the Right Hon. John Burns.

Mr. Thompson Seton has spent a lot of time in several visits to the Zoological Gardens, and a keeper there, not knowing who he was, said to a friend:

"He is just wonderful, that chap; talks to the beasts as though he were one of them himself!"

An Anglo-Canadian Hostess.

Lady Kirkpatrick, who is now in the south of France, is one of the most prominent of Anglo-Canadian hostesses in London. Her connection with social circles in the metropolis, of course, dates from the time, when, as a girl, she made regular visits to that country. Like so many other Canadian ladies, she has succumbed to the charms of the capital, and for some years has made it her residence. Many of the intellectual leaders of Britain and Canada are to be met at her flat in Hyde Park Gate.

Never a Goose Quill.

Only one hitch occurred a few days ago when the West Indies treaty was being finally agreed to. It is customary to sign the treaty with a goose quill, but none could be found. An armed policeman was sent through the city of Ottawa, but searched in vain, with the result that an ordinary pen performed the deed. H.R.H. the Governor-General made a happy speech to the representatives of the two countries after the ceremony of signing had been concluded.

The river drivers report good progress with the logs this season, owing to the high water in the back country.

A small advertisement in our Want-Ad. page will bring results—Let us know your wants, and we will let the public know what you want, and when you want it.

LADIES OF THE CABINET.

In Ottawa the queens of society reign not, as in some cities, by virtue of the possession of great wealth, but by right of political leadership of their husbands or fathers; and perhaps this acts to some extent as a check upon the inclination (so generally prevalent) toward display in dress, household management and the exercise of hospitality. If ambitious, either for herself or for her husband, the Ottawa woman has other outlets for her energy than mere efforts to outshine her neighbors in the gorgeousness of her apparel or the splendor of her entertainments; and behind the gaieties which keep society at the capital in a whirl for the first few months of each year there is often much of a serious purpose. It is the nature of women, even in this age when in unprecedented numbers they are engaging in independent enterprises, to be intensely interested in the interests of those dear to them, and in political circles the women most averse to entering what they regard as the "province of man" cannot hold entirely aloof from the keen and exciting and unceasing contest of politics. It is impossible that they should not take sides, but, if it is done tactfully and without bitterness, even an opponent likes, I believe, to see a wife standing staunchly by her husband, unceasingly caring for the interests he has at heart, and helping him, in ways old or new, as a woman can.

Whatever idea one may hold on the question of "woman's sphere" in general, one is bound from the nature of the case to take what may be called an old-fashioned view of the leading women at Ottawa. To the outside world they are, first and foremost, the wives or daughters of the Honorable Minister of this or that Department; and as their parts are largely played within the sanctity of home it is less easy to write of them than it would be of their husbands—public men whose public work is not in the least injured by the utmost possible amount of limelight.

Even a glimpse into the lives led by the Government ladies whilst at Ottawa suggests that for part, if not all, of the year they must be very busy women. For instance, take the matter of receptions alone. During the season the wives of the Cabinet Ministers receive on Monday afternoons; and the number of their callers mounts far into the hundreds. It is not obligatory to return these calls, but I was told that this year they had resolved to do so. When, however, one lady had nine hundred callers and another sixteen hundred (with several reception days still to come) it became manifest that to return in person the visits of all these was impossible. And, of course, there are in addition a multiplicity of other social functions, such as dinners and luncheons, at-homes and bridges, to take the time and strength of the social leaders, whether as guests or hostesses.

Many of the ladies belong by birth and education to the two old provinces which were the first to bear the name of Canada. Ontario is represented by Mrs. Sproule, the wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons, at whose table (it is of real interest to know) wine never appears, and also by half a dozen of the Ministers' wives.—Emily P. Weaver in The Saturday Globe.

Passed the Third Degree.

When he was a member of the House of Commons, no one was more fond of referring contemptuously to the "old ladies of the Senate" than Rufus Pope. Despite the fact that he was one of the principal insurgents against the leadership of Mr. Borden while the Conservative party was in the cold shades of Opposition, the new Premier heaped coals of fire upon the head of his "quondam" follower by making him a member of the Senate to succeed the late Senator Baker. Pope went into the Senate filled with all kinds of ideas respecting the reform of the Upper Chamber. He was going to make them sit up and take notice. The days went by, however, and the innocent ones who believed in the professions of practical politicians looked daily for the Pope bomb to burst and shatter the gloom of the red chamber. Nothing happened, however, until one day Senator Tom Davis from Prince Albert found the "would-be reformer" fast asleep in his chair while Sir Richard Cartwright was fulminating against protection. Davis shook him, and grasping his hand said:

"Welcome, Rufus, old man. Now I know that you are really a Senator!"—Saturday Night.

Bristol to Participate.

There is now every probability that the City of Bristol, Eng., will be represented at the dedication in August next of the Halifax Memorial Tower, commemorating the first grant of self-governing powers to a British colony, namely, Nova Scotia. It is stated, also, says a Canadian official communique, that the City Council are considering a suggestion that a bronze tablet should be sent from Bristol to be placed in the Tower. A proposal that the tablet should be representative of the departure of the Cabots from Bristol on their first voyage of discovery in 1497, as depicted in Mr. Board's picture at the Art Gallery, was thought to be a very happy one, and it is understood that the Lord Mayor will take action with that object in view. The Royal Colonial Institute, the ports of Liverpool and Glasgow and the city of Edinburgh are being invited to send representatives to the opening ceremony, which will be presided over by the Duke of Connaught.

Immigration Doubles.

Immigration from the United States through the port of Emerson, Man., for March, shows an increase of one hundred per cent. over the same month a year ago, according to Commissioner of Immigration Bruce Walker. The value of effects of American settlers passing through North Portal, Sask., during March totalled $9,000,000.

Frost Pictures.

The other children like to write
Their names upon the pane
That's frosted over in the night,
Where you can see them plain.

They draw all sorts of awkward things,
But I would rather see
The pictures that the white frost kings
Have painted there for me.

I am afraid the fairy folk
That in these woods might play
By these ungainly crooked strokes
Will all be scared away.

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:---AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:
T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sisman Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:

18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ...	$27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year	7,000.00
Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital.	$20,000.00

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application, 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved the application lists may be closed without notice.

'RELIGIOUS EQUALITY.

"The Irish Parliament is forbidden to make any law directly or indirectly to establish or endow any religion, or to prohibit the free exercise of it, or to give a preference, privilege, or advantage, or impose any disability or disadvantage on account of religious or ecclesiastical status.

"Or to make any religious belief or any religious ceremony a condition of the validity of marriage.

"The marriage exclusion is designed to prevent legal effect being given to the Papal decrees 'Ne Temere and "Motu Proprio."

THE VALIDITY OF MARRIAGE.

One of the difficulties of discussing new topics is that the super-sentimentalists have to be picked up and carried along like little children who are afraid of the procession. In England they do things differently. They are not afraid of their own thoughts. They are accustomed to think during many long years of thinking and moreover, they are patriotic in a way that our people are only beginning to be.

The following extract from the great English journal "Public Opinion", bears directly on a point now on issue in Canada. It will show those who pretend to argue that people can deny the validity of civil laws, how they regard that contention in Britain. In Canada it is hard to tell whether it is selfishness or only stupidity that is at the bottom of such an argument. The extract reads as follows:—

A CALL FOR HELP.

Russia is suffering from a calamity greater than any which, with the exception of war, has overtaken it since the terrible experiences of 1891. Conservative estimates show that from 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 people are at this moment actually starving in the great "empire of the Czars." Their condition is due to the failure of last summer's crops in the provinces of the middle, and lower Volga, the Ural provinces, West Siberia, the steppe provinces, and in Turkestan. Many of the peasants, after selling their cattle and horses, have been forced to dispose of their allotments of land, and are moving in thousands to the towns, already overcrowded and stricken. Scurvy and hunger-typhus have broken out, with the result, as reported by the Pirogoff Society, that there are whole districts with disease in every household. In some Bashkir villages, according to one correspondent, "the peasants lie down on the floors of their huts and patiently await death"; another writes "The parents pray for the death of their children in order not to see their sufferings, and they themselves are often ready to put an end to their own torture by suicide." Much has already been done for the relief of the sufferers in Russia itself, but the rich of the empire are a comparatively small class, and the less well-to-do have been greatly impoverished by the disturbances of the past six years. Recently a pathetic word came from a group of elder peasants who had noticed the absence of assistance from abroad: "In 1891 people came to help us from everywhere, even from America; where are the kind-hearted people now?" The allusion here made to the United States relates partly to Massachusetts, for in 1891 Gov. Russell appointed a famine relief committee which, presided over by Phillips Brooks, collected and forwarded to Russia a sum of over $40,000.

It is not long ago that the census told of the strikingly rapid growth of Russia's population. While good government and a higher degree of economic efficiency would enable her resources to support any additional millions, this famine re-enforces the fundamental lessons taught by Malthus, as to the possibility of populations outrunning subsistence. In spite of all Col. Roosevelt's preachments against race suicide, overpopulation remains a danger of the world to-day, as it has proved in other countries and other centuries. America is so favorably situated as to be happily free for the present from any risk on this score, but it is not wise on that account to shut our eyes to age-long possibilities such as this famine brings to light.

QUEBEC STANDS FAST

The American press is evidently pleased to see that the Quebec elections went Reform. An editorial in the Boston Herald, says:

"Canadian provincial elections have not as a rule much interest for the outside public, but Wednesday's result in Quebec has a deeper significance than usual. The Liberal government of Sir Lomer Gouin has been sustained by a majority of sixty-two to seventeen, the figures in the last provincial Parliament having been fifty-eight to sixteen. New seats have been added since the last general elections.

"The significance is two-fold. In the first place, the French province has at last shown itself superior to the powerful influences which the Ottawa government can wield. It used to be a matter of course that Quebec should take its politics from Ottawa. It seemed the more likely to prove so in this case after the losses sustained by Sir Wilfrid Laurier last September. Sir Lomer Gouin is to be congratulated that his administration has been tried on its merits and not found wanting.

"The other significant fact is that the National movement of Henri Bourassa is dead. It served the purpose of those crafty politicians who used the simple Bourassa until they needed him no longer. It was a false movement from the start, and the pity is that its essential falseness was not understood last fall.

"The Liberal party has now held the citadel of Quebec since 1897 when Felix Gabriel Marchand first turned his province from the road to bankruptcy.

A NOVEL CATARRH CURE

ANOTHER MARVELLOUS CURE BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Ludger Cote's Backache had Developed Into Bright's Disease, and pains and Aches Were His Portion — Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

St. Yvon, Gaspe Co., Que., May 30. —(Special).—Once more a wonderful cure has sent the name of the old Canadian Kidney Remedy ringing through the Province of Quebec. Mr. Ludger Cote, a well known resident of this place, is the man cured, and the story of his cure in his own words is as follows:

"For four years I suffered from backache, stiffness of the joints and finally Bright's disease. I could not bend my right leg on account of the pain in my hip and knee. I had terrible pains in the region of the bladder. My eyes were swollen. I was always tired and nervous and took no pleasure in life.

"Finally I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and the effect was marvellous. Six boxes cured me completely."

Backache, neglected, develops into Bright's Disease. The one sure way to escape its tortures is to cure the backache when it first starts with Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Complaining that her husband always came home so late that she always had to eat a cold dinner, a Somerville woman is suing for divorce. Why not the other way around?

Dr. Wiley's statement that Roosevelt is responsible for the ruling that food manufacturers might use benzoate of soda, is generally regarded as an application for membership in the Ananias Club.

The ghost of Jerry Simpson has been telling Jerry's widow, who is a spiritualist in the flesh, that the presidential candidates will be Roosevelt and Champ Clark. In life Jerry was not famed for the accuracy of his prophecy, but as a spook he may be more reliable.

A bill is to be introduced in the U. S. Legislature to prevent the naming of any public building, structure, park, or place after any living person. The measure, of course, is aimed at those patriots in political life who desire monuments erected to them with the people's tax money.

A contemporary paper, a few days ago, telling the story of how two sons in Toronto, neglected their mother. The article said there is no law under British jurisdiction to compel children to support their parents. This is a miftake. There is still a law in force promulgated in the days of Elizabeth which compels children to keep the old folks who raised them.

The refusal of the Washington, D.C. House to vote an appropriation for the maintenance of the Court of Commerce is justified by the fact that one of the judges of the court has, by collusion with a railroad company, been the beneficiary of a very genteel form of graft. As a matter of fact the court is in such bad odor that its abolition is a duty that the country expects Congress to perform.

Work is to begin shortly on the electrification of the St. Gotthard railway and the first piece of line to be electrified will be that between Erstfeld and Airolo. The cost of electrification of the Gotthard line is put at £2,500,000, from which, however, the sum of roughly £220,000 must be deducted for new rolling stock necessitated, not because of electrification, but by increase of traffic.

It is reported from Brussels that the negotiations which have been in progress for the formation of a Belgian match trust have now led to the definite combination of eleven match factories out of thirteen factories in the country. The capital of the trust amounts to 7,000,000 francs (franc, 19.3 cents) and bonds of 3,000,000 francs are to be issued later on. A syndicate of Antwerp banks had been constituted for taking over forty thousand shares of 500 francs each, in the trust.

M. Delcasse, Minister of Marine for the French Republic, has decided to restore to naval uniforms their pristine glory. When the dress trousers again glitter with yards of gold and silver braid, and the two-horned hat once more crowns a vision of sartorial loveliness, one of the greatest statesmen France has produced in recent years seriously believes that the diplomatic values of the navy will be materially increased and its fighting power not in the least diminished.

Arrangements are being made for a wedding in New York which might never have taken place but for the part taken, as a peacemaker, of an umbrella. They had been engaged for months. The course of true love ran without a ripple until about a month ago a trifling incident caused a disagreement which culminated one evening in mutual "good-bys"—forever. A few days ago the man sent to the home of his fiancee for his umbrella, which he had left behind when the all-is-over-between-us interview took place. The messenger brought instead this note: "Come yourself, you silly boy." And so they'll be married.

BABY STRANGLED

Little One Killed by Rope With a Ten Pound Weight Attached

Lowell, May 18.—After performing an autopsy on the body of the three-months' old baby found on the banks of the Merrimac river Tuesday, Medical Examiner J. V. Meigs declared death due to strangulation.

When found the body was wrapped in a pillow case. Around the face was bound a strip of cloth, and about the chest was fastened a strong rope, to which a 10-pound weight was attached.

No marks were found on the baby's body or on his clothes which would assist in identification.

AVIATOR EXPELLED.

France Considers Nardini Violated the Neutrality Laws.

Paris, May 18.—A little thing like a decree of expulsion, promulgated to-day against him, failed to worry Nardini, the noted Italian aviator. When told that he must leave the country he hurriedly overhauled his new aeroplane and ascended from Villa Coublay. He stated that he would not descend until he reached England, and that he would make London his objective.

Considerable mystery surrounds the reason for the action of the French authorities, but it is believed that Nardini has been active on French soil in connection with the Italian-Turkish war and he was asked to head off a protest against violation of neutrality from Turkey.

DIES FROM WOUNDS.

Aged Watchman Killed by a Foot-Pad, Whilst Off Duty.

New Orleans, May 17.—John G. Funk, aged 60, the private watchman in the yard of W. W. Carre's lumber plant, who was assaulted and beaten several nights ago by a footpad, died this morning at 7 o'clock in Charity Hospital as a result of his wounds. The aged man, who was a quiet and sober person, was beaten about the head early one morning. His assailant was never captured.

It was stated at the time that he was under the influence of liquor. This was believed, because a bottle containing what was thought to be wine, was found near his side. However, it was afterwards learned that the aged man was an abstainer from all alcoholic beverages, and was regular in his habits. He lived in South Lopez street, between Canal and Iberville streets.

PANAMA PREPARES.

Orders Five Hundred Rifles Ready for the Coming Elections.

Washington, May 18.—Panama is preparing for its approaching presidential election by negotiating with the United States for the purchase of a supply of arms and ammunition.

Dr Arias, the minister from Panama, has asked the war department to sell his country 500 of the Krag-Jorgensen rifles discarded several years ago by the U. S. regular army, and 500,000 cartridges. It was explained at the legation that the police on guard at the polls may be called upon to use weapons more effective than the antiquated firing pieces with which they are now equipped. The election is scheduled to take place on the first Sunday in July 108 YEARS OLD.

Extraordinary Colored Woman Who Has Long Passed the Century Mark.

Savannah, Ga., May 18.—With a grandchild who is forty-one years old and with great-great-grandchildren playing at the feet of her great-grand children, Lovey Ann Currie, an old negress, who lives at 436 South Cortex street, feels that she is getting old. As a matter of fact she is. So far, as can be computed accurately, Lovey Ann is 108 years old. She may be older than that, but her memory of events shows that she is at least that old. Lovey Ann can hardly remember those halcyon days when she was blessed with teeth. She has one remnant that is more of a snag than a tooth, but she says it serves no good purpose, as she has to masticate with her gums whatever food that she has the temerity to swallow. She has been blind in one eye for many years, and the other is gradually becoming affected.

BREEN GUILTY.

School Commissioner Placed Dynamite in the Schools of Boston.

Boston, Mass, May 18.—A verdict of guilty in one of three counts was returned to the jury before Judge Brown in the superior criminal court at Salem yesterday in the case of John J. Breen, a member of the committee of Lawrence, charged with conspiracy to plant dynamite in various places in Lawrence.

The count on which he was convicted alleged attempts to injure the strikers. The other counts charged that he tried to injure individual occupants of buildings. The jury was out 1½ hours.

The dynamite used was found in a cobbler shop, in a tailor shop, and in a cemetery on Jan. 19.

THE TIMES "Want" Page has passed the experimental stage; its success is now assured. A word to the wise is sufficient.

A Novel Catarrh Remedy Cures Without Drugs

The real danger of Catarrh lies in putting off treatment. You may have Catarrh yourself, but you may not know it. Before the disease spreads from your nose to the stomach, lungs or bronchial tubes, root it out—cure it with Catarrhozone. Look over the following symptoms—then examine yourself:

Bad Breath	Stuffy Nostrils
Frequent Sneezing	Ears Buzzing
Watery Eyes	Hacking Coughs
Bad Taste	Droppings
Raising Phlegm	Difficult Breathing

Don't continue to burden your system for another day when the germs of such a filthy, loathsome disease as Catarrh. Get Catarrhozone to-day — inhale its soothing vapor, fill your breathing organs with its balsamic essences, and all traces of Catarrh will forever depart. Read what Elwood S. Lee, of Sydenham, Ont says of his cure with Catarrhozone:

"I was a chronic sufferer from continuous colds in the throat and nose, and for many years have constantly had Catarrh. I was recommended to try Catarrhozone, and find that by using the Inhaler on the first touch of a cold or la grippe I am able to stay it in a few hours. I have been able to breath through my nose freely since using Catarrhozone; in fact, I am completely cured. (Signed ELWOOD S. LEE."

Once you try Catarrhozone you'll realize how indispensable it is — the large dollar size contains an indestructible hard rubber inhaler, and sufficient medication to last for two months. Beware of the substitutor and imitators of Catarrhozone — use the genuine and you'll get cured. By mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

SPORT IN GERMANY.

It Is Found Outside of Games, Which Are Not Popular There.

An Englishman finds it hard to conceive of "sport" except as embodied in some "game." But the German, says Ida A. R. Wylie in her book on Germany, gets his sport without finding it necessary to play any game at all. Exercise that brings him into close relation with nature is more to his taste. The man that sees no pleasure in tiring himself out on a tennis court or a football field travels miles on skis through the forests, skates every free minute of his day and in the heat of the summer goes on long tours among the mountains.

At his own particular sports the German is a first-class man, and even the German woman reveals an energy that is simply astonishing. All German girls can skate well; most of them are good swimmers and walkers and proficient in winter sports. It is only when you ask them to play games that they fail.

This dislike of games reveals an interesting trait in the German character—namely, indifference to a success the only value of which lies in the defeat of some one else. In school a German boy works hard, not for a prize, not because he wants to do better than a comrade, but because he sees a distinct personal value in knowledge. His attitude in sport is quite in keeping.

"And suppose I do run myself hot and tired over a ridiculous patch of ground after a ridiculous ball, and suppose I do win a game, what good will it do me?"

"You will have had splendid exercise," says the Englishman.

"Yes, but if I wanted exercise I would rather go for a walk through the forest or make a bicycling tour. Then I should perhaps learn something at the same time. At any rate, I should be enjoying nature."

"But then there would be no game!" retorts the Englishman.

"No game? What is the good of a game? Am I wiser or better if I beat you at tennis?"

"No, but the fun of it"—

"I don't see any fun in beating somebody at something which has no value. That is childish and a waste of time."

Toothpicks.

Toothpicks were in common use in ancient Rome. Sometimes they were made of quills, but preferably of the wood of the mastic or lentisk tree, whose astringent and aromatic gum is known to modern dentistry. Martial's epigrams frequently mention the dentiscalpium or toothpick and recommended the wooden kind above the quill. The toothpick was taken to England by travelers from Italy and France.

As Nares says, "The using of it in public was long deemed an affected mark of gentility."

The most fantastic use to which the toothpick has ever been put was the sixteenth and seventeenth century fashion of wearing it in the hat as a trophy or an ornament.

It Was Heavy.

"When I was in Ireland," said the funny man, "my landlady made a cake. Well, I tried to eat this cake, and then I threw it in the fire. The fire went out. The landlady had some ducks, so I thought I would revenge myself by giving it to"—

"Yes," came the chorus, "we all know that story. The ducks died."

"Oh, no, they didn't!" came the reply. That's where you're wrong. The ducks ate the cake, went for a swim and they sank!"

And then there was a painful silence.

Not a Somnambulist.

A certain playwright and novelist, is a very early riser, and when the English playwright and novelist Arnold Bennett visited him at his home the host said the first evening at dinner:

"I believe in the simple life. I get up with the sun. Will you take a ten mile walk with me at six o'clock to-morrow morning?"

"Thank you," the Englishman answered, "but I don't walk in my sleep."

Clever Messengers.

The chairman of the London District Messenger Company, in presenting a messenger boy with a medal for efficiency shown in bearing a special message to Liege and Brussels, said that messengers of the company had repeatedly been sent from London to Italy, Switzerland, Turkey, France, Germany, America and South Africa.

PUZZLED THE JAILERS.

The Marquis Lafayette during his career in France took a very active part in politics. In 1792 he opposed the Jacobins, and when they came into power he was deprived of his command in the army of the frontier.

In company with some of his general officers he fled to Liege, where all of them were seized by the Austrians and for a long time imprisoned in the Castle of Olmutz, in Moravia.

Their life was a very lonely one. Each of them was kept in solitary confinement, but their apartments were so arranged that they were all within hearing of one another when standing at the windows. This fact suggested to them a method of communicating with each other without any outsider being able to understand the meaning of what they were doing, and the following ingenious plan was decided upon and carried out.

There were at that time in Paris many popular ballads which were sung at the corners of the streets and other public places. The words belonging to the tunes were familiar to everybody, and to strike up a few of the notes was to recall to memory the words that accompanied them.

By this means the prisoners succeeded in composing for themselves a vocal vocabulary. They whistled certain parts of the airs at their windows, and in a short time the vocabulary became so complete and comprehensive that two or three notes from each air formed their alphabet.

In this way they communicated news to each other about their families and many other subjects, and when one of them was fortunate enough to secure a copy of The Gazette de France, the Paris newspaper, he whistled the contents of it to his companions in captivity.

The commandant of the fortress was told about these mysterious concerts, and he determined that he would find out what they meant.

He spent hours in listening to the whistling and set men to listen, but the whole thing was a mystery to him. Indeed, the most skillful solver of puzzles would have been unable to detect the intention and real expression of the notes heard.

Then he ordered that the whistling should stop but the prisoners paid no attention to the order, and at last, tired out and baffled, he stopped trying to prevent what he could not understand.

The Last Straw.

An old woman entered a savings bank the other day and walked up to the desk.

"Do you want to withdraw or deposit?" asked the clerk.

"Naw, Oi doan't. Oi wants to put some in," was the reply.

"Me whole name?"

"Yes."

"Before Oi was married?"

"No; just as it is now."

"Oi can't wroite."

Trucks For Their Tails.

The flat-tailed breed of sheep has been known from very early times and still exists in Africa and Asia. In these sheep practically all the fat in the body collects in the tails, which may weigh as much as forty pounds. In such cases the tail is supported on a little truck, with which the sheep is furnished by the shepherds to avoid rubbing it raw against the ground. This practice was known to the ancient Greek writer Herodotus and is still carried on.

To Certify Posting.

To meet the requirements of very many persons not wishing to go to the expense of registering a letter, but desiring merely to have proof of posting, which may be produced in the event of a dispute, arrangements have been made by the Postmaster-General of Great Britain whereby a certificate of posting may be obtained for 1 cent on application at any post-office.

Decrease In Immigration.

Her View.

The Brother—She's got lovable eyes, kissable lips, a huggable shape and holdable hands.

A Nocturne.

"You will have to accompany me," said the new and zealous officer of the law, laying a firm hand on the arm of the seedy young man who was making night hideous with a cornet.

"Certainly," said the musician, affectionately linking his arm in the policeman's. "What do you wish to sing and in what key?"

"Age Cannot Wither."

"You still stick to that old ten-year-old nag of yours, I see, Blithers," said Dubbleigh. "Why don't you get a motor?"

"Well," said Blithers, "I've sort of found that there is more style to a 1902 model horse than there is to a 1902 model car."

No Changes.

"Why don't you work up some improvements in this department?" demanded the proprietor.

"Well, sir, the work has always been done this way. Could I have an increase of salary?"

"Why should you? This job has always drawn $3 a week."

She Had Retired.

"Is that hair restorer any good?"

"Fine! I put a bottle of it on my wife's dressing table the other night and when I got home from the club the dressing table was covered with hair."

SPOTS ON THE SUN

They Indicate the Aging of Our Orb of Life and Light.

THE GREAT SOLAR TRAGEDY.

A Grim Play In Which the "Star" Is Fighting For Existence, Has Absolutely No Chance to Win and Whose Death Means the End of the World.

Life is a tragedy, the earth a stage, men and women the actors, the "gods" the audience. Some pessimists believe that this great play of life is more comic than tragic in the opinion of the spectators.

However this may be, there is another, vastly greater, tragedy of life at which man himself is an onlooker, although, unfortunately, his own ultimate fate is bound up with the denouement of the play.

It is the life drama of the solar system. Its chief actor is the sun, and men are beginning to rub their eyes and wipe the specks from their glasses as they perceive more and more plainly indications that the "star" of the play is aging.

The fact is becoming only too clear that for him this is no sport, but real, deadly tragedy. He is not acting a part, but fighting for life. He cannot win; he can only prolong the struggle, and when he falls exhausted the stage, the theater, actors, spectators, pit and galleries will go with him in one universal ruin.

Until recently we were only troubled a little in mind by the sun spots. It was evident that they must cut off some radiation, but the amount appeared to be trifling and their maxima are far apart, ten or eleven years. But now we are confronted by a much more disquieting phenomenon. The sun appears to "fluctuate at irregular intervals of several days and sometimes of several months."

Here is the crux of the whole matter. What does the recognition of the fact that the sun is a veritable star mean? What may it mean to the earth and its inhabitants? These questions can best be answered by considering other variable stars.

Let us take an extreme example. There is in the constellation of the Whale a famous variable star known as Mira the Wonderful. In a period of about ten months on the average it changes from the third—sometimes the second—magnitude to about the ninth and then back again.

That means, in the extreme, a probable difference of between two and three hundred times in the amount of light and heat which it radiates around it at maximum and at minimum.

When it is faintest it cannot be seen with the naked eye; when it is brightest it is a conspicuous object. As it fades it turns reddish in color, and when it brightens it blazes with brilliant spectroscopic lines.

It is probably a sun at least as great as our sun, and it has recently been found that its spectrum resembles in some striking peculiarities the spectra of sun spots.

Did it ever have any worlds to light and nourish? If so think of the condition of those worlds now.

A sun is like a living organism—it wears out. As it ages it becomes more and more variable. It maintains itself and its planets while its radiant power lasts, but it cannot do so forever. It contracts, flickers, struggles, fades and goes out. Its lifetime is millions of years, but it has an end.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

"Let us account as a mere nothing," cried Bossuet, "everything that ends, for, though we should multiply years beyond the reach of numbers, yet all would be nothing when the fatal term is reached."—Garrett P. Serviss in New York American.

Ham Experts.

In certain watering places of Europe men make fortunes in ham shops. There is said to be such a shop in Carlsbad, where a man in white garments slices the lean Prague ham or the fatter Westphalian for the people who are at the springs. It is said that none there are really judges of ham until they can argue every morning outside the shop for a quarter of an hour as to what breed of pig gives the most appetizing slice. At Marienbad the representatives of the most exclusive circles of society in the world lunch on lean ham.—Argonaut.

The Sign of Equality.

Robert Recorde introduced the sign of equality into algebra. Recorde was the first English author who wrote on the subject of algebra. In his treatise called "Whetstone of Witte," published about 1557, he says: "To avoide the tediouse repetition of these words, is equalle to, I will sette, as I doe often in worke use, a paire of parallel lines of one lengthe, thus: =, because no 2 thynges can be more equalle."

Just the Other Way.

"I suppose," observed the envious person, "that when you go to Europe the whole continent tips up."

"Not at all," said the experienced traveler. "When I go to Europe I usually have to tip the whole continent."—Chicago Tribune.

ALLEGED BOGUS MONEY LENDER

Vancouver Man Arrested In London, Fights Extradition

Charged With Embezzling $15,000 From a Woman Under Guise of Being a Money Lender.

Vancouver, B.C., May 20. — David Openheim, late of Vancouver, was rested in London, England, on Sunday on a charge of having embezzled the sum of $15,000 from Mrs. James Groves, of South Vancouver. He appeared before the Magistrate at Bow Street yesterday and his case was remanded until May 20. It is understood that Openheim is fighting extradition. A police officer will be sent from Vancouver to bring the accused back to this city.

According to the information laid by Mrs. Groves, Openheim was in the city last fall, and advertised himself in Vancouver papers as a money-lender. Seeing one of his advertisements Mrs. Groves is alleged to have called on him and asked for a loan of $5,000 on a lot that she owned. Openheim is then said to have pursuaded her to sign what purported to be a mortgage on her lot, but which in reality was a deed of the property. He is then alleged to have told Mrs. Groves that he would call the following day with the $5000. Instead of returning he is said to have sold the lot to a friend for $17,000 and decamped.

ALLIGATOR IN A GUTTER

Saurian Found in a New Orlean's Gutter, Swept In By the Flood.

New Orleans, La., May 18. — Not often, if ever before, anywhere in the country, has a real live alligator been found complacently observing metropolitan life from a newly adopted home one of the principal residence streets of a great city. Nevertheless the discovery was made Thursday night that one of the denizens of the Louisiana lagoons was numbered among the refugees in New Orleans from the floods that are sweeping the swamps and lowlands, apparently having found more fresh water than was to his liking in the still, shadowy places that are his native haunts.

Capt. Robert Boland, commander of the Government engineering fleet of boats, was the discoverer of this odd seeker after the hospitality of the city, and he straightway made the venturesome saurian captive. Captain Boland was entering his yard at Audubon and General Taylor streets about 9 p.m. when he observed a slight commotion in the shallow water in the gutter in front of his home. Closer investigation revealed a dark object weithing about in a narrow space. Then the captain was astonished at beholding an alligator energetically endeavouring to chase a water rat out of his hole. Presumably the "gator" had missed the issue of government rations to refugees and wanted a meal.

When measured it was found that the alligator was nearly two feet long. Captain Boland thinks he lost his bearings somewhere in the flood and wandered into the city through the drainage canals.

FIREPROOF FRAME BUILDINGS

CANADIAN FIREPROOFING IMPREGNATION CO. LTD.
Authorized Capital: $200.000
Divided Into 20.000 Shares, Par Value, $10.00

Send us your order for Antignol today it may be to late tomorrow

This Company has been formed to market a new invention by which wood can be made fireproof. This invention consists of a chemical compound called "Antignol," in which the wood is either immersed for about 24 hours, or—and that applies especially to houses already built—which may be applied to the wood twice or three times with a brush. The solution penetrates deep into the substance of the wood, and after the evaporation of the liquid parts leaves a deposit, which cannot be removed or washed out by rain or moisture of any kind.

Wood impregnated with Antignol will resist fire. Even in a fierce blaze, fed by great quantities of highly inflammable contents of a house or other building, the woodwork would be charred to a small depth, as even bricks or other noncombustible material would, but it would not develop flames itself, therefore not maintain nor conduct the fire. The latter would die out as soon as the source of it was removed or had exhausted itself.

To illustrate this on an every-day occurrence let us take the case of a lamp being overturned, or a burning match or cigar dropped on a carpet or other material easily ignited. The contents of a room, curtains, furniture, etc., would in an instant be aflame, and the whole building would be ablaze and destroyed—with the adjoining buildings included in the destruction—in spite of all efforts to fight the conflagration. In a building impregnated with Antignol that would not be the case. The accident would be confined to the room in which it occurred. The contents of the same would, of course, burn out as well (though at some future time when impregnation will be more general and extended to curtains, furniture, etc., this might be prevented too), but the structure would resist the fire long enough to give people a chance to extinguish it or to allow the fire to die down after the contents of the room had been consumed. ...

As even the most disastrous conflagrations necessarily originate from such small beginnings, which it has not been possible to check in time, and as we have shown, that these initial stages of every fire of the ordinary kind can by means of our impregnations be kept under control or rendered comparatively harmless, the majority of fires in frame buildings may be prevented.

This Is a Bold Statement. But It is True

It is not only verified by leading experts of official standing, but we have made arrangements to demonstrate the efficacy of our impregnation to anyone calling at our offices.

Besides fireproofing the wood Antignol has all the properties of the other wood-preserving impregnation fluids, namely, protecting the wood against decay, germs of decomposition, fungi, etc. It is, therefore, applicable to railway sleepers, telegraph poles, ships, boats, etc.

In a country where disastrous fires occur with an awe-inspiring frequency, where the annual fire-waste is $2.50 per capita, as compared with 30 cents per capita in the old countries, where 25 per cent. of all new buildings simply replace those destroyed by fire—it is well nigh impossible to over-estimate the general and commercial importance of our enterprise.

The Directors of the Company are all experienced business men, and with a market that for a long time to come will be far ahead of our manufacturing capacity, everyone must realise that the shares of this Company offer quite exceptional opportunities for profits.

Situated one and one third miles from the Post Office in the direct line of the City's growth. Streets all graded, and beautified by parks and artificial lakes.

Comparison

Calgary 5 Years Ago

HAD A population of about 12,000.
4 Railway lines.
No street car line.
Very limited natural resources
YET Calgary has grown to a population of 60,000.
AND lots that sold FIVE YEARS AGO for $100 are selling to-day for $1,500 to $2,000 each.

Moose Jaw Today

HAS A population of over $20,000.
5 Railway lines in operation.
4 more lines almost completed.
A modern street car system.
An ample supply of good coal.
IS the centre of Canada's greatest wheat belt.
An important Divisional Point of the C.P.R.
The terminal of the "Soo Line"—the line that brings thousands of prosperous American settlers to Saskatchewan.

Therefore

is just starting on her first boom.

Saturday afternoon a large cortege followed the remains of the late Mrs. Charles Perry to St. John's church where a service was held. The funeral then proceeded to the Little Lake cemetery.

"The curfew shall not ring tonight!" the order passed by the village council of Bobcaygeon. The bell there used to ring at stated intervals, but the council has gagged it.

The Port Hope Guide sheds a gallon or two of tears in its last issue, because Capt. W. T. Clark, of the Life Boat Service there has been dismissed by the Dominion Government.

Boys Cut Out Burglar Alarm.

Two boys were charged in Saturday's police court with having entered the store of Mr. David Flynn, a Concession street grocer and robbing the till of $18, on Thursday night last. The youth who appeared admitted having ransacked the till on four different occasions. It appears that the proprietor of the store lived in the rear of the shop and depended upon a small bell attached to a cord to appraise him of the presence of customers in the store. The boys were too foxy, however, and cut out the burglar alarm. The boys were sent to the Shelter till to-day.

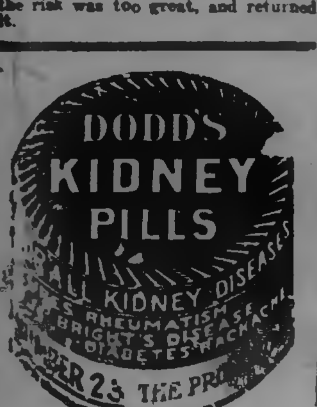
Titanic Wreck Stops Settlers.

The local immigration officers, is authority for saying that the wreck of the Titanic has affected a number of immigrants to a large extent. Some have been known to have been at Liverpool and to have had their tickets bought, but when they heard of the Titanic disaster decided to remain at home. One man had his ticket sent to him, but he decided the risk was too great, and returned it.



THE REAL SECRET OF REJUVENATING THE FACE.

(From the Clubwoman.)

She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned how to remove the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It's a secret anyone may possess. The aged, faded or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner, by the nightly application of ordinary mercolized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store, (an ounce is sufficient), is applied like a cold cream. In the morning it is erased with soap and water. It's the best thing known for freckles, blackheads pimples, moth patches, liver spots and fine surface wrinkles.

For the deeper wrinkles an excellent recipe is: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pt. witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution produces quick and wonderful results.

Should City Pay the Cost?

The municipal [illegible] city yesterday rece[illegible] from Toronto, corrobo[illegible] of Rev. Mr Shauner, in Knox church on Sunday. The letter states that the young girl referred to lived in Peterborough for some time until she was betrayed by a young man of this city. The girl was sent to Toronto and lodged in the redemptive Home for Girls through the kindness of the Temperance and Moral Reform Society. She is a fine bright girl, so the letter states, and the circumstances of her undoing are particu. stances of her undoing are particube asked to provide for her support.

The Cart Before the Horse.

A peculiar accident occurred on Saturday evening in front of the Munro House. A farmer's horse and buggy was standing beside the pavement. An automobile happened along. The horse went up in the air on its hind legs and coming down on all fours, slipped or turned completely round so that it was facing the buggy. The animal again went on its hind legs in another desperate plunge. Lo, and behold! It was back between the shafts, neither of which was broken. The only damage done was the breaking of a swicingle and one or two straps of the harness.

A Mix Up.

Under a heading which read, "A new secretary," in yesterday's issue, we gave a report of a meeting held by the Liberal-Conservative Association of West Peterborough on Saturday night. Unfortunately one of our printers got two lines of the type of this article mixed so that the report was, in part, unintelligible. What the article should have said was that "At a meeting of the Liberal Conservative Association of West Peterborough, held on Saturday evening, Mr. George Southwell, District Manager of the London Life Association, was elected secretary of the Association in place of Mr. Jas. Edgar, resigned. Mr. Southwell is an excellent choice, and will, we believe, make an ideal secretary.

Organ Recital at St. Paul's.

Last night a large audience gathered in St. Paul's church to hear Mr. John Allen give an organ recital. A splendid musical treat was enjoyed. Mr. Allen, who played in that church at both services on Sunday, is organist of Crescent street Methodist church, Montreal. Mr. Allen has had the honour of playing on several before his late Majesty King Edward VII. at Balmoral Castle; before King George and Queen Mary at Abergeldie Castle; H.R.H. the Duchess of Fife and the Duke of Fife, K.G., at Mar Lodge, the Queen of Spain and many more of nobility. Last night he demonstrated a splendid technique, a sympathetic touch, and a complete mastery of the organ. Mr. Allen was assisted by Miss Brock, contralto and Miss Chalmers, contralto, both of whom greatly pleased the audience.

LAWYER FOOLED.

Eastern Business Man Puts Through Bogus Draft for $2480.00.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 19.—Two firms of Minneapolis attorneys were hoodwinked and swindled out of $2,239 by a man who represented himself to be a businessman from the east who wished to arrange collection of a note for $2,480.

The firm of attorneys who lost on the transaction is that of Fifield, Fletcher and Fifield, 712 Anrus building. The firm of Henderson, Wunderlich, Works and Patten were made innocent parties to the swindle, but lost no money.

THIN, FRAIL WOMEN WITH PALE CHEEKS

Now Rapidly Learning the Way to Health and Vigor by the Use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Thousands of half-dead, emaciated, worn-out women are dragging out their weary lives simply because they don't know what ails them. Nine times in ten it's indigestion, which directly leads to anaemia, poor circulation and eventually invalidism.

The first step towards relief is to flush out all wastes and unhealthy matter. Loosen the bowels—stir up the liver—stimulate the kidneys. Once this is done, Dr. Hamilton's Pills will quickly manifest their health-restoring qualities.

"The best way to correct impaired digestion, to cure constipation, headache, liver trouble, and other ailments of the stomach and bowels writes Mrs. Uriah A. Dempsey, from Woodstock, "is by the frequent use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills I didn't know what it was to enjoy a good meal for months. My stomach was sour, I belched gas, was thin, tired, pale and nervous. I simply house-cleaned my system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and have been robust and vigorous ever since."

To keep the machinery of the body in active working order, no remedy is so efficient, so mild, so curative as Dr. Hamilton's Pills—good for men, women and children. 25c. per box, at all dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

LEPROSY IN U. S.

Boston, Mass., May 19.—Elias Applebaum was pronounced last week to be suffering from leprosy, and was transferred yesterday from Gallup's island, the quarantine station in Boston harbor, to the leper colony on Penikese island.

The launch kept at Penikese set out at daybreak yesterday, despite the stiff east wind and driving storm, and made the run to the harbor in quick time. Dr. J. W. Proctor of the state board of health had been notified by telegraph and was at Gallup's before the launch arrived.

He told Arplebaum that the time for his transfer had come. Though it meant a lifetime of exile for him, the afflicted man calmly made ready to go. His last glimpse o the distant city where he had lived and worked and made his home with his wife and eight children was a dispiriting one.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

There was no change in the moulders' strike here yesterday.

The City Council met last night to consider the matter of sewers and sidewalks.

On account of the wet weather the Nicholls Oval is not in condition for use and will be closed unt,l further notice.

Detective Newhall has recovered the bicycle of a local contractor. The wheel was stolen last week, and was much damaged when found.

The new garbage collection system seems to be coming along very slowly. In various yards may be seen boxes and other receptacles full and overflowing.

HAD BAD SORE FOUR YEARS

ZAM-BUK HAS HEALED IT!

Mrs. Wilson, 110 Wickson Ave., Toronto, says: "About four years ago a sore spot appeared on the right side of my face. This spot increased in size until it became about half an inch in diameter and very painful. I went to a doctor, but the ointment he gave me did not have any good effect. The sore continued to discharge freely, and was most painful. I had it cauterized, tried poultices and all kinds of [illegible] but it was no good, and I continued to suffer from it for four years!

"A sample of Zam-Buk was one day given to me, and I used it. Although the quantity was so small, it seemed to do me some good, so I purchased a further supply.

"Each box did me more and more good, and, to my delight, before I had been using Zam-Buk three weeks, I saw that it was going to heal the sore. In less than a month it was healed!

"I know a lady in the east of the city, whose husband suffered for years with an open sore on his leg. On my recommendation, Zam-Buk was tried in that case. The other day, when I saw her, she told me that it had healed the sore completely.

"My daughter, who lives in Lethbridge, Alta., has also used Zam-Buk with the same satisfactory result. I think it is, beyond all doubt, the finest healing balm known."

Such is the opinion of all persons who have really tried Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, scalp sores, ringworm, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. In case of skin disease use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

On May 21st and 22nd from 4 to 6 p.m. there will be held in the Kindergarten room of the Central School an exhibition of the year's work in Art of the public school pupils.

Prize List of Canadian National Exhibition Now Being Distributed.

The prize list of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, August 24th to September 9th, has been issued. It shows the usual liberal prizes in all departments, of live stock, agriculture and home work, amounting to a total of $55,000. It is also evident that the list has been carefully revised to have it in keeping with up-to-date conditions.

A few of the innovations that might be noticed are provisions for competition in breeding horses for strings of five horses; a number of sections added to provide for the newer breeds of poultry; $100 in prizes for onions, tomatoes and celery in baskets. The last named is a Government suggestion meant to encourage export of these commodities.

On the whole, the list shows a distinct advance on its predecessors, and, as the attractions will include a review of cadets from all the oversea dominions of the Empire, the Scots Guards Band, and a brilliant historical spectacle, the Siege of Delhi, it is safe to predict another record year for the Canadian National.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

TRAIN ROBBERY IN SOUTH

Sheriff's Posse With Bloodhounds After Bandits.

Hattiesburg, Miss., May 18.—At 10 o'clock there have been few developments in the train robbery which occured nine miles south of here on the New Orleans and Northeastern at 10.30 last night.

When the News reached here Sheriff Bennett and a posse of half a dozen men immediately left for the place with bloodhounds.

The only reports from their search to reach here this morning are that the dogs tracked the men a mile and a half west of the railroad to a log where it is supposed they stopped.

At this place was found a much battered locket chain.

The trail then turned back to the railroad to a tank where it is supposed the men boarded a freight train, which stopped there an hour or so after the robbery.

The freight was bound north and a close watch is being made on all towns. From all accounts it appears that there were only two men in the robbery.

Two strangers took supper at Talawah, a small town three miles south of Purvis, last night, and it is supposed that they were the men.

Only two men were seen by the trainmen, both masked, one a large man and the other a small one.

It is generally believed here that the men came to Hattiesburg. The exact amount of the money taken cannot be ascertained.

RICHESON WENT CALMLY TO DEATH IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Smiled at Mistake in Adjusting Apparatus--Said He Was Glad to Pay the Penalty.

Boston, Mass., May 21.—Facing death with a fortitude that amazed his spiritual advisers, his counsel and the ten who were State witnesses, Clarence Virgil Richeson, former pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, Cambridge, died in the electric chair at Charlestown prison at 12.10.02 a.m. to-day with an exhibition of manhood he had never before shown during his life.

A current of 1,900 volts was hurled through Richeson's body at 12.10.02. Three physicians pronounced his death instantaneous. Twice the voltage was lowered, and twice shocked again into the body of the man who had betrayed and murdered pretty Avis Linnell, the little Hyannisport choir singer. The last time the current was turned on it was kept coursing its deadly way through the murderer's body for fifteen seconds. Richeson was officially pronounced dead at 12.17, after the doctors had spent five minutes in a stethescope examination.

A Miracle of Grace.

Rev. Herbert Stebbins, prison chaplain, who had officiated on many such hideous occasions, broke down completely after he had left the death chamber.

"It was not altogether the misery or horror o the whole thing," said Dr. Stebbins to-day, "that had shaken me, it was more than that. It was the man's heroism displayed in his manner of dying, penitent and secure in the belief of salvation. It was a revelation and a miracle that only God could have wrought. Until he was pronounced dead, I could not believe this poor sinner, who has confessed to so much weakness and cowardice throughout his whole life, would be able to see the light and die courageously through sincere trust in God. I repeat it was surely a revelation of God's power which was granted because Richeson died a far better man than he has ever lived."

Richeson's counsel and every jail official who had the last keeping of the man echoed Chaplain Stebbins' words. There was no one who had been with him during his last hours, who doubted for an instant that they would have a craven, cringing thing to lift bodily into the death chair.

Died With a Prayer on His Lips.

Instead of this, Richeson died with a prayer on his lips. No man in the death cell, before the summons came, nor in that chamber where he died, was more cool and courageous than the man all were waiting to see die like a coward. He was singing as the summons came to him. Warden Bridges permitted the two ministers and the condemned to finish the last verse of the hymn. Then, walking more steadily than his two guards, of the ministers, Richeson paced the last twelve steps to the chair where he seated himself and looked courageously down, as his split trouser leg was drawn to the knee, and the electrode fixed.

Smiled at Mistake.

Again he glanced downward as his arms were tightly strapped to the chair arms, and the heavy black leather belt buckled across his abdomen. These glances downward, however, did not detract his attention from his Confessions of Christ, drawn by the questions of Dr. Johnston. When the rubber mask made of two broad strips, one to cover his eyes and the other with a small aperture in it to better hold down the chin, was first put on upside down, quickly removed and more quickly put in place, Richeson smiled. It was but an instant that his features could be seen, for the rubber was flipped into place and slightly distorted the nose and lips.

But the smile was seen, and it was plainly not of a kind that had ever before illumined that dark, handsome face. And it was seen, too, that his pallor was changed by the slightest touch of color in each cheek.

Then, as the little leather helmet, containing the head electrode, was adjusted, convering the disfiguring two-inch strip of bare scalp down the middle of the head, where Richeson had been shaved an hour before there came in answer to Dr. Johnston's question his last words.

"For Jesus sake I am ready to live or die——"

TRAVERS WILL NOT YET SAY WHO IT WAS THAT GOT MONEY

Toronto, May 21.—Questioned again this morning as to the payment of $3,000 to some one in Ottawa in connection with the securing of the defunct Farmers Bank charter, former General Manager W. R. Travers again refused to say to whom the money was paid, at the continuation of the enquiry before Sir William Meredith.

"I have thought the matter over," said Travers, "and I have consulted my solicitor. He tells me that I ought to tell you, if it has any bearing on the Finance Minister or Finance Department. Now, Mr. Hodgins, no one in the Finance Department received it. It was a personal matter, anyway."

"What do you mean by a personal matter?" asked Sir William Meredith. "Was it your own money?"

"Yes, it was due me on commissions," Travers answered.

Mr. Travers told of a conversation he had with Sir Richard Cartwright, then Acting Finance Minister, about March, 1907. It occurred on the train. Sir Richard was in the diner, and Travers sent in his card. Travers had some doubt as to whether he was right in issuing circulation against the discounted farmers' notes.

"And what did Sir Richard say?" asked Mr. Hodgins. "Did he say it was all right to issue bank notes against subscription notes?"

"Sir Richard said that if we could not issue circulation against good farmers' notes, he did not know what you could issue against."

"How did you represent the matter to Sir Richard?" asked Mr. Hodgins.

"I referred to the special return, and asked him if it were irregular to issue against farmers' notes. He replied as I have told you."

PARIS BANDITS DEFY DYNAMITE

Paris, May 20.—Undaunted and probably unharmed by bullets and dynamite, Octave Garnier, the real leader of the bandit gang which has terrorized Paris, was still fighting desperately for life at midnight with his confederate, Vallet, in a small villa at Nogent, on the banks of the Marne, where they had taken refuge.

All the forces for the protection of society, had failed to dislodge them. Police came from Paris, four miles away. Several thousand police, gendarmes and Zouaves tried for hours to shoot the bandits or destroy the building with explosives. Three policemen had fallen from the desperadoes' bullets, but though the villa was badly damaged by dynamite the bandits miraculously held their own and showed no signs of surrending.

Unlike Bennot, whose refuge was dynamited at Choisy-le-Roi, Garnier made his last stand in a house hidden by foliage and surrounded closely by other buildings, rendering an assault difficult and dangerous. Bennot and Dubois fought in a garage which could be approached from all sides.

Garnier's mistake came in trying to negotiate stolen securities at a branch of a big banking house, whereby he and his companions, Vallet and Vuillemin, were tracked to Nogent. All three, who are decided blondes, dyed their hair jet black. An indiscretion by the woman, Vuillemin, to-day enabled the police to fix their lair to a certainty. She went to a public pump to get drinking water where she was met by a Parisian woman. Vuillemin, who is of Basque origin, carried the jug of water on her shoulder, after the custom of the country. The Parisian, struck by the picture, stopped her and exclaimed:

Vuillemin smilingly acknowledged the compliment and passed on. Then the Parisian, with a woman's penetration, decided that her hair was dyed. The comments and inquiries of the Parisian put the police on the track. M. Lepine, perfect of Paris was notified and decided to capture or kill the bandits.

Spectators Hamper Police

Again, as in the case of the battle at Choisy-le-Roi, the efforts of the police and military were greatly hampered by the vast crowds of spectators that gathered in the adjoining streets. Attempts were made to blow up the building by throwing dynamite cartridges from the adjacent viaduct, and a perfect hail of bullets was thrown into the house where the bandits were concealed. Finally the firing ceased for a time, and the onlookers wearied by lack of definite action and their inability to witness any of the later operations, took possession of the cafes to await the outcome.

All sorts of wild rumors were afloat among them that Garnier had succeeded in escaping. That the authorities placed no credence in this was shown by the fact that they telephoned for melinite, and, after the arrival of a searchlight, a quantity of the high explosive was placed against the lower wall of the villa. At the concussion more debris was hurled skyward.

MOTHER AND CHILD CONFINED WITH INSANE, DISEASED NEGRESS

Toronto, May 21.—"We found in the Women's Ward, in a room of small size, one very bad case of insanity, a negress who we understand is also suffering from a loathsome disease. In this room a mother and seven months old baby is confined, using the same clothes and washing at the same basin. We think the baby is in great danger of assault from the patient, as she becomes quite violent at times. It must be a great hardship for the mother to be so confined, as we understand the charge is of a petty nature, and we would recommend that immediate steps be taken to save this mother and child from the torture and possible injury that might befall them.

Subsequently the doctor of the asylum told us that it would be a terrible thing to allow this negress patient to mingle with those he had in charge at the asylum. This will explain how dangerous it is to have a baby quartered with a patient, when the danger of infection is considered so great by the asylum authorities."

Above is an extract from the presentment of the Grand Jury of the Criminal Assize Court this morning.

PETERBOROUGH DRYDOCK

Mr. J. H. Burnham Has Already Taken Matters Up With Government.

Referring to our article in yesterday's paper, advocating a dry dock for Peterborough, we might say, our suggestion looks not only like accomplishment, but even forestalled. Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., called at The Times office yesterday and informed us that he had already taken up the matter for a local dry dock with the Government. He considers that the location the Times suggested was eminently adaptable to the purpose, but intimated that such a matter would have to be permanently settled by the Government Engineer.

In this connection, it might be noted, that about two years ago, Mr. J. G. Sing, engineer for the Dominion Government for Ontario, when in Peterborough, had the subject of such a dry dock proposed to him by a number of local steamboat owners and other Peterborough citizens. Mr. Sing was taken to the place proposed for the local dry dock and seemed very favorably impressed with the place denominated.

TERRIBLE TALE ABOUT MEAT

Washington Inspector Found Meat so Rotten His Fingers Went Through It.

Washington, May 20.—Plenty of sensation has been caused this week during the House Committee enquiry into the federal meat inspection law. Mrs. Charlotte Bartlett Crane's assertions that the inspection act is continually being violated will be taken up by other witnesses.

Representative Nelson outlined on Monday some of the things he says will be proved this week. This is his program:

That a quantity of meat, so soft that when an inspector pressed it with his fingers they sank into the body of the meat, was passed and sold for human food. The meat, in the blunt words of the inspector, was "rotten." This occurred in a Philadelphia packing house.

That several emancipated steers, which had died in pens from exhaustion, were dragged to the cutting room, and after being bled were passed as food. The inspector in charge told his subordinates, whose attention had originally been called to the deadoanimals, "that they had been bled properly, and there was no reason why they shouldn't be passed." This occurred in a Chicago packing establishment.

That stomachs and spleens of hogs besides snouts, ears and palates were passed as sausage meat. This ruling was made after several conditional rulings by the Bureau of Animal Industry, and is now in effect.

The carcasses of steers, hogs and sheep were persistently washed in water dangerously polluted with typhoid germs, despite efforts of the inspectors in charge to secure orders from the Bureau of Animal Industry to put a stop to the practise. This occured in Cumberland, Md.

PUBLIC OPINION

PUBLIC HEATING

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir,—I see that a big milling plant in the City of Stratford is putting in a big and very expensive steam heating system. The expense they are going to would evidently be considered unjustified were the heat to be used only in their mill. However, those Stratford millers are long sighted financiers. They have arranged with the city, as the plant is put in, to lay pipes in the streets to supply the central portion of Stratford with comparatively cheap steam heat. Stratford gets through with one digging up of its streets, her citizens get clean, cheap heat, and the millionaires have a paying investment. The newspaper reports of the above transaction note that it is only possible as the mill is centrally located, and future customers can be cheaply supplied. Now here is a suggestion for the city. Whilst repairs are being made at the police station why not go a little further and have a heating system for the central part of the city furnished by the city. The additional cost would not be a great amount more. The payment for steam heat, by residents of the blocks, say from King to Dublin-sts., would pay big interest in the outlay. The payments by subscribers would pay all interest on the debentures and leave the city a good annual profit.

PETERBOROUGH INSULTED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—"John Canuck" is surely a clever young Canadian paper. Still, possibly, on account of its youth, it may make mistakes. I think it has made a decided mistake, through a correspondent signed "John Canuck." The article, or letter, I refer to was addressed to "the Mayor of Peterborough." Now, a flippant letter addressed to the Chief Magistrate of a growing city is not only an insult, but, possibly, a permanent hurt. This letter read as follows:

To His Worship the Mayor of Peterborough:

Dear Sir,—What business has your city to maintain a police station which is unfit for animals to stay in? Have you got the same dwarfed ideas about men who serve on a police force as the Toronto authorities? We presume you go to church on Sunday, say long prayers, and thank God that you are not as other men, "even as these poor constables," who are given a station which is unsanitary. Please humble yourself a little, and see if you cannot do something to make life at your police station a little more like what it ought to be for cent men.

JACK CANUCK.

Now Mr. Editor, before this fresh writer, who evidently does not know existing conditions in this city, tries to make a fool of Peterborough, the editor of "John Canuck" should give, at least a passing glance at the letters printed in his paper. Can "John Canuck" afford to insult the various smaller towns of Canada, not to mention cities. He may have his paper in "Hogtown", and think he and his paper, are "the whole tip and part of the feather" as children say.

Now, to get down to actual business the police station complained of by "John Canuck," as "unfit for animals to stay in" was hardly as bad as that. If it had been, it was hardly the place of John Canuck to publish the facts abroad. Supposing John Canuck had been justified in maligning this city, he should have found what present conditions are. He would have ascertained that the former local police station, whilst never possibly as sanitary or as modern, as might have been deserved, has been shut for weeks, whilst the building has been, not only improved and modernized, and practically doubled. It would be better if John Canuck, before attacking places in Canada, found out the truth about existing conditions in them. There is one more hint I would like to give "John Canuck." When he starts to talk about the Mayor of Peterborough, or of any other town, having "dwarfed ideas," he is not following the sample set by the Calgary Eye Opener. He is simply insulting a majority of the people who voted for Peterborough's Mayor.

Now, Mr. Editor, suppose the Mayor does "go to church and say long prayers and thank God," what harm? That kind of snap journalism is all right, possibly, as long as it is used in right channels. I think though, that the letter making Peterborough look cheap, before whatever may be John Canuck's circulation in Ontario, is ill advised.

TORONTOS BUSINESS TIED UP FOR LACK OF POWER

Street Car Traffic Stopped and all Electrically Driven Machinery Idle--Harvest for Livery Companies.

Toronto, May 21st.—Lightning trouble on the line between the power plant at Niagara Falls and Toronto is believed to have been responsible for the absence of electric power on lines supplied by the Toronto Electric Light Company for over an hour to-day, and the complete tie-up in the street railway service for a much longer period.

"The minute the power went off, we started up our steam plant in order to take care of the more important business," said the General Manager. One line, however, was back in commission about 11.50. The "juice" was off again at 12.45, but only for a space of 15 minutes. Up til the middle of the afternoon there was no sign that the second line would be in commission until a late hour.

The lack of power affected thousands of men in scores of Toronto factories. Not only was idleness enforced upon those employed in connection with the electrical work and on machines run by electric power, but the absence of electric lighting, together with the darkness of the day made work difficult, and in many cases impossible.

The tie-up in the street railway service involved great inconvenience to the public and loss of revenue to the company. Nearly 1,500 employees were made idle for hours.

In case of trouble of this kind the street railway company is generally among the last to be cared for according to a statement made by the General Manager of the Toronto Electric Light Company. The latter generally count on their steam plant supplying the most important businesses. Among these are the newspapers about the noon hour, theatres at night and the like.

BOARD OF EDUCATION LETS TENDERS FOR NEW SCHOOLS

After Modificaiton Made By Architect $34,090 Was Lowest Bid.

At a meeting of the Board of Education last night, the following members were present: John Crane, chairman, and Messrs. Robt. Fair, V. Eastwood, T. H. Adams, Dr. Morrison and L. M. Hayes.

Mr Morrison presented the following report:

Gentlemen,—Your Building Committee beg leave to report that, as authorized, we advertised for tenders for the erection of two new schools, and in response thereto received several tenders for the buildings, only four of which were in accordance with the regulations and provisions specified, but all of which, however, were greatly in excess of the appropriation. Your committee deemed it necessary to modify the plans and specifications and the following are some of the changes: natural stone was substituted for Roman stone; the length of the buildings were considerably reduced, but this did not make any material difference in the class rooms; Hamilton pressed brick backed by sand lime brick was substituted for Cutis Bros. brick; Some of the windows were eliminated and several other changes were made.

After the modifications were adopted by the architect, the four regular tenderers were invited to retender and your committee recommended that Mr. Johnston's tender of $34,000.00 for the erection of the King George School in the East Ward and the tender of Messrs. Langford and Sheehy of $34,425.00 for the erection of the Queen Mary School in the West Ward be accepted.

That the tender of Messrs. Alexander & Miller of $172.00 for the wiring of the two buildings be accepted.

These are the lowest tenders in each case.

Tenders for the heating and plumbing of these buildings have not yet been received, but will be considered in the near future.

Your committee recommend that the Solicitors be instructed to draw up the necessary contracts and that cheques be returned to the contractors as soon as the bondsmen are approved by the committee and have signed the necessary bonds, and that the cheques of the other tenderers be returned to them forthwith.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THE BANK MERGER.

Journal of Commerce Claims That Canada Wants Big Banks.

During the past few years, the combinations of banks has been very familiar to the British financial world. They set about such mergings with blunt businesslike aptitude over there, simply working out carefully laid plans without regard to the publicity artists. It is fully recognized that under existing law, what is the interests of the owners of the banks, will most probably be in the public interest also. There are occasional protests, it is true. These are, however, commonly on sentimental, purely personal grounds. So far as our reading goes, no one has ever seriously claimed that the many bank mergers effected, had any kind of a serious influence upon bank rates, or general business.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound, or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day (over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years) he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Breakfast Agree?

Danger lurks in rich foods and those who are building for good health do well to avoid them.

A simple, nourishing food is found in

Post Tavern Special

It is made of the best parts of the food grains, wheat, corn and rice, in which Nature has placed delicate flavor and rich, wholesome nourishment.

To be cooked as a porridge and served hot with cream or milk and sugar.

MEDICAL SPECIALTIES.

I WILL PAY YOU—(TALK NO. 8.)—WE frequently hear from persons far and near that they would not be without the eyeglasses which they had from the Optical Institute for several their price. One lady remarked "I wouldn't take $50.00 for my glasses" another, "They're worth ten times their price to me." "A gentleman says, "I wear mine constantly, scarcely know they are on, but have perfect sight far and near." They are worth all they cost me and I want another pair in case of accident." J. W. Browett, Optometrist, Market Block.

ERRORS OF YOUTH, NERVOUS DEBILITY, Seminal Losses and Premature Decay, promptly and permanently cured by Spermozone. Does not interfere with diet or usual occupation and fully restores lost vigor and insures perfect manhood. Price $1 per box, mailed plain wrapper. Sole proprietor H. Schofield, Schofield's Drug Store, Elm-st., Toronto.

RICORD'S SPECIFIC, THE ONLY REMEDY which will permanently cure Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, etc. No matter how long standing. Two bottles cure the worst case. PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 396 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

PORT MANN, B.C., CANADIAN NORTHERN Pacific Coast terminus, attracting millions eastern and British capital. Property adjoining railway's holdings becoming very valuable. Quarter acre lots touching townsite five hundred to six hundred each, quarter cash. Island Investment Company, Limited, Vancouver.

WHILE YOU WORK AND WHILE YOU sleep.—Wage earners make money only while they work. My lot buyers make money while they sleep. Those who have bought from me during the past four years have made by increasing value of lots, more than 50 per cent per annum on the amount invested. And they are worth from $200 to $1200 to-day, because of having wisely imposed a "must" upon themselves to save a little of what they earned. Come in and let us show you a very easy way to do the same. Gardens: I know one man, who planted 1 acre of onions, and sold his crop for $800 cash. Was that not making money while he slept? We can supply a few acres ploughed to men who would wish to do likewise. Also a larger place with good buildings and a large poultry plant. Immediate possession. Decide at once, and call for particulars. T. Hurley, corner Stewart and Hunter streets.

WE CAN GIVE YOU ABSOLUTE PROOF that the lots we offer inside the town limits of Edson at $40 each, on easy terms, are a money-making investment, offered below their real value; Edson is a divisional point on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a monthly pay roll of $40,000; Edson is the actual distributing point for the Peace River country, the Brazeau coal fields, and for two hundred miles west on the Canadian Northern. Edson is little more than a year old, and already has more than twelve hundred permanent residents; it costs you one cent to obtain illustrated booklet, and the above mentioned proof; mail us a postcard to-day. The Edson Point Company, 808 McIntyre Block, Winnipeg.

Finance, Mining and Industrial Investments----Eastern and Western Real Estate

REPATRIATING N.S.

Publicity and Active Work Are Doing Wonders.

Nova Scotia is reaping the fruits of publicity in the matter of immigration, according to a recent interview with Arthur S Barnstead, secretary of Industries and Immigration for that province.

"Four years ago, Premier Murray took steps to organize a provincial immigration service which at the same time acts as a publicity bureau," said Mr Barnstead "Mainly the operations have been extended to the British Isles where it was felt conditions would serve in drawing the attention of a part of the many thousands who yearly come to Canada to the attractions and opportunities of Canada's East—which, after all, is capable of fuller exploitation and has not shared as much as we should have liked in the great Canada awakening of the last decade or so. The industrial life of the province has made it possible for Nova Scotia to show a substantial increase of population, amounting to 7.13 per cent. We had last summer 492,338 people in Nova Scotia, which is 32,764 more than we had in 1900. We have suffered alike with other parts of older Canada in the rural to urban migration.

"It was not always so, perhaps, but 1912 is not 1882. In the life of a generation the face of the province has changed in many ways, but changed, we believe to the great advantage of Nova Scotians and offering the openings for our young men and women that were non-existent in the earlier years of confederation. So while endeavoring to let our own people see these facts, we are by means of our agency in London, and with the aid of literature, advertising, and the use of lecturers in the Mother Country at the same time proclaiming them to the great millions of British peoples who are crowded in their, and our, home-land."

"A number of people from the British Isles have come to us. Some natives have returned to their old farms after absence in the United States for some years. Others have come in to labor in the industrial centres. Altogether immigration has increased the population of the province by about 20,000 people.

"An average of about 250 to 300 a year, say 1,200 in all, went to the farms. Some of these were farm laborers who worked for a while with our farmers and subsequently moved away. Those who had sufficient capital purchased farms while many who would have located and had acquired the necessary acquaintance with local conditions combined with previous agricultural experience were deterred from doing so, owing to lack of capital.

"The needs of this class have been recognized and the Government has been endeavoring to secure a suitable method whereby assistance would be rendered in certain cases. Since I left the city, Hon. Premier Murray has introduced a bill into the Legislature to effect this very object. It is, briefly, an act for the encouragement of settlement on farm lands. The aid is made available not only for selected farmers from the British Isles or elsewhere who wish to acquire land of their own, but are unable to do so but the like assistance is open to Nova Scotians who have the necessary agricultural qualifications.

"Provision is made for the lending of an amount up to 60 per cent. of the appraised or actual value of the land. There is a limit set on the amount which may be loaned on any one property. I think it is $5,000. The Governor-in-Council is also authorised to purchase out of a fund of $200,000, lands that will be suitable for the purpose, sub-divide it into lots, if need be, and resell it on agreed terms for the repayment of principal and interest. By utilizing existing loan societies or companies to aid us in this work we think we have hit upon a method that will provide in a safe way, the necessary funds and machinery for collection and help to solve the important problem of the resettlement of many of the unoccupied and untilled farms that are to be found in too frequent numbers in our province."

Beating Speaker.

Col. Henry R. Smith, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Dominion Parliament since 1872, has some good stories to tell concerning the expedients employed by members of the House of Commons to question the truthfulness of other honorable members without being called upon by the Speaker to retract.

A Westerner once called a fellow-member a liar in the House, and when urged to retract remarked that he would withdraw the expression out of respect to the Speaker, but added that he would certainly call the member a liar outside the precincts of the chamber. But in most cases attacks on veracity are more cleverly clothed in verbiage.

The most artistic effort in this direction recalled by Col. Smith was that of a wit who, after listening to a speech from the benches opposite, said: "The statements of the honorable member just seated force me to the conclusion that if he had lived in the days of Sapphira that lady would have preferred him to Ananias as a husband."

Honor for Glace Bay.

The people of Glace Bay, N.S., are happy, for that place is to be very much in the limelight in the coming summer. The Sloane aeroplane is to start from there in August on its attempt to cross the Atlantic. That in itself is enough to give prominence in the news columns of a whole country's papers, but Glace Bay is to have the additional honor of having the Duke of Connaught and Premier Borden there as official starters for the aeroplane.

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:---AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sisman Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collie has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:

18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ...	$27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year	7,000.00
Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital.	$20,000.00

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application. 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved the application lists may be closed without notice.

Prospectus and application forms sent on request.

BABY STRANGLED

Little One Killed by Rope With a Ten Pound Weight Attached

Lowell, May 18.—After performing an autopsy on the body of the three-months' old baby found on the banks of the Merrimac river Tuesday, Medical Examiner J. V. Meigs declared death due to strangulation.

When found the body was wrapped in a pillow case. Around the face was bound a strip of cloth, and about the chest was fastened a strong rope, to which a 10-pound weight was attached.

No marks were found on the baby's body or on his clothes which would assist in identification.

The new garbage collection system seems to be coming along very slowly. In various yards may be seen boxes and other receptacles full and overflowing.

It is reported from Brussels that the negotiations which have been in progress for the formation of a Belgian match trust have now led to the definite combination of eleven match factories out of thirteen factories in the country. The capital of the trust amounts to 7,000,000 francs (franc, 19.3 cents) and bonds of 3,000,000 francs are to be issued later on. A syndicate of Antwerp banks had been constituted for taking over forty thousand shares of 500 francs each, in the trust.

AN UNREASONABLE WOMAN.

There is a woman in St. Louis who is charmingly unreasonable. A few days ago she took her dogs out for exercise, leading one by a chain and permitting the other to run at large. It appears that the unchained canine encountered a citizen—a mere man—during his peregrinations along the boulevard, and bit the man on the leg.

The victim seems to have been a mild-mannered and law-abiding citizen. He did not kick the dog around as almost every man would have done, nor did he lose his temper over his loss of flesh. He merely bowed politely to the lady and asked for her card so that by due process of law he might find redress for the injury he suffered.

But the lady was unwilling to oblige the gentleman. She declared that the dog was only "a dear, sweet little thing," that it had bitten him only once and that its teeth were perfectly clean. As a matter of fact she intimated that the gentleman had been singled out of the common herd for conspicuous honors when her darling little Fido consented to bite him.

That the gentleman did not take her point of view is indicated by the fact that the St. Louis police are now looking for the lady and the dogs.

ITALY AND THE ISLAND OF RHODES.

Not being able to make much out of Tripoli it seems that Italy has decided to acquire some territory in the Aegean sea, hence she has taken the island of Rhodes off the coast of Asia Minor and may be expected to take others for Turkey is powerless to prevent the seizures and the European powers show no disposition to interfere.

Rhodes is an island which has a place in history but without trade or resources, yet it shared in the prosperity of the Greek colonies as far back as 600 B. C., when it was an independent Greek state under Athenian control. It was subsequently taken by the Persians, Alexander the Great captured it; Rome held it as a possession the Saracens from time to time descended upon it, and it became famous as the headquarters of the Crusaders, but finally the Turks gained supremacy and under their rule its trade has declined and its prosperity has vanished.

It would be fortunate for Rhodes, therefore, if the island should continue under Italian control, because Turkey's rules of government are grafting and oppression. Capture now, however, does not necessarily mean that Italy will retain it after the war, but with the islanders themselves pleading for relief from their Turkish oppressors it is unlikely that they will be delivered back into the hands of their despoilers, hence it is probable that historic Rhodes will once more be tributary to Rome.

FATAL STABBING.

Bertha Black, Negress, Is Stabbed By Lizzie Luckett at New Orleans

New Orleans, La., May 21.—Bertha Black, a negress, 15 years of age was slashed to death by Elizabeth Luckett, also a negress, aged 17, Monday afternoon at South Diamond and South Peters streets. Lizzie attempted to escape, but was arrested by Jos. Lagruyere and turned over to the police. She admitted doing the cutting, claiming that she and Bertha had words and the latter attacked her with a bottle.

The body was found in a gutter by a man named Hilbert, who notified the police and the remains were taken to the morgue. The girl was wounded on the right temple, two or three times in the breast, and on the arms.

She lived at 926 South Peters St., and Lizzie lives in the adjoining house. Jealousy is thought to be the cause of the tragedy.

Editorial Notes

Doubtless that actress climbed Bunker Hill monument on tiptoe lest any one hear of it.

Perhaps the continued explosions at the Du Pont powder works indicate secret activity of the department of justice.

Moving picture shows will seem tame to the Parisian after the real fights between the bandits and the police and military that have recently been pulled off in public.

Kaiser William's threat to use the "mailed fist" on Alsace and Lorraine is not the least of his indiscretions. If he is not more careful that mailed fist of his may be manacled.

It's just as well that J. Bruce Ismay didn't go down with the Titanic. He and his wife have started a fund to provide pensions for the widows of seamen lost at sea, and have contributed $100,000 to it.

"If Roosevelt and Clark get the nominations," says a contemporary, "the presidential race will be close." There are some people, however, who are willing to bet that it will not be a race at all but a runaway.

Roosevelt has carried California, and they say that most of the women out there voted for him. Teddy has not hitherto been regarded as much of a ladies' man; but many ladies do admire a hustling, noisy, self-assertive hero like T. R.

Recently on his speechmaker tour of Ohio the Hon. William J. Bryan was greeted everywhere with the cry, "Our next President." He has heard the cry before and is doubtless convinced by this time that some kinds of political bunk might well be dispensed with.

In the improbable event of the Republican national convention's turning to a third candidate, how would George B. Cortelyou do, if the Roosevelt people hold the whip-hand, or Secretary Charles Nagel, in case that responsibility rests with the Taft management?

Sometimes strange things happen in the State of New York. A few days ago a man boasted at the village store that he had caught a trout 39 inches long, and when his statement was challenged the queer fellow actually produced the trout and a witness to the catch.

The wedding invitation means much in Barcelona, Spain. For then every one who receives one must go and give a coin to the bride. That is for her dowry. The father is usually unable to furnish one. He has had to buy a house for her and fit it up, and that is usually expensive.

Mississippi has passed a law imposing a fine of $100 for asking or giving a tip in a hotel, sleeping car, or dining car. There are States where the traveler cannot buy a drink on the train. In other States he is forbidden to drink even if he has a flask in his bag. He must know where he is before committing any rash act like lighting a cigarette or tipping the porter.

A London cable gives the news that, dismayed over the recent action of a number of members of Parliament in renouncing their pledges to favor votes for women, officials of the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies are trying their hardest to counteract the effects of the hooligan campaign conducted under the leadership of the Pankhursts and Lawrences, representing the militant branch of suffragettes, known as the Women's Political and Social Union.

THE LIFEBOAT ISSUE

Sir William White, for eighteen years chief constructor of the British admiralty, voices an emphatic dissent from the prevailing popular view as to the supreme importance of lifeboat accommodations on such a ship as the Titanic. He believes the present demand for them a flurry which will pass away in the light of more sober reflection. He holds that the real reliance of the ship constructors of the world must be on more and better safety [illegible] to attain the unsinkable ship.

It takes some courage to express these views at the present juncture. It should, however, be acknowledged that the Titanic might have struck the iceberg with the sea so rough as to make small boats utterly useless. If the Carpathia had not come along about the time that she did the roughening up of the sea would in this instance have renewed the alarm.

5 Years Throat Trouble And Influenza Cured

EMINENT DOCTORS FAILED TO CURE—HAD GIVEN UP HOPE.

This Case Does Prove That When Catarrhozone Is Breathed Every Trace of Catarrh Disappears

Milford, Haven, May 4.—Everyone in this neighborhood knows of the long suffering from influenza and catarrh endured by Mrs. D. Gurney. To-day she is well. Her recovery is due entirely to Catarrhozone. This is her own statement: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh, in the head, throat and nose, and endured the manifold tortures of influenza for for five years. My life was despaired of Catarrh was undermining my strength very fast, I used treatment from eminent doctors, but all failed to cure me. I had given up hope of ever being well. Then I read of a wonderful cure made by Catarrhozone. I immediately sent for Catarrhozone, and before I had used one bottle I was greatly relieved. To-day I am cured.

"We would not be without Catarrhozone in our home—it's so sure in colds, coughs, bronchial and throat trouble. I feel its my duty to recommend Catarrhozone."

Get the large dollar size of Catarrhozone; it contains a beautiful hard rubber inhaler, and medicine that lasts two months. Smaller sizes 25c and 50c each. Beware of imitations—accept only Catarrhozone, sold by all reliable dealers or by mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston Ont., and Buffalo, N.Y.

TORONTO, May 20.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 186 carloads, consisting of 3476 cattle, 1359 hogs, 615 sheep and lambs, 119 calves and 18 horses.

Exporters

Mr. Howard bought for Swift & Co., 263 cattle for export, as follows: For Liverpool, 96 steers, 1218 lbs., at $7.35, for London, 167 steers, 1250 lbs., at $7.60.

Butchers

Steers of export quality, 1100 to 1200 lbs., sold at $7.10 to $7.35, loads of good, $6.90 to $7.10; medium, $6.40 to $6.75, common, $6 to $6.35, inferior, $5.50 to $5.90; cows, $4.50 to $6.25; bulls, $4.75 to $6.25, canners, $2.50 to $3.

Milkers and Springers

Fred Rowntree bought all on sale, 12 in number, at $40 to $90 each.

Veal Calves,

Calves sold from $4 to $8.50 per cwt., and in one instance $9 was paid. The quality was generally not good.

Sheep and Lambs

Sheep, ewes, sold at $6 to $7.25 per cwt.; yearlings, at $7.75 to $9.50; spring lambs, $6 to $7.50 each.

Hogs.

Selects, fed and watered, sold at $8.95 to $8.90, but $8.95 was the ruling price, and $8.50 to $8.65, f.o.b., cars, was paid.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 20.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market receipts of live stock for the week ending May 18 were 850 cattle, 275 sheep and lambs, 1650 hogs and 1200 calves. The offerings on the market this morning for sale were 450 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 1100 hogs and 150 calves.

There was no further change in the condition of the market for cattle since last Wednesday, the feeling being strong. Prices were fully maintained at the late advance, owing to the very limited supplies coming forward, which is attributed to the scarcity of finished stock in the country, on account of the fact that American buyers have been operating actively of late thruout Ontario for supplies for export account, on account of the high prices ruling in the Chicago market. Indications are now that supplies for the local market will run slow until grass-fed cattle are in fit condition to be marketed, and the prospects are that there will be somewhat of a scarcity of beef for the time being, as all the surplus stock has been well cleaned up. The gathering of buyers was fairly large, and, as they were all short of beef, the demand was good, and an active trade was done, with sales of choice steers at $8 to $8.25 per 100 pounds, while bulls of good quality brought as high as $7.

A much stronger feeling developed in the market for hogs, and prices advanced 25c to 40c per 100 pounds, owing to the small run and the keen competition between buyers for supplies and the prospects are that they will go still higher in the near future, unless receipts increase. An active trade was done, with sales of selected lots at $9.05 to $9.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

The tone of the market for sheep and lambs is very strong, owing to the fact that supplies of frozen stock that were put away in cold storage last fall are now pretty well exhausted, and the receipts of live stock at present are far from being sufficient to supply the local requirements. A few small lots of yearling lambs sold at $7.50 and ewes at $6.50 per 100 pounds. The demand for calves was made at firm prices.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $7.75 to $8; do., medium, $6 to $7.25; do., common, $5.50 to $5.75; canners, $4 to $5; butchers' bulls, choice, $6.75 to $7.00; do., medium, $5.75 to $6; do., bologna, $5.00 to $5.50; milkers, choice, each, $60 to $80; do., common and medium, each, $50 to $75; springers, $50 to $60.

Sheep, ewes, $6.25 to $6.50; bucks and culls, $5.25 to $5.50. Lambs, $7.25 to $7.50. Hogs, f.o.b., $9.05 to $9.25. Calves, $3.50 to $4.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 18.—Cattle—Receipts, 400; head market active, 15c to 25c stronger, prime steers, $8.75 to $9; shipping steers, $7.50 to $8.25; butcher grades, $5.75 to $8; heifers, $5.75 to $7.75; cows, $3 to $7; bulls, $5 to $7.25; milch [illegible]

DID THE JUDGE GO WRONG

Deliberate Trap Set to Catch One of America's Well Known Jurists.

Washington, May 20.—A purported deliberate plan of W. P. Boland, the Scranton, Pa., coal dealer, who originated the charges against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the Commerce Court, to entrap the jurist in an embarrassing transaction, was revealed Monday before the House Judiciary Committee, which is investigating the case to determine whether impeachment proceedings shall be instituted by the Senate.

Allan Cockrell, confidential secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission, read to the committee his memorandum of W. P. Boland's original statement of the charges against Judge Archbald.

Boland, according to the memorandum told Interstate Commerce Commissioner Meyer that he purposely sought to entrap Judge Archbald in the Katydid culm bank transaction after a demurrer in a suit against his coal company had been decided against him in Judge Archbald's court.

Boland declared that he sent E. J. Williams to Archbald to lure him into the Katydid culm option deal with the Erie railroad, after Williams had come to him with Judge Archbald's $500 note for discount. Boland refused to discount the note, and subsequently his demurrer was decided against him.

RICHESON'S CONFESSION OF GUILT

Richeson confessed his guilt in a statement written by himself on Jan. 3, and given out by his counsel on Jan. 6. The confession was addressed to his counsel and read:

"Deeply penitent before my sins, and earnestly desiring as far as in my power lies, to make atonement, I hereby confess that I am guilty of the offence of which I stand indicted. I am moved to this course by no inducement of self benefits of leniency. Heinous as is my crime, God has not wholly abandoned me, and my conscience and manhood, however depraved and blighted, will not admit of my still further wronging by a public trial her whose pure young life I have destroyed.

"Under the lashings of remorse, I have suffered and am suffering the tortures of the damned. In this I find a measure of comfort. In my mental anguish I recognize there is still, by the mercy of the Master, some remnant of the divine spark of goodness still lingering with me. I could wish to live only because within some prison wall I might in some small measure redeem my sinful past, help some despairing soul, and at last find favor with my God.

"You are instructed to deliver this to the district attorney or to the judge of the court. Sincerely yours, Clarence V. T. Richeson."

CONVICTS FEAST.

San Francisco, May 21.—Nineteen hundred prisoners in San Quentin sat down to a most unusual repast of trout, striped bass, salmon, sole, catfish, rabbits, quail, doves, robins, venison and elk meat. This ton and a half of fish and game represented the raids made by the state authorities over a year.

TORONTO'S GROWTH

Splendid Opportunity for Investment in Caledonia Park.

Toronto, the Queen City, is growing by leaps and bounds. The man, or woman, who invested a few hundreds of dollars in real estate in that city, even ten years ago, by most ordinary judgment, would to-day have as many thousands. There are still great opportunities for buying property in Toronto that will pay good interest on the investment, and, in less than a decade, return several times the amount spent. The difficulty, for one not posted on conditions there, is to know "WHERE." This question is answered in this issue, by the advertisement of Messrs. R. B. Rice & Sons, 21 Victoria street, Toronto. A careful perusal of their advertisement will assist those seeking a safe and lucrative investment.

WANTED PEACE.

Noted Feudist Leaves a Last Wish That Friends Will Not Follow.

Jackson, Ky., May 20.—A prayer for peace among the mountain gunmen was the last utterance of Ed Callahan, feud leader, who died Saturday night from wounds inflicted by ambushed clansmen. As he was dying he said:

"I have forgiven my enemies and I want them to know it. I want all my people to live in peace, pull together and do the best they can."

Rumors that Callahan's friends were gathering at his home at Crockettsville when they learned of his critical condition, aroused fear of retaliatory measures, which would bring about a renewal of the bloody feud war, and the countryside is watching developments with interest to see whether Callahan's expressed desire for peace will serve to avert trouble.

His body was taken to Crockettsville Monday for burial.

A. TREMBLAY DEAD.

Was Son of First White Woman to Cross Rockies.

Vancouver, B. C., May 21.—The death occurred on April 28 at Victoria of Alphonse Tremblay, aged 17, living at 1857 Fifth avenue East, Vancouver. The deceased was a son of the first white woman who ever crossed the Rocky Mountains. A native of Victoria, he came to Vancouver several years ago and was educated at St. Louis College, New Westminster. He leaves to mourn his loss his father, Alexis Tremblay, Mrs. A. Diamond, Mrs. A. Boulet, Mrs. F. D. Scott, of Victor, Colorado, Mrs. Josephine McCoy, of New York City, and two brothers, Messrs. Alexander Tremblay and Ferdinand Tremblay. The funeral will be held on Friday morning. The cortege will proceed to St. Joseph's Church, Cedar Cottage, where high mass will be celebrated by Rev. Father McKinnon. Interment will be made in the family plot in Mountain View Cemetery.

Send us your order for Antignol today it may be to late tomorrow

This Company has been formed to market a new invention by which wood can be made fireproof. This invention consists of a chemical compound called "Antignol," in which the wood is either immersed for about 24 hours, or—and that applies especially to houses already built—which may be applied to the wood twice or three times with a brush. The solution penetrates deep into the substance of the wood, and after the evaporation of the liquid parts leaves a deposit, which cannot be removed or washed out by rain or moisture of any kind.

Wood impregnated with Antignol will resist fire. Even in a fierce blaze, fed by great quantities of highly inflammable contents of a house or other building, the woodwork would be charred to a small depth, as even bricks or other noncombustible material would, but it would not develop flames itself, therefore not maintain nor conduct the fire. The latter would die out as soon as the source of it was removed or had exhausted itself.

To illustrate this on an every-day occurrence let us take the case of a lamp being overturned, or a burning match or cigar dropped on a carpet or other material easily ignited. The contents of a room, curtains, furniture, etc., would in an instant be aflame, and the whole building would be ablaze and destroyed—with the adjoining buildings included in the destruction—in spite of all efforts to fight the conflagration. In a building impregnated with Antignol that would not be the case. The accident would be confined to the room in which it occurred. The contents of the same would, of course, burn out as well (though at some future time when impregnation will be more general and extended to curtains, furniture, etc., this might be prevented too), but the structure would resist the fire long enough to give people a chance to extinguish it or to allow the fire to die down after the contents of the room had been consumed. ...

As even the most disastrous conflagrations necessarily originate from such small beginnings, which it has not been possible to check in time, and as we have shown, that these initial stages of every fire of the ordinary kind can by means of our impregnations be kept under control or rendered comparatively harmless, the majority of fires in frame buildings may be prevented.

This Is a Bold Statement. But It is True

It is not only verified by leading experts of official standing, but we have made arrangements to demonstrate the efficacy of our impregnation to anyone calling at our offices.

Besides fireproofing the wood Antignol has all the properties of the other wood-preserving impregnation fluids, namely, protecting the wood against decay, germs of decomposition, fungi, etc. It is, therefore, applicable to railway sleepers, telegraph poles, ships, boats, etc.

In a country where disastrous fires occur with an awe-inspiring frequency, where the annual fire-waste is $2.50 per capita, as compared with 30 cents per capita in the old countries, where 25 per cent. of all new buildings simply replace those destroyed by fire—it is well nigh impossible to over-estimate the general and commercial importance of our enterprise.

The Directors of the Company are all experienced business men, and with a market that for a long time to come will be far ahead of our manufacturing capacity, everyone must realize that the shares of this Company offer quite exceptional opportunities for profits.

Comparison

Calgary 5 Years Ago

HAD A population of about 12,000.
4 Railway lines.
No street car line.
Very limited natural resources
YET Calgary has grown to a population of 60,000.
AND lots that sold FIVE YEARS AGO for $100 are selling to-day for $1,500 to $2,000 each.

Moose Jaw Today

HAS A population of over $20,000.
4 more lines almost completed.
A modern street car system.
An ample supply of good coal.
IS the centre of Canada's greatest wheat belt.
An important Divisional Point of the C.P.R.
The terminal of the "Soo Line"—the line that brings thousands of prosperous American settlers to Saskatchewan.

Therefore

is just starting on her first boom.

Saturday afternoon a large cortege followed the remains of the late Mrs. Charles Perry to St. John's church where a service was held. The funeral then proceeded to the Little Lake cemetery.

"The curfew shall not ring tonight!" the order passed by the village council of Bobcaygeon. The bell there used to ring at stated intervals, but the council has gagged it.

The Port Hope Guide sheds a gallon or two of tears in its last issue, because Capt. W. T. Clark, of the Life Boat Service there has been dismissed by the Dominion Government.

Boys Cut Out Burglar Alarm.

Two boys were charged in Saturday's police court with having entered the store of Mr. David Flynn, a Concession street grocer and robbing the till of $18, on Thursday night last. The youth who appeared admitted having ransacked the till on four different occasions. It appears that the proprietor of the store lived in the rear of the shop and depended upon a small bell attached to a cord to appraise him of the presence of customers in the store. The boys were too foxy, however, and cut out the burglar alarm. The boys were sent to the Shelter till to-day.

A Boy, a Cracker, and a Cop.

Yesterday morning some excitement was caused on Hunter street, just in front of The Times building. The trouble arose through the combination of a small boy, about 13 years of age, a bunch of fire crackers and the horse attached to a milk waggon. There was a loud bang ! ! in the alley to the west of the Times' office. A milk delivery waggon happened to be standing there, without a driver. The horse took fright and, seemingly, tried to climb over Messrs. H. LeBrun & Company's store. The cause was, as aforesaid, a small boy. He had thrown some kind of new fangled fire cracker into the alley, where it exploded and frightened the horse. P. C. Kidd, seeing the rapidly growing crowd, hastened to the spot, and frightened the boy by threats of "The Station." However, the officer let the boy go, after gathering in his visible supply of the crackers, taken from as many pockets as the average boy uses to hold school books, fish lines, worms, marbles, etc.

A WOMAN'S CARES DESTRUCTIVE TO HEALTH

ANAEMIA, BAD BLOOD, HEADACHES AND LASSITUDE VERY COMMON.

Mrs. Wilkinson's Letter Gives Advice that Every Mother Can Well Follow

From her home in Newton, where she resides with her large family Mrs Wilkinson writes: "For years I was pale, anaemic and lacking in vitality. I was a constant sufferer from indigestion, and the distressand pain it caused me, coupled with ever increasing [illegible] made me weaker day by d[illegible] headaches, specks be[illegible] attacks of dizziness made me feel as if life were not worth living. My constitution was completely undermined and the constant pallor and dullness in my eyes showed what a sick woman I was. I began to take Dr. Hamilton's pills and the improvement, although slow was sure.

"I gradually got back my strength and my appetite grew much stronger and I enjoyed my meals thoroughly. I felt happier and more contented, and the sickly pallor of my face was replaced by a bright, rosy color that proved that a strong medicine was at work. In a few months Dr. Hamilton's Pills brought me from a condition of deathly pallor to robust health."

You can obtain the same results by using Dr. Hamilton's Pills—beware of the substitutor that offers you anything except Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25 cents per box, or five boxes for $1.00. at all dealers or the Catarrhozone

WEDDING BELLS.
Carroll—Flaherty.

Yesterday morning St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Valentine Carroll and Mary Flaherty both of Peterborough became man and wife. The Rev. Fr. Fergus O'Brien performed the ceremony. The best man was Mr. Alphonse Coughlan, while Miss M. Cameron acted as bridesmaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll will reside in Peterborough.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

The probs for to-day are higher temperature.

Listen to the fans yell for Peterborough this afternoon.

The members of Sherwood Forest Camp, No. 50, W.O.W., meet to-night.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held last night. Particulars on first page

The continuous rain of the past few days, has put local building operations away back.

The prayer meeting of George street Methodist church will be withdrawn this week because of the school room being renovated

The annual meeting of the East and West Victoria Women's and Farmers' Institutes, will be held in Lindsay on Friday, June 3rd.

Another Chinese restaurant is to be opened in Peterborough. Pretty soon white people here will be leaving to make room for foreign invaders.

Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith, has written the council in regard to the new law respecting the municipality's liability for the maintenance of indigents in hospitals.

The music committee of St. Paul's church have asked Mr. Allen, the organist who held the recital there on Monday night, to come to the city and become organist of that progressive and prosperous church.

As we go to press the weather looks doubtful. So did the local "fans" on George street last night. By the time this is read, Peterborough people can size up the weather, and the game !

The steady downpour of rain is playing havoc with the farmers. It has proved disastrous to some crops and a change in the weather conditions would be welcomed.

The Peterborough Light & Power Company's Show Room will be open on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings during May and June, from 8 to 10 p.m. for the convenience of those wishing to secure gas appliances or to arrange for gas connections.

Henderson having accepted an invitation to St. Catharines, his official Board in Charlotte street Methodist church, Peterborough, at its fourth quarterly meeting, passed a resolution expressing grateful appreciation of his four years' services there. Pleasing references were also made of Mrs. Henderson. His ministerial brethren and every layman who knows him, will be sorry to lose Rev. Mr. Henderson from the Bay of Quinte Conference.—Port Hope Guide.

DEATHS.

ROUNTREE—At 418 Water street, on Tuesday, May 21, 1912, Thomas Rountree, aged 94 years. Funeral private, from 418 Water street, on Wednesday, May 23rd.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Thomas Rountree.

One of Peterborough's oldest and most respected citizens, in the person of Mr. Thomas Rountree, has passed away. The late Mr. Rountree had passed the ninety years of age mark by four years. He was born in the County Cavan, Ireland. He came to Peterborough when this growing city was a hamlet eighty-four years ago. The late Mr. Rountree, father of Mr. Arthur Rountree, retired from active business about twenty years ago. He was amember of the town council for several terms, entering the council the same years as C. D. McDonald was appointed town clerk. In politics, the late Mr. Rountree was a Conservative and took an active interest in political matters. In religion he was an Anglican, a member of the congregation of St. John's. He leaves behind only one son, Mr. Arthur Rountree, 416 Water street. His death removes one of Peterborough's oldest citizens, one who has lived respected and esteemed in Peterborough nearly the span of two generations, fourteen years beyond the Royal Psalmist's limit of human life. The funeral (private) takes place May 22nd.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC.

The railway lines of the Grand Trunk Pacific in Western Canada are being increased about ten miles in length each day at the present time and with the arrival in less than a week of two more pioneers, this rate of progrsss will be doubled which means, that with the pioneers working steadily night and day, the company will build 120 miles of tracy in a week. Telegraph lines are being kept well up with the construction.

THE NEW LAW WILL UPSET ALL TREATIES

The great importance of this proposed legislation, which it now appears will pass the House by a big majority, to Canada as well as the United States, may be seen at a glance. It is of equal importance to both countries, so far as border waters and the Panama Canal are concerned.

By mutual agreement the ships of the United States and Canada use the Great Lakes and border waters indiscriminately. By the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain, equal terms must be granted to all nations using the Panama Canal.

TODAY OPENS THE BIG LOCAL BASE BALL GAME

To-day opens the season for Peterborough's entry into professional baseball. The younger generation, whilst this is being written, are eagerly looking forward for to-morrows game at Riverside Park, with St. Thomas. The first ball of the season will be pitched in the absence from town of the Mayor, by Alderman Anderson, Chairman of the Finance Committee. Ald. Buller will catch and President Denham will endeavor to show his White Caps how they should slam the ball to all corners of the field. Vice-President E. G. Patterson will act as umpire.

57th Regiment Band.
Canadian League officials.
Civic officials.
Officers if the St. Thomas Club.
The St. Thomas players.

HAS STANDARD OIL CO. GOT A HOLD ON CANADA

Many Executive Officers Have Taken Up Residence at Sarnia Following Mandamus of Dissolution in the U. S.

Sarnia, Ont., May 22.—The Imperial Oil Company, of Sarnia, a subsidiary company of the Standard Oil, since October last have increased their staff from about 450 to 870, and are advertising in London and Toronto papers for more. They are undertaking a development said to call for the expenditure of ten million dollars within a few years, having purchased or secured option on the land south of their plant as far as the Indian Reserve—about thirty acres. The improvements already in hand will cost half a million.

They are erecting new buildings to an extent requiring the employment of 250 bricklayers and laborers. A seventy-five thousand dollar modern office building is being erected, the office staff three months ago having been increased from a personnel of half a dozen or so to two hundred and twenty.

Mr. J. H. Archbold, formerly of the Treasury Department in New York, moved across the river from Port Huron two months ago and took a house in Sarnia. Fifteen other office men from the Treasury Department at 26 Broadway, New York have been transferred recently to Sarnia, and traffic department men have been transferred from Buffalo. The stock department of the Imperial Oil Company, formerly located in Cleveland, has also been moved to Sarnia.

Conditions Have Changed.

A year ago, according to a Board of Brade official here, houses could be rented at a discount. The difficulty now is to get houses, especially of the modern kind required by office men and their families. The influx due to suddenly increased activity of the Imperial Oil Company have taken all the available houses fitted with modern conveniences off the market, and during the interval several of the Imperial Oil Company's staff are obliged to live in Port Huron, crossing the river every day. It is said that the Company has ordered its staff to reside on the Canadian side, and sufficient houses are to be provided for them with as little delay as possible.

Standard Oil Acting.

In view of these facts there is a widely circulated rumor that the Standard Oil Company of the United States, were moving the headquarters of the corporation to Canada to be outside of the jurisdiction of the American Courts, and the control of the Sherman Act. It is a generally accepted fact that the Standard Oil Company have the controlling interest in the Imperial Oil Company. The bulk of the crude oil used in Sarnia comes in the Standard Oil Company's tank steamers from Cleveland, Ohio, though Petrolea, Ontario, sends all that is produced there.

RESULT IN OHIO IS SETTLED IN CONTEST, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Oyster Bay, N.Y., May 22.—"The result in Ohio has settled the contest," said Col. Roosevelt to-day.

The Colonel was greatly elated at the reports from Ohio. After going through several hundred telegrams which came in this morning from all parts of the country, he dictated this statement:

"Naturally, I am very much pleased with the 'impulsive judgment of Ohio.'

"Seriously, I can only repeat what I have already said. I infinitely prefer the deliberate judgment of the people to their impulsive judgment, and in Ohio we got their deliberate judgment; and, as I have also said, if I had to make a choice I would choose the impulsive judgment of the people rather than the deliberate judgment of the bosses.

Hopeless For Taft.

"The result in Ohio has settled the contest. I believe that we could have won without Ohio. Our opponents needed the substantially solid vote of Ohio in order to give them even a chance to make a contest at the Chicago convention. Victory in Ohio means that it will be a hopeless task to try and beat us at Chicago by unseating our delegates who represent the popular will, in Washington, Indiana, Kentucky and elsewhere, nor will it be possible for them to win by seating delegations from Southern States, which represent nothing whatever but fraud."

TO KILL WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

British Movement to Gain Unification of Societies Fighting Traffic.

Montreal, May 21.—What is the first step towards linking up Canadian societies for the protection of women and the attacking of the social evil with national societies the world over by co-operating with an international bureau for the suppression of the white slave traffic, was taken up here recently.

An earnest body of men and women gathered in the rooms of the Charity Organization Society, Mance street, under the auspices of the Montreal Local Council of Women, to hear Mr William Alexander Coote, secretary of the National Vigilance Association in Great Britain, tell of uniting the best elements of every nation in an effort to stamp out the deliberate and organized traffic in young women and girls.

Canada Must Act.

Mr. Coote told the audience that although they might not have a white slave traffic developed there, it had been the experience of the organization that when the operations of the syndicate were made difficult throughout Europe they redoubled their efforts in the United States and now that the United States has taken up a crusade against the traffic with a vigor and determination that promises its speedy extinction, it behooved Canada to look well to itself.

The idea of their society was to co-operate with officialism, which, when backed by public opinion, and the energetic and sympathetic co-operation of such societies, would do good work. He particularly warned them against any amateur efforts to investigate these conditions, and said that they could not end in anything but disaster, and a setback to their work. True, Mr. Stead, with his burning zeal and his genius, had tried, and broken the law in doing it, and suffered three months in prison for it. His efforts had been successful but there were very few Steads in the world. He claimed that, during the last twenty-five years the morals of civilized communities had advanced about fifty per cent. over what they were, mainly through the efforts of organizations like theirs.

Re Departmental Stores

Rev. Dr. W. R. Young, pastor of Douglas Church, said that he had heard statements regarding the extent to which this traffic had developed in Canada, so startling in their nature that he had sometimes questioned them, but they were certain that there was a white slave traffic in Montreal. He said that those who have been in touch with moral and social work in the city have in their possession certain facts that would be startling if made public. He liked the plan suggested by Mr. Coote and felt that some concerted action of all societies should be taken.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY THOUSAND MEN BACK TO WORK

Philadelphia, May 22.—After being idle for 44 working days, the 170,000 mine workers throughout the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania, resumed work to-day under the new wage agreement. The day will be confined to the cutting of coal and it is hoped to have sufficient to start up the breakers in all parts of the coal fields to prepare fuel for the market to-morrow. In several sections of the territory collieries are not in condition to be placed in operation, but it is expected that in a week or two mining will have reached its normal condition. While misunderstandings are looked for under the new agreement, no serious hitches in putting the new agreement in effect are looked for either by the miners or the coal operators.

In the Hazelton region men engaged on stripping work where coal lying near the surface is taken out in the same manner as stone is quarried, struck to-day for a 10 per cent increase in wages, the same as has been granted to the miners.

GERMANY IS ADDING MORE SHIPS TO HER MIGHTY NAVY

Berlin, May 22.—The Reichstag to-day passed the third reading of the bills increasing the German army and navy.

The navy bill provides for an extra battle squadron for which three additional battleships and two cruisers are to be constructed before 1920.

The estimated additional annual cost is $24,250,000 this year, $31,750,000 next year and $26,500,000 yearly afterward.

The army bill provides for an increase of 29,000 men excluding officers, non-commissioned officers and other details in the peace footing in the army.

MONTREAL MUST INCREASE

Land is King and an Investment in it Means Wealth.

A LIFETIMES CHANCE

Messrs. the Burland Realty Co. are Offering Lots Within a Few Minutes Ride From the Metropolis at Cheap Figures, Which Will Evidently Assure a big Return.

"He who owns land is King," but even some kings have not as much personal wealth as some of the men who have invested in real estate in any growing city.

Some of the most spectacular fortunes made in Canada in recent years have been made by men who invested their money wisely in Montreal Suburban properties. Montreal is growing at the rate of nearly 40 000 people a year and consequently there is an ever increasing demand for home-sites, not only by the natives of Montreal, but by the ever increasing influx of immigrants. The Englishman arrives in Montreal with $25 in his pocket, gets to work and is soon sending for his girl or his wife and family. They take a small flat somewhere and begin to note the difference between flat life and the home life they have been accustomed to in the old country. Soon they get restive and decide to build a home of their own, embracing all the conveniences of the English and Canadian styles of living. They buy a lot and often sell it at a large profit before they are ready to build; the profit goes toward another lot and the foundation of their home.

A trip round the outskirts of Montreal—particularly on the South shore will show hundreds of these men with their wives and children, their almost distinctive style of talk, their clubs and social gatherings all living in nice homes, built from the proceeds of their real estate investments and their savings. The South Shore is distinctly the English section round Montreal. Most of these Britishers have lived in the old cities of the old world where an hour or an hour and a half's journey is necessary from their homes to their business. Consequently they do not want to live cooped up in the narrow confines of the city, but prefer to get out to the country where they will find pleasant neighbors and fresh air for their children, where they can have a nice garden and perhaps keep chickens, and yet retain the advantages of the city. Then for the cool evenings they see that there is an open fire place round which they can sit and talk over old times.

A new sub-division has just been opened adjoining St. Lambert, and

WRECKED ON TRENT RIVER

Steamer Calumet Sunk on Canal Below Hastings

The steamer Calumet, which has been towing cement from Hastings to Healey Falls, for the Engineer's Department, Trent Canal, while on her way back from Healey Falls to Hastings, just below Trent Bridge, was carried by the current out of the channel, on Tuesday night, and the scow which was towing behind the boat got out into the current, and tipped the steamer, which now lies across the channel in about nine feet of water, and as there is a very swift current at this point, the boat is likely to be a total loss. The tug J. B. McColl left here last night to render assistance. The Calumet was built by Mr. W. T. C. Boyd, Bobcaygeon, who used it as a private pleasure launch until he sold it to a party in Hastings.

TRAVERS CLAIMS WISHARTS NOTE COVERS A BLACKMAIL STORY

Told That He Is Unnecessarily Sensitive in that Regard--- Probing the Keeley Mine.

Toronto, May 22.—When R. W. Travers was testifying again yesterday in the Farmers' Bank investigation before Sir William Meredith, he stated that among papers left in his drawer at the bank and which he had not recovered were one or two notes of Dr. Nesbitt's to the amount of eight or ten thousand dollars in connection with the Keeley Mine.

"Were there any other notes there?" asked Mr. Hodgins.

"Geo. Wishart's note ought to have been there," answered Travers.

Mr. Hodgins asked what Wishart's note was for.

"Blackmail, if you would like to know the truth," answered Travers.

"I would like to know the truth," said Mr. Hodgins.

"I'm not prepared to tell about it yet. I did not expect that this would come up to-day," replied Travers.

"Unnecessarily Sensitive."

Travers said he had first met Wishart aboard the "Laurentian" returning from England. Wishart had said he was a capitalist and might become interested in any good proposal Travers might run across. Afterwards the Keeley Mine was offered to Travers through Beattie Nesbitt.

"What occurred," asked Mr. Hodgins.

"I do not think it is fair for me to go into this while Dr. Nesbitt is on trial. I don't want to prejudice his case to influence the jury, the judge, or anybody. I don't think it is fair," repeated Travers.

"I suppose you realize that we have got to go into the Keeley Mine" said Mr. Hodgins.

"Can't you do it without taking it up so specifically in regard to Dr Nesbitt?" asked Travers.

"I think you are unnecessarily sensitive," commented the Investigator, after which Travers told of how Wishart came into the mine deal but did not put up any money at all and the bank got into such a position that it had to provide all the money.

Thinks Mine Good Yet.

He said he thought the Keeley Mine was a good proposition then and thinks so now.

In talking of the reorganization of the Keeley Mine Company, Mr. Hodgins asked who suggested it. Travers was hardly sure that it was Wishart.

"There were a whole lot of parasites there all the time," he said.

"On whom?"

"On the bank, of course."

"You gave Wishart back his note and a fourth interest in the mine. Why?" asked Mr. Hodgins.

Travers said he would explain later after he had seen the minute book.

"It was a question of a block and the bank losing its money there and then," he said.

PETERBOROUGH LOSES IN A HARD FOUGHT GAME

The local Canadian League baseball season was inaugurated in the city yesterday, at Riverside Park, when the local team met defeat at the hands of the St. Thomas aggregation by a score of 9—6. The field was in very poor shape owing to the rain of the past few days. The base paths and catcher's box was liberally sprinkled with sawdust which soaked up a considerable amount of the moisture, but the players were hampered by the heavy field which eliminated any chance for brilliant work, and accounts for the large number of errors made, principally by the homesters, which were costly. St. Thomas scored one run in the first innings. Peterborough took the lead in the second, scoring two runs, Trout driving the ball over the left field fence for a home run, with a man on ahead of him. The Petes scored another in the third and the teams battled on even terms till the sixth, when St. Thomas got to Schaeffer, and coupled with some wild throws by the locals scored enough to put them in the lead. St. Thomas got three more in the 8th and three in the ninth, and the crowd started for home. The Petes however, scored three in the ninth on two errors and a home run.

The Peterborough fans turned out well, considering the condition of the weather, 601 tickets being sold and the local team can be sure of good support. With a break in the luck coming their way, the fans hope to see the White Caps up with the front rank soon, battling for the lead.

SCHOOL MEDICAL INSPECTION.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir.—The Social Democrats of Woodstock have decided to enter upon a municipal campaign in favor of the free medical inspection of schools and the free medical treatment of the school children. Surely people who raise children can afford to pay for their medical treatment. If not, such people should not get married

CHANCE FOR BOY SCOUTS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Anyone taking a walk in the suburbs at present, must be aware of the danger that is threatening us this summer. Every shrub or tree has one or more webs on it, which in a short time will develop into swarming hosts of caterpillars.

When you see one of these webs please take the trouble to remove it. Do not attempt to crush it on the tree, but cut off the forked twig bearing the nest and see that every atom of it is destroyed. Examine your own trees every day for a week and remove all traces of the plague, and you will deserve the hearty thanks of the public. Here is a grand chance for the boy scouts to be of public service.

A FIRE BOAT.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir.—This city has a good fire brigade, and a good equipment. Don't you think, however, that Peterborough, with its big mills along the river and lakeside, its lift lock, etc., should have a fire boat, such as they use in Chicago, New York, Buffalo, and other points situated along the lakes and rivers? Such a boat would only cost about $36,000 to $40,000, and would lower insurance. Now Mr. Editor, do you not think such a purchase would be an economy?

J. L. Reeser.

Reply—In our opinion such a purchase might be appreciated by the lumber mills on the Little Lake and McDonald's Point. Otherwise we cannot see where such a great expenditure would be justified. Possibly a fireboat might be of use if the tombstones in the cemetery caught fire, or the booms floating in the lakes; Otherwise, excepting the mills referred to, steamers that in the summer are only transient, and a few houses along the East City front we could not conscientiously advise this city to pay so large a sum for any such object.

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

CITY WINDOW CLEANERS

ALL KINDS OF WINDOWS CLEANED. Storm Windows taken down, lawns cleaned and cut, etc. We find men for all kinds of work; estimates given; contracts made; all orders receive prompt attention. Foster Bros., Practical Window Cleaners, 177 Antrim St. Bell phones 149 or 1146.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WESTERN CRUSHED OATS—PRESSED Hay, Straw, Whole Corn, Cracked Corn, Wheat, Oats, Bran, Shorts, etc. High Grade, Bread Flours—Purity, Cream of the West, Thistledown and Diamond Crown. Pastry Flours—Monarch, White Wonder and Crescent. For sale by the Peterborough Flour & Feed Co., cor. Simcoe and Bethune Sts. Entrance off Simcoe St. next railway track. Phone 487.

PAINTS.

THE LAW OF QUALITY IS AS SURE AS the law of Gravity. Gravity keeps both your feet on the ground. Quality informs your judgment when you are on the "Ground Floor" in the matter of value. Martin-Senour's Paint is the Ground Floor of paint value. It makes good every time. It flows freely, has great covering capacity, shows a beautiful finish, and wears like iron. It will more than meet your expectations in quality brilliancy and durability. Campbell & Best, 134 Hunter St. Next to post office.

HOMES FOR HONEST TOILERS, AND gardens to add to your income, and save your dollars. We have helped many to own their homes, and we will help you. Come in, pay a small deposit to which we add bonus, then prepare to plant garden and build house on our Easy Rent Plant. Others have done this and so can you. Late spring calls for prompt action. Our builders commence Monday 22nd. Your opportunity. Young men, buy our lots, as others have done, and save at least a part of what you earn. Even $5 per month saved, with increasing value of lots, will build up capital and start you on the road to riches. Gardens, all sizes, to rent. T. Hurley, cor. Stewart & Hunter.

FOR SALE—BUILDINGS WORTH $4,000 for $3,000. Lots worth $150 for $100. See J. Bell, cor. Braidwood and Park Sts. Phone 1291.

FOR SALE—6 ROOMED BRICK HOUSE, well built and warm; very convenient to Canadian General Electric Works; lot large enough to build double house if desired; cheap; Apply on premises 124 Rubidge St.

PORT MANN, B.C., CANADIAN NORTHern Pacific Coast terminus, attracting millions eastern and British capital. Property adjoining railway's buildings becoming very valuable. Quarter acre lots touching townsite five hundred to six hundred each, quarter cash. Island Investment Company, Limited, Vancouver.

WHILE YOU WORK AND WHILE YOU sleep.—Wage earners make money only while they work. My lot buyers make money while they sleep. Those who have bought from me during the past four years have made by increasing value of lots, more than 50 per cent per annum on the amount invested. And they are worth from $200 to $1200 to-day, because of having wisely imposed a "must" upon themselves to save a little of what they earned. Come in and let us show you a very easy way to do the same. Gardens: I know one man who planted 1 acre of onions, and sold his crop for $400 cash. Was that not making money while he slept? We can supply a few acres ploughed to men who would wish to do likewise. Also a larger place with good buildings and a large poultry plant. Immediate possession. Decide at once, and call for particulars. T. Hurley, corner Stewart and Hunter streets.

WE CAN GIVE YOU ABSOLUTE PROOF that the lots we offer inside the town limits of Edson at $40 each, on easy terms, are a money-making investment, offered below their real value; Edson is a divisional point on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a monthly pay roll of $40,000; Edson is the actual distributing point for the Peace River country, the Brazeau coal fields, and for two hundred miles west on the Canadian Northern; Edson is little more than a year old, and already has more than twelve hundred permanent residents; it costs you one cent to obtain illustrated booklet, and the above mentioned proof; mail us a postcard to-day. The Edson Point Company, 408 McIntyre Block, Winnipeg.

THE LIMIT OF COLD

Absolute Zero and the Way It Is Defined by Science.

POINT OF MOLECULAR DEATH

At 459.4 Degrees Below the Fahrenheit and 273 Degrees Below the Centigrade Zero There Is No Heat, No Energy and No Motion Within Matter.

Few people have any definite idea of the meaning of absolute zero. When temperatures or degrees of heat are mentioned it is natural for most people to think of these degrees as given on the household or Fahrenheit scale, with its freezing point at 32 degrees and its boiling point at 212. The space on the Fahrenheit thermometer below the freezing point of water is divided into thirty-two equal spaces down to zero. The other thermometer scale in common use is the centigrade scale, with its boiling point at 100 degrees and its freezing point at zero. The zero points on these two scales are not the zero of absolute temperature or absolute zero, but are only two relative points.

Temperature as used and spoken of in ordinary practice is only relative and is measured in reference to two points—the boiling and freezing points of water at sea level. But science and scientific investigation requires another scale for its measurements, which has a theoretically correct zero point. This scale is called the absolute scale, with its zero point 273 degrees below the zero of the centigrade scale and 459.4 degrees below that of the Fahrenheit zero. This is what is meant by the zero of absolute temperature.

Absolute temperature has been defined. According to science, all matter is composed of small particles or molecules in ceaseless vibration in the spaces between them. This molecular motion, as it is called, is much greater in gases than it is in liquids or solids, and the ultimate particles are farther apart. The idea of absolute zero and the place assigned to it on the absolute scale is based on this property of matter—motion. In gaseous forms of matter the motion is greater because of the greater space between the particles.

To illustrate the meaning of this point and to explain how it was got, imagine a volume of air of 273 cubic inches at the temperature of freezing water on the centigrade scale. Heat this volume of air to 1 degree centigrade and its volume will have increased to 274 cubic inches, and if heated to 2 degrees its volume will be 275 cubic inches. Likewise, if the original volume be cooled 1 degree below the freezing point of water its volume will be decreased by one cubic inch and become 272 cubic inches. For every additional decrease of 1 degree the volume will contract one two-hundred and seventy-third part of what it was to begin with, so that, if the cooling is carried far enough, it is easy to see that at 273 degrees below the freezing point of water the volume will become nothing.

The volume of a gas is due to the real volume of its individual particles, together with the volume of the spaces between these particles. At ordinary temperatures these particles are in swift motion. But for every degree of cooling this motion is slackened, and the paths of vibration become shorter. This motion continues down to 273 degrees below the centigrade zero, where the motion has entirely ceased and the paths of the particles are infinitely short. Of course the gas under consideration at —273 degrees will have a volume due to the sum of the volume occupied by the molecular particles themselves.

This 273 degrees then is the absolute zero. It is the point of molecular death. No heat is there, no energy and consequently no motion. Matter at this point is entirely motionless within itself.

The thermometer scales of the world should be based on it as the logical starting point. The freezing point of water, which is zero on the centigrade scale, referred to the absolute scale is —273 degrees, while the freezing point of 32 on the Fahrenheit scale is —459.4 degrees on it. The ordinary temperature of a room is about 68 degrees F., or 527.4 degrees on the absolute scale. On the same scale summer heat is about 558 degrees F.

The zero of absolute temperature has nearly been reached in the preparation of solid hydrogen gas and liquid helium. The temperature of liquid helium (one of the rarest of gases) is only about 4 degrees above absolute zero, so that the individual particles of liquid helium have almost become motionless. Probably in the near neighborhood of absolute zero this gas, which is the only one that has not been solidified, will become solid and represent matter in its state of molecular death.—W. G. Dumas in Chicago Record-Herald.

The Longest Novel.

The "Story of the Eight Dogs" is the longest novel that has ever been published. Fortunately, perhaps, it is written in Japanese, so no one will set himself the task of reading it. It contains 106 volumes, several hundred characters and numerous dogs, all of which are successfully disposed of by the time the last chapter is reached. Just imagine reading through that—one book that would last a lifetime!

The world's great men have not commonly been great scholars nor its great scholars great men.—Holmes.

Garbage Grounds Now Sanitary.

Sanitary Inspector Spence reported to the Council on Monday night that he had disinfected the dumping ground employed by the contractor for the collection of garbage. The disposal of the garbage is in accordance with all the sanitary requirements and the locality is 400 yards from the nearest house.

HEMING'S BOOK.

How the Canadian Artist Sold His First Literary Work.

Arthur Heming .. known to a good many readers, not only as an illustrator, but as a writer .. of magazine stories and one book. The book, "Spirit Lake," which is all a story about the Ojibways towards Hudson Bay, has behind it a story, and a good one.

It was while he was wintering with Wm Henry Howe, the cattle painter, at Bronxville, N.Y., that Heming conceived the notion that he would like to write the story of how the Ojibways put in their queer, weird lives from one winter to the next. This, of course, would mean a fresh winter trip to the north. He took a train down to the city, and went to The Outlook. Not knowing the name of the art editor or the heads of any departments, he asked the elevator man. Introducing himself to the head of the art department, he told him what he intended to do.

"But what do you expect us to do?" was the question.

"Write me an advance check for a thousand dollars, give me the serial rights on my stuff and I'll go north and get you material for the book."

This radical suggestion was conveyed to the chief, who, after listening to the much-in-earnest delivery of the Canadain artist, took him at his word, wrote the check and gave him the assignment.

From there Heming went to another magazine which had already handled a series of his drawings for Fraser's "Sa'zada Tales." To the editor of that he proposed to sell the serial rights of the same thing. The offer was accepted. Immediately Heming hied himself to an outfitter's emporium and made a deal for a complete camp outfit of most elegant proportions including everything a man can possibly lug into the wilderness and use to advantage. At another store he got a Mauser rifle and a hundred rounds of ammunition.

Thus equipped, the trailsman hit out for the far north. He was gone all winter. He got his material. He came back to civilization, and just before he started for England to study with Brangwyn he conceived the idea of throwing the whole thing into the form of short stories which could be combined to make the book.

Hence came the book "Spirit Lake," which was made nearly twenty years after Heming had gone his first snowshoe trip in the north from Mattawa to Temiskaming; and he sold the serial rights of "Spirit Lake" in four separate countries, England, France, the United States and Canada.

So he is a walking and enthusiastic encyclopaedia of the life on the unrailroaded edges of the north. He has studied most of the Indian tribes that pitch their camps between Montreal and Alaska; from the Sarcees down in the cow-hills to the Lochieux up the Peel in the Yukon. He knows the joys of the bull moose and the sorrows of the whale. He has burrowed after little game and gone stalking after the big. From the fur of a mink or the mound of a muskrat to the blubber of a bull whale just off the harpoon is the zoological range of his acquaintance with northern animals. He has bossed mining camps and come down with the river-drivers. And with whatsoever sort of crew he hit the river or the trail he took off his coat and his collar and put on his jeans and his blanket coat or his moccasins and got down to the brass tacks of genuine hard labor —Augustus Bridle in The Globe.

Sir James' Humor.

A well-known newspaper man who writes the political leaders for a Bay street daily in Toronto tells the following story on himself:

The editorial writer has a familiar surname of the same class as Brown, but he has enough given names to fill a small clothes line. During the last provincial elections he had occasion to call up Sir James Whitney over the 'phone. Sir James is celebrated for his blunt, brusque manner of speech, and in the conversation which follows he was true to his reputation.

"This is Brown speaking," the editorial writer began—"Brown, Sir James, Mr. H. D. Y. P. Brown. Brown of The ——."

"What's that, what's that?" inquired the Premier, in rapid, sharp, brusque tones.

"This is Brown, editorial writer of The ——. Mr. H. D. Y. P. Brown, editorial writer—you know—H. D. Y. P. Brown, of The ——, you know," the newspaper man explained repeatedly and slowly.

"Brown, a-a-a-hem—Brown, you say—let me see, Brown, editorial—Oh, yes, Brown, of The ——, yes, yes, yes," said Sir James. "I suppose you use all your other names to DISINFECT the Brown, eh?"—Toronto Star Weekly.

Harvesting In April.

A news item that is unusual even for this big country of varied climate and lines of work was sent out from High River, Alta., early in April. It ran as follows:

Threshing is again under way in the High River district, although progress so far is not very satisfactory owing to the fields being too soft to move the heavy threshing outfits. The general opinion is that grain has wintered better than expected.

The unusual spectacle of harvesting a crop in April is seen in this district, where several farmers are now engaged in cutting oats. The grain is coming out in fairly good shape. The small acreage ready for spring crops is resulting in many power plowing outfits being bought, several being recently unloaded here.

A Manitoba Pioneer.

Jonathan Heaney died suddenly recently in a Winnipeg hospital after undergoing an operation for intestinal trouble. Mr. Heaney, who was 74 years of age, came to Manitoba from the neighborhood of Brampton, Ont., nearly 33 years ago, and settled in Meadow Lea, where he farmed for almost 26 years, later moving to Winnipeg.

How to Protect the City.

The way the city is getting bills from outside points, for maintenance of indigent local people abroad, the police will have to stand at the railway stations, and demand that every Peterborough citizen leaving, have enough bank bills on his person to keep him going for six months at least.

FORETOLD HIS END.

W. T. Stead's Prediction to Dr. Goldwin Smith.

It was at Toronto and to the late Dr. Goldwin Smith, in the course of a memorable interview at the Grange, that William T. Stead, the noted English editor, who was numbered among those who went down with the ill-fated Titanic, decreed the manner of his death.

The conference took place on the occasion of Mr. Stead's last visit to this city some six years ago. Dr. and Mrs. Goldwin Smith had invited the well-known journalist and his cousin, Mr. E. J. B. Duncan, of the legal firm of Proudfoot, Duncan, Grant & Skeans, to a typical English afternoon tea, served in the quaint and richly stocked library at the Grange. Smith and Stead had known one another for years and in a couple of hours of illuminating conversation the two men — both of world-wide note — discussed world figures and world events with a rare and intimate knowledge. The veteran philosopher sat in his arm chair by the cheery and typically English fireside; the younger publicist paced the floor with almost nervous energy as he spoke. Dr. Smith finally raised his hand in protest. The constant dynamic activity of the visitor drew forth a physician's warning.

"Have no fear, doctor," quoth Stead with characteristic directness. "There has come to me the assurance that I shall live every moment of my days. I shall be wiped out at the end—sometimes it is borne upon me that I shall be kicked and beaten to death by a mob on the streets of old London, at other times I seem to realize my end as one of the victims in a great disaster which will wipe out hundreds."

"Strange idea," was Dr. Goldwin Smith's quiet and only comment.

"I shall know when the end comes. Till then I have my work to do," replied the fatalist. And other conversation proceeded.

How Times Have Changed!

In these days of elections and rumors of elections it is interesting to glance back to the time when there wasn't so much election machinery in Canada. For instance, on March 29, 1862, The Victoria Colonist had the following account of the election proceedings at Esquimalt:

At 12 o'clock yesterday the returning officer, Sheriff Naylor, proceeded to the election of a member to represent the town of Esquimalt in the assembly. There were about fifty persons present in front of the Royal Oak Hotel. After the usual preliminaries, the returning officer called upon the electors to nominate their candidates, whereupon W. Sellick, Esq., nominated Thomas Harris, Esq., as a fit and proper person to represent the town of Esquimalt. F. Williams, Esq., seconded the nomination with a few appropriate remarks. No other candidates being proposed, the returning officers declared Thomas Harris, Esq., duly elected a member of the assembly, which announcement was received with cheers.

The member-elect then mounted the platform and addressed the electors, pledging himself to further the interests of his constituents in particular, and the colony in general. He also assured the electors that whenever there was any public question raised, in any way affecting their interests, he would call them together and take their views upon it in order to fully represent them in the Legislature. His remarks did not occupy in the delivery more than ten minues, but were warmly received, ending in loud cheers.

A Canadian Invention.

A most original and valuable invention, which will benefit the children of the elementary and secondary education classes, was demonstrated at the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada at a recent meeting.

The invention consists of three globes, representing the sun, earth and moon so mounted and mechanically fixed that by simply turning a handle not only the correct motions of the heavenly bodies are automatically produced, but what is the most striking feature of all, the phenomena resulting therefrom are most beautifully represented. For instance, the observer actually sees the correct position of the sun at any time of the year, the sun or moon partially or totally eclipsed day or night, changes in the length of day or night at all places on the earth's surface, the phases of the moon and all the other related phenomena.

The simplicity of this instrument, its completeness, and its effectiveness may be realized when it is seen that all these motions and phenomena are brought about by the simple method of turning a handle.

Numerous attempts have been made by inventors to perfect an instrument simple and automatic for the teaching of astronomical, mathematical and physical geography in schools and colleges and the demonstration proves that a Canadian in Mr Park of Brantford has at last succeeded where others have failed.

Dr. Shearer's View.

Rev. Dr. J. G. Shearer, general secretary of the Moral and Social Reform Council of Canada, says that evangelization, law and education must all play a part in purity and reform work.

"Parents," he says, "have the first and chiefest responsibilty; next to them, physicians, preachers, pedagogues, pressmen." And in connection with this work, Dr. Shearer introduces a new term to describe a necessary Christian virtue. "The queen of all virtues in this relation," he says, "is sanctified pigheadedness. We must be undiscourageable. We must have buoyancy that will not down."

Costly Eggs.

In Fort George, B.C., on February 24 a dozen fresh eggs sold for three dollars. They were brought from Quesnel and apparently are more valuable than whiskey or real estate.

The wedding invitation means much in Barcelona, Spain. For then every one who receives one must go and give a coin to the bride. That is for her dowry. The father is usually unable to furnish one. He has had to buy a house for her and fit it up, and that is usually expensive.

JOGGED HIS MEMORY.

A Bit of Humor That Brought Phil May to His Senses.

The most refractory among dumb beasts may sometimes be won by persistent kindness. It is also evident that the obstinate of the human species may be influenced by an assault of humor.

Phil May, the English artist "of most dear memory," had promised to do a colored design for the Christmas number of an illustrated weekly publication. The date fixed on for its delivery passed by, and no design had been forthcoming.

Letters and telegrams were unanswered, and when a messenger was sent to May's house it appeared that he had gone to Paris without leaving any address. This, according to London M. A. P., is what happened next:

The publishers were at their wits' end, but one of them, paying a day's visit to Margate, was overjoyed to see May basking in the sunshine by the water. The publisher did not make himself known, but cannily ascertained where May was staying. Then he hired six sandwich men to parade up and down before the artist's window with boards bearing different legends. This was their tenor:

"What about our Christmas cover?"

"We are waiting for that cover."

It was a delightful reminder, and in a few days the publishers received one of the most brilliant designs May had ever executed.

ENLIVENED THE PLAY.

Juliet Wanted Limelight and Got More Than She Expected.

At a small seaport town in England a lady star actress of the third magnitude appeared as Juliet. "I cannot do justice to myself," she said to the manager, who combined theatrical enterprise with the conduct of a row of bathing machines, "if I do not have a lime (limelight) thrown on me when I appear on the balcony."

"We ain't got no limelight, miss, but I think we could get you a ship's blue light," replied the obliging manager, and to this the lady agreed. The lad who went to the shop to buy the blue light brought back a signal rocket which was given him by mistake. The prompter was her own man, and in his ignorance took the rocket in good faith.

Romeo—He jests at scars who never felt a wound.

(Juliet appears. Prompter lights the match.)

But soft! What light through yonder window breaks?

(This was the match lighting the fuse.)

Arise, fair sun!

The sun, of rather the rocket, did rise with a hiss that sounded far louder in a theater than it does in the open air. Juliet was knocked off the balcony, the fly borders were set on fire and the theater was filled with sulphurous smoke, while the audience, which was fortunately a small one, made a stampede to the doors.—Exchange.

Hibernation of Mosquitoes.

That cosmopolitan pest, the mosquito, does not necessarily perish with the coming of winter. On the contrary, mosquitoes have been observed to hibernate, adult specimens living from November until the succeeding April or May with all their powers of torment unimpaired, although their activity is suspended in winter. The mosquito needs but little food, and it is the female that thirsts for blood, the males contenting themselves with water and vegetable fluids. The fact that mosquitoes are often found upon dry prairies many miles from water is ascribed to the longevity of the adults of certain species which enables them to survive seasons of drought. Railroads have been responsible for the transmission of mosquitoes into regions where they were previously rare.—Harper's.

Keeping Out the Wind.

Willie was a smart boy and ambitious. His first job was a post in a local bank.

"Well, Willie," asked his uncle one day, "how are you getting on in business? I suppose you will soon be manager?"

"Yes, uncle," Willie replied. "I'm already a draft clerk."

"A draft clerk! Good boy! And what are your duties?"

"I open and shut the windows accordin' to orders," said Willie, "and close the doors after people that leave 'em open."—London Ideas.

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:—AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sisman Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:

18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ...	$27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year	7,000.00
Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital.	$20,000.00

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

THE MOTOR BUS.

In considering the cost to the public of trams and motor buses respectively, it has already been pointed out that, though the operating cost of the tram per passenger per mile may show an economy, the superior speed of the 'bus is sufficient entirely to counterbalance this, with the result that, considered as a burden upon the public purse, the motor 'bus is no whit inferior to its opponent. We will now go still further and show that, to the community at large, it represents a positive economy.

The London Traffic Branch of the Board of Trade published, on page 6 of their report for the year 1910, the results of a careful investigation into the relative obstruction caused by vehicles of various types. The obstruction caused by a small, fast vehicle (e.g., the motor cab) was taken as a unit, and the corresponding figures for traffic of all kinds were assessed as follows:

THE WEST AND TAFT.

The news of the California primary is not of a nature to make President Taft feel that gratitude is one of the cardinal virtues of the Republicans of that state. To be turned down in favor of his mortal political enemy, after having reminded the Californians of how he had responded to their distress signals, was more than Mr. Taft deserved.

The case is one of peculiar interest to New Orleans, for it was New Orleans which paid the penalty when the President sought to serve those who he thought would have a lively appreciation of favors received.

In the 1910-1 session of Congress New Orleans and San Francisco were the rivals for the site of the international exposition to signalize the opening of the Panama canal. Up to a certain point it was a fair fight between two well-matched contenders for a great prize. But the argument was altogether with New Orleans and San Francisco was practically fought to a standstill. With a fair field and no favors not even San Francisco was blind to the eventual outcome.

It was then, however, that California went to the President. Up to that time he had scrupulously kept hands off. The victory of either city, he had said, would delight him.

But California told the President that not only was San Francisco entitled to the exposition because of her economical conditions, but that as a Republican state, which might be pivotal in the next presidential election, she was entitled to his political and official influence. If he gave it he would have no occasion to regret having done so. If he withheld it, the consequence might be disastrous both to himself and his party when the time for an accounting arrived.

And, hence, it was that from a neutral Mr. Taft changed into a partisan, bringing the great power of his office to bear to take from New Orleans what was already hers and to give to San Francisco what otherwise she could not obtain.

Two weeks ago the President sent his Premier to California to speak in his cause. On the eve of the primary he telegraphed the press of California reminding the people of the state what he had done for them in the case of the exposition and other matters.

Was there ever a more flagrant instance of political ingratitude?

Editorial Notes

Rudyard Kipling's political balance sheet: Credit, one defeat of Reciprocity; debit, one victory for Home Rule Result, exaggerated egotism.

In Paris this month has so far been the hottest May on record. Canada's May weather has helped to make a fair average for the month.

One wonders whether Henry George would be proud of his Toronto disciple who declared in public that Mr. George is of more importance than Christ.

One Minnesota county went for President Taft. In other words he got just enough to give him a taste of the big delegate pie that the Hon. Ted Roosevelt is now enjoying.

Only roosters of fancy breed are permitted to live and crow within the city limits. But it's small comfort to the sleepy Torontonian to know that the roosters that waken him at cock-crow are aristocratic birds.

When the Hon. Bill Taft in an aggrieved way compares himself to a "man of straw," a "rat in a corner," and a pugilist "hit below the belt," the country can not avoid the conclusion that he is more of a "squealer" than a fighter.

Canadian exhibits may be barred from the Wisconsin state fair at Milwaukee because they would be sure to attract farmers over the border into Canada. It is to be hoped they will be barred. That would be a fine ad. for our western country, if properly utilized.

Colonel Roosevelt hastens to explain that he will always respect the independence of Canada. The value of the assurance shrinks when one remembers the colonel's positive assertion that he would never again under any circumstances be a candidate for the presidency.

Boston has established a hospital for persons suffering from the "blues." If Baltimore had a similar institution it would be crowded with patients after the adjournment of the Democratic national convention, judging from the way things look now.

"Frank A. Jackson, a carpenter of Joliet, Ill., received word in a letter that he was the sole heir to the estate of Mrs. Mary Jackson, of Pelkinton, Yorkshire, England, containing 2,500 acres and valued at $6,000,000." Mr. Jackson has gone to a higher plane, which augurs well for his future ease.

Having admitted the existence of the Harmon-Clark-Underwood alliance against Woodrow Wilson, it would be well for Senator "Kerosene Joe" Bailey to go a step farther and admit also that the campaigns of the "allies" are being financed from one fund raised for that purpose in the New York financial district.

Considerable excitement was created in a Kentucky town when the editor of the local paper announced that he had seen a number of white rats with brown stripes on them like a zebra. But after taking a second thought the citizens realized that the bourbon whiskey which has made Kentucky famous is capable of supplying anything that the fauna of the State may lack.

Hon. Ted Roosevelt says he is in favor of a protective tariff, but wishes it to be so arranged that a proper proportion of the benefits will go to the workingman. This is an easy way to get around the tariff question and will please the special interests who heretofore have so arranged things that the "proper proportion" is kept in their own pockets.

If a political paper cannot get one argument against its opponents, it will make two, and, if they won't go, it will manufacture a dozen. Now the latest line of argument against the Dominion Government was taken yesterday from a Western Canada paper. This sheet said a notification has been sent to a post office in Nova Scotia, addressed to a former postmaster there, stating his dismissal from office on account of offensive partizanship. The said postmaster has been dead more than four years.

Quebec Nationalism appears to have served its purpose when it helped to overthrow Laurier. Since it delivered its blow last September it has rapidly languished, and the results of the provincial elections this week show that it is about down and out. It is like the mosquito, which puts its whole life in a sting.

There is a grim significance in the concentration of the most effective vessels of the British navy on the east coast and the preparations to keep scores of destroyers on constant duty patrolling the whole coast. Britain is making ready to meet the enemy from across the North Sea. She is not to be caught napping.

When speaking of the cost and future of the Trent Valley Canal, see what Secretary Knox, of the United States, has to say about the value of natural waterways. He is quoted as follows: "Secretary Knox, in his address on the Panama Canal, which was recently delivered in San Francisco, dwelt on the importance of sea commerce as a factor in national growth and prosperity. He laid down the doctrine that "the prosperity of a nation is in almost constant proportion to its capacity for taking advantage of commercial water transit," and pictured the possibilities for the extension of this country's commerce by the opening of the Panama Canal."

That Stab-like Pain in the Back is Sure Indication of Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Anna Rodrigues writes as follows from her home in Valencia. "For a long time I suffered with failing strength and nagging headaches. My condition grew steadily worse, my limbs became bloated and shaky, I was sallow and thin, felt rheumatic pains, dizziness and chills. I unfortunately didn't suspect my kidneys, and was nearly dead when I discovered the true cause of my sufferings. I read so much about the wonderful health and strength that comes to all who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills that I felt sure they would help me. Such blessings of health and comfort I got from Dr. Hamilton's Pills I can't describe. They speedily put me right, and their steady use keeps me active, energetic and strong and happy. I strongly urge others to regulate and tone their system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut."

THE WAY TO KILL OF FLIES

A Cheap and Effective Means of Eliminating Danger.

The Times has been in receipt of a number of letters regarding the deadly "typhoid fly." This shows that the public has awakened to an interest in this vital question that so nearly touches our everyday life and our health, but some of them show, also that there is still a class of persons who do not realize the dangers of infection from this source.

Among the means suggested by the Times as efficacious in ridding the community of this carrier of disease is the proper disposal of garbage, which is a favorite feeding and breeding place of the fly.

"The public always takes a very apathetic attitute toward the question of garbage disposal," said Chas. T. Brues, instructor at Bussey Institute, Jamaica Plain, "especialy," he added, in so far as it affects their homes.

"The plan is simple and inexpensive. All that is required is a paper bag which fits the household receptable, and can be lifted out bodily and thrown into the garbage wagon. Unpleasant odors are lessened, the flies are deprived of their food, and finally the wooden pail is eliminated and the household can be clean and dry to receive another paper bag.

"Such bags of large size and water-proof material can be produced at a cost of 1 cent each. Two each week would cost 8 cents a month for the ordinary family.

"This would necessitate the separation of garbage and dry trash of other kinds, which is not uniformly insisted upon in Boston.

"If we are going to prevent the fly we must do it consistently, and here is a good chance to accomplish several other things at the same time which will make for a cleaner Boston."

ENDS IN HOSPITAL.

Widow of Texas Charley, a Champion Rifle Shot Herself, is Dead

Asbury Park, N. J., May 21—An examination to-day of the effects of Mrs. Della Fox, who died from heart disease in the Long Branch Hospital on Saturday, disclosed that she was the widow of "Texas Charlie," a member of the gang of bandits once headed by Jesse James. She was once a champion rifle shot and after James had been killed by one of his gang she assumed his name and appeared on the stage as Mrs. Jesse James.

In recent years she has devoted herself to evangelism among the poor of this section, without her identity being known. She died penniless, although only a few years ago she was reputed to be well-to-do.

NEGRESS SAVED

Coloured Woman Saved From Being Incinerated by Police Officer

New Orleans, May 21.—Patrolman John W. Jacobs, attached to the Second Precinct, played the part of a hero at 5:45 o'clock Friday afternoon, when he extinguished flames that had ignited the dress of Harriet Blake, a negress aged 76 years, employed as a cook in the kitchen of Mrs. B. S. Leathers, 119 North Tonti street. The officer was slightly burned about the hands. The Blake woman suffered slight burns about the face and arms.

Harriet was preparing the evening meal when her apron caught fire and within a few seconds she was a mass of flames. The officer, who was in the house at the time, rushed to her assistance, and with some towels and other cloth that he picked up in the kitchen, extinguished the flames.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY HELPS

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

K. B.: Regardless of your age, I would not recommend the use of face powder. It clogs the skin's pores and in time will make your complexion rough and anything but handsome. The best kind of a beautifier is made by dissolving 4 ounces of spurmax in ½ pint witch hazel (or hot water), adding 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. This will whiten and refine your skin. It takes away that oily, shiny look better than powder, and does not rub off so easily. This lotion will clear your complexion and give it a wholesome, charming tone, also affording the skin splendid protection from chapping in the wind.

Mrs F. B.: To have a head of perfect hair you must keep your scalp absolutely clean and free from dandruff. If you will shampoo twice a month with a teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water rinsing thoroughly with clear water, you will find your hair will always be fluffy, bright and clean. This shampoo is so far superior to others that the best class of hair dressers use it almost exclusively. It makes the hair dry quickly without any signs of streaking, brittleness or other bad effects which are caused by using soap. There is nothing like it for removing dandruff, cleansing the hair, and giving to it that much desired fluffiness and brilliance.

C. P.: Your pimples, sallowness and hollow cheeks are due to a run-down condition of the body. The only way to remove these ills is to clear your blood of its impurities. Dissolve one ounce kardene and ½ cupful sugar in ½ pint alcohol, then add hot water to make a quart. Take a teaspoonful before each meal. This is a splendid system tonic and will soon restore the look of perfect health to your face, fill out your cheeks and give you the energy and ambition which only a healthy person has. It is a wonderful blood-purifier, energizer and liver regulator.

M.D.: You can make your hair grow in thick and abundant by rubbing into the scalp twice a week the following tonic: Mix together ½ pint alcohol, 1 ounce quinzoin, and ½ pint cold water. This will show better results in a short time than all the "hair-growers" on the market put together. Oils and vaseline really do very little good but this tonic will be a most pleasant surprise to you in its beneficial results. It removes dandruff, stops scalp irritation and checks falling hair almost instantly.

Miss G. G.: You will find nothing as good to strengthen your weak eyes clear them of redness, and make them brilliant and beautiful as this simple eye tonic; Dissolve one ounce of crystos in a pint of water and put a few drops in each eye twice a day. Many very successful occulists recommend this fine tonic owing to its great merit. There is nothing better for treating granulated lids and it acts very quickly.

Mrs. E.: It is a very simple matter to remove every trace of hair from your chin. Make a paste with a little powdered delatone and water, then spread on hairy surface and in two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs will have vanished. This is a painless and certain way in which to banish hairy growths.

Juanita: The cost of fat reduction need not be high. If you will buy 4 ounces of parnotis and dissolve it in 1½ pints hot water, you have the best and safest fat remedy known. Take a tablespoonful before meals and your excess fat will soon be gone. No dieting or violent exercises are necessary and your skin will remain smooth and unwrinkled. Parnotis is absolutely harmless and has worked wonders where other remedies failed.

A. L. M.: I do not like to recommend any of the prepared cold cream as most of them are too greasy and are likely to cause hair to grow on your skin. Try this: Stir 1 ounce almozoin and 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine in ½ pint cold water. This will make an excellent cream that will cleanse your skin and keep it smooth, velvety and free from chapping. It will keep your complexion radiant, perfectly clear and free from blackheads and wrinkles.

ON TRAGIC BIRD ROCK

SOLITARY LIGHT MARKS GRAVEYARD OF THE GULF.

Isolated Beacon In the Magdalen Group of Islands at the Mouth of the St. Lawrence Has Been Scene of Many Fatalities When Keepers Have Lost Their Lives—Heroic Woman and Her Lonely Vigil.

A gruesome record attaches to Bird Rock Lighthouse. Death and disaster seem to pay regular visits to this barren and isolated spot, the northernmost of a group of more than a dozen islands, the Magdalens, located almost in the centre of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. In fact, the archipelago itself is particularly dangerous to vessels and is known to the sailors as the graveyard of the gulf, so many have been the wrecks thereabouts.

Bird Rock is little more than a huge rock rising abruptly out of the water to a height of 140 feet, on which the Canadian Government maintains one of the most inaccessible lighthouse stations on the Atlantic coast. Its sides are washed by the dashing gulf waters, while thousands of sea fowl have built nests under its rocky ledge. Until a few years ago, when a roadway was blasted out from the summit to water level, visitors and supplies were taken ashore by means of a cage suspended at the side, raised and lowered with a windlass, such a landing being possible only in calm weather.

Here it was that Peter Borque lived with his wife and baby; here it was that he kept the beacon going night after night—and long nights and lonely ones they must have been; and here it was that his poor body was cast into the swirling rage of the storm waters, while his courageous wife, remembering her responsibilities above all else, maintained the light for 10 still longer nights before relief came. And when the Government ship arrived, she was so weak that it was necessary to carry her aboard. Her courage has been commended by the Canadian authorities, for even though she and her small baby were subjected to severe hunger and exposure, she managed to keep the light burning which no doubt saved many vessels from going on the rocks.

And now another keeper is watching the lamps nightly at Bird Rock Light. May his fate be a better one than that of each of his predecessors.

Telesphore Turbide, another keeper, remained in charge of the lighthouse for over 16 years, but even he did not escape the dangers of his calling. On June 24, 1891, he was putting home a charge in a signal gun when it exploded and blew off part of his right hand.

In March, 1897, Damien Cormier, an assistant keeper of the lighthouse, started out on a seal hunt accompanied by Charles Turbide, a lad of 17, and Arsene Turbide, cousin of the latter. Cormier's wife was left in charge of the lighthouse during his absence. The hunters made many killings, but as night approached they were overtaken by a blizzard such as is common in that section. As the storm increased in fury and the cold grew more intense, Cormier and his two companions made futile efforts to get back ashore and, failing in this, to at least withstand the buffeting gale. In agony the men jumped up and down on the ice, beating their arms across their chests and pounding together their frozen hands. At length Cormier tumbled over in a heap. Charles Turbide fell unconscious at his side. Before daybreak both were dead.

Then Arsene Turbide went out into the snowy waste and looked about him. The storm had abated by this time. The snow had ceased to fall. He could see clearly now and quickly realized that it was impossible to return by the route he had come, as the north wind had forced his ice floe far out in the gulf.

In the hazy direction of his home a rough sea tossed, piled up with ragged fragments of ice. No boat could live in such waters. His only chance for salvation lay in the hard, frozen gulf toward the shore of Cape Breton, even though that shore was 70 miles away.

Arsene buried the bodies of his comrades underneath an overturned boat. Grasping the bludgeon he had used in the slaughter of seals he turned his face in the direction of Cape Breton and started on his long journey.

All that cold day Arsene trudged over the rough ice with neither food nor drink. Sometimes he plunged through deep drifts, sometimes he glided more easily over windswept surfaces. As the day wore on he was assailed by frequent spells of drowsiness. But he was determined to fight and struggle to the end. When night fell he dozed as best he could, but always standing, for he knew that once he stretched himself upon the ice it would mean his last sleep.

The next morning he crept upon a seal and clubbing it to death drank the warm blood. He did not know that his garments, his face and his hands were smeared with blood, but he did realize that he had secured renewed strength and courage to continue his journey. Late that afternoon he reached Meat Cove at Cape Breton and scarcely able to drag himself along staggered to the first house in sight. Opening the door he entered, not knowing the appearance he presented to the inmates. They questioned him, but he could not speak. So thinking him either insane or a murderer they thrust him out and slammed the door shut behind him.

At the next house he rushed in headlong, flung himself before a fire and at once fell into a sound sleep. When he awoke he narrated his story and then word was telegraphed to Grindstone Island to send speedy relief to the woman who had been left alone at the lighthouse on Bird Rock. Arsene did not recover from his experience and within a fortnight died from its effects.

Three Manifestations.

"You may give three important illustrations of the power of the press," says the teacher to the class.

Wasted Effort.

"I don't like the way they reported my speech," complained the new congressman.

GRAND TRUNK RY. NOTES.

Wednesday, May 15th.

Impressed by the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission concerning the number of railway employees killed and injured each year the large roads of the United States are organising a "Safety First" movement with the idea of reducing the number of casualities of this character, and incidentally, of reducing damage claims as far as possible. It is likely that a general conference of claims agents will be held in New York, either next month or in July, to formally open the campaign. Here in Canada the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific have kept in close touch with the movement, and a scheme is at present under consideration which should, when fully matured and with the co-operation of the men themselves, greatly minimize the possibility of accidents, fatal or otherwise.

Mr. W. B. Spaulding, general claims agent of the 'Frisco system, who has been in New York recently conferring with the representatives of other roads about the project, has already devised such a campaign for safety on his own lines, and it is believed that the national organization will be patterned after his ideas. On each of the ten divisions of his railroad he has organized a committee, the members of which are constantly on the lookout for conditions by which life and safety are endangered on their territory. These committeemen are supplied with blank report cards, printed, "I have noticed," to be filled out with the suggestions for remedying defects in the road bed, station platforms, or the operation of rolling stock, which might some days cause the loss of life or limb. Each member goes over the main line and terminals once a month his expenses being paid by the company. Some of the division men inspect the shops, and some of the shop men inspect the divisions each month, while a central committee of all the division and shop committees meets once a month, goes over the reports, and in turn reports to the railroad officers, recommending whatever action should be taken.

Figures show that most casualities result from the careless coupling of cars, jumping on cars as they approach, by tripping over rails and frogs in yards, by uncoupling cars while riding on them, and by being struck by objects along the rail while holding on to the side of moving cars. Just how great is the need for some such innovation can be seen from the following statistics. Of the 236,841 trainmen employed on the railroads of the United States in 1911, 1 out of every 194 was killed, and 1 out of every 8 was injured. Taking all the railroad employees, including trainmen, yardmen, bridgemen, trackmen, and crossing watchmen, a total of 1,648,033 in the United States, in 1911 1 out of every 458 was killed, and 1 out of every 8 was injured. In 1911 again 257 trainmen were injured by adjusting the couplings of cars with their foot alone. A great mass of information of this kind is now being accumulated by those interested in the scheme.

Possibly the most striking of all the numerous tributes to the memory of the late Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways, has just been made public by officials of the Company in a letter received from twelve members of the Imperial House of Commons in London, all of whom, it will be noticed, from the appended signatures are, with the possible exception of the Right Hon. John Burns, Canadians themselves. The letter is as follows:—

House of Commons Library.
London.

"My Dear Sir:—

Up to the last possible moment the personal friends of Mr. Hays here in the House of Commons (and they are not a few) had been hoping and praying that, not only for the sake of his family and your Company, but especially for the sake of Canada, he might have been in the list of rescued from the Titanic. For days his name was first in and then out of the printed list of saved. May we express to you the profound regret which we feel for the irreparable loss which you have sustained through the death of your President?

"When it is realized that his abilities as a railroad man were perhaps not excelled, if equalled, by those of any other man on your continent, and that his character and qualities endeared him to everyone who got to know him and became his friend, then we can estimate to some extent the loss which his death means to you personally, to your company, and to the entire Dominion.

"Such men are true Empire builders.

"We are thankful that Mrs. Hays and daughter are among the saved. Again expressing our sincerest condolence with them, and with you all.

Yours faithfully,

(Sgd.) "A. Bonar Law, Hamar Greenwood, John Burns, Gilbert Parker, Joseph Martin, Ian Malcolm, J. Allen Baker, C. D. Rose, Donald McMaster, A. Shirley Bonn, N. Macnamara, W. H. Aitken."

BELLEVILLE

ST. LAMBERT

Positively Adjoins the Tunnel Co.'s Property

Every man who buys a Lot at Belleville at to-day's opening prices, will see the Government increasing the value of his property with every spadeful of earth excavated. But does not rely on the tunnel or the bridge of the near future for its transportation or its present day value.

BELLEVILLE

To-day the Montreal and Southern Counties Railway runs to within a few yards of Belleville. Get off at Coteau Rouge road and follow the signs.

To-day the new electric line is complete along the whole of one side of Belleville, and only awaits the turning on of the electric current for cars to run there.

To-day men are busily at work enlarging the South Shore Subway in order that a still better service may be given to Belleville.

Belleville lots actually adjoin the town of St. Lambert. We mention this because some people consider the South Shore anywhere between Montreal and Boston.

Belleville lots are all GUARANTEED to be the highest and driest anywhere near St. Lambert. Our sidewalks, for instance, will not have to be two feet above the ground level to keep your feet out of the water.

Belleville has churches, schools, and post-office adjoining it.

Belleville is ripe for you to build on to-day, if you wish, and if you want to invest in a safe, sound, profitable real estate.

Belleville—Suppose you fill in the coupon and mail it to us, or bring it to our office and get plans, details, and free car tickets. You ought to see Belleville to-morrow afternoon or Sunday, when you will speedily realize that Belleville is the finest investment on the market.

CANADIAN FIREPROOFING IMPREGNATION CO. LTD.

Agents Wanted Eveoywhere

Send us your order for Antignol today it may be to late tomorrow

This Company has been formed to market a new invention by which wood can be made fireproof. This invention consists of a chemical compound called "Antignol," in which the wood is either immersed for about 24 hours, or—and that applies especially to houses already built—which may be applied to the wood twice or three times with a brush. The solution penetrates deep into the substance of the wood, and after the evaporation of the liquid parts leaves a deposit, which cannot be removed or washed out by rain or moisture of any kind.

Wood impregnated with Antignol will resist fire. Even in a fierce blaze, fed by great quantities of highly inflammable contents of a house or other building, the woodwork would be charred to a small depth, as even bricks or other noncombustible material would, but it would not develop flames itself, therefore not maintain nor conduct the fire. The latter would die out as soon as the source of it was removed or had exhausted itself.

To illustrate this on an every-day occurrence let us take the case of a lamp being overturned, or a burning match or cigar dropped on a carpet or other material easily ignited. The contents of a room, curtains, furniture, etc., would in an instant be aflame, and the whole building would be ablaze and destroyed—with the adjoining buildings included in the destruction—in spite of all efforts to fight the conflagration. In a building impregnated with Antignol that would not be the case. The accident would be confined to the room in which it occurred. The contents of the same would, of course, burn out as well (though at some future time when impregnation will be more general and extended to curtains, furniture, etc., this might be prevented too), but the structure would resist the fire long enough to give people a chance to extinguish it or to allow the fire to die down after the contents of the room had been consumed.

As even the most disastrous conflagrations necessarily originate from such small beginnings, which it has not been possible to check in time, and as we have shown, that these initial stages of every fire of the ordinary kind can by means of our impregnations be kept under control or rendered comparatively harmless, the majority of fires in frame buildings may be prevented.

This Is a Bold Statement. But It is True

It is not only verified by leading experts of official standing, but we have made arrangements to demonstrate the efficacy of our impregnation to anyone calling at our offices.

Besides fireproofing the wood Antignol has all the properties of the other wood-preserving impregnation fluids, namely, protecting the wood against decay, germs of decomposition, fungi, etc. It is, therefore, applicable to railway sleepers, telegraph poles, ships, boats, etc.

In a country where disastrous fires occur with an awe-inspiring frequency, where the annual fire-waste is $2.50 per capita, as compared with 30 cents per capita in the old countries, where 25 per cent. of all new buildings simply replace those destroyed by fire—it is well nigh impossible to over-estimate the general and commercial importance of our enterprise.

The Directors of the Company are all experienced business men, and with a market that for a long time to come will be far ahead of our manufacturing capacity, everyone must realize that the shares of this Company offer quite exceptional opportunities for profits.

Baby Show at Summer Fair.

Now that the Peterborough Summer Fair is an assured success, let us all throw up our hats and yell, "PETERBOROUGH! Huzzah!" A drawing card of the Peterborough Summer Fair will be the Baby Show to be held under the direction of Mesdames J. C. Davidson and Harry Rush. The following prominent citizens will be judges, Messrs. W. G. Morrow, F. D. Kerr and G. C. Wainwright. Particulars as to time, place, in armouries, age of babies, etc., will be given to-morrow. Look for the interesting announcement.

The continuous rain of the past few days, has put local building operations away back.

Some Moulders Go Back.

Mr. Hugh Robertson, of the Moulders Union, is authority for saying that a settlement had been affected with the G. Walter Greene Company. The request of the men, he said, had been granted, and they are given a nine hour day at the former rate of wages. Mr. Robertson stated that Adam Hall, Ltd., had also met the demands of the men. There are 19 moulders employed at the former shop and 17 at the Adam Hall Ltd.

The music committee of St. Paul's church have asked Mr. Allen, the organist who held the recital there on Monday night, to come to the city and become organist of that progressive and prosperous church.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC.

The railway lines of the Grand Trunk Pacific in Western Canada are being increased about ten miles in length each day at the present time and with the arrival in less than a week of two more pioneers, this rate of progress will be doubled which means, that with the pioneers working steadily night and day, the company will build 120 miles of tracv in a week. Telegraph lines are being kept well up with the construction.

The prayer meeting of George street Methodist church will be withdrawn this week because of the school room being renovated.

57th Flag Given Daughters of Empire

The 57th Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire have been honoured by the non-commissioned officers of the regiment. The Rangers were drawn up in front of the gallery, which was well filled with ladies, and seargeants Dodds and McKay—the former bearing a beautiful silk flag on a handsome staff—came forward. Chaplain Davidson gave a short explanatory address.

A Peculiar Runaway.

Yesterday morning a team of horses attached to a waggon belonging to Messrs. White Bros., the local carters, were frightened by a passing engine. They ran northward from the G.P.R. station and at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets, one of the horses fell and was dragged some distance by the other. It was discovered the animal had sustained scratches and was a little lame. The vehicle was also slightly damaged.

New Tennis Club Formed.

A young men's tennis club has been formed in connection with the congregation of the Church of the Sacred Heart. The officers elected were: Hon.-Pres.—Rev. Dr. O'Brien; Pres., Mr. John McDonald; Sec.-Treas., Mr. A. Letellier; Executive, Mr. Ed. Musterson, Mr. Jas. McNicoll and Rev. Fr. McAuley. The courts will be ready on Monday, May 27th, when the members will be able to ascertain the extent of the interest that is likely to be shown. Already quite a number have expressed a desire to become members.

Nasal Discharge Proves Catarrh is Active

THE PURE BALSAMIC ESSENCES OF CATARRHOZONE AFFORD SUREST AND QUICKEST CURE

Catarrhozone is certain to cure because its healing vapor is carried with the breath direct to the seat of the chest, nose or throat trouble. Being composed of the purest balsams and pine essences, it immediately allays irritations, facilitates the ejection of mucus, soothes and stimulates the lungs and bronchial tubes. The marvel of the age in curing winter ills—that's what thousands say about Catarrhozone. There is nothing so sure to cure, and to those in fear of changeable weather — those who easily catch cold—those who work among lung chilling surroundings, where dust, impure air, fog, or damp affect them—let them get Catarrhozone and use it several times daily—it will cure every time.

BAD CASE CURED IN TWO DAYS.

"I was unfortunate enough to catch a bad cold from sitting in a draught in my bare head" writes Miss Nora E. Jamieson, well known in Sangre Grande, Td. "An acute condition of catarrh developed in my nostrils, and for three days my eyes and nose ran most copiously. The usual remedies entirely failed to relieve. I read in the Mirror newspaper about Catarrhozone and sent to Smith's [illegible] store for a dollar outfit. [illegible] two days Catarrozone cleared out my nostrils, cured the sneezing, coughing and all traces of catarrh."

Large size Catarrhozone, sufficient for two months' use, guaranteed, price $1.00; smaller sizes 25c and 50c. Beware of imitations, and substitutors, and insist on getting Catarrhozone only. By mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N. Y., or Kingston, Ont.

New Lighthouse in Operation.

The new lighthouse which has been erected on the pier at the mouth of the Otonabee River, at Rice Lake, was illuminated last night for the first time. This light will be a great convenience for steamboat men. The tortuous channel will now be clearly shown. Mr. J. H. McClellan, Superintendent of the Trent Canal, has won the gratitude of all the boatmen along the route in question by placing this lighthouse nearly opposite the Jubilee Point, a good selection.

Mr. Percival Webb's Interesting Letter.

The Times, last night, received a very interesting and instructive letter from Mr. Percival G. S. Webb, on local political matters. Mr. Webb, in his communication, conveyed the same ideas as expressed by The Times on Peterborough's political troubles and joined with us in congratulating Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., on the stand he has taken. As Mr. Webb's letter is somewhat too long for insertion in this issue, we will endeavor to give it space later.

HOW'S THIS ?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Local Member Makes Address.

The one Peterborough man who seemed to recognize that professional baseball will help to advertise Peterborough abroad, was Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P. After the teams led by the band arrived at Riverside Park, and made their tourney round the diamond, Mr. Burnham stood in front of the new grand stand and said, in part: "Ladies and gentlemen, I am pleased to see so many people here on a rainy day. I welcome the visiting players and trust that Peterborough will have a successful season. The baseball game is not played so much for money as to build up the youth of Canada. I am glad to see so many ladies present." The speaker then went on to make some witty remarks that brought rounds of applause from the grandstand.

SMITH

Farmers here are busy getting the spring crop in. The past week has been cold and wet.

Mrs. G. Armstrong is slowly improving.

The stork has once more visited Mr T. Sutton and left him a baby boy.

Mr. C. Roseboro is busy shingling a barn for Mr. J. D. Fowler.

Mr. Fowler took a drove of cattle to Otonabee last week to pasture. He is the owner of a new driver which he purchased a short time ago.

Fall wheat and meadows are beginning to look well.

Mr. Geo. Allen and son, of Smith, wish to express their gratitude to their very kind friends and neighbors for their help since their loss by fire. In a couple of hours the neighbors had every animal they owned out and taken to their own stables. In 2½ days the timber for a new barn had been cut and drawn home ready for the hewer. Five weeks after the fire the new building was completed, under the able workmanship of Mr T. Botterill. Mr. Allen feels he owes his neighbors a debt which he can never repay.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Henry Hudon.

Mr. Henry Hudon, of Kingston, passed away yesterday morning in Nicholls Hospital. The deceased was an operator at one of the local moving picture houses. Since his taking residence in this city, he has made a large circle of friends. The late Mr. Hudon was a son of Lieut-Col. Hudon, C.M.G., of Kingston, late of The Royal Canadian Artillery. His parents were present during his last moments. The funeral will be held in Kingston.

Department of Railways and Canals.
Ontario—St. Lawrence Canal
Murray Canal.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed, "Tenders for Dredging Murray Canal," will be received at this office until 16 o'clock on Wednesday, June 5th.

The specification and form of contract to be entered into can be see on and after Monday, May 20th, at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, or at the office of the Resident Engineer of the Ontario-St. Lawrence Canals, Cornwall, at which places form of tender may be obtained.

Parties tendering will be required to accept the fair wages schedule prepared or to be prepared by the Department of Labour, which schedule will form part of the contract.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and in the case of firms, unless there are attached the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm.

An accepted bank cheque for the sum of $900.00 made payable to the order of the Minister of Railways and Canals, must accompany each tender, which sum will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The check thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose tenders are not accepted.

The cheque of the successful tenderer will be held as security, or part security, for the due fulfillment of the contract to be entered into.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

By order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Rev. H. J. Keith, left last night for Ste. Agathe, to visit Mrs. Keith.

Mr. Geo. Boyler, of Owen Sound, was in the city yesterday visiting friends.

Mr. Dennis Larkin is in the city for a few days following the closing of St. Jerome College for the summer vacation.

Mr. G. N. Gordon returned from New York yesterday, where he was professionally connected with the Croker-Breen case.

Messrs. W. Simpson, the well known boniface of Lindsay, and W. McGregor, of the same town, were in the city yesterday.

Mr. Percy Shorey, son of Rev. Dr. Shorey, left last night for Regina, where he has secured a position with the Saskatchewan Land Co.—Lindsay Post.

Mrs. Laurence Smith, Barnardo avenue, has gone for a week's visit in Toronto. Whilst there she will be the guest of her neice; Mrs. Ernest Barcroft, Berkeley street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Pearson, formerly of Peterborough, who have been visiting friends in Lindsay and district, left Monday per C.P.R. for Vancouver.—Lindsay Post.

Rev. E. Vickers Stephenson of Plainfield, N.J., is in the city on a visit to his mother, Mrs. J. G. Stephenson, 364 Simcoe street, preliminary to an European tour he intends making this summer.

Mrs. C. H. Templin, wife of the manager of the Peterborough Baseball Club and son Jim, have arrived to spend the summer in the city. Mrs. Wm. Schaeffer, wife of the local pitcher, is also here for the season.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

How those fans did yell at yesterday's game.

The probs for to-day are scattered showers, but mostly fine and warm.

There were over six hundred paid admissions at Riverside Park yesterday afternoon.

Calgary's civic bill for wages last week was $96,312.26. How would out local ratepayers like such a proposition?

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's church will meet to sew in the church parlors this afternoon, May 23rd, at 2.30 o'clock.

Thursday will be visiting day at the Protestant Home. Those having friends there or subscribers to that philanthropic institution will kindly take note.

Peterborough certainly went wild over baseball yesterday. Notwithstanding a continuous downpour of rain all morning, over 600 people paid admission to Riverside Park.

The North American Life Assurance Co. issues policies second to none. The profits given to policyholders are equal to those of the very best. Insure your life in the North American Life Assurance Co. Office, 187 Charlotte Street. (6t-A8t18)

The Peterborough Light & Power Company's Show Room will be open on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings during May and June, from 8 to 10 p.m. for the convenience of those wishing to secure gas appliances or to arrange for gas connections.

only twenty-five minutes from Montreal post office, with cars running right to it, and here a large number of these old country men have already bought lots—some for investment, but mosts for homes. They like the position because it is high and dry with good transportation to and from their work and several of them will be living there this year.

Bellekille, which is the name of this new property occupies a unique position in that all the land up to its borders has been sold in building lots at much higher prices than is being asked for Belleville. The property bought by the men who are going to build the tunnel connecting Montreal and the South Shore runs up one side of Belleville and the electric cars pass another side, while the base rests on property which is built all over. It will thus be seen that Belleville is a triangle, and triangles are proverbially lucky.

The Burland Realty Company, consequent on information received about the coming tunnel, have decided to increase all the prices of Belleville lots very soon and the man who buys lots there is certain to make early profits.

Large percentages are made over the resale of building lots. For instance. Suppose you buy a Belleville lot at $300, paying 10 per cent. cash. The price is advanced soon after to $350. You have selected a good position and a man comes along who wants to purchase it from you. He pays you the difference between the price you have bought at and the price you sell at plus the amount you have paid. That is to say, if you have paid $30, you get $80 back, or about 160 per cent, in a little over a month. A point worthy of remembrance about Belleville is that there are only about 600 lots left and that as the best positions will soon be gone there will be active trading there.

Mr. Clarke, one of the officials of the Burland Realty Company informed your representative that there were only four corners left and that he intended saving those for the first four people who sent the coupon which is given in to-day's paper. As these lots are on the best streets the men who act promptly and secure them will certainly make big money in a very short time.

SON OF THE LATE QUEEN VICTORIA LAYS FLOWERS ON HER STATUTE IN QUEEN'S PARK, TORONTO

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT LAYS FLOWERS TO VICTORIA'S TOMB

Other Monuments Were Decked Out in a Similar Manner--Thousands Crowd Streets to View the Parade.

Toronto, May 23rd.—Empire Day is being fittingly observed by the schools of Toronto. This morning special patriotic exercises were held in every school in the city. Songs were sung, essays read, and addresses bearing on loyalty to the Empire were delivered by men well known in public life.

Schools were dismissed at eleven o'clock and Cadets from the High Public, Separate, and Industrial schools, to the number of over three thousand, assembled at 1 o'clock at the Armouries on University avenue. At 1.30, the 61 companies, headed by 70 flower companies of girls, bearing wreaths to decorate the monuments, started for Queen's Park. The parade route was lined by thousands of spectators and in the Park an enormous crowd had gathered.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught and the Royal party witnessed the parade from a position in front of the Parliament buildings. His Royal Highness then reviewed the Cadets on the lawn in front of the University. The manoeuvres of the boys formed the principal event of the day. At the close of the review the Cadets were formed in a hollow square and His Royal Highness briefly addressed them.

MR. FOSTER WANTS CO-OPERATIOn OF CANADIAN BOARD OF TRADE

Montreal, May 23.—Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, indicated to a large gathering of members of the Board of Trade and Chambre de Commerce yesterday afternoon that he intended to try and justify his position and his department.

The minister took a great deal of credit for the preferences already established with Great Britain, South Africa, and other portions of the Empire. He also indicated that possibly by next January a preferential arrangement would be made with the British West Indies, and said negotiations to the same end were going along with Australia and New Zealand. The Government, he declared were prepared to back up this effort to increase trade by doing everything possible to secure improved steamship and cable connections, especially with the West Indies. He also indicated that efforts would be made to secure more active co-operation between the Canadian trade agents and the British Consular service, so as to secure for Canadians the advantages of British Consular work.

Let Boards Co-Operate.

The main point made by Mr. Foster was that in all work for the advancement of Canadian trade his department must depend to a considerable extent on the co-operation of the Boards of Trade throughout the country. To this end he asked the Montreal Board to nominate Commissioners, one to look after foreign and the other after inter-Provincial trade, to collaborate with the Trade and Commerce Department in securing statistics and also in suggesting new lines of work.

PETERBORO DEFEATED BY GUELPH NINE, 5 TO 4

Yesterday's fine bright weather brought out about four hundred people to see the second game in which Peterborough took part in the Canadian League. The Grandstand was practically deserted, only about 150 paying admission. A Times representative present at the game, heard several gentlemen remark that the admission price is too high. This, however, is a matter for the league to settle.

A much better exhibition of ball was played yesterday than on the opening day, the grounds being in a little better shape, making the play much faster. Derr handled the pigskin for the locals, while Ryan opened the game for Guelph. Neither team scored in the first two innings, but in the third, Guelph tallied three runs, and in the last half the Petes evened up with three. The balance of the game was very close and some excellent playing was done. Dolan, who holds down the first sack assisting on a good many occasions.

In the seventh innings, Hartman the third sacker made a clean home run, placing the ball over the fence. It was about this time that someone told the Umpire that it was his birthday, and he was about to tear of his famous S-T-R-I-K-E-!! when a foul tip hit him in the neck, cutting the word short, and laying him out for several minutes, while several snapshooters thought it a good time to take his picture. After a few dashes of cold water he was able to resume the game. During the balance of the game quite a number of long flies found their way over towards the brewery, but unfortunately fell over the foul line, the strong southwest wind no doubt saving the game for the Guelph nine. The locals made a few good hits, but were unable to connect, and our team went down once for to defeat by the score of 5 to 4.

ARMS ABOARD A STEAMSHIP

U. S. Revenue Cutter Siezes Steamship Santona, With Arms Aboard.

New Orleans, La., May 22.—The Montes Line Steamship, "Santona," was seized in the harbor of New Orleans Saturday night by the United States revenue cutter Davey, charged with violating the terms of the President's proclamation of March 4 prohibiting the shipment of arms and amunition to Mexico.

The Santona, which had cleared and sailed for Progresso, Mexico, had on board 110,000 rounds of rifle ammunition and ten cases of carbines.

Agents of the steamship company produced copies of the consular bills of lading, showing that the war munitions aboard the Santona were consigned to the Governor of the state of Campeche, Mexico.

The ship's manifest, filed at the customs house, had no mention of these munitions.

Captain Manson, of the cutter Davey, placed a crew aboard the Santona, and the steamer will be detained pending receipt of instructions from Washington.

Capt. Thomas J. C. Boyd, master of the steamer, disclaimed any knowledge of the presence of arms and ammunition aboard until after he was under way, when the mate informed him of the shipment. Captain Boyd was not taken into custody and returned to his ship after a conference with government officials at the United States marshal's office.

Mr. Mena, the local agent of the Montes Line, called at the marshal's office and produced papers purporting to show that the shipment had been "open and above board" and stated that Dr. Ornealas, consul general of the Mexican government at this port had signed the invoice on which the goods were plainly described. The shipment was made by F. Freije, a local broker.

Mr. Mena said he had no knowledge of the recent proclamation of President Taft regarding shipment of arms and ammunition to Mexico and expressed confidence that the required permission for the transportation of this order could be secured as it was for the Government.

PANAMA CANAL DISCUSSED

American Legislators Fight for Free Passage of American Ship.

Washington, May 23rd.—Convinced that there was no hope of completing the reading of the Panama Canal administration bills Saturday night the House gave up in despair and adjourned. It is possible that consideration of the measure cannot be resumed before Tuesday. Debate on the bill was so vigorous, especially on the section providing for tolls, that all the House Legislative machinery could not move the measure along on scheduled time.

A half dozen amendments were offered to the toll section.

The amendments multiplied so rapidly and so many more threatened that the House finally ordered them printed and then put into consideration of the toll question over until the first reading of the bill is completed.

Representatives from Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coast states continued their fight for the free passage for American ships, while those who supported the bill's provision for universal charges on all shipping irrespective of nationality, contended that such a discrimination would violate the Hay-Poncefote treaty.

Representative Borland, of Missouri called attention to the necessity for preparing against attacks on the canal by airships. He declared the works would be at the mercy of aircraft carrying high explosives.

DR. DERBY TELLS ABOUT SCHOOLS

Prominent Physician of Prescott County Writes the Times

A CHANGE IS NEEDED

Where Bilingual Schools Flourish French Children Cannot Speak English—English Children Cannot Speak French.

The appended letter from Dr. Derby one of the best known physicians in Prescott County, speaks for itself, and gives a clean cut and concise report of school conditions in his district. The letter is as follows:

(Editor Morning Times:)

Sir.—Having been a reader of the Times for years, I have decided to ventilate my views on the bilingual questions. To those in the counties of Prescott and Russell who have knowledge of the true inwardness of the situation, the solicitude shown for the securing of teachers qualified to teach English to the French-Canadian children borders very closely on the amusing if not ridiculous. Let me give your readers a leaf out of my own experience. Eight years ago last November, 1903, I had occasion as a medical health officer, to visit the R. C. S. school in the village of St. Isadore de Prescott in the township of South Plantagenet, county of Prescott. When I spoke English to the pupils they regarded me with a look of blank amazement, but on asking the same question in French they answered readily and courteously. When leaving the school I said to the teacher, "Miss Rochon, do you not teach these children English?" "Oh yes, Doctor," she replied "We teach English every Friday." However effective this teaching may have been on "Fridays" I can testify to the fact that in my stay of about six weeks in that village I did not meet a French-Canadian child over twelve years of age who spoke English. The children older than this, and most of the "grown-ups" had more or less knowledge of English.

Now Miss Alice Rochon, who was a perfect little lady to her finger tips, has fully as accurate a knowledge of English as I have. It might be said to be her mother tongue. I am well acquainted with her family, both her father, who taught school for years, and her mother's brothers. These people spoke perfect English, and there was not then, and there is not now, a teacher more capable of teaching the English language, but she didn't teach it. What the people of Ontario want to run to earth is the reasons that prevented this quite capable teacher from teaching her pupils thoroughly in English.

This "rot" about the scarcity of teachers comes pretty near the nauseating point. Miss Rochon's is by no

CUSTOM HOUSE ENLARGED

Mr. Burnham, Local Member, Will Get New Wing For Local Seat of Caesar.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., with the enterprise that has characterized his sime, has made application to the Department of Public Works, asking that a new wing be added to the Peterborough Customs House. As is generally known, the local Customs House has increased its receipts many fold within the past few years. A larger staff has become necessary to handle the increased volume of business. Now it is absolutely necessary to give the staff larger premises. Mr. Burnham has carefully investigated conditions at the Customs House, and as above noted, has applied to the Dominion Government for a new wing for that building.

ON WAY TO PRISON TO BE ELECTROCUTED

CLARENCE V T RICHESON-(CENTRE) BEING TAKEN TO CHARLESTOWN STATE PRISON

Condemned to die during the week of May 19 for the murder of Miss Avis Linnell in Boston, Clarence V. T. Richeson has been removed to the Charlestown (Mass.) State prison, where he will be electrocuted unless Governor Foss and his Council decide in favor of a commutation of sentence at the last minute.

WHITE PLAGUE WAR NOW ON

New Law Aimed at the Practice of Mid-wifery.

Baron Rouge, La., May 22.—Dr. E. H. Ledbetter, president of the Louisiana Medical Society, is here to father two bills in which he says there should be Statewide interest.

One is a bill providing for the registry of persons practicing midwifery and prescribing practically the same methods of examination before the Board of Medical Examiners as is provided for the examination of practicing physicians. The other is a bill establishing a tuberculosis commission for the State of Louisiana.

The Tuberculosis Commission bill is a combination of ideas contributed by various medical men in New Orleans and up-State, who have been working in conjunction with the Anti-Tuberculosis League. It embodies authority for the appointment of the commissioners by the Governor and confers on the commissioners the authority to accept by gift or acquire otherwise an open-air sanitarium for the treatment and harboring of all persons afflicted with the white plague.

It is intended that the commission if it is organized, shall acquire a suitable acreage of ground in the highlands of the State where, under the guidance of competent medical men, the afflicted people of Louisiana may be sent for treatment, isolation, or for recuperation. One of the main ideas is to remove the consumptive ridden man and woman from the cities where contact with others will produce a spread of the disease. The commission will also have authority to receive for treatment indigent insanes and prisoners who are afflicted so as to remove from the insane wards and from the prisons of the State the danger of contagion.

The midwifery bill has been much discussed in New Orleans. It is intended to do away with the quack and the unlicensed practitioner. A

BIGOTRY STRONG IN MONTREAL

An Incident That Does Quebec People No Credit

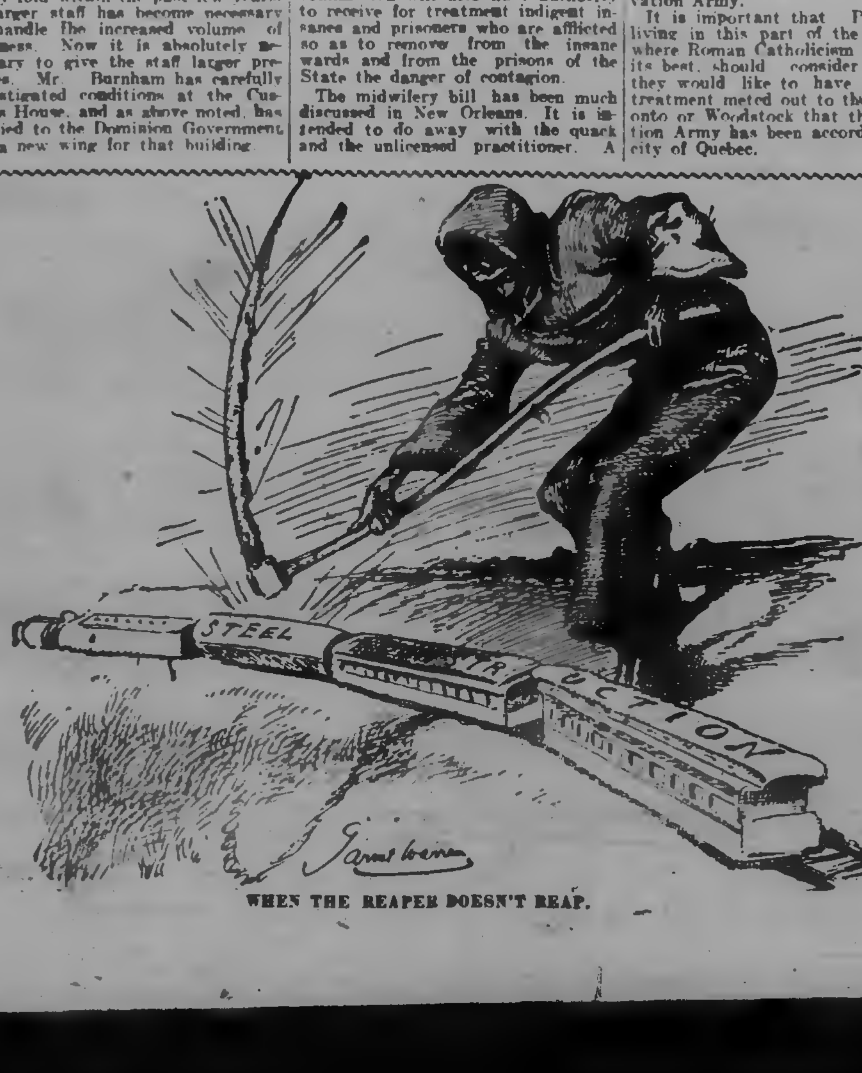
GENERALLY CONDEMNED

Attention is drawn by the Hamilton Herald to the bigtry that exists in the City of Montreal. On the 1st of May the Socialists had a parade in that city. It was headed by a girl carrying a red flag. It went off peaceably and without interruption. A couple of days later the Salvation Army attempted to hold a parade in the City of Quebec and they were driven off the street by the police. Moreover, the Salvation Army officer was summoned to court and fined for obstructing traffic.

This was not in Portugal, or Spain or South America; it happened in Canada. The Capital of the Province of Quebec, was the scene of an outrage which was perpetrated in the interests of the Roman Church. No other excuse could be offered except the hostility of the priests. The question may well be asked whether the Salvation Army would be permitted to hold an open air service in Toronto if the Roman Church had as much influence here as in the City of Quebec.

What becomes of the boasts which are made by priests of the tolerance of the papancy in the face of an incident of this kind? There can be no such thing as religious liberty in a city, where such a thing can happen. We are continually reminded from Quebec of the generosity to the minority in that province. We are unable to discover any spirit of generosity in this treatment of the Salvation Army.

It is important that Protestants living in this part of the Dominion, where Roman Catholicism is seen at its best, should consider whether they would like to have the same treatment meted out to them in Toronto or Woodstock that the Salvation Army has been accorded in the city of Quebec.



WHEN THE REAPER DOESN'T REAP.

HON MR. HANNA IS NOW HEAD OF RAILWAY BOARD

Provincial Secretary Will be Urged to Accept the Vacant Chairmansnip--Sir James Reluctant to Part With Minister

Toronto, May 23.—It is now believed to be definitely settled that Mr. Hanna will be asked to accept the Chairmanship of the Dominion Railway Commission in succession to the late J. P. Mabee. Mr. Cochrane comes to Toronto to-day and no doubt the whole question will be considered with the Provincial Cabinet. Other names were considered, but the final judgment is that Mr. Hanna has the strong and popular qualities of Mr. Mabee, that he has supreme common sense and adequate courage and a public reputation that will preserve for the Commission all that remarkable degree of public confidence and support which it enjoyed under Mr. Killam and Mr. Mabee.

There is no doubt that Sir James Whitney will be reluctant to part with his Provincial Secretary. It is equally certain that his withdrawal from provincial politics will be a serious loss to the Government. On the other hand there is a feeling that the Chairmanship of the Railway Board is amore onerous and more honorable position than even Mr. Hanna has made the Provincial Secretaryship of Ontario and that Sir James Whitney will recognize the fact and agree to surrender his colleague to the higher duties and the more important public service associated with the federal appointment.

EVERY ONE WILL HELP BOOM PETERBOROUGH SUMMER FAIR

The Peterborough Summer Fair is bound to be a winner! The ladies who have so nobly taken the burden on their shoulders of advancing the interests involved, as frequently explained in these columns, are getting the support of the city in general. The Women's Auxiliary of the Peterborough Health Association, have undertaken to combat tuberculosis, and their first step is to secure a trained nurse whose work will be largely educative. Now, whilst "printers' ink costs," except in such cases as this, and talk is cheap at any time, the point for serious consideration is that every patriotic citizen of Peterborough will, or should turn out at the Armouries on Monday and patronize the local BIG FAIR.

The convenors of the Spring booth are Mrs. Cruikshank and Miss Burnham; Summer booth, Mrs. L. M. Hayes and Mrs. (Dr.) McNulty; Autumn, Mrs. Matthews, Winter, Mrs. J. G. Scott. The Rummage Sale convenors are Mrs. Coulthard and Miss Rubidge; the Doll's House, Mrs. Peter Campbell and Miss Halliday; the Orange Tree, Miss Revell; the Gypsey Encampment, Miss Archer and Mrs. Alex. Grant; the Cafe Chantant, Mrs. McLeod; the Theatre, Mrs. Hopwood, the Art Room is under the direction of the Women's Art Association; the Grand March Mrs. Hazen Ritchie and Mrs. R. R. Hall.

Committee of Information.

The Art Room, Tea Room, Bowling Alley and other rooms adjoin the main hall where the Fair is being held and in order that the visitors will meet with no difficulty in finding their way about, a committee of ladies has been appointed, with Mrs. A. Mowat as convenor, to act as ushers. They will wear distinctive sashes and will be readily recognized. If you find yourself lost in the rows of booths or unable to find a particular section, ask one of the young ladies with the sashes.

LAND OF THE MIDNIGHT SUN

Experiences of a Times' Correspondent in Norway

HAVEN FOR TOURISTS

Mr. G. F. Ewen Visited Sweden Two Years Ago, and Hopes to Go Again This Year—Tells the Times of His Trip and the Wonders of That Country.

EAT and discomfort is avoided by those who are in a position to spend the summer months in Norway. Yesterday Mr. George Ewan, a reader of The Times, who resides in Ottawa, and who is spending a day or two in the city, dropped into The Times' office and told us about the land of the "midnight sun," where he spent a few weeks two years ago, and where he expects to visit again this year with his wife and daughter.

Continuous Day Light.

From to-day until July 22nd, over two months, there will be continuous daylight at Wardburg, Norway, in the "Land of the Midnight Sun." That little village near the North Cape has the longest day of any civilized community in the world, extending from May 21 to July 22 during which period the sun is at all times visible, except when obscured by clouds. The trip to North Cape is now made every year by thousands of tourists, both European and American, and the season beginning to-day is likely to be the greatest in history, since many of those who go to Sweden for the Olympic games will likely extend their journey to the far-famed "Land of the Midnight Sun." From Stockholm to Christiana the tourist goes by rail to Trondhjem, from which point the "Nordkap" boats leave. These craft, while comfortable and seaworthy, are not particularly luxurious, and those who demand the most select of appointments would do well to leave North Cape off their itinerary. The tariff for the round trip from Trondhjem ranges from $75 to $100.

A Delightful Trip.

The starting place is an interesting little city, and has a cathedral dating from the 12th century, in which all the Norwegian monarchs have been crowned. The trip, in its first stages, offers many natural beauties of fjords and snow-clad peaks almost, but not quite as grand and splendid as the views that delight the eyes of the tourists to the Rockies of the United States and Canada. As no seafarer would think of passing the equator without the observance of the prescribed rights supposed to propitiate Neptune, so it is in the crossing of the Arctic circle. The diety of the sea having been properly placated, the Nordkap boats proceeds to Tromso, passing en route several magnificently beautiful islands. Tromso is a little city of some 10,000 residents, largely post card and souvenir dealers and Lapps. The latter do a thriving business in small and entirely useless articles fashioned from bone with the least possible amount of toil, since the Lapp has a constitutional prejudice against work. Tromso is almost within the borders of "The Land of the Midnight Son," since for weeks during the summer the sun is below the horizon less than an hour of each twenty four. Some 150 miles further to the North the boat stops at Hammerfest, whose three or four thousand people are supported almost entirely by the cod liver oil industry. Hammerfest and Wardburg, a little village to the North, are well within the mystic "Land of the Midnight Sun," but the end of the voyage comes only with the arrival of the tourist boat at Nordkap, a great rock that pushes out into the sea and towers a thousand feet above it. The ascent of the towering rock is by no means easy, and at to see, buys a few post cards, and taurant and—if there are no clouds to obscure the view—the midnight sun! It is not such a wonderful sight after all—a cold, distant, apparently all but burnt out ball of fire hanging just above the horizon, far out on the waste of waters. Then as your watch and the booming of a gun announces midnight, the tourist realizes that he has viewed what he came to see, buys a few postcards, and boards the waiting vessel for his homeward trip. It is unique, but it is not awe-inspiring to those who have "seen America first."

HON J. R. STRATTON AGAIN IN FARMERS BANK

A Toronto despatch of yesterday noted that Hon. J. R. Stratton and A. E. Donovan, M.P.P., Brockville, were present at the Farmers Bank enquiry. After further questioning of Ed. Strickdale, of the Trusts and Guarantee Co., with reference to Farmers' Bank, circulation, W. S. Morden, of Belleville, now assistant general manager of the Trust Company, told of a conference which he and Mr. Stratton had with Travers on October 21, 1910, with reference to the Farmers' account, which had impressed him as being in an unsatisfactory condition. Travers had urged that the privileges he had enjoying be continued as he was being unfairly treated by the other bank. Morden who practiced law previous to joining the trust company in September, 1910, denied that he had any knowledge of the real condition of the Farmers' Bank at the time of the conference with Travers.

THE WEATHER.

Mostly fair and very warm, a few local showers towards evening.

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

The Times

delivered to your home daily, phone your order to the Office. Only 25c per month to city and rural subscribers. The publishers will appreciate being advised of any irregularity in delivery.

HOMES FOR HONEST TOILERS, AND gardens to add to your income, and save your dollars. We have helped many to own their homes, and we will help you. Come in, pay a small deposit to which we add bonus, then prepare to plant garden and build house on our Easy Rent Plan. Others have done this and so can you. Late spring calls for prompt action. Our builders commence Monday 22nd. Your opportunity. Young men, buy our lots, as others have done, and save at least a part of what you earn. Even $5 per month saved, with increasing value of lots, will build up capital and start you on the road to riches. Gardens, all sizes, to rent. T. Hurley, cor. Stewart & Hunter.

FOR SALE—BUILDINGS WORTH $4,000 for $2,000. Lots worth $150 for $100. See J. Bell, cor. Braidwood and Park Sts. Phone 1301.

FOR SALE—6 ROOMED BRICK HOUSE, well built and warm; very convenient to Canadian General Electric Works; lot large enough to build double house if desired; cheap; Apply on premises 124 RubidgeSt.

PORT MANN, B.C., CANADIAN NORTHern Pacific Coast terminus, attracting millions eastern and British capital. Property adjoining railway's holdings becoming very valuable. Quarter acre lots touching townsite five hundred to six hundred each, quarter cash. Island Investment Company, Limited, Vancouver.

WHILE YOU WORK AND WHILE YOU sleep.—Wage earners make money only while they work. My lot buyers make money while they sleep. Those who have bought from me during the past four years have made by increasing value of lots, more than 50 per cent per annum on the amount invested. And they are worth from $200 to $1200 to-day, because of having wisely imposed a "must" upon themselves to save a little of what they earned. Come in and let me show you a very easy way to do the same. Gardens: I know one man who planted 1 acre of onions, and sold his crop for $400 cash. Was that not making money while he slept? We can supply a few acres ploughed to men who would wish to do likewise. Also a larger place with good buildings and a large poultry plant. Immediate possession. Decide at once, and call for particulars. T. Hurley, corner Stewart and Hunter streets.

WE CAN GIVE YOU ABSOLUTE PROOF that the lots we offer inside the town limits of Edson at $40 each, on easy terms, are a money-making investment, offered below their real value; Edson is a divisional point on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a monthly pay roll of $40,000; Edson is the actual distributing point for the Peace River country, the Brazeau coal fields, and for two hundred miles west on the Canadian Northern; Edson is little more than a year old, and already has more than twelve hundred permanent residents; it costs you one cent to obtain illustrated booklet, and the above mentioned proof; mail us a postcard to-day. The Edson Point Company, 609 McIntyre Block, Winnipeg.

CHANGED HIS MIND.

He Was Awful Strong, but He Took a Dislike to Boxing.

Talking of the padded mitt and its practitioners, some one remembered a story of Tom O'Rourke when he was managing that black warrior, Joe Wolcott. Every now and then some greenhorn would happen along and beg to be tried out. It afforded Mr. O'Rourke and Mr. Wolcott a great deal of innocent pleasure to try them out—plenty. On one occasion a large walnut colored man came, hat in hand, to O'Rourke. "Ah'm most powerful desperit, Mr. O'Rourke," said he, "an' strong! My, my, Ah'm that strong Ah'm jes' natchally afraid to leave mahself go. Ah want you to match me to fight wiv somebody."

O'Rourke said that would be easily done if the caller was as good a fighter as he believed himself to be. But he'd have to be tried out first. The stranger said he was willing, and O'Rourke called Wolcott. "Take this man out in the gym," said he, "and try him out."

The pair fiddled and fenced about for awhile. Then Wolcott got his chance, whanged that right hand over, and the stranger bounced three times before he came to rest. By and by he waked up to find O'Rourke bending over him. "Mebbe Ah'd make a pretty good wrestler, Mr. O'Rourke," said he hopefully.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

WALL STREET TIPSTERS.

They Are a Numerous Tribe and Are Always Ready to Advise.

Wall street is the home of the tipster. You can always find him. You do not need to ask for him. He seeks you out in seductive advertisements, in circulars, letters and all the ways of the shrewd trader. And there are none shrewder than those who nest in Wall street.

You will find the tipsters in every broker's office. Stand at the ticker for a few minutes and hear them as they come up one after another. "This is the time to sell," says one. Directly another appears, takes up the tape, scrutinizes it for a moment, lays it down and exclaims, "A good time to buy!" But go to the head of a house, especially if it be an old, conservative and well established institution, and ask him what he thinks about the market. See how many tips you will get from him. Not many, as a rule.

He will discourse upon the situation, tell you the favorable and unfavorable factors, call attention to certain stocks that may be influenced by current rumors, to others that have new possibilities, to others that may suffer from various reasons, and then he will conclude with a general observation that one man's opinion is as good as another's.—Leslie's.

Cold Blooded Man.

"Man is the coldest blooded animal there is," said a well known doctor. "Man's low temperature," the doctor went on, "is responsible for more than half his ailments. Your normal temperature is 98½ degrees F. It is only when you have a bad temperature that you get as warm as any of the lower animals—that is to say, when you are in a high fever, with a temperature of 102, you are at the normal heat of the cat, the dog, the ox, the rat, and so on. In the coolest of seas the porpoise is never cooler than 100 degrees. The bat, the rabbit, the guinea pig, the hare and the elephant likewise are all cool at 100 degrees. The hen has the highest temperature of all the lower creatures, and it is a good deal warmer, too, when a chicken. Its temperature then is as high as 111, but age and experience cool its blood by 3 degrees."—New York Globe.

The Trouble In That Family.

"You told me when you said goodby yesterday that I should never see you again," she complained as she straightened up beside the tub.

Why donshu try to be (hic!) more philosophic'l? Thash whatsh always been the trouble in thish fam (hic!) fam'ly. You ain't got 'ny phil (hic!) osophy in your system."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Willie's Anguish.

"Say, ma," asked little Willie after he had been in conjunction with the paternal slipper, "did anybody besides pa ever ask you to be his wife?"

"Oh, yes. I had lots of proposals before your father came along."

"Well, do you think you gained anything by waiting?"

Sense of Smell Gone.

"This egg seems to be tainted, ma'am," said the cook to the mistress of the boarding house.

"Well, give it to Mr. Smith. He's got a bad cold in his head and probably won't notice the difference."—Detroit Free Press.

Silk Flag Given Daughters of Empire

The 57th Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire have been honoured by the non-commissioned officers of the regiment. The Rangers were drawn up in front of the gallery, which was well filled with ladies, and seargeants Dodds and McKay—the former bearing a beautiful silk flag on a handsome staff—came forward. Chaplain Davidson gave a short explanatory address.

CANADA'S EXPANSION.

The Dominion Is Swiftly Outgrowing Her Facilities.

Canada has long been known as the Empire's granary, and every year that passes strengthens its title to that proud distinction. How great is the actual and potential capacity of the Dominion as a grain-producing country is illustrated by some striking figures, based on complete agricultural returns for 1911, lately compiled by The Monetary Times, of Toronto.

During the last four years the area under crop has increased from 27,500,000 acres to nearly 33,000,000, while the value of agricultural produce has risen from 86 1-4 to 113 millions sterling. Despite the reduction in volume and quality of last year's western crops, there was a net rise in value over the figures for 1910 of nearly $60,000,000, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta recording gains of $18,000,000, $36,000,000, and $23,000,000 respectively. In 1911 another million acres were added to the area under wheat, bringing the total acreage up to 10,330,000.

Since 1901 the wheat area in the Prairie Provinces alone has grown from 2,500,000 to nearly 9,500,000 acres. In the decade Manitoba's output has increased from 18,000,000 to 60,000,000 bushels; Saskatchewan's from less than 500,000 bushels to well over 97,000,000; and Alberta's from less than 1,000,000 to more than 36,000,000. Saskatchewan is now the greatest single wheat-producing area in North America.

In estimating future developments, various factors have to be borne in mind. Only 86,000,000 acres out of a total available of some 225,000,000 have yet been taken up by settlers, and of this area less than a fifth represents land under actual cultivation.

Immigration is hardly likely to be less in the coming decade than in the last, and in 1914 two more transcontinental railways will be completed, and will render accessible much new land for settlement. Assuming that the ratio of expansion in the next ten years will be as great as it has been since 1901, it is calculated that there will be in 1920 a wheat area in the western provinces of 34,300,000 acres and a crop of 513,000,000 bushels. At 75 cents per bushel this works out at the huge total of $384,750,000.

In the light of such figures, there is evidently ample room for the strenuous efforts that are being made to improve the Dominions' transport facilities. Rapidly as the railway systems have extended, they have not kept pace with the needs of the west, where the problem of freight congestion has lately assumed serious proportions.

In industry, as well as in agriculture, Canadians confidently look forward to a steady expansion of activity. A prominent member of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association places the number of existing industrial establishments at 20,000, representing an invested capital of 200,000,000 sterling, and turning out finished products of a like value annually.

These industries are able to employ 800,000 persons, whose aggregate wages probably do not fall far short of fifty millions sterling per annum.

A recent survey by the Conservation Commission showed that the present development has reached 1,061,000 horsepower. This represents but a tithe of the power which can be economically developed as the need arises. Moreover, the great bulk of the country's most important industries, employing a large proportion of the capital invested, are based upon supplies of raw material which lie ready at hand, and for the development of which cheap power is essential.

Canada, therefore, it is added, possesses the raw material, the power, and the necessary market. It only remains to secure a sufficiency of capital and labor in order to bring about a great expansion of industrial activity.

Imperial Motor Traveling.

Many prominent British motorists are being encouraged by articles in London papers to bring their cars to Canada, which has not enjoyed a favorable reputation for good roads. Tours through the overseas dominions, instead of the continent, are becoming more and more fashionable. Society is quick to follow the lead of the Court, and you will have noted that the King and Queen do not indulge in continental traveling as did the late King Edward.

Another peer who is turning his attention to Canada is Earl Stanhope, who, at a recent lecture, said that he did not pose as an authority on the subject of Canada, but that in his recent tour around the world, he spent some considerable time in the principal towns of Canada. His whole trip covered twenty thousand miles, and he went twice across Canada. Canada was thirty times the size of the British Isles, which were only one-hundredth part of the British Empire. There were far more possibilities of Canada becoming a rich and powerful nation than the United States ever had or ever would have. Those possibilities were in her extensive wheat fields, which, year by year, were extending still further north.

A Spasm of Globe Trotting.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Dickenson, of Victoria, B.C., have left that city on a world trip of a most extensive and exhaustive character, occupying a period of eight months and embracing calls at all the leading centres of Europe, South Africa, Australia, and the Orient.

The peculiar and interesting feature about the trip of this retired couple is that until now Mrs. Dickenson has never been out of the city of Victoria in her life. She is going to do all her traveling at once and encircle the world in one great spasm of globe trotting. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dickenson are well known in Victoria, the former having carried on a most successful grocery business on Douglas street for many years.

"Frank A. Jackson, a carpenter of Joliet, Ill., received word in a letter that he was the sole heir to the estate of Mrs. Mary Jackson, of Pelkinton, Yorkshire, England, containing 2,500 acres and valued at $6,000,000." Mr. Jackson has gone to a higher plane, which augurs well for his future ease.

BEGINNING OF CALGARY.

When Marquis of Lorne Was Canada's Governor-General.

"I remember," said Commissioner S. J. Clarke in Montreal recently, "when a man could travel from the Rocky Mountains to Winnipeg without running much danger of meeting a white man. There were a few white hunters that might be encountered now and again, but the great majority of the inhabitants of this section of the country were either Indians or half-breeds.

"I remember the springe of 1881, when Tom La Noze and I were shifted to Calgary from Fort McLeod barracks to take charge of the old log Fort Calgary, which was then all that existed of the present city of Calgary. You might think from Tom's name that he was French. He wasn't. He was as Irish as Paddy's pig, and a corporal in the R.N.W.M.P.

"I remember that same spring when Constable Beattie and I were detailed to take the Marquis of Lorne, then Governor-General of the Dominion, over the rapids at the mouth of the Elbow and Bow near the present barracks. It was in an old Hudson Bay boat, twelve feet long and three feet wide that we shot the rapids. In those days, right at the mouth of the Elbow there was a fair-sized island with good trees on it. The trees have been swept away, and the island is now below water.

"I remember that the special diversion planned for the marquis was a round-up. Up at the Cochrane ranch, then the biggest in the country, they gathered cowboys, from all the neighboring ranches. The piece de resistance was an exhibition of broncho busting and lariat work on wild cattle. The marquis had driven across country from Battleford to Fort Calgary. He had a train of 150 teams and a detachment of mounted police as escort. We had information of his approach months in advance.

"I remember that his advance itinerary included a trip from Fort Calgary, up the Bow, to the Blackfoot Indian reserve. We set about to prepare for this journey, and built a number of boats to take the party up the river. The marquis on his arrival decided to alter the program, and his party traveled overland through Montana instead.

"I remember, even further back than that. In 1877, I built the first log shack at Pinto Horse Butte, 52 miles this side of Wood Mountain. We built the camp for the purpose of watching the Sioux camp and Sitting Bull and his followers after the Custer massacre. The main camp of the Sioux numbered in the neighborhood of 10,000 men.

"I remember another point that takes issue with history. Sitting Bull has been, and frequently is, mentioned as the head chief of the Sioux. Among the Indians he was no chief, simply head soldier. In that Sioux camp the chief's council numbered 400 men, and Sitting Bull could not attend the sessions except on invitation.

"I remember that we left Pinto Horse Butte in the fall of '77 for Fort Walsh, where I stayed a few months before being transferred to Wood Mountain. After a year I went back to Fort Walsh, and in the spring of '79 I went to Fort McLeod. At Fort McLeod I stayed until the spring of '81, when I left with Corpl. Knowles for Fort Calgary to take charge of the stores there.

"I remember that during the following year I left the force to enter business in Calgary for myself. I have lived in Alberta for thirty-six years, and from the oldest to the youngest my family is composed of genuine home-grown Albertans.

"I remember — Oh, but that's enough," said the commissioner, as he hurried away to a parks board meeting.—Montreal Daily Star.

Squirrels as Tree Planters.

Contrary to common belief, the gray squirrels of Canada do not lay up their winter store of nuts in mass, but bury each one separate and apart from the rest, and for this reason they are nature's most important chestnut, hickory, and walnut tree planters. The nuts are hidden in the ground, often at a considerable distance from one another, and either by instinct or a remarkable memory the squirrels will penetrate through several feet of snow when in want of food and seldom, if ever, fail to find the hidden treasures.

They do not need or use the one-tenth part of the provender they have hidden away in the ground, and what they do not consume germinates the next spring, and in this way we get our uniform nut-tree forests, which would otherwise grow in clusters under the parent tree where the nuts have fallen.

In their burying operations squirrels often cover a large area of ground, seeking the most favorable spots for hiding their food; this accounts for trees springing up in the most diverse places.

Convenience of Dialect.

During his recent visit to Canada, Rev. R. J. Campbell, of the City Temple, London, is said to have related a few amusing little stories, for he is an accomplished raconteur. One of his best concerned the eccentricities of the English accent.

"Our worst accent," he said, "is the Cockney one—the one that converts such a phrase as 'make haste' into 'mike iste,' and so on.

"I once employed two maids. One came from Devon, the other was a Cockney. Both bore the name of Catherine, but that did not mean confusion in the household when either one was wanted. I just called the Devon girl 'Kate' and the Cockney 'Kite,' and they always knew which I was calling."

Valuable Lots.

An increase of over 400 per cent. a year for 24 years on the original amount paid, or a total profit of 10,000 per cent., for Regina lots, is a record that has been made by W. Sibbald, one of the early settlers of that city.

Having admitted the existence of the Harmon - Clark - Underwood alliance against Woodrow Wilson, it would be well for Senator "Kerosene Joe" Bailey to go a step farther and admit also that the campaigns of the "allies" are being financed from one fund raised for that purpose in the New York financial district.

Local Member Makes Address.

The one Peterborough man who seemed to recognize that professional baseball will help to advertise Peterborough abroad, was Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P. After the teams led by the band arrived at Riverside Park, and made their tourney round the diamond, Mr. Burnham stood in front of the new grand stand and said, in part: "Ladies and gentlemen, I am pleased to see so many people here on a rainy day. I welcome the visiting players and trust that Peterborough will have a successful season. The baseball game is not played so much for money as to build up the youth of Canada. I am glad to see so many ladies present." The speaker then went on to make some witty remarks that brought rounds of applause from the grandstand.

Mr. Geo. Boyler, of Owen Sound, was in the city yesterday visiting friends.

WE OFFER AT PAR
$100,000 of the Capital Stock
— OF —
THE COLLIS LEATHER COMPANY, LTD.
Incorporated by Letters Patent of the Province of Ontario.

Capitalization. Authorized $150,000 To Be Issued $110,000
PAR VALUE $100.00 PER SHARE.

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:—AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:
T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sisman Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cent per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:
18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ... $27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year ... 7,000.00
$20,000.00

Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital.

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application, 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved: the application lists may be closed without notice.

PLANNING FOR AN AIRSHIP SQUADRON.

The officials of the United States War Department have been moving with aggravating slowness, but they are now showing some appreciation of the importance of aviation as an auxiliary of Uncle Sam's military establishment. The Department has submitted to Congress a plan, tentative at present, which, when complete, would give the army an aviation corps comprising fifteen squadrons of 120 aeroplanes, with 2 colonels, 2 lieutenant colonels, 11 majors, 270 captains or lieutenants and 720 enlisted men.

It is proposed to have each squadron consist of 1 major, 18 captains or lieutenants and 48 enlisted men, but it is not deemed necessary to have more than three squadrons now or until the proposed organization shall have been thoroughly tested. Training schools for the corps will probably be established on the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Gulf coasts, on the Great Lakes and at a central point in the interior.

As drawn the bill provides for a 20 per cent. increase of pay for officers in the aviation corps and for enlisted men while engaged in it, and six months pay to the widows or heirs of those killed on duty, in addition to the amount authorized by the existing law. The plan submitted to Congress calls only for aeroplanes, although England and Germany include dirigible balloons in their service.

UNDERMINING THE MINISTRY?

The Boston Herald,' chief organ of the city of "culchaw" and baked beans has the following editorial, regarding divinity students:

"There is reason to think that American schools of divinity, many of them at least, might well ponder with some care their methods of getting and helping students.

"The situation is simple. Ministers no longer are the parsons—the persons par excellence. Young men of force and ambition find full play for their powers outside the ministry; at the same time they find within the ministry much to make them think twice and three times before they choose it as a life work. Without the church they see what comes of upright practice in the courts, what comes of applied science, of surgery, of clean politics, of skill in straightforward commercial enterprise. In these fields, always widening, they see men's pay proportioned to ability. On the other hand, within the church they see the minister often overworked, always underpaid; usually standing more upon others' good will than upon his own merits; for the most part, left thoughtlessly to do unaided what he tries to do, but criticized attentively for what he has not tried to do. What wonder then that schools of divinity, little by little, have adopted the delicate policy of approaching young men with outspoken solicitation and inducement, or that laymen wonder whether theological deans are chosen for what they can do at home or for what they can say afield?

"The propriety of this active policy per se, no one is likely to question. There was once a proverb that good wine needs no bush; but no one hears it now, except as some teacher explains it in a French class. And yet in the case of divinity schools, invitation with inducement cannot be carried far without mischief to all concerned."

THAT THIRD TERM.

Our friends to the South, particularly those located in the southern part of the United States, seem against a "Third Term" for their Chief Magistrate. A New Orleans' paper has the following editorial along that line, as follows:

"In St. Louis the old-line Republicans who took an active interest in the anti-third term campaign of 1880 and opposed the re-election of General Grant, although personally friendly to him, have started a movement to oppose to the bitter end the re-election of any President for a third term regardless of objections based on the fitness of the aspirant. They admit that in the present instance the objection is strongly accentuated by the personality of Roosevelt, but the pledge which they have signed, and which it is expected will be signed by thousands of Republicans, elsewhere before the Chicago convention meets, is as follows:

Whereas, We firmly believe that "the wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form," and means that no person should hold that high office for more than two terms, whether such terms are consecutive or not; and,

Whereas, Theodore Roosevelt, in violation of said custom, in violation of his former declarations and promises, seeks by means heretofore unprecedented to become the nominee of the Republican party for the presidency;

Now, therefore, we, the undersigned, members of the Republican party of the United States of America, hereby pledge ourselves that, even in case he would become such nominee, we will not support him, but use such honorable means as we deem most effective to defeat his election.

In the light of this pledge, which the old-time Republicans have made, it is quite clear that the "call" to which Roosevelt responded was not so general and imperative as he considered it. And it is also clear that the high position taken by the third-term candidate is based upon the merest sophistry when it is met by an outburst of indignation from good Republicans whom nothing hitherto has had the power to drive out of the Republican party.

"Colonel Roosevelt explains his candidacy by saying that he was "dragged into the campaign," but the old-time Republicans do not believe it and are determined to do what they can to drag him out of it."

Health For Every Woman No More Headaches

From Weakness and Despair Thousands have Been Restored to Robust Good Health by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

That sick women are made well by Dr. Hamilton's Pills is proved in the following letter:

"For years I was thin and delicate, I lost color and was easily tired; a yellow pallor, pimples and blotches on my face were not only mortifying to my feelings, but because I thought my skin would never look nice again, I grew despondent. Then my appetite failed. I grew very weak. Various remedies, pills, tonics and tablets I tried without permanent benefit. A visit to my sister put into my hands a box o Dr. Hamilton's Pills. She placed reliance upon them, and now that they have made me a well woman I would not be without them whatever they might cost.

"I found Dr. Hamilton's Pills, by their mild yet searching action very suitable to the delicate character of a woman's nature. They never once griped me, yet they established regularity. My appetite grew—my blood red and pure—heavy rings under my eyes disappeared, and to-day my skin is as clear and unwrinkled as when I was a girl. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

The above straightforward letter from Mrs. J. Y. Todd, wife of a well-known citizen in Rogersville, is proof sufficient that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a wonderful woman's medicine. Use no other pill but Dr. Hamilton's 25c per box. All dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Editorial Notes

This year the empty market basket has defeated the full dinner pail for a place in the U. S. presidential campaign.

"Is tobacco immoral?" asks The New York World. If the editor of that paper should come down this way and buy cigars from a Louisville and Nashville train boy he would be convinced that some tobacco is.

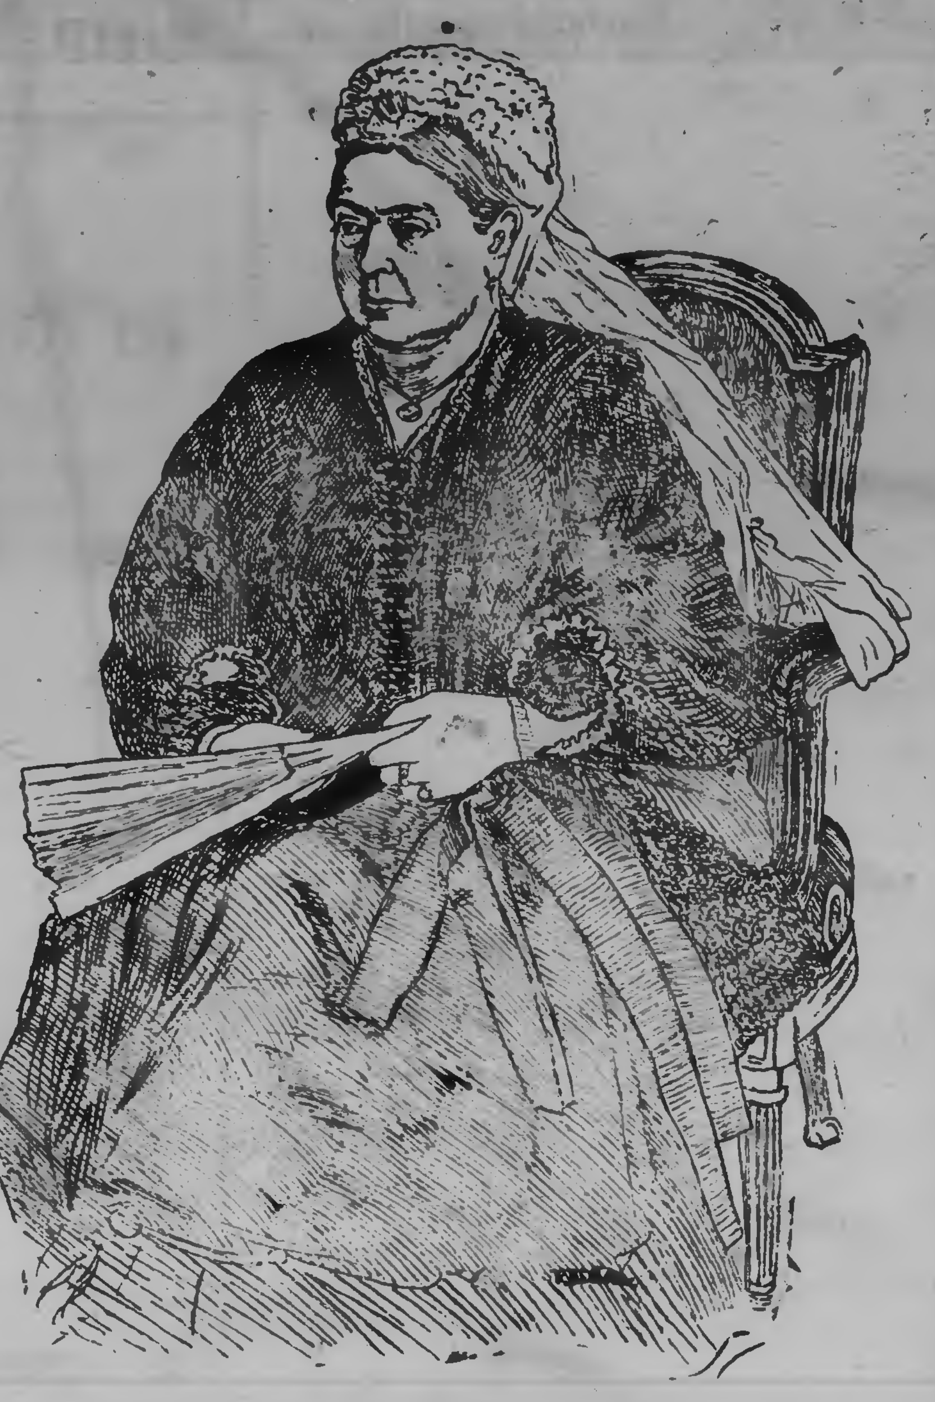
The Hon. Ted. Roosevelt says he will not go to Chicago, and in the meantime a great many Republicans are endeavoring to fix things so that he will not go to Washington, either.

"My greatest asset," says the Hon. Ted. "is that I have never been excited over my candidacy one way or the other." His lovely calmness is evidenced by the number of knots, bumps and bruises that may be seen on the noble front of the Hon. Bill Taft.

During his recent visit to Athens, so the London papers tell us, Emperor William took a pick and helped to dig up an ancient temple. Certain eminent men in this country are now busy digging up, not ancient temples, but personal records of a rather odoriferous character.

In a speech in the United States Senate the other day Senator Nelson extolled the superiority of straight whiskey to all kinds of blends and mixtures. "You can always tell," he said, "whether a man has taken straight whiskey by the smell of his breath." Not always, Senator, after the man has gone to the cold lunch table and eaten onion salad, dried herrings and Swiss cheese. Then there is nothing straight in the smell of his breath.

A single word was often sufficient for Talleyrand to make his keenest retort, says the Kansas City Star. When a hypochrondiac, who had notoriously led a profligate life, complained to the diplomatist that he was enduring the tortures of hell. Tallyrand simply answered, "Already?" To a woman who has lost her husband Talleyrand once addressed a letter of condolence in two words: "Oh, madame." In less than a year the woman had married again, and then his letter of congratulation was: "Ah, madame!"



THE LATE QUEEN VICTORIA

BORN AT KENSINGTON PALACE, LONDON, MAY 24th, 1819. DIED AT BALMORAL CASTLE, JAN 22, 1904

A SEAGULL CAUSED AN AVIATORS DEATH

Pasadena, Cal., May 20.—The body of a seagull tightly wedged between the fusilage and the rudder of his aeroplane, which broke the control wire when he tried to turn his sky craft out over the ocean, was the cause of the death of Galbraith P. Rogers, transcontinental aviator, at Long Beach ten weeks ago. This is the statement given out by Mrs. Mabel Rodgers, the widow. Verification is given by Frank Shafer, chief mechanician for Rodgers, who found the dead gulf entangled in the mechanism.

Mrs Rodgers declared that her husband's greatest fear while making flights at the beach was the danger that a gull would become entangled in the control devices of his air craft.

Instead of pursuing the gulls, as has been alleged, Rodgers was endeavoring to avoid them, says Mrs. Rodgers.

HERE IS A WOMAN OF VERY FEW WORDS

TELLS WHY SHE RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Upper St. Rose, Gloucester Co., N. B., May 24.—(Special.)—"Dodd's kidney Pills are a grand medicine for suffering women." In those words Laura Robichaud, a well known and highly respected resident of this place, voices her sentiments in regard to the grand old Canadian Kidney Remedy. And like others who have borne similar testimony, she has borne testimony, she speaks from experience:

"I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills because they cured me," Miss Robichaud says. "I was in a general run-down condition. I had dark circles under my eyes, and my kidneys bothered me. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills fixed me up."

This statement is made up of few words, but it described the exact condition of thousands of women in Canada. They are run down, have dark circles under their eyes, and they amy not even know it, but their kidneys are bothering them. If they follow Laura Robichaud's example and use Dodd's Kidney Pills they will cure their kidneys, and good health will follow naturally.

THE MARKETS

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 23.—Alarm regarding suggestions of crop damage southwest and west ran up the price of wheat to-day in a hurry. Sudden hot weather here made dealers ready to credit rumors of disaster from high winds and dust storms. The result was a net advance of 2c to 2 1-4c to 2 3-8c a bushel. All the other leading staples, too, swept upward—corn 5-8c to 2 1-4c, oats 1c to 1 5-8c and provisions 5c to 47 1-2c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ½d to 1d higher than yesterday on wheat, and ⅛d to ¼d lower on corn.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 22.—There was a decided improvement in the demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat at an advance in prices of 1½d to 2d per quarter, but owing to the advance of 1½c per bushel in Winnipeg no business could be worked, but a lot of wheat was bought by exporters to fill freight. There was some enquiry for oats from European sources, but bids were out of line. The local business was quiet. Flour is firm, but business continues quiet. A stronger feeling has developed in the butter market, and prices have advanced ¼c to ½c per pound, owing to the continued good demand from the west. Cheese is more active and firm. Eggs active and steady.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 22.—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the receipts of live stock for the week ending May 18 were 650 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs, 1600 hogs and 1850 calves. The offerings on the market this morning consisted of 450 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs and 1600 calves.

An active trade was done in cattle, there being a good demand from both butchers and packers, as they were all short of supplies, and the market in consequence was cleaned up early at firm prices. Top quality steers sold at $8; good at $7.50 to $7.75, and the lower grades from that down to $5 to $6.50 per 100 lbs. There was a brisk demand for butchers' cows and sales were made freely at from $4 to $6.75, and the bulls offered brought from $4.50 to $6.25 per 100 pounds.

The demand for sheep and lambs was brisk, and prices ruled firm, with sales of sheep at from $2 to $6 each, and spring lambs at from $4 to $6 each, while calves sold freely at from $3 to $8 each. The tone of the market for hogs was strong and prices were firmly maintained, with an active trade in selected lots, at $8.75 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

SON FORGES.

A. J. Thornton Arrested for Alleged Forging of His Father's Name

New Orleans, May 22.—By trailing three women and a child for several hours Saturday evening, Detective James Brewer and Special Officers Harry O. Gregson and Louis Behrman, with Deputy Sheriff A. C. Scott, of Moss Point, Miss., succeeded in arresting A. J. Thornton, aged 18, who is wanted in that town on the charge of forgery.

Thornton, who was arrested in Mobile, Ala., on a similar charge some time ago, was taken into custody as he was about to enter his lodgings at Hoyle's hotel, Rampart and Tulane avenue. His parents, who live at Bay St. Louis, Miss., are said to be wealthy, and are now sojourning in California.

Young Thornton is alleged to have forged his father's name to a check for $30, drawn on a local bank, and cashed at the Pascagoula National Bank, of Moss Point, Miss. At the time of his arrest in Mobile for forgery, it is said, his father came to the rescue and succeeded in having the charge dropped.

Deputy Sheriff Scott came on the same train Saturday evening as did a young woman whom Thornton is said to have married in Pensacola, Fla., some time ago.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Wharf or Retaining Wall at Owen Sound, Ont." will be received at this office until 4.00 p.m., on Tuesday, June 4, 1912, for the construction of a Wharf or Retaining Wall at Owen Sound, Grey County, Ont.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the offices of J. G. Sing, Esq., District Engineer, Confederation Life Building, Toronto Ont.; H. J. Lamb, Esq., District Engineer, Windsor, Ont., and on application to the Postmaster at Owen Sound, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupation and place of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable, the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

LAKEFIELD

The Cavendish Lumber Co.'s mill commenced operations on Wednesday with a full staff of men.

Mr. E. Avery, who has been spending the past two months in the west returned to the village last week.

Mr. A. D. Moore returned to his home in Kenora, Ont., last week after spending a week in the village.

While visiting at Burleigh Falls last week Master Aubrey Darcy met with a severe accident. He was driving a horse when one of the shafts of the buggy gave way and frightened the horse, causing it to run away. Aubrey was thrown out, with the result that he received a severe wound on the head and was badly shaken up.

Miss Florence Little, of Douro, spent Sunday with Miss Minnie Murphy.

Mr. H. G. Armstrong, of the Traders Bank staff, spent Sunday in Peterborough.

Mr. D. Bruce Ridpath, of Toronto, is at present in the village visiting friends and renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. Roland Johnson, of Port Hope was in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. Theodore Crawford spent a few days in Toronto last week on business.

Mr. Chas. Robson, of Havelock, spent Sunday in the village visiting friends.

Mr. J. McJannett, of Toronto, was the guest of Mr. Chas. Thompson on Tuesday.

Mr. Robert Quinlan, of Havelock, was in the village on Sunday visiting friends.

APSLEY

The Apsley Cheese Factory commenced operations Monday 20th. It was a bad day for the milk drawers as it rained heavy all morning. We have had several days' steady rain and it is keeping back the planting and late seeding.

Mr. James Downing returned from Lakefield Saturday evening with the engine for their saw mill, and will be able to commence cutting in a few days

The drive of logs for the Peterborough Lumber Co., is making good progress down Eels Creek.

Mr. John Bullied, of Chandos, lost a fine young mare last week valued at $200.00.

Mr. Alford, auctioneer of Lakefield, conducted two sales here last week, one for Mr. H. T. Everett of Chandos, who is moving to Peterborough, and that of Mr. Jos. Payne, South Burleigh. Mr. Payne is going to reside in Toronto.—Good prices were realized at both sales.

Two evangelists from Toronto are holding revival meetings in Apsley and will be here for a week or so. The brethren are also holding a series of meetings at Clanricarde. The Ladies' Aid had a general clean-up of the Methodist Church here Saturday and they certainly got busy, as the church presented a bright and attractive appearance Sunday. A large congregation attended the evening service.

The house recently occupied by Dr. Bell has been vacant since the doctor left.

The young folks had anotner dance Friday night at the home of Mr. Dane, and kept it up till morning.

Miss Graham, teacher at Chandos was the guest of Mrs. B. Coone Saturday.

means an isolated case. Mr. G. Evanture, M.P.P., should come to Plantagenet and enquire for the "remains" of the Model school which at one time according to his statement, did such efficient work under the treatment of Mr. D. Chenay. So far as my memory serves, Mr. Chenay worked alone. He had no assistants. And no one questions the fact that under these circumstances he did the best for his pupils that one man could for a large class of young people who, for the most part, would have been staggered if they had had to pass the entrance examination required by our High Schools, before becoming candidates for teachers' certificates at the end (very often) of only six months' tuition.

But this is the lamentable fact, the teachers turned out of the Plantagenet Model School during the Chenay regime had not given sufficient time to their studies to be efficient in any line of work. On the ashes of this Chenay school (literally) has sprung up the Plantagenet High School. This school is doing good work, but has to contend with some occult force which is striving hard to curtail its usefulness. To wit: Since the advent of the Plantagenent, and the advantages of the instruction given in this monastery over that given at Plantagenet has been heralded far and wide. It is a boarding school, and I am informed that tuition, board, lodgings and books are all furnished for very much less than pupils outside of this school have to pay for board alone. The fact is this Hidden Force is determined to have none of this Plantagenet High School

"Ignorance is the mother of devotion." However, there are still a fair proportion of French-Canadians in attendance, and if the laity were left to themselves ninety per cent of them would prefer to have a good education in English. That they have not must be laid to the charge of their clergy and not to their own free choice.

There is not the slightest doubt but the ambition of the clergy is to make Ontario a French province.

And if this movement is not earnesely combatted now the chances are that they will succeed. The surest way of breaking the strangle-hold that the priests have on their people is to give their children an education in our primary schools. Would this lead to rebellion? Assuredly not. Not from cowardice on the part of French Canadians. While they haven't the swinging dash of the men from Glengarry (county south of Prescott) nor the rollicking, devil-may-care of the Irish, nor the apparent apathy of the South Briton when facing death, yet it would be highly unfair to call these descendants of the children of La Belle France cowards. But the fact that they are only about one-twentieth of the population of the province shows to the clergy, their leaders, the utter futility of making any militant resistance.

But short of doing away with separate schools, a less radical and not expensive movement would be to abolish all Roman Catholic separate school inspectors. The authority which these men insist on asserting when abetted by their clergy, would not be believed if I stated this in a letter. There is only one way of limiting their usefulness to the Roman Catholic clergy, and that is to remove every man of them from office. Another effective movement would be to make the office of public school inspector a government appointment. So long as county councils have a say in who shall have this office, just so long as there is a Council where the French have the majority, will they proceed to terrorize and hold the sword of Damocles over the head of the inspector. Few men have the courage to quarrel with their bread and butter. And at the present time that is the position in which many inspectors find themselves. They must either obey the Roman Catholic hierarchy or quit.

Home Rule, as we have it in some counties in Ontario, is Home Rule with a vengeance.

Yours fraternally,
—W. J. DERBY.

KNOWS HOW.

Doctor Was Fooled By His Own Case For a Time.

It's easy to understand how ordinary people get fooled by coffee when doctors themselves sometimes forget the facts.

A physician speaks of his own experience:

"I had used coffee for years and really did not exactly believe what was injuring me although I had palpitation of the heart every day. (Tea contains caffeine—the same drug as found in coffee, and is just as harmful as coffee.)

"Finally one day a severe and almost fatal attack of heart trouble frightened me and I gave up both tea and coffee using Postum instead and since that time I have had absolutely no heart palpitation except on one or two occasions when I tried a small quantity of coffee, which caused severe irritation and proved to me I must let it alone.

"When we began using Postum it seemed weak—that was because we did not make it according to directions—but now we put a little butter in the pot when boiling and allow the Postum to boil full 15 minutes, which gives it the proper rich flavour and the deep brown color.

"I have advised a great many of my friends and patients to leave off coffee and drink Postum, in fact, I daily give this advice." Name given by the Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Many thousands of physicians use Postum in place of tea and coffee in their own homes and prescribe it to patients.

"There's a Reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

CANADA BEHIND.

Other Dominions Exported More Butter to Britain.

That Canada during the past ten years has lagged far behind Australia and New Zealand in exporting butter to Great Britain, is shown by comparative figures prepared by the department of trade and commerce. Since 1902, when Canada sent 285,-766 cwt., the exports have steadily declined, except in 1906, till last year they amounted only to 61,936 cwt. Australian butter exports in the same period increased from 80,397 cwt., to 874,399 cwt., and New Zealand from 157,903 cwt., to 276,446 cwt. Canadian cheese exports have also declined, while New Zealand exports have increased. Australia sent comparatively little in this period. There have been, says the departmental report, good causes for Canada's decrease in exports of butter to the United Kingdom. This apparently refers to the increased home consumption.

Grand Trunk Railway Affords Splendid Facilities for Tourists.

In connection with the seashore resorts on the Connecticut coast of Long Island Sound, near New London, Conn., on the line of the Grand Trunk Railway's New England system, a series of attractive and comfortable cottages can be rented for the summer. This is a beautiful spot and new to Canadians. It will no doubt attract a number of people from Canada this year. The Grand Trunk are inaugurating a new train service, leaving Montreal at 8 p.m. daily except Sunday, arriving at New London 8.00 a.m. this train to go into effect on June 24th.

GREEKS RESENT AN INSULT

Appeal to Their Consul Because Deputy Sheriff Takes Down Their Flag.

Boston, Mass., May 23.—Because a Greek flag had been yanked down and torn by a deputy sheriff in an Attleboro club Saturday night, several hundred Greek-Americans held an indignation meeting yesterday at the Greek church on Winchester street, in the South end. It was decided to refer the matter to the Greek embassy at Washington through the Boston consul and to ask Gov. Foss to use his efforts for the removal of Deputy Sheriff John Nervey and Charles Wilbur, chief of police of Attleboro.

The flag, torn and soiled, according to those at the meeting, is now in the hands of the Greek consul in this city.

According to statements by members of the club to T. T. Timayenis, the Greek flag was no higher than an American flag with which it was crossed above a clock. Mr. Nervey and Chief Wilbur say that the Greek flag was a foot higher. Over the telephone, to a Herald reporter, Mr. Nervey admitted he had pulled the Greek flag down and torn it. The chief said that the flag had not been torn. Mr. Timayenis's information was that Mr. Nervey also had trampled on the flag and thrown it at the proprietot of the place, saying, "Wipe your nose with it." That was denied by the two officials.

Mr. Timayenis was told further that the chief drew his revolver and kept it pointed at 30 indignant Greeks as he and the deputy sheriff backed out of the room. The official said that no pistol was shown.

Greek Colony Aroused.

Early yesterday morning all the members of the club who witnessed the affair came to Boston. First they visited Mr. Timayenis at his home, 216 Newbury street. He is editor of the Eastern and Western Review, and perhaps the most prominent Greek-American in the state.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Frank Flood.

Mr. Frank Flood, formerly with the Peterborough Lumber Co., has passed away, his death taking place in Lakefield.

The late Mr. Flood is survived by a sorrowing wife, five sons and five daughters, namely: Mrs. Gilman, Teresa and Amelia of Peterborough; Mrs. Coleman and Mary, both residing in the States; William, Joseph, Hugh, Francis and Michael, all of Peterborough. Deceased was very well known in this vicinity and those who regret his demise are not few.

The remains arrived in Peterborough yesterday and the funeral will take place this morning. At nine o'clock the cortege will proceed from the family residence, 138 Perry street to the Sacred Heart church and from thence to St. Peter's cemetery for interment.

Mr. George Webber.

Another of Peterborough's oldest and best known citizens has passed away in the person of Mr. George Webber, of "Stonehedge," North Monaghan.

The deceased was 70 years of age and was born in Charnley, Devonshire, England. He was only a boy when he came to Peterborough with his father, the late Mr. Giles Webber. In his earlier years Mr. Webber entered into the cattle dealing business and has been engaged in it all his life. In all the long and broad county of Peterborough, both east and west, few men were better, or more favorably known, than Mr. Webber. He leaves to mourn his loss, two sons and one daughter—the sons are Mr. Harry G. and Frank Webber, both on the homestead farm and one daughter, Mrs. H. C. Wright (Leila) Martinsburg, West Virginia. One sister, Mrs. H. McClennan, 326 Charlotte street, also survive him, besides many nephews and nieces. In religion Mr. Webber adhered to the Baptist church, and in politics was a staunch, but fair-minded Conservative.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30—religious service at the family residence, Stonehedge, Gravel Road, North Monaghan. Interment at Little Lake

Rev. E. Vickers Stephenson of Plainfield, N.J., is in the city on a visit to his mother, Mrs. J. G. Stephenson, 364 Simcoe street, preliminary to an European tour he intends making this summer.

Calgary's civic bill for wages last week was $96,312.25. How would our local ratepayers like such a proposition?

GOVERNMENT MONEY FOR YOU!!!

Ottawa, May 11th, 1912.
L. T. Marechal, K. C.,
Montreal.

"The Government having again heard you, as well as other delegates on the important question of the Montreal tunnel, has approved of the project, and the matter of bond guarantees has been referred for the consideration of the consulting engineer of the Department of Railways, to whom the documents and other information have been immediately forwarded

"F. D. MONK."

Montreal Star, May 13.

BELLEVILLE

ST. LAMBERT

Positively Adjoins the Tunnel Co.'s Property

Every man who buys a Lot at Belleville at to-day's opening prices, will see the Government increasing the value of his property with every spadeful of earth excavated. But does not rely on the tunnel or the bridge of the near future for its transportation or its present day value.

BELLEVILLE

To-day the Montreal and Southern Counties Railway runs to within a few yards of Belleville. Get off at Coteau Rouge road and follow the signs.

To-day the new electric line is complete along the whole of one side of Belleville, and only awaits the turning on of the electric current for cars to run there.

To-day men are busily at work enlarging the South Shore Subway in order that a still better service may be given to Belleville.

Belleville lots actually adjoin the town of St. Lambert. We mention this because some people consider the South Shore anywhere between Montreal and Boston.

Belleville lots are all GUARANTEED to be the highest and driest anywhere near St. Lambert. Our sidewalks, for instance, will not have to be two feet above the ground level to keep your feet out of the water.

Belleville has churches, schools, and post-office adjoining it.

Belleville is ripe for you to build on to-day, if you wish, and if you want to invest in a safe, sound, profitable real estate.

Belleville—Suppose you fill in the coupon and mail it to us, or bring it to our office and get plans, details, and free car tickets. You ought to see Belleville to-morrow afternoon or Sunday, when you will speedily realize that Belleville is the finest investment on the market.

AGENTS ON THE PROPERTY TO-DAY AND EVERY DAY.

To The Investor:

You want to make money.

You want to be independent before you are too old to enjoy the best things in life.

You know some who have done this, and others who are on the high road to wealth and ease.

How can you do it most surely without any chance of failure? By putting your spare money where it will earn the greatest increase.

Real Estate never rests. From the moment you buy machinery, or any of the necessities of life, depreciation sets in. There is no business in the world except that of Real Estate that has no depreciation account on its books. Andrew Carnegie said: "The wise wage earner of to-day invests his money Surburban Real Estate." Another well-known millionaire stated that "the best way to acquire wealth is to get possession of a good chunk of earth a few miles from a growing city and wait for the city to grow out to it."

No one can afford to pass over without thought such opinions as these.

Examples of the increase in realty values in the Cities of Western Canada are of interest. Four lots on the corner of 2nd street and 7th Avenue, Calgary, increased from $500 to $70,000 in a few years. In 1901 the North East corner of Portage Ave and Magee street, Winnipeg, sold for $12.50 per foot. To-day it is worth $650 per foot. On the 2nd of December 1909 a 50-foot lot on the corner of 25th street and 2nd Ave, Saskatoon, sold for $500. Sixteen months later on April 20th, 1911, the fortunate owners sold out at $30,000.

$2400 was the figure paid in 1907 for a lot on Fairford Ave, Moose Jaw. To-day it would find a ready sale at $20,000, and these profits were made by using judgment, courage and spare money.

Real Estate is the most solid security that human ingenuity ever devised, but you must not let your wishbone change places with your backbone. You must satisfy yourself by investigation of the city in question that it is RIGHT. You must be sure the proposition and the people behind it are RIGHT, then go ahead. Don't wait for others to get in and make you pay part of the increase, but get in first.

Considerable excitement was created in a Kentucky town when the editor of the local paper announced that he had seen a number of white rats with brown stripes on them like a zebra. But after taking a second thought the citizens realized that the bourbon whiskey which has made Kentucky famous is capable of supplying anything that the fauna of the State may lack.

Hon. Ted Roosevelt says he is in favor of a protective tariff, but wishes it to be so arranged that a proper proportion of the benefits will go to the workingman. This is an easy way to get around the tariff question and will please the special interests who heretofore have so arranged things that the "proper proportion" is kept in their own pockets.

CANADIAN FIREPROOFING IMPREGNATION CO. LTD.

Authorized Capital: $200.000
Divided Into 20.000 Shares, Par Value, $10.00

Send us your order for Antignol today it may be to late tomorrow

This Company has been formed to market a new invention by which wood can be made fireproof. This invention consists of a chemical compound called "Antignol," in which the wood is either immersed for about 24 hours, or—and that applies especially to houses already built—which may be applied to the wood twice or three times with a brush. The solution penetrates deep into the substance of the wood, and after the evaporation of the liquid parts leaves a deposit, which cannot be removed or washed out by rain or moisture of any kind.

Wood impregnated with Antignol will resist fire. Even in a fierce blaze, fed by great quantities of highly inflammable contents of a house or other building, the woodwork would be charred to a small depth, as even bricks or other non-combustible material would, but it would not develop flames itself, therefore not maintain nor conduct the fire. The latter would die out as soon as the source of it was removed or had exhausted itself.

To illustrate this on an every-day occurrence let us take the case of a lamp being overturned, or a burning match or cigar dropped on a carpet or other material easily ignited. The contents of a room, curtains, furniture, etc., would in an instant be aflame, and the whole building would be ablaze and destroyed—with the adjoining buildings included in the destruction—in spite of all efforts to fight the conflagration. In a building impregnated with Antignol that would not be the case. The accident would be confined to the room in which it occurred. The contents of the same would, of course, burn out as well (though at some future time when impregnation will be more general and extended to curtains, furniture, etc., this might be prevented too), but the structure would resist the fire long enough to give people a chance to extinguish it or to allow the fire to die down after the contents of the room had been consumed. ...

As even the most disastrous conflagrations necessarily originate from such small beginnings, which it has not been possible to check in time, and as we have shown, that these initial stages of every fire of the ordinary kind can by means of our impregnations be kept under control or rendered comparatively harmless, the majority of fires in frame buildings may be prevented.

This Is a Bold Statement. But It is True

It is not only verified by leading experts of official standing, but we have made arrangements to demonstrate the efficacy of our impregnation to anyone calling at our offices.

Besides fireproofing the wood Antignol has all the properties of the other wood-preserving impregnation fluids, namely, protecting the wood against decay, germs of decomposition, fungi, etc. It is, therefore, applicable to railway sleepers, telegraph poles, ships, boats, etc.

In a country where disastrous fires occur with an awe-inspiring frequency, where the annual fire-waste is $2.50 per capita, as compared with 30 cents per capita in the old countries, where 25 per cent. of all new buildings simply replace those destroyed by fire—it is well nigh impossible to over-estimate the general and commercial importance of our enterprise.

The Directors of the Company are all experienced business men, and with a market that for a long time to come will be far ahead of our manufacturing capacity, everyone must realize that the shares of this Company offer quite exceptional opportunities for profits.

Stops a Cough IN ONE NIGHT

CATARRH AND WEAK THROAT NOW CURED WITHOUT SWALLOWING DANGEROUS DRUGS.

By Breathing the Soothing, Healing Vapor of Catarrhozone All Throat and Catarrhal Trouble is Quickly Cured.

It's simply wonderful to think how quickly a bad throat or catarrh can be cured with Catarrhozone. Its rich balsamic vapor is carried along with the breath into the innermost recesses of the lungs, bronchial tubes and chest, making it impossible for the germ of any disease to live. Thus soreness in the chest is at once alleviated—phelgm is loosened and ejected from the throat, old-standing coughs are removed.

"I suffered from an irritable, weak, throat for three years. I had a severe cough, pain over the eyes, constant bad taste in my mouth and noises in my ears. It was chronic catarrh. Nothing gave permanent relief till I used Catarrhozone. In one hour it relieved, and in a few weeks drove all trace of catarrh from my system.

MATTHEWS A. SALMON
"No 6 Lopez street, Kingston, Ja'

REMEMBER THIS—You breathe Catarrhozone and it will cure any throat, chest or bronchial cold. Large size, guaranteed, costs $1.00 and lasts two months; smaller sizes, 25c and 50c. Beware of imitations and insist on "CATARRHOZONE" only. By mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

To illustrate the advertising that professional ball will give the city, it might be noted that the Great Northwest Telegraph Co., had a man and an instrument in the new grand stand.

Soccers Go Out of Town.

Three of Peterborough's soccer teams will be playing out of town today. The C.G.E. team will play a Midland League senior fixture in Bethany; the St. James church Juniors go to Warsaw for a Junior League game, and the All Saints' eleven play an exhibition game in Stirling.

A Correction.

In referring to the booth of Mrs. Coulthard and Mrs. Rubidge at the Summer Fair, which opens in the Armouries on Monday, a mistake appeared in our issue of yesterday. The item should have read that parties are requested to send to the Armouries on Monday next any articles EXCEPT clothing that they wish to dispose of. We are pleased to make the above correction.

To-day's Big Ball Game.

All records for baseball attendances in Peterborough will be shattered to-day, when the Guelph and Peterborough Canadian League teams meet at Riverside Park in the morning and afternoon—two games. Although the White Caps dropped at the first, the fans have by no means lost hope, and they will be out in full force to root for Manager Templin's team to-day. The morning game will be called at 10 o'clock and the afternoon engagement at 3.

Steamer Wanetta Sunk.

Havelock Standard: The steamboat "Wanetta," employed in towing cement and supplies from Hastings to Healey Falls, was sunk at Trent River on Tuesday afternoon. The steamer was going up stream, and when just above the bridge, lost her wheel. The boat was smashed up against the piers and drifted under the bridge, smashing the superstructure, and finally sank opposite Wright's wharf. Some of the crew had a narrow escape from drowning.

More Hydro-Electric.

Following the example set by Peterborough, another extension of the Hydro-Electric system in the Midland district is contemplated. Two weeks ago it was announced that several towns, such as Barrie, Collingwood, Coldwater and others in that vicinity, would submit by-laws to the ratepayers. This time, on the other side of Lake Simcoe, an agitation has arisen to secure power from the Commission under the contract with the Simcoe Power Company. This power is developed at Big Chute Falls on the Severn River.

Leather is What Pays.

Mr. W. Percy Gillespie, of Messrs. W. Percy Gillespie & Co., investment brokers, who has been in the city for the past few days, returned home last night. During his stay in the city Mr. Gillespie interested a number of local capitalists in the interests of Collis Leather Co., Ltd., of Aurora. Mr. Gillespie has one of the soundest propositions ever yet presented to the people of Peterborough and one that will undoubtedly pay big dividends from its inception. An advertisement of the Collis Leather Co. is appearing from day to day in The Times, and is well worth serious consideration by those looking for a safe and paying investment.

A SOUND INVESTMENT IN TORONTO REAL ESTATE.

This is what we are offering the readers of "The Times" in our newest Sub-Division:

"CALEDONIA PARK"

Anyone familiar with Toronto will agree with us when we say that the best part of the city for investment to-day is the NORTH-WEST SECTION.

In "CALEDONIA PARK" you may purchase land where the district east, west, and south, is almost entirely built up.

The St. Clair Avenue car line will be in operation in about eight months, as the rails are now laid past our property. This, of course, will cause a decided enhancement in land values in the St. Clair Avenue district. "CALEDONIA PARK" lying just two blocks (about four minutes' walk) north of St. Clair, will naturally benefit very much.

The entire block is RESTRICTED to solid brick, or brick veneer houses, which will provide a district absolutely first class, and where houses will sell from $2700 to $4000 each.

A new brick school is just being completed at a cost of about $100,000, on the south side of INNES AVENUE, ONE OF THE STREETS IN "CALEDONIA PARK."

A local builder has just purchased a large strip of land and SIX solid brick houses will be commenced in a very short time.

Toronto investors, men who know values, are purchasing in "Caledonia Park," as they know there is money to be made at the opening low prices of—

$14 to $25 Per Foot

Write us for complete information. We will gladly forward plans and descriptive folder to any address. We know what we are offering, and can, with confidence, recommend "CALEDONIA PARK" lots to the Investor. Ten days' selling has disposed of $60,000.00 worth of lots.

WE REPEAT—We will refund the railroad fare to any purchaser within 150 miles of Toronto.

You can buy in "CALEDONIA PARK" on VERY EASY TERMS: 20 per cent. down and 20 per cent. every six months.

One feature worthy of note is that these lots are DEEP. We are aware that some properties on the market at the present time are only about eighty feet deep. OUR LOTS AVERAGE 124 FEET IN DEPTH TO A WIDE LANE.

Reservations may be made without risk to the purchaser. We will hold for three days what we consider the best available land. You can look the property over yourself, and if absolutely satisfied, make the purchase. We have many clients who act upon our judgment. They have realized splendid profits. You can do the same.

WEDDING BELLS

Conroy — Carveth.

Yesterday morning a pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Peter's Cathedral, when Mr. Francis C. Conroy, son of Mr. David Conroy, Hunter street east, and Miss Marion Carveth, daughter of Mr. Henry Carveth, of 320 Charlotte street were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. McColl. The bride was attired in white satin, entraine, with pearl trimmings, and carrying a shower bouquet, walked up the aisle leaning on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away. Miss Veronica Carveth, was bridesmaid, while Mr. Herb. Conroy acted as best man. After the usual wedding breakfast, the young couple left for New York and other seaside points. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Conroy will spend the summer in North Bay, where the former has secured a contract, and at the expiration of that time they will return to Peterborough.

MacDonald — Ray.

A the bride's home, 564 George street, on Wednesday, May 22nd, the wedding was solemnized of Miss May Ray, of this city, to Mr. Neil MacDonald, of Orillia. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church.

ROSEDALE LOTS

Most citizens of Peterboro' are aware that Rosedale, of Toronto, is the High Class Residential District of that city. Where naught but blue blood is to be found, and where residence therein is a passport to high society. It was sub-divided and put on the market by a Scotch syndicate about 35 years ago, at $20.00 per front foot, and it is now selling at from $75.00 to $250.00 per foot. About the same time the high class citizens of Peterboro' determined to keep step with Toronto, quickly selected and sub-divided that beautiful block of land north of Smith Street, east of Jackson Park, west from Normal School, and Chemong Road. Having gone so far, they wearied of well-doing, leaving the task of putting on the market to your humble servant, in the late afternoon of life, and because of that lateness, and of the superior High Class Property, I am offering at a fraction of it's value five years hence. I most respectfully solicit your early investigation, believing that when you see the property, hear my price and terms, you will be pleased to accept at once. And as I want the assistance of every good man and woman in this meritorious work of furnishing home-foundations and the safest and most profitable way to invest and save, small or large sums of money. And in return for this assistance I agree to pay 5 per cent. of the net price, at which each lot is sold, to the Treasurer of the Church to which the buyer belongs. I will do this as a precedent for others to follow my example. Payable out of half money received from buyer. Bear in mind, I only own 38 lots in what I have properly named "The Heart of Rosedale", and you or your descendants will buy that property soon, or later at 5 or 10 times my price. Is it not in your interest to buy now, and use or sell later at big profits as many others have done? It is always safe to buy wheat or gold dollars, when they are offered at half value, and that is what you are doing when you buy lots in "The Heart of Rosedale."

Unavoidable delay compels me to name June 5th, as the opening day for sale of those lots. In the meantime, I suggest that every auto owner in the city, in his own interests, not only to go himself, but to take all his big friends with him, to carefully inspect and fully verify my statements.

Plans, and further information will be available in a few days.

QUEBEC SAYS NE TEMERE VIOLATES PROVINCIAL RIGHTS

Today Her Lawyers Will Move That the Marriage Case Be Dismissed by the Supreme Court--Auguste Lemieux Defends Her Course.

Ottawa, May 25.—That the Province of Quebec is animated by constitutiknal grounds alone in its opposition to the reference of the marriage case to the Supreme Court is the contention of Mr. Auguste Lemieux, K.C., the legal representative of the Province of Quebec at Ottawa.

Mr. Lemieux puts the case clearly in the following interview which ought to clear up many misconceptions as to the reason why Quebec is appearing in the marriage case.

Quebec is not acting because it is a French and Catholic Province. It is acting solely on constitutional grounds in its capacity of one member of the sisterhood of Provinces, and, moreover, it is relying largely upon grounds put forward by the Province of Ontario itself.

Mr. Auguste Lemieux is one of the executive of the Ontario Bar Association, and is well known in both Ontario and Quebec as a leader at the junior bar.

A Case of Sub-Judice.

"As the marriage reference is sub-judice before the Supreme Court," said Mr. Lemieux, "it might be out of place for me to discuss, in the public press, all the intricacies of that important constitutional case which is about to open, and, particularly, all the legal points that the counsel representing the Province of Quebec will raise next Monday.

"But I may, however, give you the outline of one of the contentions of the Province of Quebec as regards the reference in question.

"By an order-in-council approved by His Royal Highness the Governor-General on the 22nd February, 1912, the following questions were referred to the Supreme Court of Canada for hearing and consideration:

"'1. (a) Has the Parliament of Canada authority to enact in whole or in part Bill No. 3 of the First Session of the Twelfth Parliament of Canada, entitled, "An Act to amend the Marriage Act"?

"'The bill provides as follows:

"'1. The Marriage Act, chapter 106 of the Revised Statutes, 1906, is amended by adding thereto the following section:

"'"3. Every ceremony or form of marriage heretofore or hereafter performed by any person authorized to perform any ceremony of marriage by the laws of the place where it is performed, and duly performed according of such laws, shall everywhere within Canada be deemed to be a valid marriage, notwithstanding any differences in religious faith of the persons performing such marriage."'"

GERMAN ALDERMEN SHOWS HATRAD TO ENGLAND

Berlin, May 25.—The depth and persistency of the Anti-English feeling in Germany, which resulted from last summer's crisis in Anglo-German relations, was demonstrated today by the refusal of the Potsdam Board of Aldermen to vote funds for the entertainment of the British physicians who are to attend the convention of the Royal Institute of public Health in Culy. This convention enjoys the patronage of the highest official circles in Germany.

"England treated us abusively and shamefully," and "England, who is hostile to Germany wishes to press us against her icy bosom," are among the phrases uttered by the Aldermen of the city in which the Emperor has his residence, when giving their motives for their refusal to go to any expense in entertaining the British visitors.

CHAMBERLAIN GETS HAYS JOB AS GRAND TRUNK MANAGER

London, May 25.—Official announcement is made of the appointment of Mr. Edson Joseph Chamberlin vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co., to the presidency of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, to succeed Chas. M. Hays, who died in the Titanic disaster. Mr. Chamberlain has also been elected a member of the Grand Trunk Board of Directors, vice Mr. Hays.

Mr. Wainwright Steps Up.

Montreal, May 26.—Chairman Alfred W. Smithers, of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways, in announcing the appointment of E. J. Chamberlain to-day, added the following:

"Mr. William Wainwright, second vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, has been elected 1st vice-president. Mr. M. M. Reynolds, third vice-president, has been elected a director and second vice-president." This decision was reached at a Directors' meeting yesterday.

Mr. Smithers was asked if action would be taken shortly to appoint a general manager for the Grand Trunk Pacific, the newly elected president having held the dual position of vice president and general manager. He replied that the matter would of course, be taken up later on. He will leave Montreal about June 8th, returning the beginning of August.

The chairman also stated that after discussing the matter with officials of the company, he felt justified in announcing that the rails would be laid from Moncton to Prince Rupert by the Fall of 1914.

EMPIRE DINNER INAUGURATED BY DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

Toronto, May 26.—The Anglo-Japanese Treaty expires in 1915. The Panama Canal will be built in 1914. These considerations mean much for the Empire. Germany is determined to dominate Europe; Japan is equally determined to dominate the East. When 1915 arrives the Empire may find the Panama Canal of the utmost importance and its building may be the turning point of our destinies. He is the greatest enemy of the Empire who does not cultivate the friendship of that Nation with whom we share this continent, whose ideals and traditions are the same as our own, allied with whom the Empire can defy the world. Such was the striking statement made by Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., at the first annual Empire Dinner held in Convocation Hall last night, in responding to the toast, "Canada and a United Empire."

Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia were guests of honor at the gathering which was in some respects one of the most notable in the history of Toronto. Love of Empire and a sense of Imperial responsibilities were uppermost in the thought of 400 persons present. The presence of royalty at the first dinner of this kind ever held was a happy feature and made the success of the evening complete.

Prior to entering the banquet room the company assembled in the main auditorium of the hall. When the ducal party appeared all stood and the National Anthem was played on the new organ, permission having been given by the University authorities to use the organ for the first time on this occasion. Flowers were presented by Mrs. F. B. Featherstonhaugh to the Duchess and the Princess. The former was dressed in black, the Princess in cream.

Toast to the King.

In the banquet hall the Royal party were seated under a canopy behind which appeared the Imperial Arms. The walls of the room were decorated with alternate stripes of blue and white with clusters of flags at regular intervals. Streamers of ribbon formed an attractive covering for the orchestra stand.

After prayer by the Lord Bishop of Toronto, the toast of the King was drunk—"Selfless man and stainless gentleman."

To the Guest of Honor.

The toast to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught was proposed by Fred B. Featherstonhaugh, K. C., president of the Empire Club.

COMMISSION DECIDES COST OF LIVING TOO HIGH.

Baltimore, Md., May 25.—A committee of the "City-wide Congress" of Baltimore, which has been making an inquiry into the causes of the high cost of living, will this week submit its report. Summarized, it states that prices have been raised for the following reasons:

Increased supply of gold; price control of exchanges and agreements; tariff on foodstuffs; abuse of cold storage to help corner markets; decreased labor on farms; decrease of farming around the city; excessive profits by middlemen, due to the many small shops; too much handling between producer and consumer; too much purchasing on much advanced prices; growing luxuriousness of the people.

Among remedies suggested is the establishment of a national and international congress and clearing house to regulate the relative value of gold and staple products at stated intervals. The removal of the tariff on foodstuffs, and laws controlling cold storage, making corners in foodstuffs illegal, are also urged.

THE WEATHER.

Fine and warm.

HARRY THAW MUST WAIT MANY WEEKS

New York, May 25.—The hearing of Harry K. Thaw's petition for release from Mattewan on the allegation that he is now sane will be postponed for several weeks. It will be resumed upon the return of a commission which will be sent to Europe and elsewhere to take evidence of witnesses not in this jurisdiction.

The motion for appointment of a commission is expected to be made next week.

KILLED BY A HORSE.

While trying to stop a runaway horse Saturday, Mr. Alfred Johns, an employee of the Peterborough Cereal Company, was knocked down and so severely injured that he passed away about 7.30 last night at Nicholls Hospital. It appears that the deceased tried to stop a runaway horse on George street north, when he was knocked down and kicked in the head. He was taken to Nicholls Hospital in an unconscious condition, from which he did not rally, passing away about 7.30 yesterday evening.

The deceased was about 45 years of age and leaves a wife and four children to mourn his sad death. The horse which he tried to stop was not attached to a rig, and was being led up street by the halter, when it got away with the above tragic result.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents

MURRAY STREET CHURCH.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The correspondent of the Examiner, who wants the city to buy the old Murray street church. I would not venture to suggest that Mr. Riddiford, in writing that letter displayed a knowledge of finance. The whole thing, though, Mr. Editor is that his offer is ridiculous. Why should Peterborough with a big lecture room at the Collegiate Institute and one at the Public Library as well as a few other halls incidentally spend money to buy forsaken church? Peterborough has not the money to go into the gold brick buying at this particular moment.

—Taxpayer.

THE PEOPLES' HALL.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—In the Examiner of Wednesday was aletter advocating the purchase of the old Baptist church, on Murray street. I think, the writer, Mr. Riddiford, offers a good suggestion. The city has no public hall for lectures, addresses, etc. By the purchase of the old Murray street church, the city would have a hall at all times available, that would pay its cost in a few years.

—J. L. Reesor.

OBITUARY.

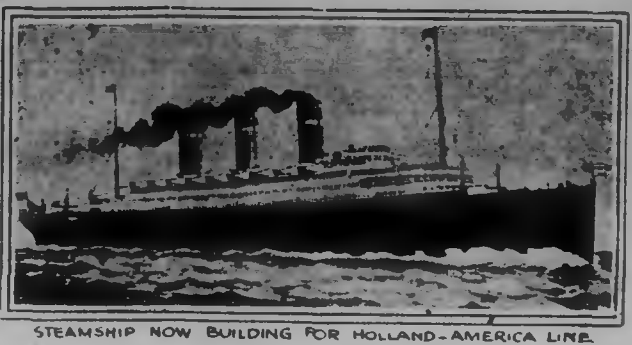
Mrs. Tobias Fredenburg.

On Saturday night, the wife of Mr. Tobias Fredenburg, passed away after an illness of some weeks. She leaves to mourn her loss, her parents her husband and two daughters, who are Mrs. Herbert Hamilton, city, and Mrs. Bert Wright of Nebraska. Four sisters are Mrs. Aaron McCall, Peterborough, Mrs. James Kelly, Duluth, Minn.; Mrs. Kempt, Douro, and Mrs. J. J. Herron, Toronto. One brother is John Sweeney, of this city.

Mr. Charles Turner.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Turner, of Kenora, who for the length of a generation lived in Peterborough, will be shocked to lean of his death. For the past six or seven years, Mr. Turner's home has been in Kenora, where he passed away on Friday. He is survived by two sons, Frank and Bert of Winnipeg, as well as five sisters, Mrs. G. W. Mulligan, and Mrs. A. A. Turner of Peterborough and Mrs. J. Junkins, Mrs McWilliams and Mrs. John Braden, of Toronto.

FOURTH LONGEST VESSEL TO FLY THE FLAG OF THE HOLLAND-AMERICA LINE



STEAMSHIP NOW BUILDING FOR HOLLAND-AMERICA LINE.

The fourth longest vessel in the world and the largest of its own fleet soon will be put into the Holland-America line service. The vessel is nearing completion in the Harland & Wolff shipyards, in Belfast. No name has been selected for the steamship.

The vessel will be 740 feet in length. Only three other vessels are longer—the Olympic, of the White Star line, and the Lusitania and Mauretania, of the Cunard line. She will have an eighty-six foot beam and a tonnage of 32,500 gross. Her engines are being built partly reciprocating and connected with a low pressure turbine, driving three propellers. According to contract her speed must exceed seventeen knots.

MURRAY STREET BAPTIST CHURCH DEDICATED YESTERDAY

Rev. Dr. Gilmour, of Montreal, Preaceed to Large Congregations both Morning and Evening.

REV. J. R. WEBB.
Pastor Murray Street Church.

Yesterday marks a new era in church matters in the city of Peterborough. The splendid new Murray street Baptist church was thrown open to its congregation, and the public in general, with appropriate ceremonies. The handsome building, which is displayed in these columns, was crowded to its utmost capacity. To recall the history of this church is simply to give a large share of the story of the Baptist Church in this city. It was decided not to carry the opening ceremonies over Sunday on account of the Summer Fair. The popular pastor of this church has done a good work for his congregation and for the city in general, by working for the construction of so handsome an edifice in Peterborough. A fitting and appropriate feature of the opening ceremonies yesterday was that a grandson of the first pastor of the Baptist church in Peterborough, Dr. J. L. Gilmour, preached the first sermon delivered within the walls.

In the afternoon there was an open session of the Sunday School at which there were spirited addresses delivered by several speakers. The splendid up-to-date school room was filled to the doors.

Elsewhere in this issue will be seen a cut of the building, which is a credit to the Rev. Mr. Webb, the popular pastor of the church, as well as the building committee.

CANADIAN WOMAN MET HER DEATH IN DETRIOT

Detroit, May 25.—Mrs. E. C. Sunderland, aged 39, of Amherstburg, while spending the holiday with her friends here yesterday, was run over by a Michigan avenue car and so injured that she died a few hours later in St. Mary's Hospital.

Lena Vera, a six-year-old Chatham girl, visiting Detroit friends, with her parents, was struck by an automobile and so badly injured she also had to be taken to St. Mary's Hospital. It is thought she will recover.

Song, with Band accompaniment—Mr. W. McIlroy.
Selection from the "Chocolate Soldier."
Intermezzo—"Hobomoko."
Medley—"Popular Songs."
Waltze—"Septembre."
Selection—"Humoresque."

PRESS GETS COLD DEAL AT LOCAL BALL GAME

Either Manager Templin, or those in control of the Peterborough baseball club, might make a little better arrangement for the press at the local games. On Victoria Day, after giving several columns of complimentary space to the coming ball games, a Times representasive, notebook in hand, started to take a place on the grand stand. Our reporter was stopped with the explanation that his press pass was only good for admission. The wielder of the pencil and pad, asked, "Where do you expect a reporter is going to put his notebook? Carry it in his hand as he walks around in the mud? or pay 25c for a seat after doing all he could to bring the crowd to the grounds? Why is not a proper space provided for the press at the ball games?

COBOURG CROOK WANTED HERE.

High County Constable Geo. Cochrane has a warrant for Roland G. M. Douglas, found guilty and awaiting sentence this morning at Cobourg. It is alleged he swindled Ennismore people. He was first arrested in Ottawa after an information had been laid by Walter Cruise of Hamilton township. The case was heard at Cobourg this week before Judge Roger, who deferred sentence til Monday, May 27. Douglas claims to be a doctor.

VIOLENT SYNDICALISTS AIM TO STARVE OUT LONDON, ENG.

With Their Small Wages and Irregular Employment, the Strikers Have the Courage of Despair--London Is Already Suffering From High Prices of Food.

London, May 25.—Only to-day are Londoners beginning to appreciate the real significance of the transport workers' strike. It is a deliberately planned move of the most violent group of labor organizers. Men scarcely recognized by the regular trades unions have been started on strike over a comparatively minor matter, and already over a hundred thousand men are involved. Within a week the strike may have spread all around the coast, and the entire work of the country be paralyzed. Over a million tons of shipping lie idle on the Thames side. Ships' sailings are being cancelled, and the perishable fruits and foods lie untouched, none daring to handle them. Worst of all, grave fears are entertained lest others may follow the transport workers' example.

Railway Men Discontented.

It is thought that the railway men defying the directions their own union officials may come out. The railway men are seething with discontent. They declare that conditions have been made materially worse since the end of the last strike and that the companies, by dismissals and reorganizations, have cruelly punished them for their nominal victory. The railway men's leaders are striving to keep peace, but any small sectional dispute among the men may instantly arouse the entire army of servants into revolt.

Led by Syndicalists.

The Transport Workers' Federation which has called the present strike is the body which last year brought Liverpool into close touch with famine. The Federation is led by a group of extreme syndicalists, Tom Mann, now in prison, and Ben Tillett former associate of John Burns, now an open preacher of revolution. It is splendidly organized, relentless in its methods, and recruited by an army of men whose small wages and irregular employment give them the courage of dispair. They have nothing to lose, and so are willing to risk all. Alderman Gosling the nominal leader of the strike, is really dominated by these too forceful men.

The Federation, which desired a fight, aroused it over the case of one old man named Thomas. The Watermen's and Lightmen's Union, a branch of the Federation, demanded that Thomas, who is employed by a mercantile lighterage association, should join the union. Thomas being already a member of the Free-men's Union, refused. After some delay the union insisted and urged Thomas' employers to dismiss him. When the employers declined, a strike followed. Then the Master Carmen supported the Master Lightermen, whereupon the Carmen's Union struck.

TIME FOR CANADA TO SHOW SHARE IN IMPERIAL DEFENCE

Quebec, May 25.—"The time has come for Canada to show to the empire and to the whole world what she can do and what she intends to do to help the Mother Country which has done so much for her children while they were growing up."

Such is part of a statement made last night by Hon. Richard McBride, Premier of British Columbia, as he landed from the Empress of Britain, which brought him from England, where he had a talk with Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty and even the King, on Canadian naval matters.

"Something serious should be done by Canada to co-operate in the maintenance of British naval supremacy," said Mr. McBride, "and this should be done quickly. As for British Columbia," he said, "no real policy founded on up-to-date and substantial lines will be too much."

MR. HANNA MAY NOT TAKE RAILWAY BOARD CHAIRMANSHIP

Toronto, May 25.—There is no doubt that Mr. Hanna can be Chairman of the Railway Board if he will accept the appointment. During some days Mr. Hanna has had the subject under consideration. If he declines, as he probably will, for indeed there is reason to think he has done so already, it is because he feels that he has work of greater importance to do in Ontario and because very close and strong friends persuade him that he cannot as yet wisely leave the work in other hands. Rumor is still busy with the names of Mr. H. L. Drayton, K.C., and Judge Drysdale, of Nova Scotia. It is understood, however, that neither has been approached, nor is it known that either would accept if approached. What is certain is that an appointment will be made shortly and that the sole endeavor of the Government is to find a worthy successor to Mr. Mabee.

DUKE DECORATES VICTORIA'S STATUE IN QUEENS PARK

Toronto, May 25.—The reverance of a great man for a good mother was possibly never more fittingly shown than by the decoration by H. R.H. the Duke of Connaught of the statue erected to the memory of his mother, Queen Victoria the Good.

The Veteran's Association of the city have for years paid tribute to their dead comrades on Victoria Day, and yesterday, His Royal Highness, who has himself seen 44 years of military service, joined them in doing honor to those who "bivouac with the dead."

The Duke, who was accompanied by Col. Lowther, military secretary, was received by the officers of the Northwest Field Force of 1885 Association, the Veterans of 1866 Association, the South African Veterans, the Imperial Army and Navy Veterans, and by Sir John Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province. The greetings took place in front of the Parliament Buildings at 10.30, and the reading of addresses was at once proceeded with.

On behalf of the South Africans Veterans' Association, Col. G. Sterling Ryerson, read the following address:

"May it please your Royal Highness on this occasion, being Empire Day, commemmorating the birth of her late Majesty Queen Victoria, the members of the military district No. 2, South African Association, gladly avail ourselves of the opportunity of the visit of Your Royal Highness and your illustrious consort, to beg your gracious acceptance of this address, as a souvenir of a most gratifying holiday.

Always Ready.

"The loyalty of Canadian Soldiers has always been freely acknowledged by the Mother Country, and as a unit of those who cheerfully gave their time, would again if chance offered, render similar service for the upholding of our great and glorious Empire.

"The well known interest always taken by Your Royal Highness in the welfare of the soldier, is and ever will be heartily appreciated by none more than the warm hearts composing the officers, rank and file of military district No. 2 South African Association, who unitedly bespeak for Your Royal Highness and illustrious family a long continuance in the blessing of Almighty God, of good health, happiness and every prosperity.

"James Kennedy, President.
"Tom Agnew, Geo. Moon, Secretary.
"Herbert R. Holt, Treasurer."

BRITISH WEALTH

Will Control Lumber Companies in Far Western Canada.

Vancouver, May 21.—British capital will be in control of the Canadian United Lumber Company, Ltd., a $7,000,000 corporation, which obtained letters patent last week from the Dominion Government and which will operate sawmills in British Columbia, and a line of lumber yards in the prairie provinces.

The corporation will comprise the Pitt River Lumber Company at Pitt River, the Monarch Lumber Co., at Savona, the Sovereign Lumber Co., at Sicamous Junction, and the McBryan Lumber Company at Shuswap owing four sawmills and extensive timber limits. These own forty-two fine lumber yards on the prairies and did a business last year exceeding $1,000,000.

CHAUFFEUR HELD.

Pollard Charged With Manslaughter for Causing a Fatal Accident.

Vancouver, May 21.—James Percy Pollard, who is alleged to have been driving the automobile which turned turtle on Granville street last Sunday morning and caused the death of John Gould, was arrested late yesterday afternoon. He will appear at the provincial courthouse this afternoon on a charge of manslaughter. The first story of the accident was that the steering gear of the machine jammed and being beyond control, the car turned over, pinning Gould underneath. The inquest on the body, held on Tuesday afternoon put a different complexion on the matter however, and the jury alleged that Pollard was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident.

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 396 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

PAINTS.

THE LAW OF QUALITY IS AS SURE AS the law of Gravity. Gravity keeps both your feet on the ground. Quality informs your judgment when you are on the "Ground Floor" in the matter of value. Martin-Senour's Paint is the Ground Floor of paint value. It makes good every time. It flows freely, has great covering capacity, shows a beautiful finish, and wears like iron. It will more than meet your expectations in quality brilliancy and durability. Campbell & Best, 134 Hunter St. Next to post office.

delivered to your home daily, phone your order to the Office. Only 25c per month to city and rural subscribers.

The publishers will appreciate being advised of any irregularity in delivery.

HOMES FOR HONEST TOILERS, AND gardens to add to your income, and save your dollars. We have helped many to own their homes, and we will help you. Come in, pay a small deposit to which we add bonus, then prepare to plant garden and build house on our Easy Rent Plan. Others have done this and so can you. Late spring calls for prompt action. Our builders commence Monday 22nd. Your opportunity. Young men, buy our lots, as others have done, and save at least a part of what you earn. Even $5 per month saved, with increasing value of lots, will build up capital and start you on the road to riches. Gardens, all sizes, to rent. T. Hurley, cor. Stewart & Hunter.

FOR SALE—BUILDINGS WORTH $4,000 for $3,000. Lots worth $150 for $100. See J. Bell, cor. Braidwood and Park Sts. Phone 1281.

FOR SALE—6 ROOMED BRICK HOUSE, well built and warm; very convenient to Canadian General Electric Works; lot large enough to build double house if desired, cheap; Apply on premises.124 RubidgeSt.

PORT MANN, B.C., CANADIAN NORTHern Pacific Coast terminus, attracting millions eastern and British capital. Property adjoining railway's holdings becoming very valuable. Quarter acre lots touching townsite five hundred to six hundred each, quarter cash. Island Investment Company, Limited, Vancouver.

WHILE YOU WORK AND WHILE YOU sleep.—Wage earners make money only while they work. My lot buyers make money while they sleep. Those who have bought from me during the past four years have made by increasing value of lots, more than 50 per cent per annum on the amount invested. And they are worth from $200 to $300 to-day, because of having wisely imposed a "must" upon themselves to save a little of what they earned. Come in and let us show you a very easy way to do the same. Gardens: I know one man who planted 1 acre of onions, and sold his crop for $800 cash. Was that not making money while he slept? We can supply a few acres ploughed to men who would wish to do likewise. Also a larger place with good buildings and a large poultry plant. Immediate possession. Decide at once, and call for particulars. T. Hurley, corner Stewart and Hunter streets.

WE CAN GIVE YOU ABSOLUTE PROOF that the lots we offer inside the town limits of Edson at $40 each, on easy terms, are a money-making investment, offered below their real value; Edson is a divisional point on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a monthly pay roll of $40,000; Edson is the actual distributing point for the Peace River country, the Brazeau coal fields, and for two hundred miles west on the Canadian Northern; Edson is little more than a year old, and already has more than twelve hundred permanent residents; it costs you one cent to obtain illustrated booklet, and the above mentioned proof; mail us a postcard to-day. The Edson Point Company, 600 McIntyre Block, Winnipeg.

PRESENCE OF MIND.

Ruse of a Woman Who Was Scared, but Who Kept Her Wits.

The following is a true story of an incident that happened in an English village:

A husband had gone out for the evening and left his wife and child at home. The woman was about to retire for the night when, to her amazement, she perceived the foot of a man beneath the bed. Instead of calling for assistance, as some would have done, she coolly went to the child's cot and sat and sang till the child went to sleep. Two hours then remained before her husband came in. He was surprised to find her waiting up, but when his wife handed him an envelope, saying, "You might run and post this," the cause of her waiting was revealed. Instead of a letter the following was written on the envelope: "A burglar is under our bed. Run; fetch police." The husband returned in a minute with a policeman, and the man was arrested. The burglar when brought up before the magistrate remarked that he had come across a few brave women in his time, but this one must have had a nerve like iron, for she sat there for three solid hours. He had the impression that she didn't know he was there till the policeman pulled him out.—Exchange.

TALK TO YOUR HORSE.

It Will Make the Animal More Intelligent and More Friendly.

Talk to your horse and teach him to obey your voice as well as the reins. This may prove valuable if, as sometimes happens, the lines break or become unbuckled. Besides, the horse likes the sociability of it. He easily learns a dozen or more words, but be careful to use them only for exactly what you mean. For instance, "whoa" means to stop at once and stand perfectly still, "get up" to go straight ahead and at once, "back" to step backward, "easy" or "steady" to slow up.

These words the horse readily learns and takes kindly to. "Walk" means to change at once to a walk, and "all right," spoken in a calm, reassuring tone, means "don't be afraid—that won't hurt you," and it is wonderful to see what a calming effect it has. Speak firmly, but not sharply, to the horses, for they are nervous creatures. Talking to your horse will make him more intelligent and more friendly.—Spirit of the West.

Curious Power of Charcoal.

It has been found that the power of charcoal to absorb gases is vastly increased at very low temperatures, so that it can be employed for exhausting incandescent lamp bulbs and Crookes tubes and also for separating mixed gases. Experiment has shown that at the freezing point of water and at normal atmospheric pressure one gram of charcoal absorbs four cubic centimeters of hydrogen and eighteen cubic centimeters of oxygen, but that at 182 degrees centigrade, the temperature of boiling air, one gram of charcoal absorbs 135 cubic centimeters of hydrogen and 250 cubic centimeters of oxygen. When several gases are mixed the charcoal absorbs some of them much more freely than others, so that by multiplying the operation gases can be separated from mixtures in sufficient quantity for industrial uses.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Pieces of Eight and Doubloons.

The pieces of eight and the doubloon are indissolubly united with the traditions of the Spanish main and the old buccaneers. Pieces of eight were more properly called piasters—from the Greek and Latin, emplastron, "a plaster;" in the Romance languages, "anything spread out or flat, as a plate, a coin." The piece was silver and worth about $1. Being divided into eight silver reals, it was termed a piece of eight.

Doubloons were gold pieces, originally double the value of a pistole, and formerly coined in Spain and Spanish America. The name is derived from the Spanish doblon, "double." Prior to 1848 the doubloon was worth $15.75. The doblon de Isabel, coined in that year, was until 1868 equivalent only to $4.96.

Grocers Who Dressed in Colors.

In the early part of the fifteenth century it is recorded that the "grocers' guild appeared in livery of scarlet and green." A few years later scarlet and black were adopted. Funeral services of deceased members "were attended with much show of pageantry." At the burial of Sir Philip Sidney, who was a member of the grocers' guild, his worship the mayor, aldermen and other civic officials were present, "rydinge in purple."—London Telegraph.

Summer Fair Referred To.

The Havelock Standard gives a good big "write-up" about the Peterborough Summer Fair. The big local event will surely be one of the greatest events Peterborough has had in years. The Peterborough Health Association has inaugurated a splendid work and the citizens will undoubtedly back them up.

LEGEND OF ALUMINUM.

If a certain incident in Roman history, as related by Pliny, be given full credence, then it would seem that aluminium was derived by means of a secret process long before our time.

The story is this: During the reign of Tiberius there one day appeared at the emperor's palace a worker in metals who displayed a magnificent cup made of a brilliant white metal that shone like silver. In presenting it to Tiberius the artificer purposely dropped it. The piece was so bruised by the fall that it seemed hopelessly ruined, but the metal worker took his hammer, and in the presence of the court quickly repaired the damage. It was thus evident to all that the metal was not silver, though it presented an appearance as brilliant as that metal. Besides, it was more durable and much lighter.

The emperor, so Pliny relates, interrogated the metal worker, from whom it was learned that the mysterious metal had been extracted from an argillaceous earth, in all probability the clay known to modern chemists as alumina. Tiberius then asked whether any one but the metal worker knew of the process and received the reply that the secret was known only to the worker and Jupiter.

The answer was unfortunate, for reasoned the emperor, if it were possible to obtain such a metal from so common a substance as clay, would not the value of gold and silver be reduced? Tiberius, it would seem, was determined to avert such a catastrophe, for he commanded the workshops of the discoverer of the new metal to be destroyed and the luckless man himself to be decapitated, so that the secret might die with him.

Did the cruelty of Tiberius deprive the world for centuries of the use of the metal aluminium?

Sequel to an Amusing Mistake.

An amusing story is told of Mr. McKinnon Wood, who succeeded in holding his own in the St. Rollox bye-election. The wife of "Mr. Speaker" introduced Mr. Wood, at a reception, to a lady, having previously mentioned that she was about to make him acquainted with the wife of a member of the Russian Duma.

Mr. McKinnon Wood, being unable to speak the language of the Slavs, felt somewhat embarrassed, and endeavored to explain, by signs and smiles, his lingual deficiency. The lady, somewhat to his surprise, though, perhaps, to his relief, said, "I would much prefer to converse in English," and added that she was Mrs. Austen Chamberlain. Mrs. Lowther, quite inadvertently, had introduced Mr. McKinnon Wood to the wrong lady.

It is not, perhaps, generally known that the member for the St. Rollox Division was originally intended for the Bar, but instead took up business as a merchant. He made his mark on the London County Council, and is rather "learned" having contributed several articles to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Middy's Trip.

The Earl of Bessborough, who has completed his sixty-first year, is a man of affairs, with a varied career. For some years he was in the royal navy, serving as a midshipman under the late Duke of Cambridge, and sailing round the world. Later he read for the Bar, to which he was called in 1879, and then took up Parliamentary secretarial work, serving in that capacity to Lord Stalbridge and Mr. Speaker Peel.

For many years past Lord Bessborough has been engaged in numerous business enterprises, and four years ago followed Lord Cottesloe as chairman of the London, Brighton, and South Coast Railway.

Modest Abbe Delile.

It is said that the French Abbe Delile once had in his household a very quick tempered relative, with whom he sometimes had animated disputes and who sometimes went so far as to throw books at the abbe. The abbe must have been a person of great amiability and self control. Once, when a particularly large and heavy volume was thrown at him, he caught it gracefully and said:

"My dear friend, I must beg of you to remember that I prefer smaller gifts."

Sock and Buskin.

The expression "sock and buskin," which literally means comedy and tragedy, found its origin in the "soccus," the Latin name of the low shoe worn by the ancient comic actors, and the buskin, a contraction of the French word "brossequin," remotely derived from the Greek "bursa," a hide or high soled shoe worn by the ancient tragedians to increase their height. The soccus reached to the ankle only, whereas the buskin extended to the knee.

His Number.

He gazed tenderly into her eyes as she spoke.

"Life," she murmured dreamily, "is, after all, nothing but a romance in which we are the characters, moving hither and yon as the supreme author of our being directs."

"And in the novel of your life," said he tenderly, "where do I come in?"

"You!" she answered with a smile. "Oh, you are—let me see—one, two, three—you are Chap Seventeen."

The Kind You Must Buy.

"Rather a light lunch."

"Yes; just a cup of coffee and a piece of utility pie."

"What kind of pie is utility pie?"

"No matter what kind you want, it is the kind you eventually buy."

"My greatest asset," says the Hon. Ted, "is that I have never been excited over my candidacy one way or the other." His lovely calmness is evidenced by the number of knots, bumps and bruises that may be seen on the noble front of the Hon. Bill Taft.

GLASS BOTTLES.

Labor and Care It Takes to Make Even the Cheapest Kind.

While the oldest bottles known were of skin, glass bottles containing wine are represented on Egyptian monuments dating back 4,000 years. Bottles of porcelain, alabaster, gold, silver and bronze were made as early as the time of the Pharaoh of the Exodus. Their elegant design and superior workmanship furnish evidence that even at that period the art of bottle-making was by no means in its infancy.

The early history of the bottle is as a matter of fact, somewhat shrouded in mystery, for the reason doubtless that the true bottle has never been a thing of great beauty except in rare instances, but rather a humble vessel of no particular intrinsic value.

In these days glass bottles are turned out in enormous quantities. They are of all sorts, sizes and descriptions. In the manufacture of the ordinary glass bottle of commerce sand, soap boilers' waste, brick clay or other material, according to locality, is used.

When run down into a molten mass the product is skimmed and the first operator, known as the "gatherer," takes a little of the glass on the end of a heated pipe. When this has cooled somewhat he again dips his pipe into the glass, having "gathered" in the two dips sufficient material whereof to make a bottle. This he hands to the "blower," who, as he blows through the tube, rolls the product on a stone, thereby fashioning the bottle neck. The roughly shaped mass is then placed in a mold and the operator continues to blow until he has brought it to the required form.

The bottle is now passed to the finisher, who, by touching the neck with a small bit of iron dipped in water, completely severs it from the pipe. He attaches the pontee, an iron instrument tipped with molten glass, to the bottom of the bottle, thus giving it the usual rounded shape. The next step is to warm the bottle at the furnace. The finisher takes a small quantity of the product on what is known as a ring iron and, turning it around the mouth, forms the ring seen at the top of the neck. He trims the neck with shears. In the centre of one blade of the shears is a piece of brass tapered like a cork which forms the inner mouth, while the other blade has a piece of brass fastened to it for the purpose of shaping the ring. An assistant lifts the completed bottle on a fork and it is then taken to the annealing arch, which contains about ten or twelve gross of bottles placed in bins one above the other.

The above processes are those employed in the making of even the cheapest and most ordinary bottles. It may be imagined with what care and labor the workers operate to produce the bottles of the finest grade.

Saved by Monkey.

The family arms of the Duke of Leinster show two hideous-looking monkeys as supporters, and thereby hangs a tale. This is to the effect that a fire broke out in the Castle of Woodstock, near Athy, where the first Earl of Kildare was being nursed in his infancy. The servants rushed to save themselves, forgetting the child, but a large monkey which was kept in the castle broke its chain, snatched the child from its cradle, and, ascending the battlements, found a way to safety. This story is also narrated of the ancestor of the Desmond family, but there is nothing in their armonial bearings to confirm the claim.

The Reason For the Change.

First A. B. (mess cook)—Wot'll we give 'em to-morrow for afters? Tapioker?

Second A. B. (mess cook)—That'll do; bung it down; you'll want four pounds.

First A. B. (spelling audibly as he writes—Four pounds t-a-b-i—t-a-b-i—(hesitates)—"we'd better have macaroni.

Second A. B.—All right; bung it down, then.

First A. B.—Four pounds m-a-k-a—m-a-k-i—oh, we'll 'ave rice. Four pounds r-i-e-e.—London Punch.

Cookery and Government.

Rossini, the Italian composer, said a droll thing on the unification of Italy when some one asked his opinion on this matter. He replied that he thought it very difficult if not impossible to effect the unity for the simple reason that the Neapolitans eat nothing but macaroni, the Florentines nothing but fagiuoli and the Lombards only polenta, while the Piedmontese swallow all they can get. "It is clear," he said, "that uniformity of cookery must precede unity of government."

The Stingy Man's Gift.

Patrick worked for a notoriously stingy boss and lost no chance to let the fact be known. Once a waggish friend, wishing to twit him, remarked:

"Pat, I hear your boss just gave you a brand new suit of clothes."

"No," said Pat, "only a par-rt of a suit."

"What part?"

"The sleeves in the vest."

His Destination.

"Is Mike Clancy here?" asked the visitor at the quarry just after the premature explosion.

"No, sor," replied Costigan; "he's gone."

"For good?"

"Well, sor, he wint in that direction."—Tit-Bits.

An Important Guest.

"That banquet to-night can't get along without me."

"You have a very good opinion of yourself. Billed for a speech?"

"No; I was invited to listen."

During his recent visit to Athens, so the London papers tell us, Emperor William took a pick and helped to dig up an ancient temple. Certain eminent men in this country are now busy digging up, not ancient temples, but personal records of a rather odoriferous character.

A single word was often sufficient for Talleyrand to make his keenest retort, says the Kansas City Star. When a hypochrondiac, who had notoriously led a profligate life, complained to the diplomatist that he was enduring the tortures of hell, Tallyrand simply answered, "Already?" To a woman who has lost her husband Talleyrand once addressed a letter of condolence in two words: "Oh, madame." In less than a year the woman had married again, and then his letter of congratulation was: "Ah, madame!"

"Is tobacco immoral?" asks The New York World. If the editor of that paper should come down this way and buy cigars from a Louisville and Nashville train boy he would be convinced that some tobacco is.

PAR VALUE $100.00 PER SHARE.

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:—AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sims Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot

Estimated Net Profits:

18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ...	$27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year	7,000.00
Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital.	$20,000.00

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application, 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved the application lists may be closed without notice.

THE PROGRESS OF MADERO'S FORCES.

It is now generally admitted that the military forces of Madero have won an important victory in Chihuahua, and that the insurgents under Orozco are in hasty retreat northward to an entrenched position at Bellano where it is doubtful whether they can hold out against the superior artillery of the Federal army. While Chihuahua is the principal scene of hostilities the Federalists have scored successes in other directions with the result that the situation in Mexico has changed for the better.

It is obvious now that President Madero made long and careful preparations before he proceeded to strike a decisive blow in Chihuahua, and that he placed in command of the Federal forces an able strategist who has outgeneraled Orozco and beaten him back so effectively as to demoralize the insurgent army. The progress of the Federalist campaign in Chihuahua has not only added greatly to Madero's prestige, but it has served to stop the intervention talk in the United States.

SAFETY AT SEA.

Discussion of the Titanic disaster continues unabated. All sorts of people have contributed a word of advice and warning on the subject. Some of the most optimistic plans for guarding the safety of passengers have come from those who apparently have only seen ships in magazines, or as moving pictures. A correspondent of a New York paper has taken some of these and disposed of them to his own satisfaction.

As far as speed of ships among icebergs is concerned, he points out that ships were occasionally ripped open by icebergs before high speed was known, and adds that a reduction to eight or ten knots, the slowest speed at which the Titanic would obey her helm, would have made no difference.

Second, the demand now seems general for a supply of lifeboats adequate to take off every passenger and member of the crew. Few have stopped to consider whether the last condition of a vessel like the Titanic in such a case would not be worse than the first. When a ship has her fifty necessary lifeboats, what about launching them? Where is the crew to be found to lower fifty laden boats in such a way that they will have the necessary sea-room and not foul one another?

Detachable deckhouses are an attractive idea, but he thinks of no practical value. The ship would have to be already sinking before the deckhouses would float. And if she sunk unevenly, as the Titanic did, those who took refuge on the deckhouse would find it a vain place of safety.

One suggestion, emerging from these discussions which he considers of value is that every ocean going vessel should carry adequate wireless installation and two operators. It was only by the merest fluke, that the Carpathia picked up the Titanic message, while another liner that was nearer missed it altogether, the operator being off duty.

Apparently to add to the sense of hopelessness of solving the problem, it is pointed out by the Westminster Gazette, that after the loss of a ship many years ago a special commission was appointed to investigate the question of life saving apparatus. The company to which the ship lost belonged built a new one embodying all the improvements recommended. That ship disappeared on her first voyage, and was never heard of again.

Meanwhile no one has criticized the idea advanced by Joseph Conrad, the well known author, himself a master who has made many voyages, that instead of building Titanics of forty thousand tons, the steamship companies should build liners of twenty thousand tons each, and send them out in pairs. These sister ships, fully equipped with short wave wireless apparatus would travel within forty miles of each other. In case of mishap to one, the other would be on hand within an hour or so to lend assistance.

Anaemic Mothers Here is Relief!

Sufferer of Twenty Years States Dr. Hamilton's Pills Are a Real Cure.

"I can't remember any time during the past twenty years why my head wasn't aching. If I bent over dark specks would come before my eyes, and is seems as if all the blood in my body wanted to rush to my head." Thus opens the letter of Mrs. Enoch S. Spry, o Putman P. O., and continuing her interesting statement she says "Work or exertion made my heart beat terrible, and going upstairs caused such shortness of breath that it fairly frightened me. My doctor told me that if that was the cause Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the greatest blood renewer on earth. I tell you how I feel to-day, and you can understand what a great cure Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made.

I feel strong enough now to work like a man, as for going up stairs on the run, it doesn't bother me at all. I eat and sleep as well as any person ought, and as for dizziness which used to frighten me so much, it has entirely disappeared. Dr. Hamiltons Pills are a wonderful woman's medicine. They helped me in other ways too, and I know every woman that uses them will have comfort and good health.

CANADA'S PULP INDUSTRY.

Among the most valuable resources of Canada to-day are the immense areas of pulpwood, the fields in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia being practically inexhaustible. Relatively speaking, the most that is being made of this invaluable resource is the export of the raw material to the United States, where it is manufactured into mechanical and chemical pulp. So well does the export of the raw material pay the owners that 22,642 cords less were manufactured in Canada during 1910 than in the previous year, and 27,508 cords more exported. The total cut in 1910 was 1,541,628 cords, over 60 per cent. of which was sent out of the country without being manufactured into anything more than cordwood.

The apparent reason for this condition of affairs is that the price paid by Canadian manufacturers of pulp is $6 per cord for the pulpwood, while the American buyers pay $6.58. The value of the wood exported in the year named was $6,210,012. The value of the pulped product in the United States at the ruling price last year was $13,528,481. Thus, Canada received less than half what her pulp production would have been worth had the raw article been manufactured in the country.

One of the chief arguments against reciprocity was that it would despoil Canada of her natural resources. Reciprocity was defeated and, in the matter of pulpwood, the spoilation goes on. By admitting it free into their country the Americans can pay a higher price than the protected pulp manufacturers in Canada are willing to pay for the raw material and obtain all they require for their increasing business. The same thing must happen in the case of every other natural product which Canada has and which the United States needs should the republic take down its tariff walls against specific articles.

Editorial Notes

The new minister of labor has been doing the Haroun Al Raschid act among the long-shoremen at the Montreal docks. Mr. Crothers is evidently a believer in first hand information, and he is entering upon the duties of his office as though he meant business.

It has been discovered that a seaman in the French navy has his heart on the wrong side. There is nothing very wonderful about that. A distinguished Canadian statesman has confessed that while his body is in Canada, his heart is in France. Let us hope both of them have their hearts in the right place.

By the time the exhaustive investigations are completed into the conduct of passengers and crews in connection with the sinking of the Titanic and Oceana, people generally will have arrived at such a state of mind that should another wreck occur nobody will take a chance of getting into the boats.

Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, is alive to the events of the day, and when he visits New Westminster their citizens will not forget his inclusion of the name of that city in his remarks at a Halifax military dinner, when he enumerated the Pacific cities which should be equipped as national ports.

New Y.M.C.A. Secretary.

Several Batavia pastors and their wives attended a farewell reception at the Y.W.C.A. cafetaria on Thursday evening, given by the Rev. C. P. Collett, retiring pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, and Mr. A. A. Hainsworth, retiring general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and their wives. Both Mr. Collett and Mr. Hainsworth will conclude their labors in Batavia on Wednesday of next week.

Those present, who acted as hosts and hostesses, were the Rev Alfred Brittain the Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Degen, the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Gardner, the Rev. C. A. Johnson and Rev and Mrs D B MacQueen. Supper was partaken of in the cafeteria and some time was pleasantly spent afterward in conversation and with music.

Carter Captures Citizen's Receptacles.

A joke was perpetrated on a well known local citizen a few days ago. The subject of the joke had followed instructions given by Mr. C. A. G. Spence, Sanitary Inspector, and provided boxes for his ashes and garbage. The latter were left in his yard. In the same yard was a barrel of goods to be removed. Arrangements were made by phone with a local cartage company to arrived. He had, most evidently, tarried on the wayside and got more have the barrel removed. A carter, extract of rye aboard than he could reasonably carry. The carter entered the yard looked at his order sheet gave a bleary glance at the horizon, and, recognizing the barrel he was sent for, dumped it on his wagon. Then the fumes of the spiritus frumenti rising to his brain he took another glance round the yard. In less minutes than it takes to write the story, he gathered up all the citizens boxes, left carefully for the garbage collector and pitched them on the rig. "Git-ap, there, Bess. Gee, easy girl, easy, now!" and the citizens nice collection of boxes went to the dump.

ANIMAL SUPERSTITIONS.

Chief Among Them in Japan Is the Fear of the Fox.

Chief among Japanese animal superstitious is the fear of the fox, which is believed to have supernatural power. Shrines called "Inari Jinsha," in which the fox is enshrined as a deity, are numberless. The name of the deity written in Chinese characters signifies fox, and from this it came to be generally accepted that the god was really a fox. Its natural cunning is greatly enlarged upon, and it is believed to be capable of misleading and deceiving human beings, which causes many to pray to placate the fox god.

The badger is the next most dreaded animal in the superstitious mind. It is believed to have power to annoy people, its particular habit being a transformation into a Buddhist priest, in which disguise it is guilty of various deceptions and impositions. The crying of weasels and the baying of dogs are considered evil omens, and such insignificant happenings send a shudder over the believers.

On the other hand, a light colored mouse in the house is a sign of happiness, good omens are presaged by what are considered the pleasant cries of crows in the morning, while the so called unpleasant notes forecast death and other dire disasters. If a spider falls from the ceiling in the morning he brings pleasure, but if at night it is thought reverses will follow. To see a centipede at night means happiness.—Pearson's Weekly.

ANOTHER RAP FOR THE LOCAL BASEBRLL CLUB

A fairly good crowd to the number of about five hundred, turned out on Friday morning at Riverside Park, to witness the game between Peterborough and Guelph. In the first innings the locals shut out the visitors and in the last half the Pets scored two runs. Neher the twirler for the Guelph aggregation, opened the game by hitting Schwartz with the ball and sending him to first. Umpire Johnson seems to make a good many connections with the ball, whether it is that he is short—sighted or not, we cannot say, but in the first innings a foul tip caught him square on the sky-piece, making him spin around a few times. In the second innings, Guelph tapped the locals for three runs and the locals did nothing more in the run line until the seventh. Manager Templin made a pretty fly to left field, and the Guelph player had to go to the fence for it, and in doing so, bumped his nose against the boards. It was just about the beginning of the fifth innings that a disrespectful spectator in the stand called to Umpire Johnston, telling him that mortification had set in on some of his decisions and that he drew flies, but this did not stop him, bum decisions were still being handed out all through the game. In the seventh the locals secured another run and again in the eighth they scored, but Guelph came back in the ninth and tapped Bartlett for three, and winning the game. The final score was 8 to 4.

It might be mentioned here that the official score board is a joke, and practically of no use, the way it is being worked. The management should see to it that the proper score is placed on the board, and at the proper time, it would be appreciated by those spectators who do not happen to have a score card.

The batteries for the morning game were, Guelph, Neher, Mason, Beahm and Daniels; for the locals Bartlett and Trout.

In the afternoon contest Peterboro' again went down to defeat by the score of 11-4, after having the score 4-1 in their favor till the 9th innings. Manager Templin selected Quinlan, the local boy, to do the twirling for the homesters, and he went along well until the last session, pulling himself out of several tight places. In the ninth, however he lost control, and coupled with several hits by the visitors enabled Guelph to tie the score. He was replaced by Baver, who was very wild and hit hard. Baver was derricked in favor of Creswell, the local south paw, who finished the innings and the game.

The locals held the visitors down very tight all through the game, until the ninth innings when the local twirler weakened, and the score was tied. Baver was put in the box, but ——well, you know the result, the visitors just hammered him all over the lot, and many of the spectators left the grounds in bad temper.

During the progress of the game, a good many chances were lost, by some of the players trying to steal on the big chief of the Guelph aggregation, and in nine cases out of ten they were caught. From a spectators point of view, the score might have been differently had they froze a little tighter to the first sack.

TELLS WHY SHE RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILPS.

Upper St Rose, Gloucester, Co., N.B., May 24.—(Special)—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are a grand medicine for suffering women." In those words Laura Robichaud, a well known and highly respected resident of this place, voices her sentiments in regard to the grand old Canadian Kidney Remedy. And, like others who have borne similar testimony, she speaks from experience.

"I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills because they cured me," Miss Robichaud says. "I was in a generally run-down condition. I had dark circles under my eyes and my kidneys bothered me. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills fixed me up."

This statement is made up of few words, but it describes the exact condition of thousands of women in Canada. They are run-down, have dark circles under their eyes, and they may not even know it, but their kidneys are bothering them. If they follow Laura Robichaud's example and use Dodd's Kidney Pills they will cure their Kidneys, and good health will follow naturally.

PETERBOROUGH MARKET PRICES

Peterborough's market on Saturday was somewhat flat. Only staples were on sale. Chickens went at prices that were prohibitory to the average man's pocket book. GOVERNMENT MONEY FOR YOU!!!

Ottawa, May 11th, 1912.
L. T. Marechal, K. C.,
Montreal.

"The Government having again heard you, as well as other delegates on the important question of the Montreal tunnel, has approved of the project, and the matter of bond guarantees has been referred for the consideration of the consulting engineer of the Department of Railways, to whom the documents and other information have been immediately forwarded.

"F. D. MONK."

Montreal Star, May 13.

BELLEVILLE

ST. LAMBERT

Positively Adjoins the Tunnel Co.'s Property

Every man who buys a Lot at Belleville at to-day's opening prices, will see the Government increasing the value of his property with every spadeful of earth excavated. But does not rely on the tunnel or the bridge of the near future for its transportation or its present day value.

BELLEVILLE

To-day the Montreal and Southern Counties Railway runs to within a few yards of Belleville. Get off at Coteau Rouge road and follow the signs.

To-day the new electric line is complete along the whole of one side of Belleville, and only awaits the turning on of the electric current for cars to run there.

To-day men are busily at work enlarging the South Shore Subway in order that a still better service may be given to Belleville.

Belleville lots actually adjoin the town of St. Lambert. We mention this because some people consider the South Shore anywhere between Montreal and Boston.

Belleville lots are all GUARANTEED to be the highest and driest anywhere near St. Lambert. Our sidewalks, for instance, will not have to be two feet above the ground level to keep your feet out of the water.

Belleville has churches, schools, and post-office adjoining it.

Belleville is ripe for you to build on to-day, if you wish, and if you want to invest in a safe, sound, profitable real estate.

Belleville—Suppose you fill in the coupon and mail it to us, or bring it to our office and get plans, details, and free car tickets. You ought to see Belleville to-morrow afternoon or Sunday, when you will speedily realize that Belleville is the finest investment on the market.

Department of Railways and Canals. Ontario—St. Lawrence Canal Murray Canal.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed, "Tenders for Dredging Murray Canal," will be received at this office until 16 o'clock on Wednesday, June 5th.

The specification and form of contract to be entered into can be seen on and after Monday, May 20th, at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, or at the office of the Resident Engineer of the Ontario-St. Lawrence Canals, Cornwall, at which places form of tender may be obtained.

Parties tendering will be required to accept the fair wages schedule prepared or to be prepared by the Department of Labour, which schedule will form part of the contract.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and in the case of firms, unless there are attached the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm.

An accepted bank cheque for the sum of $300.00 made payable to the order of the Minister of Railways and Canals, must accompany each tender, which sum will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The check thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose tenders are not accepted.

The cheque of the successful tenderer will be held as security, or part security, for the due fulfillment of the contract to be entered into.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

By order.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Wharf or Retaining Wall at Owen Sound, Ont." will be received at this office until 4.00 p.m., on Tuesday, June 4, 1912, for the construction of a Wharf or Retaining Wall at Owen Sound, Grey County, Ont.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the offices of J. G. Sing, Esq., District Engineer, Confederation Life Building, Toronto Ont.; H. J. Lamb, Esq., District Engineer, Windsor, Ont., and on application to the Postmaster at Owen Sound, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupation and place of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable, the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

DARROW MAY CLAIM HE IS GUILTY OF BRIBERY

New York, May 25.—A special to the "World," from Los Angeles, Cal. says:

Negotiations for Clarence S. Darrow to enter a plea of guilty and escape a penitentiary sentence on a charge of bribing a juror in the McNamara trial are under way.

The trial of the labor lawyer is likely to be terminated as abruptly and sensationally as was that of his clients John J. and James B. McNamara, dynamiters of the Los Angeles Times plant, who pleaded guilty last December, and are now in prison.

Momentous consequences hang on Darrow's decision.

The State is willing to grant Darrow immunity from a prison sentence but only on condition that he divulge everything he knows of the acts of himself and his clients. It is said that Darrow has been ready for some time to make a complete confession covering his own acts and the acts of several persons who already have turned against him and given the State their testimony.

THE BASEBALL STRIKE HAS BEEN ENDED

Philadelphia, May 26.—After a conference between President Navin and striking members of the Detroit American baseball club Monday afternoon, it was announced that Navin had told his "Tigers" that President Johnson of the League would not reinstate "Ty" Cobb at this time.

Plenty of rumors were circulated after the conference, but nothing definite developed. One report said, that Cobb appealed to the players to go back to work without him. This followed the rumors that a speedy settlement of the trouble was in sight. Another story was that President Navin had offered to pay the fines that might be imposed on the players as a disciplinary measure.

Navin told the Tigers, it is said, that if they returned without Cobb the Georgian's suspension would be fairly investigated. The players are quoted as having declared they had taken a position, and that they would stick to it.

Manager Jennings asserted the men will have to return without Cobb, or other arrangements will be made.

The players prepared a paper said to be in the nature of a compromise which Mr. Navin took at once to President Johnston.

The feeling is general that the disputes will be settled and that there will be a game in Washington Tuesday.

FOR THE SWITCH

Floyd Allen Must Be Electrocuted for the Murder of a Fellow Feudist.

Wytheville, Va., May 21.—Floyd Allen, the first of the Hillsville mountaineers tried for the Carrol county court-house murders, was adjudged guilty here to-day and will pay the penalty of his crime in the electric chair at Richmond. The jury was out all night, and it was not until 10 o'clock this morning that the twelve men had been brought into agreement.

Floyd Allen was charged specifically at this time with the murder of Commonwealth Attorney Foster, prosecutor in the Carroll county court at Hillsville last March.

NOBLEMAN SUICIDES.

Wealthy Land Owner Lost "Finest Woman" Through Drink Habit.

Chicago, May 25.—Henry Spruck Von Armenthal, member of the German nobility and a large land owner of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, shot and killed himself Sunday. Attaches who found his body in his room discovered a revolver in one hand and a photograph of Mrs. Francis Rosenblatt, niece of the late Nelson Morris, millionaire packer, in the other.

Von Armenthal left a note in which he said that his despondency was due to drinking and the fact that he had lost "the finest woman in the world" because of his drinking.

Mrs. Rosenblatt for a number of years resided in New York, where her late husband, Benj. Rosenblatt, was a wealthy leather manufacturer. Her engagement with Von Armenthal had been broken off by her because of his intemperance in drink.

BALLROOM FRACAS.

Three Wounded by Bullets and Many Injured in a Panic.

New York, May 25.—Three men were wounded, one mortally, in warfare, between rival gangs which broke out in a crowded ballroom in Williamsburg early this morning. A rattle of revolver shots at midnight interrupted the merriment and caused a wild rush for the exits in which a number of the 1000 persons present were painfully injured. When the smoke cleared three men were stretched on the floor. David Levy, 20 years old, was mortally wounded in the head, his brother Louis had bullet wounds in his legs and another youth was similarly wounded. Police reserves were nearly an hour restoring order in the excited neighborhood and only one arrest was made.

FATAL JOY RIDE.

Auto Plunges Through Open Bridges Into Calumet River.

Chicago, May 25.—Five persons, three men and two women, were drowned early Monday when the automobile in which they were riding plunged into the Calumet river at the Ninety second street bridge.

None of the names of the victims so far has been learned. One of the women jumped into the river as the embankment was reached, according to a watchman. Her body was recovered. The woman was apparently 24 years of age, and the initials "A.M." were on her bracelet.

The automobile, which was going about thirty miles an hour, turned completely over as it went into the river. The bridge had been swung to allow a boat to pass. The driver of the machine was unable to apply the brakes in time to avert the plunge.

To The Investor:

You want to make money.

You want to be independent before you are too old to enjoy the best things in life.

You know some who have done this, and others who are on the high road to wealth and ease.

How can you do it most surely without any chance of failure? By putting your spare money where it will earn the greatest increase.

Real Estate never rests. From the moment you buy machinery, or any of the necessities of life, depreciation sets in. There is no business in the world except that of Real Estate that has no depreciation account on its books. Andrew Carnegie said: "The wise wage earner of to-day invests his money Surburban Real Estate." Another well-known millionaire stated that "the best way to acquire wealth is to get possession of a good chunk of earth a few miles from a growing city and wait for the city to grow out to it."

No one can afford to pass over without thought such opinions as these.

Examples of the increase in realty values in the Cities of Western Canada are of interest. Four lots on the corner of 2nd street and 7th Avenue, Calgary, increased from $500 to $70,000 in a few years. In 1901 the North East corner of Portage Ave and Main street, Winnipeg, sold for $12.50 per foot. To-day it is worth $650 per foot. On the 2nd of December 1909 a 50-foot lot on the corner of 25th street and 2nd Ave, Saskatoon, sold for $500. Sixteen months later on April 20th, 1911, the fortunate owners sold out at $30,000.

$2400 was the figure paid in 1907 for a lot on Fairford Ave, Moose Jaw. To-day it would find a ready sale at $20,000, and these profits were made by using judgment, courage and spare money.

Real Estate is the most solid security that human ingenuity ever devised, but you must not let your wishbone change places with your backbone. You must satisfy yourself by investigation of the city in question that it is RIGHT. You must be sure the proposition and the people behind it are RIGHT, then go ahead. Don't wait for others to get in and make you pay part of the increase, but get in first.

BANK BARRICADED.

Yeggs Take Their Own Time in Blowing Vault; Get Away With $7,000.

Nashville, Tenn., May 26.—After barricading all approaches to the bank with barrels of salt and rolls of barbed wire and cutting telephone wires, robbers, Monday morning proceeded to demolish the vault of the First National Bank of Camden, in Benton County.

The first of six charges of nitroglycerine explosions brought citizens from their beds, but they were promptly ordered back. About $7000 was secured.

CANADIAN FIREPROOFING IMPREGNATION CO. LTD.

Send us your order for Antignol today it may be to late tomorrow

Authorized Capital: $200.000

Divided Into 20.000 Shares, Par Value, $10.00

This Company has been formed to market a new invention by which wood can be made fireproof. This invention consists of a chemical compound called "Antignol," in which the wood is either immersed for about 24 hours, or—and that applies especially to houses already built—which may be applied to the wood twice or three times with a brush. The solution penetrates deep into the substance of the wood, and after the evaporation of the liquid parts leaves a deposit, which cannot be removed or washed out by rain or moisture of any kind.

Wood impregnated with Antignol will resist fire. Even in a fierce blaze, fed by great quantities of highly inflammable contents of a house or other building, the woodwork would be charred to a small depth, as even bricks or other non-combustible material would, but it would not develop flames itself, therefore not maintain nor conduct the fire. The latter would die out as soon as the source of it was removed or had exhausted itself.

To illustrate this on an every-day occurrence let us take the case of a lamp being overturned, or a burning match or cigar dropped on a carpet or other material easily ignited. The contents of a room, curtains, furniture, etc., would in an instant be aflame, and the whole building would be ablaze and destroyed—with the adjoining buildings included in the destruction—in spite of all efforts to fight the conflagration. In a building impregnated with Antignol that would not be the case. The accident would be confined to the room in which it occurred. The contents of the same would, of course, burn out as well (though at some future time when impregnation will be more general and extended to curtains, furniture, etc., this might be prevented too), but the structure would resist the fire long enough to give people a chance to extinguish it or to allow the fire to die down after the contents of the room had been consumed. ...

As even the most disastrous conflagrations necessarily originate from such small beginnings, which it has not been possible to check in time, and as we have shown, that these initial stages of every fire of the ordinary kind can by means of our impregnations be kept under control or rendered comparatively harmless, the majority of fires in frame buildings may be prevented.

This Is a Bold Statement. But It is True

It is not only verified by leading experts of official standing, but we have made arrangements to demonstrate the efficacy of our impregnation to anyone calling at our offices.

Besides fireproofing the wood Antignol has all the properties of the other wood-preserving impregnation fluids, namely, protecting the wood against decay, germs of decomposition, fungi, etc. It is, therefore, applicable to railway sleepers, telegraph poles, ships, boats, etc.

In a country where disastrous fires occur with an awe-inspiring frequency, where the annual fire-waste is $2.50 per capita, as compared with 30 cents per capita in the old countries, where 25 per cent. of all new buildings simply replace those destroyed by fire—it is well nigh impossible to over-estimate the general and commercial importance of our enterprise.

The Directors of the Company are all experienced business men, and with a market that for a long time to come will be far ahead of our manufacturing capacity, everyone must realise that the shares of this Company offer quite exceptional opportunities for profits.

A. J. Thornton Arrested for Alleged Forging of His Father's Name

New Orleans, May 22.—By trailing three women and a child for several hours Saturday evening, Detective James Brewer and Special Officers Harry O. Gregson and Louis Behrman, with Deputy Sheriff A. C. Scott, of Moss Point, Miss., succeeded in arresting A. J. Thornton, aged 18, who is wanted in that town on the charge of forgery.

Thornton, who was arrested in Mobile, Ala., on a similar charge some time ago, was taken into custody as he was about to enter his lodgings at Hoyle's hotel, Rampart and Tulane avenue. His parents, who live at Bay St. Louis, Miss., are said to be wealthy, and are now sojourning in California.

Young Thornton is alleged to have forged his father's name to a check for $30, drawn on a local bank, and cashed at the Pascagoula National Bank, of Moss Point, Miss. At the time of his arrest in Mobile for forgery, it is said, his father came to the rescue and succeeded in having the charge dropped.

Deputy Sheriff Scott came on the same train Saturday evening as did a young woman whom Thornton is said to have married in Pensacola, Fla., some time ago.

CANADA BEHIND.

Other Dominions Exported More Butter to Britain.

That Canada during the past ten years has lagged far behind Australia and New Zealand in exporting butter to Great Britain, is shown by comparative figures prepared by the department of trade and commerce. Since 1902, when Canada sent 285,765 cwt., the exports have steadily declined, except in 1906, till last year they amounted only to 61,936 cwt. Australian butter exports in the same period increased from 80,397 cwt., to 874,399 cwt., and New Zealand from 157,993 cwt., to 276,446 cwt. Canadian cheese exports have also declined, while New Zealand exports have increased. Australia sent comparatively little in this period. There have been, says the departmental report, good causes for Canada's decrease in exports of butter to the United Kingdom. This apparently refers to the increased home consumption.

Umpire Johnston can certainly make the word "s-t-r-i-i-i-i—k-e" go as far as a long lost meteor traveling through space.

One feature of the 24th May celebration, was the 10th annual convention of the Labor Educational Association of Ontario, held here in the Labor Hall.

Boy Scouts Out To-Night.

The Peterborough Boy Scouts will participate in the Summer Fair festivities this evening. They are requested to assemble promptly at 7.30 in full uniform and with their staffs.

Killed by Lightning.

During the electric storm the other night, Mr. William Andrews, who lives about four miles from town, in North Monaghan, lost a valuable horse, which was killed by lightning. Mr. Albert Blodgett, near Jackson Park, had three pigs killed in a similar way, the same night.

The Armouries' Flag.

With reference to the absence of the flag on the Armouries flagstaff on Victoria Day, up to 10 a.m. Mr. Burnham wishes it understood that the blame rests in no way on the Regiment, and also wishes it stated that his attention was first drawn to it by a sergeant of the Regiment.

Government Mail Van.

Through representations made to the Post Office authorities, Mr. Jas. Edgar, postmaster, has succeeded in securing a van, specially constructed for the purpose, to handle the mail between the post office and the railway stations. It is expected the rig will arrive early in June, and will at once be put in commission.

Natural Cure for Catarrh Obviates Taking Drugs

It Has Superseded the Old-fashioned Stomach-dosing Remedies, and Invariably Cures Quickly

It was their inability to reach the real source of catarrh and bronchitis that caused the medical profession to drop liquid cough medicines and adopt "Catarrhozone" instead. Catarrhozone provides a method of breathing right into the lungs certain rare medicinal vapors which are so healing and comforting as to entirely banish coughs, catarrh and comforting as to entirely banish coughs, catarrh and throat trouble in a very short time.

The most wonderful thing about Catarrhozone is, that no matter where the germs of bronchitis or catarrh are hidden, Catarrhozone will reach and destroy them.

"About five years ago I took a cold in the head and Catarrh set in. It kept increasing by leaps and bounds. I kept putting off getting anything until at last I found I would have to. After trying several things I heard of your remedy, Catarrhozone, and procured a bottle and began using it. I was not long in finding out I had struck the right thing. I am recommending Catarrhozone to all who have catarrh, etc.

(Signed) Everton L. Wassan
[illegible], Queen's Co., N.B.

Catarrhozone has made an astonishing record of cures. Its method is right; no drugs; just healing balsamic vapors, that bring instant relief to Catarrh and all throat, bronchial, and chest colds. Get the large size, lasts months, is sure to cure you, price $1.00; smaller size, 50c; sample or trial size, 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

The Caterpillar Plague.

The Peterborough Horticultural Society with commendable zeal, are striving to their utmost to stamp out the caterpillar plague in this district. This insect has become a veritable menace to the future of our crops. The City Council, the Township and the County Council are to be asked to assist in exterminating this plague.

To-Night's Attractions.

Remember the Mother Goose [illegible] at the theatre of the Armouries to-night. A beautiful spectacular reproduction of Mother Goose rhymes, including the "shoe" in which the old woman lived large as life. It will be splendidly put on (for the second time) by children pupils of the Conservatory and will be a splendid and delightful production. In the interests of the Summer Fair.

Election in Douro.

The resignation of Mr. Frank Moher, as Reeve of Douro Township, has made an election necessary. Messrs. Frank Leahy, Michael Walsh, B. Leahy and Michael E. Sullivan, were nominated. The first two preferred to have no election, giving the office by acclamation, but the latter two nominees would not agree to this and consequently the election is on for Thursday of this week.

New Caretaker for Armouries.

The Times was informed on Saturday night that Mr. George Grange, assistant chief of the fire department, will enter upon his new duties as caretaker of the Armouries at the beginning of this week. Mr. Grange succeeds Mr. W. Metheral, who has held the position for a number of years. Mr. Grange's appointment will leave a vacancy at the fire hall, and as yet, nothing is definitely known as to who is a probable successor is.

A Boy, a Cracker and a Coat.

Fire crackers were evidently not "tabooed" on May 24th. One young man at the ball game had a brand new suit on. One of those delicately shaded suits between a grey and a lavender. A small boy, with more mischief than wit, dropped a lighted cracker in the suit-pocket of that pretty coat. Bang! A big brown patch destroyed the looks of that coat forever. The small boy who played this senseless joke, melted with the crowd.

A Question of Old Age.

At Saturday's game, a Montreal drummer happened to be seated, on the grand stand, beside a Times representative. As Umpire Johnson called "S-t-r-i-i-i-i-i-k-e," the traveller asked the reporter a hard question to answer. It was this. "If that Umpire was a judge on the bench, when a man was found guilty of murder, and he had to sentence him, how long would it take?" Our pencil pusher, thought that the condemned man might die of old age before sentence was pronounced.

Mr. Allan Accepts St. Paul's.

Mr. John Allan, formerly one of the leading church organists in Montreal, has written to accept the offer made by St. Paul's church. Our readers will remember that Mr. Allan played at that edifice a week ago Sunday, when he created a very favorable impression. St. Paul's church is to be congratulated on securing the services of so talented a musician. Mr. Allan's execution and technique are beyond criticism. The future organist of St. Paul's has a daughter who is leading soprano in one of the largest churches in Montreal.

Former Local Man Has Close Call.

Dr. Kenneth Overend, son of Mr. W. J. Overend, of Lock street, had a narrow escape from death about a week ago, in Brooklyn, N.Y. It seems that a deep sewer on which some laborers were employed, caved in burying two of them. Police and firemen worked hard to rescue the men, who were buried in sand. One of those entombed, by name Dominick was at last located and his head uncovered. Dr. Overend of the Coney Island Hospital was let down by a rope. He found that Dominick was dying. Rev. Father Gardiner was then let down into the sewer by ropes and administered the last rites of the church. The treacherous sand again caved in, partly burying both the priest and the doctor. They were rescued with difficulty.

A SOUND INVESTMENT IN TORONTO REAL ESTATE.

This is what we are offering the readers of "The Times" in our newest Sub-Division:

"CALEDONIA PARK"

Anyone familiar with Toronto will agree with us when we say that the best part of the city for investment to-day is the NORTH-WEST SECTION.

In "CALEDONIA PARK" you may purchase land where the district east, west, and south, is almost entirely built up.

The St. Clair Avenue car line will be in operation in about eight months, as the rails are now laid past our property. This, of course, will cause a decided enhancement in land values in the St. Clair Avenue district. "CALEDONIA PARK" lying just two blocks (about four minutes' walk) north of St. Clair, will naturally benefit very much.

The entire block is RESTRICTED to solid brick, or brick veneer houses, which will provide a district absolutely first class, and where houses will sell from $2700 to $4000 each.

A new brick school is just being completed at a cost of about $100,000, on the south side of INNES AVENUE, ONE OF THE STREETS IN "CALEDONIA PARK."

A local builder has just purchased a large strip of land and SIX solid brick houses will be commenced in a very short time.

Toronto investors, men who know values, are purchasing in "Caledonia Park," as they know there is money to be made at the opening low prices of—

$14 to $25 Per Foot

Write us for complete information. We will gladly forward plans and descriptive folder to any address. We know what we are offering, and can, with confidence, recommend "CALEDONIA PARK" lots to the Investor. Ten days' selling has disposed of $60,000.00 worth of lots.

WE REPEAT—We will refund the railroad fare to any purchaser within 150 miles of Toronto.

You can buy in "CALEDONIA PARK" on VERY EASY TERMS: 20 per cent. down and 20 per cent. every six months.

One feature worthy of note is that these lots are DEEP. We are aware that some properties on the market at the present time are only about eighty feet deep. OUR LOTS AVERAGE 124 FEET IN DEPTH TO A WIDE LANE.

Reservations may be made without risk to the purchaser. We will hold for three days what we consider the best available land. You can look the property over yourself, and if absolutely satisfied, make the purchase. We have many clients who act upon our judgment. They have realized splendid profits. You can do the same.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

The Keene Gun Club visited Peterborough on Saturday.

High Tea will be served at the Summer Fair to-day from 5 to 8 p.m.

The members of the Sacred Heart church, T.A.S. attended that church in a body yesterday.

The Peterborough-Port Hope Lawn Bowling competition was called off on account of wet weather.

Let us hope that the Petes will redeem themselves this week, when they go up against the Ottawa bunch.

The W.C.T.U. meeting has been postponed until Thursday evening, June 6th, on account of the Summer Fair.

The probs for yesterday were moderate winds and fine weather. A little late in the telling, but did probs hit it right?

The Dolls House at the Summer Fair to-day will be a "Daisy." There will be Ethiopian, Eurasian, American and all races of dolls.

The Times will feel obliged if any of the subscribers will kindly report any irregularities in the delivery of the paper by our carrier boys, or by mail.

At the meeting of the Men's Bible class of Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday, the question, "Is the Judicial Oath Respected?" was discussed.

Several of the medium sized trees in Central Park were moved Saturday. A good job was done. The roots were carefully preserved and the trees moved without injury.

Park street Baptist Ladies' Aid and the Men's Helping Hand Bible class have secured the lot adjoining the Customs House and will have a big tent erected thereon on July 12.

The temporary steel cages used whilst repairs are being made on the police station, had their first inmate on Saturday. He was a man who had celebrated Victoria Day not wisely, but too well.

During the electric storm on Friday morning last, two head of cattle were killed in a field on the farm of Mr. Newnham, near Selwyn by the same storm which swept over the northern section of the city.

This is the opening day of Peterborough's Summer Fair. The fair is in a good cause. Good work has been done towards making it a big success, and the result now lies with the public and their pocket books.

BIRTHS.

Local Scenery Greatly Admired.

There are those who say that Peterborough is lacking in scenery. On Empire Day, a Times representative happened to be showing the city to a gentleman from Montreal. The latter as he stood on Hunter street bridge looking southward, remarked, "there is the most charming vista I have seen in many a year. That noble river of yours with its untold possibilities in coming electric power, will probably make Peterborough one of the leading cities of the continent. Apart from that, the view from the bridge, as we look, do you say southwards towards the—you say southwards towards Rice Lake?" "Yes," replied our reporter. "Well, let me tell the Times that I have travelled Canada from Vancouver to Halifax and as far north as Hudson Bay. Never did I see a more entrancing vista than now presents its self to our view." When our reporter accompanied the Montreal man to the G.T.R. bridge at Auburn, the latter simply threw his hands in the air and exclaimed, "You have got every city in Canada skinned for scenic effects, and right in the heart of the town. The Montrealer, who left last night for Toronto, on the advice of the Times reporter, is coming back to Peterborough for two or three days, and will spend two or three days at the northern Lakes. The Times will, later on give his experiences and ideas of Kawartha Lakes' scenery.

Company's Show Room will be open on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings during May and June, from 8 to 10 p.m. for the convenience of those wishing to secure gas appliances or to arrange for gas connections.

ROSEDALE LOTS

Most citizens of Peterboro' are aware that Rosedale, of Toronto, is the High Class Residential District of that city. Where naught but blue blood is to be found, and where residence therein is a passport to high society. It was sub-divided and put on the market by a Scotch syndicate about 35 years ago, at $20.00 per front foot, and it is now selling at from $75.00 to $250.00 per foot. About the same time the high class citizens of Peterboro' determined to keep step with Toronto, quickly selected and sub-divided that beautiful block of land north of Smith Street, east of Jackson Park, west from Normal School, and Chemong Road. Having gone so far, they wearied of well-doing, leaving the task of putting on the market to your humble servant, in the late afternoon of life, and because of that lateness, and of the superior High Class Property, I am offering at a fraction of it's value five years hence. I most respectfully solicit your early investigation, believing that when you see the property, hear my price and terms, you will be pleased to accept at once. And as I want the assistance of every good man and woman in this meritorious work of furnishing home-foundations and the safest and most profitable way to invest and save, small or large sums of money. And in return for this assistance I agree to pay 5 per cent. of the net price, at which each lot is sold, to the Treasurer of the Church to which the buyer belongs. I will do this as a precedent for others to follow my example. Payable out of half money received from buyer. Bear in mind, I only own 38 lots in what I have properly named "The Heart of Rosedale", and you or your descendants will buy that property soon, or later at 5 or 10 times my price. Is it not in your interest to buy now, and use or sell later at big profits as many others have done? It is always safe to buy wheat or gold dollars, when they are offered at half value, and that is what you are doing when you buy lots in "The Heart of Rosedale."

Unavoidable delay compels me to name June 5th, as the opening day for sale of those lots. In the meantime, I suggest that every auto owner in the city, in his own interests, not only to go himself, but to take all his big friends with him, to carefully inspect and fully verify my statements.

Plans, and further information will be available in a few days.

MARRIAGE LAW FOR ALL CANADA ARGUED BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT

Quebec's Objection to Court's Jurisdiction Will Come Up Later--Consent of Both Parties the Real Point.

Ottawa, May 27.—Whether it lies within the legislative competency of the Federal Parliament to enact a law on the subject of marriage is the vital question involved in the reference of the Dominion Government touching the Lancaster Bill, argument in which began in the Supreme Court this morning and may last the rest of the week. Heretofore, the Provinces alone have legislated on the solemnization of marriage. Considerable agitation followed the promulgation of the Ne Temere decree and probably was the cause of the introduction of the Lancaster Bill. This provides that any marriage in Canada, performed by any authorized person shall be valid without regard to religion of the officiating clergyman or officer or to that of the contracting parties.

Serious questions have arisen as to whether such a bill could be passed by the Federal Parliament considering the provisions of the B. N. A. Act, the Government has asked the court for a specific pronouncement on the constitutional question involved.

For the Promoters of the Bill.

Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., for the promoters of the bill then began the presentation of the bill. He first read the questions referred to the court by the House of Commons. He said the bill was capable of being read as predicted, that a marriage was valid no matter who were the participants and that the Dominion Government had control of the solemnization of marriage, although the Provinces might rule as to dower, succession rights, or fines to force their legislation with regard to the manner in which the ceremony would be carried out under the Dominion laws.

"If clandestinity is an impediment as noted in the factum of the opposing counsel—that is, if a marriage between two Catholics is not legal when performed by other than a priest—then the Dominion Government clearly has the right to legislate in this impediment," stated Hon. Mr. Nesbitt. The Dominion Government, he held, has power to legislate over the Provincial restrictions of this kind under the provisions of the British North America Act.

Hon. Mr. Nesbitt read a number of authorities showing that marriage was a mere consent of both parties and that the words: "I take you for my husband" or "I take you for my wife" was sufficient to validate a marriage.

A Civil Contract.

"You are meaning to say that marriage might be held to be merely a civil contract?" asked Justice Idington.

"These aithorities establish beyond preadventure that unless express legislation nullifies such a marriage, unless accompanied by ceremonies that it is a valid marriage," he replied.

"All this is very interesting literature," remarked Mr Justice Idington, when Mr. Nesbitt had read a further number of authorities in support of his contention, "but we are not trying a case here. We are only asked to answer certain questions."

LEAGUE LEADERS DEFEATED BY PETERBOROUGH NINE

The Ottawa Baseball Club, in charge of Manager Louie Cook, arrived in Peterborough early yesterday morning, and registered at the Oriental. The Senators have been playing great ball, winning their last seven games, and are out in front in the Canadian League race. They met the White Caps in the first of a three-game series at Riverside Park yesterday, and the locals slipped one over on them. A fairly good crowd of fans turned out to have a look at the leaders, and among them were a good many ladies, who seemed to take a deep interest in the Petes, by the way they coached the local boys on. Johnny Durr did the twirling for the Petes and put up a good steady game, pulling himself out of many tight places. The locals tallied two runs in the 4th and in the 5th Ottawa grabbed one; again in the 6th the locals notched two more and the game finished with no more runs. The score being 4 to 1. The absence of Umpire Johnston, no doubt had something to do with the locals winning. A member of the Ottawa team and one from the locals were the umpires and gave very good satisfaction. To-morrow's game promises to be a very fast one, as the locals are out after as many scalps as they can get from now on, as was seen in the game of yesterday, when the boys seemed to have come out of their trance and got down to business.

THREE PROTESTANTS HEAR MARRIAGE CASE

The Other Two Judges Listening to Argument are Roman Catholics.

Ottawa, May 27.—Interest in the Ne Temere decree and the marriage law was indicated by the crowd that filled the Supreme Court room today. For the first time for many months the court was graced by the presence of a number of ladies, who took an evident interest in the argument.

The court was composed of three Protestants—Justices Idington, Davies and Duff—and two Roman Catholics—Chief Justice Fitzpatrick and Mr. Justice Anglin.

THE WEATHER.

CROWN ORDERS MINDEN MURDER CASE REOPENED

Toronto, May 27.—The Department of the Attorney-General has had under advisement the case of Arthur A. Ellis, now in Lindsay jail, charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, Lewis D. Porter, and has decided that there must be another preliminary investigation held before the prisoner can be legally tried at the Fall Assizes. A new information will have to be laid against Ellis and the whole machinery of the law set in motion again, according to the decision reached by the Deputy Attorney-General and the Department of Provincial Police.

The new preliminary hearing will take place this week at Lindsay, according to a dispatch from Lindsay received in Toronto last night. It was stated in the message that County Crown Attorney A. P. Devin of Lindsay had been instructed to arrange for a new preliminary hearing and that Magistrate F. D. Moore of Lindsay would preside.

CUTS OUT VATICAN.

Portugese Chamber of Deputies Decides Not to Send a Representative.

Lisbon, May 28. The chamber of deputies by a vote of 50 against 15 today decided to abolish the Portuguese legation at the Vatican. This is a sequel to the law for the separation of church and state, decreed by the government in April last year.

The carrying out of the separation law has given rise to disturbances in many districts and in some cases has led to severe fighting.

CITY IN TROUBLE?

Residents of Smith Township Make Objections to Dumping Ground.

On Saturday last, the attention of The Times was called to conditions at the city's dumping around in Smith. Our informant, who lives nearby, says that the odor emanating from the refuse is very objectionable and unsanitary. He and others living nearby, propose to take steps against the city for maintaining this alleged nuisance. A further complaint was registered that the numberless pieces of paper, taken to the dump, blow broadcast. This makes a further nuisance to people in that vicinity, and is a direct menace to horses passing along roads nearby. This is a serious matter, and one that the city should consider at once to save the cost of litigation.

ARMOURIES ARE A SCENE OF BEAUTY AND GREAT PROGRESS

Various Booths Decorated Better Than Ever And a Successful Display.

Minister of Militia Declares Fair Open.

Faithfully
Sam. Hughes

Well, the Peterborough Summer Fair opened yesterday. The decorations were both individually and collectively far superior, and of a higher grade than those placed at the last similar fair in the Armouries. There, the various booths were nearly all trimmed and decorated by red bunting, nailed to scantlings. This year each booth has its own individually in appropriate decoration. As one enters the main door, the first sight met is a veritable forest of evergreen trees with a regular gypsy's pot boiling, as it hangs from a tripod of birch trees. In the inner recesses of the woods are tents for palmists. Here Mrs. Grant and Miss Archer fortell the fortunes of those having the price to help out that nurse for tuberculosis patients. All the seasons are represented by appropriately decorated booths.

The Spring booth dressed with apple or plum blossoms. A beautifully gotten up design, that to the sight, breathed thoughts of Springtime. The ladies present told our reporter it was a study in mauve and white. Here are sold fancy work, pictures, underwear and preserves. Among those in charge of the booth are Miss Denne, Miss Elliott, Miss Mattie Robertson, Miss Leary, Miss G. W. Nicholls, Miss Erskine, Miss Rush, Miss Leah Rogers, Miss Pentland, Miss Hulda Dobbin, Mrs. T. Cruikshank, Miss F. M. Burgham and Miss Morrow.

The Autumn booth was in charge of Mrs. Denham, Mrs. R. H. Turner, Mrs. Adam Hall, Mrs. W. H. Hill, Mrs. F. W. Matthews, Miss Hurley, Mrs. McGee, Mrs. Steinhoff and Miss McRae. Here are dispensed tea, coffee and cakes, jam, etc. The partitions were beautiful with decorations of grapes and autumn leaves.

The Summer booth was in charge of Mrs. L. M. Hayes, Mrs. McNulty. The decorations were most appropriate and beautiful, and the ladies in charge did a "land office business."

To the rear was "Winter," as proven by the snow white cloths on the tables in a temporary dining room to the rear. Here four long tables accommodating about 100 at a time provided appetizing dainties from 6 until 8 o'clock in the evening, last night.

The Parcel Counter, decorated with big yellow roses and oranges. Here one bought a "bargain." You paid your money and did not know until your package was opened, whether you had won a sugar stick, a cake of soap or a diamond ring. This booth was in charge of Miss Revel.

The telephone was in charge of the two dainty daughters of Mrs. Dunsford. The former were dressed in Olive, with white emblems displaying their temporary occupation. This booth was prettily decorated in green and yellow. In addition to the telephone service. Miss Dunsford, assisted by Miss Dorothy Hall garnered in the change for "sweet charity."

Mrs. McDermott had charge of a stall, dispensing patent medicines that paid a good profit to the cause.

Taken altogether, the show was artistically gotten up. Great credit is due to Mrs. Kendry and the ladies who so ably backed her up.

The main attraction of the evening was "Mother Goose." This has been described in these columns before, when presented so ably at the Conservatory.

Mrs. Dr. Gallivan was at the Fair in the afternoon attired as a gypsy and for so pretty a little white woman, by her costume, showed how art can transform nature.

Hon. Col. Sam. Hughes.

Notwithstanding the steady downpour of rain, many hundreds of citizens gathered at the Armouries last night, shortly before eight o'clock. A "Special Detail" of the 57th Regiment was drawn up in two long lines outside the main entrance of Peterborough's splendid Armoury, with the band to the rear. The Hon. Minister of Militia, arrived in good time, and was given a hearty welcome. The Colonel said in his speech, when a call came for a drill hall for Peterborough, he strongly advised it. The officers, the men of the Regiments, and the ladies turned out splendidly. He prophesied that when so large a crowd turned out on a rainy night, it was indicative of what the week will produce. Col. Hughes then declared the Fair open.

Mayor Bradburn, introduced by Mr. W. H. Moore, congratulated the ladies on the grand success they had accomplished. If the citizens only support the ladies and the Fair, it will be a financial success.

Rev. Canon Davidson, the next speaker paid a strong tribute to the soldiery of Canada. He remarked, however, that the fight against tuberculosis, will save possibly as many lives as the militia. He thanked the Minister of Militia for leaving his official duties to come to open Peterborough's Summer Fair.

Mr. W. H. Moore, in a few words, said he corroborated the sentiments already expressed, and formally declared the Fair open.

The Band then played the National Anthem and the ladies got busy at their various booths, gathering in coin of the realm for the Peterborough Health Association.

For a steadily raining night, those in charge have every reason to congratulate themselves on the opening. The general tone of all present was decidedly optomistic.

SIR JAMES ATTITUDE IS REMARKABLE ONE, HE SAYS

Toronto, May 27.—Sir James Whitney's announcement that when the marriage question comes before the Supreme Court at Ottawa today, Ontario will be represented by Edward Bayly, K.C., solicitor to the Attorney-General's Department, and that Ontario's position will not be determined until the cases put by the others are known, is not received with enthusiasm by those agitating for a uniform Dominion marriage law.

"It will be a remarkable position to take," said Rev. Dr. Hincks, "if the provinces agree to fight for automony. New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta have not full automony now. They have control only of the solemnization of marriage, not of its validity. What we want is a unification of churches to add any ceremony they like to the unified civil contract.

"If the Provincial Governments favor this position, it would be absurd for them to pull one way while the Dominion Government pulls the other. The questions is not one in which, as in political questions of the past, the interests of the Dominion and the provinces have been diametrically opposed. I believe that the provinces are really with us in the desire for a uniform marriage law.

ROBBED BY BLACKS.

Conditions in Cuba Are Rapidly Growing More Serious.

Santiago, Cuba, May 28.—Unsettled conditions in Cuba are rapidly growing more serious. Now it is estimated that over 5,000 negroes have taken up arms in the province of Oriento alone.

Two American citizens, Floyd Schick and Joe. Bryan, have complained to Ross E. Holaday, American consul at Santiago, of being assaulted and robbed while on their way to Sibouey by a band of armed negroes.

COL. SAM HUGHES ENTERTAINED BY THE PETERBORO REGIMENT

Last night, after the reception, that is, the official reception, to Col. the Hon. Sam. Hughes, in the Peterborough Summer Fair, was concluded, that gallant veteran of the South African war, was entertained by the officers of the 57th Regiment in their quarters at the Armouries. A very pleasant evening was spent. Among those present was Rev. Canon Davidson, Chaplain of the 57th Regiment. During the informal chat, the Minister of Militia said a law is to be placed before Parliament, whereby manufacturers must allow their employees, belonging to the Canadian Militia, to attend drill, without docking them for their time. The genial Lindsay Cabinet Minister was given a cordial welcome by the officers of the Regiment, and was evidently favorably impressed by Peterborough's hospitality.

ALLEGED CHINESE GAMBLERS ARRESTED AND OUT ON BAIL

Late on Sunday night, much excitement was caused round the corner of Brock and George streets. Practically the whole police force of the city was on hand. The proprietor of a nearby hotel, remarked to a friend "what the dickens are the police doing round here. Everyone knows I keep the law strictly." Next a copper rushed to the back door of a barber shop and shook it. The tonsorial artist asked the copper "What do you want?" Before he could get an answer the cop was off north as though the moralty and virtue of Peterborough was in his individual keeping, and he had only 13 seconds to keep it.

The trouble was that Lee Fire, Lee Hong and Lee Sing were charged with keeping a gambling house on George street, whilst displaying a big LAUNDRY sign. Sam Newhall, the local pick pockets' and crooks' dread, led the raid. The cops broke into the laundry and arrested eight occupants. One, at least escaped. His flight, graphically told by a local barber is described in another part of this issue.

The bunch of sons of the Celestial Empire appeared yesterday morning before Acting Magistrate Armstrong, with the result that three were charged with keeping a gambling house, and the balance with being frequenters. Mr. G. N. Gordon acted for the prisoners and County Crown Attorney Wood for the prosecution. Tom Him acted as interpreter. Those charged with being the keepers were allowed out on $100 bail each and $50 for the alleged frequenters. As the change in their blouses did not reach the amount of bail demanded, a compromise was made at a lower figure.

A couple of opium pipes and a bottle of Chinese rice wine, and the usual fan tan and li chu paraphernalia, such as cards, dice, etc, were seized by the police. The fan tan game, it might be explained, is played by heaps of Chinese perforated coins. They are put into cups. Then upset on the table. Before the coins are displaced, the guessing nearest the right pile, with the nearest number of aggregate piles of four coins, wins the "pot."

QUEEN MARY'S BIRTHDAY.

London, May 27.—Queen Mary's birthday was celebrated quietly at Buckingham Palace yesterday, the only members of the Royal family with the King and Queen being Princess Mary and little Prince John, the other sons being away.

PUBLIC OPINION

THE MASONIC ORDER.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir, I notice the Catholic Register, the organ of the Church in Ontario, dislikes the Masonic order, and hits it as hard as it knows how. Rev. Dr. Burk, the editor, in replying to an enquirer, says: "In European countries, particularly in France, Italy, Spain and Latin countries, Masonry is pronouncedly atheistic. In Canada, England and the United States it is not as bad, but there are always the latent possibilities of the society becoming infected with Continental ideas. Masonry necessarily means blind obedience to a central authority. The Church does not condemn it for the good that it does. It approves of that. She condemns it because of its unsavory history and its unchristian attitude in many countries. It has been a hot-bed of revolution and rebellion, and in Latin countries to-day it is the hot-bed of all the agencies that make for atheism and irreligion. The Grand Orient of France would be reason enough for the Church to condemn the society wherever it is found."

How does my brothers of the Masonic order like the above?

QUEEN VICTORIA'S DEATH.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I, and doubtless many other Englishmen were pleased to see the prominence you gave Victoria Day. You thus demonstrated your loyalty, not only to the Empire, as it exists to-day, but showed you recognised the magnificent work done by Queen Victoria, the Good. However, under the big picture of the Queen you had one mistake, that I hope you will pardon me correcting. Your paper said the Queen died in 1904. As a matter of fact, that noble woman passed away, at Osborne House, on Jan. 22, 1901.

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 65c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 65c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

HAUNTS OF CRIMINALS

EACH VARIETY OF VICE HAS ITS CENTRE IN LONDON.

The Blackmailers Confine Their Activities to the West End, the Boarding-House Creek Works In Bloomsbury and Hampstead, While Watch-snatchers Operate In Somers Town—"Snuffers" of Thames-side.

London is a city where crime has its peculiar centres.

For instance, blackmailers conduct their operations from the West End. You seldom find them in the East End.

The man who preys on boarding-house keepers by means of a fictitious title, a spoof foreign decoration, or a worthless check, operates in Bloomsbury and Hampstead.

In Somers Town you will find the "buzzer," or watch-snatcher, in Hoxton the "smasher," or maker of false coin, in Shadwell, by the Thames side, the "snuffer" gangs who rob drunken sailors.

The neighborhood of the Euston road is the haunt of men who steal luggage from the tops of four-wheelers, and who reap rich harvests.

Many criminals, of course, are compelled by circumstances to operate from various points of the metropolitan compass. The pillar-box thief engaged to-day perhaps in Tooting may visit West Ham to-morrow; the case of the area sneak is a like one. And the forger, the shoplifter, the pickpocket, and the card-sharper are people whom no particular quarter can claim as its own.

Humble crime has its humble haunts. Take a stroll through the East End any night; observe the large number of small shops where sweets, and hot drinks, and ice cream, and other things which appeal to the juvenile palate east of Aldgate pump are sold. These shops are well lighted, and there is a certain air of attractiveness about them. In almost all you will find gangs of youths, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years.

Some of these establishments are perfectly proper and well conducted. Others are nurseries of crime.

What happens? One night, a van or errand boy comes in flush of money; he is, as his companions say, quite "swanky." At last he tells the secret of it. By some trick, as likely as not, the familiar bird-lime trick, he has stolen a few shillings from the till of a shop kept by an old woman. He excites envy and admiration. His confidants want to go and do likewise. They meet next night, plan a raid, and agree to share the spoil.

As I have said, the Thames side "snuffer" gang plan and carry out their crimes at Shadwell. In the bar of a low public-house they await their victims—the sailor, recently paid off, who has already been having a good time on shore, and enters towards closing time. The new-comer is invited to drink; and presently one of his new friends deftly slips some snuff into his beer. The sailor feels drowsy, he is led from the house to some deserted spot near the side of the river, and there pinioned and robbed of all he possesses.

Shoplifting is often one of the most carefully-planned of crimes. One of the most expert "hoists" living told me that she hired a brougham and a footman to pursue her calling, and yet made it pay handsomely. Once she had the audacity to lunch in a West End establishment from another part of which she had stolen a sealskin coat priced at seventy guineas.

Spurious coins, made in a little back room in Hoxton by a man who used to be one of the cleverest silversmiths in Clerkenwell, are passed by a man and a woman, both well-dressed. The woman's purse contains a good stock of genuine money and only one "snide" (base) coin. She visits shops, by preference those kept by elderly women, tenders the spurious coin for a small article, and is ready to protest her innocence indignantly should the fraud be discovered. If it succeeds she rejoins her companion, takes his arm, receives from him another bad coin, and repeats the operation described until her stock of bad money is exhausted. She is called a "snide pitcher."

Picking pockets is another organised crime carried on in London to an extent which is by no means realised. There are places where the whole art is taught. Half a dozen children are gathered in a room. The instructor, sometimes a man and sometimes a woman, sets up a dummy figure, and on this the youngsters are given their first lessons. The figure is fitted with springs, and the touching of one of these when the hand is in the pocket rings a bell. Clumsiness is punished by a thrashing. When the children are considered efficient they are sent into the streets under the watchful eye of a custodian to try their luck. And from pickpockets they invariably degenerate into something worse.

In a dark room behind a little shop in Whitechapel we may make a hurried acquaintance with another criminal who flourishes and waxes fat without running an abnormal risk—the burglars' "fence." You can get into his den only by rapping in a mysterious fashion on a shuttered door which opens on to a narrow court at the back of the premises. The "fence" pays wretchedly small prices to the thieves, who are more or less at his mercy.

And it is amazing, considering the huge number of customers with which a "fence" deals, that he is not more often given away to the police. Some of these men defy the law for years. I remember an old convict telling me that the "fence" to whom he disposed of the proceeds of a robbery he had committed, got a hint that the police "knew something," placed the "swag" in a watertight vessel and dropped it into the Thames. He had a thin but strong wire attached to it, and when official suspicion was lulled he recovered his treasure, and disposed of it in Hamburg.

Killed by Lightning.

During the electric storm the other night, Mr. William Andrews, who lives about four miles from town, in North Monaghan, lost a valuable horse, which was killed by lightning. Mr. Albert Blodgett, near Jackson Park, had three pigs killed in a similar way, the same night.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

OLD BERLIN.

It Is a Terrible Contrast to Much Lauded New City.

With 600,000 of the 2,500,000 population of the Kaiser's capital crowded into one-room dwellings at the rate of from five to ten persons to a room, the authorities of Berlin are seriously concerned with the problem that confronts them. Rapid as has been the building in Berlin, it has not kept pace with the growth of the city, and erection of new houses has been almost entirely confined to the better residence section of West Berlin.

Berlin is known the world over as the one large city without tenements. It is indisputably the most modern and up-to-date city of Europe. Visitors readily concede that the artistic exteriors of the blocks and blocks of flats, with their large inner courts, and the cleanliness of the streets, have not been exaggerated. Sociologists hold up Berlin as a model, particularly in America.

And so it is. Probably in no other city are the streets literally "scrubbed" daily. Electrically propelled water wagons with rotary thin wire brushes pass over the streets. The streets are flooded with the water; immediately behind come the stiff brushes.

Following the combined water and scrub wagons come men with long hand scrapers lined with rubber, similar to those used by window cleaners. These they push along before them, removing whatever water and dirt may have been left by the big rotary brushes.

When they get through the streets are as clean as a fine parlor floor. Small armies of men are employed in tending the trees and flowers, and in the parks.

But this is so-called "New Berlin." It is the Berlin of the very progressive municipal administration under the present Emperor. It is the Berlin that the visitors, tourists and sociologists see and praise. There is another Berlin which comparatively few tourists visit, and of which many sociologists do not know.

Across the river on the east and the north is "Old Berlin"—the Berlin of Frederick the Great. There the Berlin authorities have the same sociological problems that confront the authorities of other cities.

There are some 8,000 to 10,000 flats, ranging from two to nine rooms, in "New Berlin." In old Berlin as high as thirteen persons have been found living in one room. The construction of modern flat buildings has been confined to the new town, and they have been put up for dividends.

Fairly moderate as the rentals, ranging from $20 to $60 for three to six-room steam-heated flats, might be considered by Americans no German workman, street car or railroad employe, earning but $30 to $35 a month, can pay such rents.

Accompanied by a physician, the writer made a short tour of investigation on the north side. It was noon, but no one would suspect it in the dim light of the basement room into which we stepped. On a very soiled bed of rags was a woman and her young baby.

The rooms were kitchen, dining room, sleeping room and living room all in one. The family consisted of the husband, wife, four children, the oldest girl being sixteen. At night they divided the one room with two young workingmen, to whom they rented sleeping space on the floor.

On another street we came to a place in the second court back of one room and a tiny kitchen. They were occupied by a man and wife and eight children. There were three beds for the ten. There was no heat.

The two windows and the door were kept closed against the cold. Moisture ran down the walls. These two places were typical of a dozen that were visited. The death rate, is very high from these sections of the city. Privacy and morality is impossible under such conditions.

A proposition will be laid before the Diet to appropriate at least $1,000,000 for "small dwellings," to be rented at a rate within reach of the workingman.

Just How He Felt.

Mr. Meekins was habitually all that the first syllable of his name might imply, but a day came when the worm turned at last and spoke his mind freely to that other member of the domestic firm who had assumed leadership. Mrs. M. stood aghast and then remarked ominously:

"Timothy, you'd regret those words if you should suddenly lose your wife."

"Oh, I don't want to lose her," came the cheerful retort, "but there are times when I'd like very much to mislay her for a few hours."

The Turkish Bride.

The Turkish bride spends about a week in dancing and wild, happy life before her marriage. Then when she leaves her father's house she kisses his hands and feet. She goes to the groom's home and on his arrival kisses his hand. Then the paint with which her face has been daubed in the week of dancing and frivolity is wiped off and she drinks coffee with her husband—and they are happy ever after.

His First Intimation.

"How did you find out you could draw?" inquired the admirer of the celebrated illustrator.

"By the marks I received in school for the excellence and fidelity of my work," replied the eminent one. "My work was a caricature of my beloved teacher on the blackboard, and the marks came from the teacher's cane."

Disappointed.

"I dreamed last night that I went to your funeral."

"And that is why you are looking so glum? Good boy!"

"Yes—because it was a dream."

Team Work.

"How do Jack and Joanne ever manage to scrape a living?"

"Why, he makes the money first, and she makes it last."

Government Mail Van.

Through representations made to the Post Office authorities, Mr. Jas. Edgar, postmaster, has succeeded in securing a van, specially constructed for the purpose, to handle the mail between the post office and the railway stations. It is expected the rig will arrive early in June, and will at once be put in commission.

FISHING FOR CROCODILES.

Painted Bars of Salted Wood Used For Hooking the Reptiles.

Under ordinary circumstances the Dyaks of Borneo ask nothing more of the crocodiles that infest their rivers than to be left alone. Nobody thinks of catching or disturbing any of the creatures until one of them has begun to display a taste for human flesh. Then the professional crocodile catcher is called in, and crocodiles are caught and killed until the discovery of some of the brass arm ornaments, which every Dyak wears, in the stomach of one of the victims shows that the man-eater has at last been caught. E. H. Gomes in The National Geographic Magazine describes the curious way of hooking the great reptiles.

A piece of hard wood ten inches long and an inch or so in diameter is sharpened to a point at both ends. A length of plaited baru bark some eight feet long is tied to a shallow notch in the middle of this piece of wood, and a single rattan forty or fifty feet long is tied to the end of the bark rope, forming a long line.

The most irresistible bait is the carcass of a monkey, although the body of a dog or snake is often used. The more overpowering the stench the better—the crocodile will eat only putrefying flesh. The bait is securely lashed to the pointed bar and one of the ends of the bar is tied with a few turns of cotton thread to the bark rope, bringing bar and rope into the same straight line.

Next the bait is suspended from the bough of a tree overhanging the river. The rattan line is left lying on the ground, one end of it firmly fixed in the soil.

Attracted either by smell or sight, a crocodile raises himself from the water and snaps at the bundle, the slack line making no resistance till the bait is swallowed and the animal begins to swim off. Then the planted end of the lines holds till the thread binding the pointed stick to the bark rope snaps. The stick at once returns to its natural position at right angles to the rope and becomes jammed across the crocodiles' stomach, the two points fixing themselves in the flesh.

A firm pull will soon bring the crocodile to the surface and so on shore, for the pain which every pull at the rope causes constrains him to follow docilely after the drag of the rope.

As soon as he is landed the animal is addressed by the catcher in most eulogistic language, that he may be beguiled into offering no resistance. He is called "a rajah among animals" and told that he has come on a friendly visit and must conduct himself accordingly.

First the creature's jaws are tied up, not a very difficult thing to do. Then the crocodile catcher, still pouring forth compliments upon his prey, tells him he will give him rings for his fingers—and binds the creature's hind legs fast behind his back, so as to deprive him of his grip on the ground and his ability to use his powerful tail. This takes no little courage and skill. Finally the fore legs are tied in the same way, a stout pole is passed under the legs, and Master Crocodile is carried off to the nearest government station, where the bounty is paid.

The moment the crocodile is safely bound the language of flattery and compliment ceases, and the Dyaks begin to howl and jeer at him, deriding him for his stupidity and helplessness.

How and Why It Rains.

Rain is an accumulation of the tiny particles of the vapor of the atmosphere into drops. These drops, first small of size, attract others of their kind and become drops of such magnitude that they fall to the earth because of their weight. There is a limit to the quantity of water which the air is capable of absorbing and retaining as invisible vapor. Warm air is able to hold more than cold air; hence when the air which is saturated with moisture becomes cold for any reason whatever it can no longer retain its moisture. A portion must under such condition accumulate into drops. These fall to the earth in the shape of rain.

Wants a Rainy Wedding Day.

The Swedish girl prays for a rainy day on which to get married. Then before she goes to the ceremony attired in her wedding clothes she milks the cow, feeds the calf and steals a breast feather from the hen. That is to bring her husband good luck. The Swedish bride wears loose shoes, unbuttoned and untied, at her wedding. In one is a silver coin, in the other a gold one. This is to bring her the necessaries and luxuries of life.

Paternal Confidence.

The Young Man (with some embarrassment)—There is one question you haven't asked me yet Mr. Hurpop. You haven't wanted to know whether or not I think I can make a living for your daughter.

The Other Man—That isn't necessary, Henry. She'll see that you make the living, all right, if she's at all like her mother, and I think she is.

Fond of Their Own Music.

"I should think some of these speechmakers would get tired of hearing themselves," said the proprietor of the village store.

"Human nature's the same in politics as 'tis anywheres else," replied old Joe Struthers. "A man don't mind listenin' to the worst noise a cornkin make, provided he's the feller that's doin' the practicin'."

A Sacrifice.

"An' that ungrateful boy of mine," whimpered the man in the prisoner's dock. "After all the sacrifices I've made for him he refuses to pay my fine."

"What sacrifices did you make for him?" asked the attorney.

"What sacrifices? Didn't I let him earn his way through college?"

The Caterpillar Plague.

The Peterborough Horticultural Society with commendable zeal, are striving to their utmost to stamp out the caterpillar plague in this district. This insect has become a veritable menace to the future of our crops. The City Council, the Township and the County Council are to be asked to assist in exterminating this plague.

THE BIG DOLLS' DISPLAY.

The prettiest Dolls' House ever seen in Canada will be that on exhibition at the Peterborough Summer Fair. There will be dolls of every kind and complexion; every style of dress and architecture (speaking from a physical doll's point of view) white dolls, darkey dolls, boy dolls, girl dolls, baby dolls, sailor dolls, dirty dolls, fairy dolls, chauffeur dolls and Campbell kids; dolls in cradles, dolls in beds, dolls in hammocks. The greatest display of dolls hats ever seen—lace hats, muslin hats, velvet hats, seal skin hats; dolls' carpet sweepers, dolls' hand mirrors. In fact everything the children love will be in the dolls' house at the Fair.

The Armouries' Flag.

With reference to the absence of the flag on the Armouries flagstaff on Victoria Day, up to 10 a.m. Mr. Burnham wishes it understood that the blame rests in no way on the Regiment, and also wishes it stated that his attention was first drawn to it by a sergeant of the Regiment.

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:—AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:
T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Simon Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:
18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ... $27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year ... 7,000.00
Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital. $20,000.00

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application, 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved the application lists may be closed without notice.

A NEW INAUGURATION DAY.

The members of the United States Senate Judiciary Committee, who are considering a constitutional amendment proposing a single six-year term for the Presidency, are reported to be unanimously in favor of further provision that the President and Vice-President and House of Representatives shall be sworn into office on the first Monday in January following their election.

If this provision should be adopted it would necessitate a change in the method of casting and counting the electoral vote, but with the present facilities for communication throughout all parts of the country the rearrangement could be easily made, and it would meet the criticism which has been provoked by the long delay, which occurs before the will of the people expressed at the polls becomes effective in administration.

This would apply especially to the House of Representatives which, except when it is summoned in special session, does not assemble until thirteen months after its election. It appears that objection to the plan is based chiefly on the ground that it would interfere with the Inauguration Day ceremonies, but the oath could be administered on the first Monday in January and the inauguration show fixed for some future date when weather conditions in Washington were likely to be more favorable than in March when blizzards and rains have been known to interfere seriously with the festivities.

SAVE THE SHELL-FISHERIES.

It is time for our Eastern Provinces to sit up and take notice after hearing the humiliating facts set forth at last week's convention by distinguished scientists regarding the condition of our shell-fisheries. If we are cherishing the notion that all's well in this direction the sooner we disabuse our minds of this illusion the better. According to expert testimony, Massachusetts is the most backward of all the states in the condition of its shell-fisheries, and is allowing magnificent opportunities to go to waste because of its archaic laws. These our state has been manufacturing since 1620, and at present we are the possessors of 533 restrictive statutes dealing with the shell-fisheries.

In view of the continual protests against the high cost of living, it seems a pity that an energetic crusade is not on foot to check the alarming decline which is now taking place in one of the people's chief sources of food supply. On one hand we have reckless over-fishing, and on the other, cities and towns dumping their sewage into the rivers and harbors. Not only Massachusetts, but the whole country needs to give ear to the note of alarm which has been sounded by such a company of scientific experts.

ARE WE NEARING A PERIOD OF DEPRESSION?

James Pollock Kohler, a New York lawyer, in a pamphlet written some little time ago, attributes the several periods of depression from which the United States has suffered to land speculation. Tracing the connection between cause and effect, along the line of argument followed, he says that periods of prosperity have invariably been accompanied by steadily increasing inflation of land values, and land speculation, more particularly in cities. With the beginning of a boom rents are first forced up with a consequent increase in the price of commodities sold from rented buildings and a corresponding decrease in the purchasing power of artisans and others living in rented houses. Next large numbers of people, caught by the speculative fever, buy properties with a small payment down and under obligation to pay the balance in short date instalments. Money, which would otherwise be available for the purchase of useful commodities, is thus tied up and the demand for such commodities is thereby further reduced. This sort of thing cannot go on for long without all business beginning to feel the effect. Goods, which would otherwise go into consumption, pile up on the shelves; orders for new goods shrink in volume Then comes short time: non-employment; depression.

The Sun thinks that if the argument advanced is well founded, and the last serious depression in Canada certainly did follow a period of reckless speculation in land in Toronto and other cities, and in the West, then this country is in serious danger again to-day because at no time in the history of Canada has land speculation been carried so far as it is being carried now. In Toronto there is at present more talk of land buying and land selling than on any other subject. Almost daily new blocks or new streets are being opened up. Prices have advanced by leaps and bounds in all directions, the advance in many cases being ten fold in fifteen years ago. Nor is speculation confined to Toronto real estate. Money from almost every village, town and city in the Province is being tied up by the millions in speculative holdings in the West. The whole country has gone speculation mad. The speculative fever is being accompanied too, by one of the most trying periods farmers have had in years. In the West premature frost last year reduced the anticipated income of prairie farmers by at least a third. In Ontario thousands of farmers, in moderate circumstances, have been forced to spend hundreds of dollars each in making up the deficiency in feed due to last year's partial crop failure. Every country merchant in Ontario is feeling the pinch caused by the spending of money by farmers for feed that would otherwise have been spent for general supplies and by the tying up of other moneys in non-productive investments. The Sun is no alarmist, but if Canada does not have a good crop in 1912, and if the speculative craze is not checked, the situation by the end of the year will be one of extreme gravity.

MEN WHO DON'T EXERCISE

SUFFER FROM INDIGESTION, HEADACHES, POOR APPETITE, SLEEPLESSNESS.

Nothing So Sure to "Set Up" a Man, Make Him Feel Brisk and Vigorous, as Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Lack of exercise and overwork were the causes that combined to almost kill Samuel S. Stephens, Jr., one of the best known citizens in Woodstock. In his convincing letter Mr. Stephens says:—

"A year ago I returned home after a long trip, completely worn out. I was so badly affected by chronic biliousness, so much overcome by constant headaches, dizziness, that I despaired of ever getting well. I was always tired and languid had no energy and spirit, found it difficult to sleep for more than five hours. My appetite was so fickle that I ate next to nothing, and in consequence lost weight and strength. I was pale, and had dark rings under my eyes that made me look like a shadow.

"It was a blessing that I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. In one week I felt like a new man. The feeling of weight and nausea in my stomach disappeared. My eyes looked brighter, color grew better, and best of all, I began to enjoy my meals. The dizziness, languor and feeling of depression passed away, and I fast regained my old-time vigor and spirits To-day I am well — thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

For health, strength, comfort and good spirits there is no medicine like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Beware of substitutes and don't let any dealer palm off some other pill on which he can make more money. 25 c per box or five boxes for $1.00 by mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston Ont.

Editorial Notes

Not until now has it been realised how deeply the American farmers resented the reciprocity pact.

The English sparrow is recommended as good eating. But that needn't cause any slackening of the war on the fly and the mosquito.

It must be admitted that that Russian colonel who killed a pianist because the pianist couldn't play a certain composition without the score was rather too exacting.

If ever there was an aggressive movement which deserved to be called a holy war, it is the organized fight against the "white-slave traffic." It is well that all Canada should join in the good cause.

Writing in the Canadian Courier, Marjorie McMurchy comes to the conclusion that the Canadian working girl would be better off if she got more wages. This is also true of the vast majority of us all.

The progressive parties in the German reichstag—which together are in the majority—have decided that if the army and navy are to be increased, the wealthy and privileged classes must share the additional burden of taxation made necessary by the increase. This may perhaps cause the warlike zeal of the privileged classes to cool a little.

Ohio Republicans have declared for Roosevelt by a large majority. This blow is the severest one that President Taft has yet received. To be beaten in his own state is the crowning humiliation. The result is a triumph of demagoguery; but it may not be a decisive triumph. In spite of his bragging, the colonel hasn't got the nomination in his pocket.

Frank N. Myer, an employee of the United States Department of Agriculture, has returned home after an absence of two and a half years in Russia, Siberia, and Central Asia, where he has been searching for new fruits, plants and grasses which will stand cold equal to that of the North-western States. He has brought back a Siberian bush cherry which is accustomed to a temperature of forty degrees below zero, and an apricot which does not mind a drop to thirty below zero. These may prove to be very valuable finds for Canada as well as the United States.

Some of our people would like to know just what the Roman Catholic Church teaches about the souls of unbaptized children who die in infancy. This is what the Catholic Register tells us: "The church teaches, indeed, according to the inspired word of God Himself, that the souls of unbaptized children cannot enter into the kingdom of heaven. But the church also teaches that they do not go to hell, nor do they suffer in purgatory. She teaches, furthermore, that the immortal souls of unbaptized babies enjoy perfect natural happiness in a special place or state provided for them by the love and mercy of God." The editor, however, says the Guardian, forgot to tell his readers just where "the inspired Word of God" declares that "the souls of unbaptized children cannot enter into the kingdom of heaven."

HEALTH AND BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY MRS. MA E MARTYN

Victoria: No; soap of no kind or in any form should be used as a shampoo. All soap contains "free" alkali, which is too strong for the hair. It makes the hair split, become brittle, dull, harsh and "stringy." A perfect and very simple shampoo prepared by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water will cleanse your hair and scalp thoroughly, and leave it ever so soft, bright and fluffy. This shampoo removes dandruff and stops scalp irritation instantly, makes the hair dry quickly and evenly without streaking and gives to it a most delightful glossy sheen.

A. B. C.: The electric needle is too painful. Mix a little powdered delatone with water, then spread this paste on the hairs not wanted; after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin, and the hairs will have vanished. This treatment leaves the skin soft and free from blemish.

Maude: Your pimply, sallow skin is due to impure blood. You should correct this condition before warm weather comes and so avoid worse troubles. To quickly purify your blood, try this home-made tonic: Dissolve ¼ cupful sugar and 1 ounce kardene in ½ pint alcohol, then add hot water to make a quart. A tablespoonful of this splendid tonic taken before meals will quickly clear your blood, and your pimples and sallowness will give way to a rosy, healthy complexion. This is the finest tonic I have ever found for purifying the blood, giving one energy and building up a run-down condition of the body. You are sure to get splendid results from its use.

Emma S.: To make your eyes clear clear and sparkling, try this simple eye tonic: Dissolve an ounce of crystos in a pint of water and put a few drops in each eye twice a day. This tonic is very soothing and strengthening and will rid your eyes of all weakness and inflammation, and make them strong and beautiful. A prominent oculist informed me that he uses this tonic with remarkable success in treating eye-troubles generally. It is excellent for granulated lids.

Lily: To have a smooth, rosy complexion that does not look artificial, you must not use face powder. Use instead this lotion: Dissolve in ¼ pint witch hazel (or hot water) 4 ounces spurmax, then add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. This lotion will remove that shiny, sallow look and give to your skin a clean, clear, wholesome look. It does not show or rub off like powder and is unequaled as a skin-whitener, and complexion-beautifier. I find this lotion fine for cold sores and preventing chapping.

Trixie F.: I would not advise you to try any of those obesity cures you mention. At least part of them are nothing but worthless fakes. If you want a safe fat-reducer that will give splendid results, dissolve 4 ounces of parnotis in 1½ pints hot water and take a tablespoonful before meals. This remedy removes excess fat rapidly without dieting or fatiguing exercises, and is absolutely harmless, also inexpensive. It leaves the skin smooth and unwrinkled.

Hattie: The formula for that popular French hair-grower you speak of is as follows: Mix together ¼ pint alcohol, ½ pint cold water and 1 ounce quinzoin. (Make it yourself, as stale hair-tonics are worthless.) Rub this into the scalp twice a week and you will soon notice your hair getting thicker, longer and more silky and lustrous. This splendid tonic is an unfailing remedy for dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp. It is good for both light and dark hair.

Miss Jennie: A splendid beauty cream that will not grow hair or make the skin shiny can be easily prepared by stirring into ½ pint cold water 1 ounce almozoin and 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Use this night and morning and your skin will not chap, but always be just as smooth, clear and soft as you could wish it. It is fine for removing dirt from the pores, preventing blackheads, and reducing enlarged pores. You are sure to find this a grand complexion-cream.

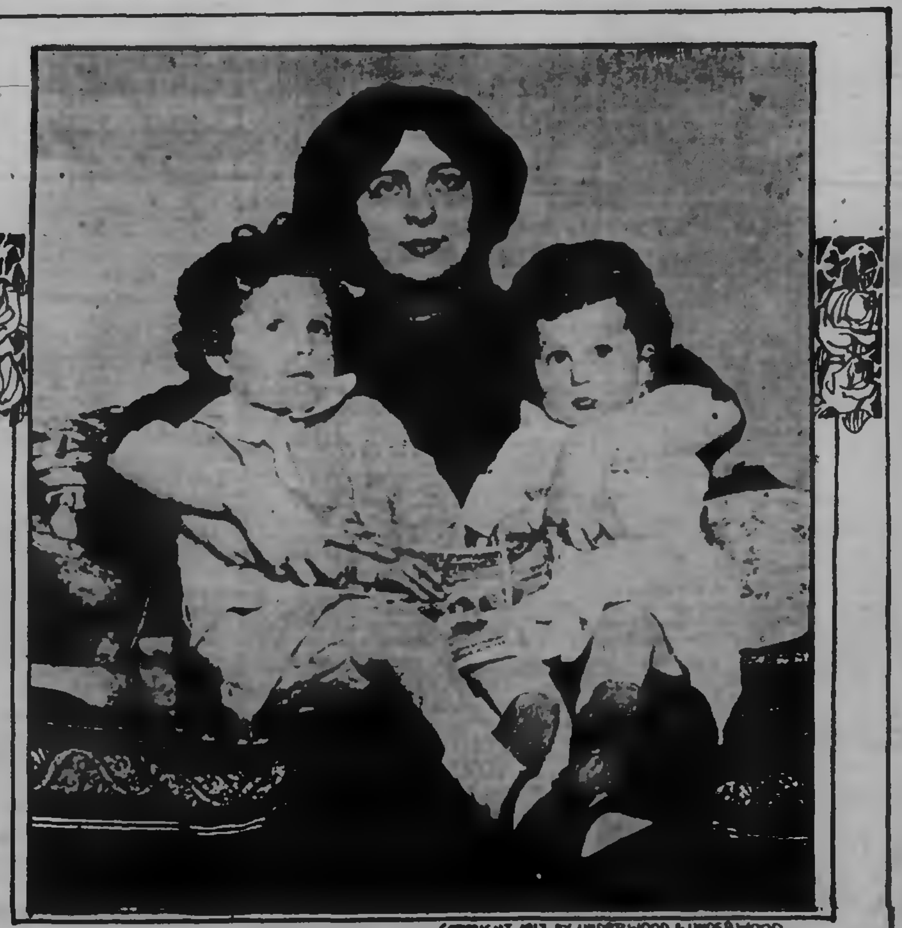
MOTHER AND WAIFS OF THE TITANIC AFTER THEIR REUNION



COPYRIGHT 1912 BY UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD.

MME. NAVRATIL, LOUIS AND EDMOND.

Lola and Monon, the two little waifs of the Titanic, who were plucked out of the sea to remain a month in a strange land, motherless and with none to know the little pet names that would open their hearts, are now clasped in their mother's arms. Mme. Marcelle Navratil, a young Italian woman, is the mother of the children, and as soon as the steamship on which she crossed the ocean reached the pier at New York, the anxious mother hurried to the Children's Society to claim her little ones. The meeting was dramatic in its simplicity.

SHOPLIFTER SENTENCED.

Young Boston Girl Alleged to Have Stolen $125.

Boston, Mass., May 28.—Miss Grace Jensen, 26, of 65 Prospect street, Cambridge, became hysterical in the municipal court yesterday when a sentence of six months in the house of correction for shoplifting was imposed, and she had to be taken from the court room. Judge Wentworth continued the case until to-day.

It is alleged by the police that the woman secured $125 worth of goods from three department stores during the last week by impersonating customers who had a charge account at the store. She would wait until she heard one of these customers charge a purchase and then do the same thing at another counter.

PASTOR SHOT.

Trouble Arises Out of a Matter of Jealousy Over Clergyman's Relatives.

Atlanta, May 28.—The Rev. C. O. Bennett, aged 38, one of the most prominent Baptist ministers of this section, was shot and killed at Millwood, Ga., yesterday, by his cousin, Carey Bennett, aged 20, in a pistol duel over the wife of the preacher.

The result of the fight brings to an end the divorce proceedings which had been brought by Mrs. Bennett against her husband and which would have been tried soon.

The trouble between the Bennetts was of long standing. Allegations had been made regarding the relations between Carey Bennett and Mrs. Bennett. These led to the separation of husband and wife. The minister was

BRITISHERS WIN.

Englishmen Win Preference in Contract for Big Auto Pumping Plant.

Vancouver, May 28.—English firms, even if their tenders are a trifle higher, are to be awarded city contracts in preference to those not British born. This decision was arrived at by the city council last night, when Mayor Findlay, by the casting vote, and, despite the advice of Fire Chief Carlisle, gave a Manchester firm the contract for an auto pumping engine.

NEW MUSKOKA TRAIN.

Now leaves Toronto 10.15 a.m. daily, except Sunday, via GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM. This train arrives Muskoka Wharf 1.40 p.m., making direct connection with steamer for all points on Muskoka Lakes. A brand new train, consisting of Baggage Car, Vestibule Coaches and Parlor-Buffet Car, is operated and passengers are assured of a comfortable ride along the most interesting route to Muskoka Wharf, which is the original gateway to the far-famed Muskoka Lakes. The train runs right to the side of the steamer at Muskoka Wharf, making it very convenient for passengers. Return connection is made with train leaving Muskoka Wharf 11.15 a.m. daily, except Sunday, arriving Toronto 3.10 p.m. Tourist tickets at reduced rates are now on sale to Muskoka resorts, good for stop-over at any point and good to return until Nov. 30th, 1912.

NEGRO SHOT.

Boy of Thirteen Years of Age Was Too Quick on the Trigger.

Shreveport, La., May 28.—Levi Garrison, a negro aged 45, was shot and killed last night by John Hanson, a negro aged 13 years, following a quarrel between Garrison and the boy's mother, with whom the elder negro lived, according to a message from Keithville, this parish. When shot by the youth, who surrendered, Garrison held a double barrelled shotgun with both triggers pulled back to shoot the boy.

HOW AMERICAN WOMEN MAY KEEP FACES YOUNG

"The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F. C. I., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow old before you know it. That same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles."

"The American complexion" is best treated by applying pure mercolized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless cuticle to flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every druggist has this wax; one ounce is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.

For wrinkles, dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel; bathe the face in this. Immediately every wrinkle is affected, even the deeper lines. Both treatments are remarkable facial rejuvenators.

MEN-YOU NEED NERVE

EARLY INDISCRETIONS AND EXCESSES HAVE UNDERMINED YOUR SYSTEM

The nerves control all actions of the body so that anything that debilitates them will weaken all organs of the system. Early Indiscretions and Excesses have ruined thousands of promising young men. Unnatural Drains sap their vigor and vitality and they never develop to a proper condition of manhood. They remain weaklings, mentally, physically and sexually. How you feel? Are you nervous and weak, despondent and gloomy, specks before the eyes with dark circles under them, weak back, kidneys irritable, palpitation of the heart, bashful, debilitating dreams, sediment in urine, pimples on the face, eyes sunken, hollow cheeks, careworn expression, poor memory, lifeless, distrustful, lack energy and strength, tired mornings, restless nights, changeable moods, premature decay, bone pains, hair loose, etc.

To The Investor:

You want to make money.

You want to be independent before you are too old to enjoy the best things in life.

You know some who have done this, and others who are on the high road to wealth and ease.

How can you do it most surely without any chance of failure? By putting your spare money where it will earn the greatest increase.

Real Estate never rests. From the moment you buy machinery, or any of the necessities of life, depreciation sets in. There is no business in the world except that of Real Estate that has no depreciation account on its books. Andrew Carnegie said: "The wise wage earner of to-day invests his money in Surburban Real Estate." Another well-known millionaire stated that "the best way to acquire wealth is to get possession of a good chunk of earth a few miles from a growing city and wait for the city to grow out to it."

No one can afford to pass over without thought such opinions as these.

Examples of the increase in realty values in the Cities of Western Canada are of interest. Four lots on the corner of 2nd street and 7th Avenue, Calgary, increased from $500 to $70,000 in a few years. In 1901 the North East corner of Portage Ave and Magee street, Winnipeg, sold for $12.50 per foot. To-day it is worth $650 per foot. On the 2nd of December 1909 a 50-foot lot on the corner of 25th street and 2nd Ave, Saskatoon, sold for $500. Sixteen months later on April 20th, 1911, the fortunate owners sold out at $30,000.

$2400 was the figure paid in 1907 for a lot on Fairford Ave, Moose Jaw. To-day it would find a ready sale at $20,000, and these profits were made by using judgment, courage and spare money.

Real Estate is the most solid security that human ingenuity ever devised, but you must not let your wishbone change places with your backbone. You must satisfy yourself by investigation of the city in question that it is RIGHT. You must be sure the proposition and the people behind it are RIGHT, then go ahead. Don't wait for others to get in and make you pay part of the increase, but get in first.

GOVERNMENT MONEY FOR YOU!!!

Ottawa, May 11th, 1912.

L. T. Marechal, K. C.,

Montreal.

"The Government having again heard you, as well as other delegates on the important question of the Montreal tunnel, has approved of the project, and the matter of bond guarantees has been referred for the consideration of the consulting engineer of the Department of Railways, to whom the documents and other information have been immediately forwarded

"F. D. MONK."

Montreal Star, May 13.

BELLEVILLE

ST. LAMBERT

Positively Adjoins the Tunnel Co.'s Property

Every man who buys a Lot at Belleville at to-day's opening prices, will see the Government increasing the value of his property with every spadeful of earth excavated. But does not rely on the tunnel or the bridge of the near future for its transportation or its present day value.

BELLEVILLE

To-day the Montreal and Southern Counties Railway runs to within a few yards of Belleville. Get off at Coteau Rouge road and follow the signs.

To-day the new electric line is complete along the whole of one side of Belleville, and only awaits the turning on of the electric current for cars to run there.

To-day men are busily at work enlarging the South Shore Subway in order that a still better service may be given to Belleville.

Belleville lots actually adjoin the town of St. Lambert. We mention this because some people consider the South Shore anywhere between Montreal and Boston.

Belleville lots are all GUARANTEED to be the highest and driest anywhere near St. Lambert. Our sidewalks, for instance, will not have to be two feet above the ground level to keep your feet out of the water.

Belleville has churches, schools, and post-office adjoining it.

Belleville is ripe for you to build on to-day, if you wish, and if you want to invest in a safe, sound, profitable real estate.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT WITH KNIFE ON GIRL AND HER BRAVE BROTHER

Toronto, May 27.—With his hands handcuffed behind his back, his legs secured by leather shackles to the iron footrail of the bed on which he is lying, and guarded by a police officer, Harold Blencarron, a laborer, 26 years of age, rooming at 16 Mutual street, is in the emergency hospital, where he was taken at nine o'clock this morning, following a murderous attack on 16 year old Nellie Lambert and her brother Harold. The culmination was an attempt to commit suicide by swallowing carbolic acid.

His Attentions Repulsed.

Blencarron, for some time, had endeavored to force his attentions on the girl, who refused to have anything to do with him. She was endorsed in this attitude by her brother, who warned the man to keep away from his sister. This morning however, Blencarron, who it is declared to have been in a crazed state as the result of an attempt to commit suicide, met the girl in the hall of the Mutual street house where she and her brother also reside, and he pulled her into one of the downstair rooms.

Drew Out Rusty Knife.

He locked the door and drawing a rusty jack knife threatened the girl. Her screams alarmed Harold Lambert, who was upstairs at the time. Rushing down the stairs he endeavored to affect an entry into the room but for some time the door resisted all his efforts. Eventually he managed to break it down and discovered his sister lying on the floor bleeding profusely from a wound in her wrist, with her half-crazed assailant standing over her.

Rushed at Sister's Assailant.

Brandishing the knife, Blencarron invited the brother to come on. Without a moment's hesitation the young fellow rushed at his sister's assailant and fought with him for the possession of the knife. In the conflict he was badly slashed across the hand and fingers and Blencarron effected his escape from the room despite the fact that by this time a cordon of other boarders held the doorway.

Seized Bottle of Carbolic.

Rushing up the stairs, the assailant entered his room and seizing a bottle of carbolic acid endeavored to swallow the contents. He was only partially successful in this, however, most of the fluid finding its way down his clothing. In the meantime an alarm had been given to the officer on the beat, P. C. McBirney, who succeeded in grabbing Blencarron before he had time to make a second attempt on his life.

Rushed Three to Hospital.

The man's two victims were rushed to St. Michael's Hospital where several stitches were put into their wounds. Blencarron was also taken there as it was first thought that his life was in danger from the poison he had swallowed. The doctors found, however, that nothing was amiss with him in that respect beyond the fact that his lips were badly seared.

FIGHT IN AMERICA

To Keep Mexicans From Using American Territory in Battle, Cavalry Get Busy.

Mexico, May 28.—To keep Mexicans from using American territory in their battle around Guadalupe, Mexico, Col. E. Z. Steever, of the Fourth United States Cavalry Wednesday ordered two troops of cavalry to follow along the boundary line several miles to the east parallel to any fighting that may occur. The confusion over the position of the imaginary line nearly caused an international episode Tuesday and the American commander is determined definitely to mark the boundary by a string of olive drab troopers.

The evacuation of Guadalupe by the federals is a ruse that was expected to culminate in a fight during the day. The withdrawal of a federal column under Major Louis G. Sanchez southward toward the hills allowed the rebels to enter the town and the insurrectos will find themselves hemmed in on the east by 200 men under Col. Jose Delacruz Sanchez.

A DUKE OUT WEST.

Brooks, Alta., May 28.—The duke of Sutherland, accompanied by J. S. Dennis, assistant to the president of the C.P.R., and head of the natural resources department, arrived here on Saturday afternoon. The duke immediately proceeded in one of the railway company's autos to his farm, about three and a half miles from town.

The duke has come to visit settlers who have come out to take up land in the Brooks colony and to see how they are getting along. Also he is planning a further extension of the colony.

Our Trade With U. S.

Despite the defeat of reciprocity and the keeping up of the tariff restrictions against trade between Canada and the United States, the significant fact is shown by the trade returns for the twelve months ending with February last that Canada's total trade with her neighbor to the south increased during the year by $63,583,240, or about fifteen per cent., while trade with Great Britain increased by only $18,342,157, or not quite eight per cent. Canada's total trade with the United States for the twelve months was $453,225,632, and with Great Britain, $260,672,657.

The Dominion's aggregate trade with the world was $847,373,738, an increase of $93,433,178, of which $81,820,639 was in imports. Exports of domestic products, which totalled $285,607,342, increased by only $9,455,708. The Dominion's total trade with the United States is, therefore, considerably more than half of the total trade with all the world, and is increasing at a more rapid rate than with any other country.

MILLIONAIRE ELOPER

Sees Grandson by Marriage for Three quarters of a Million.

New York, May 28.—Russell F. Hopkins, the wealthy young man who came from Atlanta several years ago, and eloped with 16-year-old Vera Lawrence Siegrist of St. Louis, who is said to be heiress to two millions, is made defendant to-day in an unusual suit brought by Mrs. Josephine Lawrence, his wife's wealthy grandmother.

Mrs. Lawrence seeks to recover $275,000 which she avers she lent to her grand daughter's husband, and she alleges that young Hopkins obtained the loan through misrepresentation and coercion, by working upon her love for her granddaughter and the latter's little children. She declares that Hopkins importuned her repeatedly for money, and in one instance obtained a large sum after the establishment of a town house, with the understanding that he and his wife would stay in New York with their children. He has, however, gone away, it is declared.

Hopkins is the son of an Atlanta banker, whose millions he has spent in a manner which has kept him continuously in the public eye. At his Irvington estate, 60 acres with a handsome residence and Italian gardens and other adornments alongside the river, he maintains a private menagerie. For the amusement of his babies half of the roof of his Fifth avenue house has also been converted into a zoo, where real lions, tigers and bear cubs disport themselves.

BACK TO A FLAT.

President Fallieres Becomes an Ordinary Citizen Soon.

M. Fallieres will retire from the Presidency of the republic in less than a twelvemonth, that is to say, at the expiration of his seven years of office, and he has already made his plans with regard to the future.

Life at the Elysee has not had the effect of attracting him more to the right bank of the river than it did M. Loubet, who, like him, had a long innings as President of the Senate before he attained the highest rank that the nation could confer.

M. Loubet, on his departure from the palace in the Faubourg Saint Honore, settled in a flat at No. 5 Rue Dante, a new house, with all modern comforts, not far from Notre Dame, and M. Fallieres has decided on installing himself in an apartment of a house that he owns on the Boulevard Saint Germain, also situated on the "rive gauche."

"It is quite a central position," as he has explained to intimate friends. "I shall have the Metropolitan Railway and every means of communication at my very door, and I shall be within easy access of the Chamber and the Senate." Republican simplicity will, in fact, be the rule with him as with his predecessor.

"The flat which M. Fallieres is reserving for himself consists of a salon, a dining-room, a study and three bed chambers—just the ordinary suite—and he will content himself with a housemaid, as he seems to be as adverse to having a man to wait on him as was Victor Hugo, who could never tolerate a butler or a valet. M. Fallieres, as may be added, has taken a very wise precaution.

Since noisy neighbors are the chief drawback to a Paris flat, he has made the tenants who occupy the apartments immediately above and below the one which he has selected for himself promise in their leases that they will not keep any animals or play the piano from morning till night, or for that matter, from night to morning.

It is wonderful how men like M. Fallieres and M. Loubet can adapt themselves to such a change in their positions. To exchange a palace for a quiet flat and to be as happy in the new life as one has been in the old denotes a strength and a simplicity of character which are really admirable.

Since he left the Elysee M. Loubet has found a field of useful activity without obtruding himself in the slightest degree, and so, no doubt, will it be with M. Fallieres. When he was President of the Senate M. Loubet was fond of taking a morning ride in an omnibus, and since his removal to the Rue Dante one often meets him enjoying a constitutional on the quays.

When he was President of the republic he went almost daily to the Bois, driving a pair of fine black horses, and now he is satisfied with more homely means of locomotion. M. Fallieres already talks of patronizing the "Nord-Sud" Railway, and hints at the modest auto-bus. Yet they both must have derived some well deserved material profit from their sojourns at the Luxembourg and the Elysee, and, moreover, they are both landowners, each in his native district.

In these days of luxury and show such simplicity sets an example which might well be followed, when all is said and done, the average Frenchman is not given to ostentation, and a man is still more considered for what he is than for what he possesses. As with Presidents, so it is with Ministers, many of whom return to their practices at the Bar or to literary pursuits as if they had never held the fate of the country in their hands, their own desire being to be allowed to pursue their former avocations in peace and to be spared all intrusion from interviewers.

Nice Little Hint.

"I wonder," remarked a youthful astronomer who was very slow in doing what was expected of him, "if—if you will let me associate you with a star — Venus, perhaps, the star of love?"

"Well, no," replied the young lady addressed thoughtfully. "I would rather that you thought of me as Saturn."

"Indeed! Why?"

"Oh, well, you know, didn't you tell me that Saturn has a ring?"

He brought one on the following day.

Cat Worship.

In ancient Egypt the cat was an object of worship. Herodotus narrates that when an Egyptian house was on fire the first thing to be saved was the cat. When the Romans conquered Egypt the cat received no more consideration than the religion of which it formed a part. Before that time in Egypt to kill a cat, even by accident, was punishable with death.

Turned Things About.

Pat was in the army and he was very awkward. One day he was out drilling, when the sergeant turned to him and said:

"Pat, what did you do before you came here?"

"Begorrah, yer honor, I used to drive pigs, but since I have come here I have nothing but pigs driving me."—London Answers.

Cautious.

"Did the burglars overlook anything of value?" inquired the reporter.

"I'd rather not say anything about that," answered the man whose house had been robbed.

"Why so?"

"Because they'll be watching the papers for a day or two, I think, to find out."

Further Inquiry.

"What makes that red spot on your nose?" one man in Le Roy asked another last week.

"Glasses," was the reply.

Then came the important question, "Glasses of what?"

Mr. Allan Accepts St. Paul's.

Mr. John Allan, formerly one of the leading church organists in Montreal, has written to accept the offer made by St. Paul's church. Our readers will remember that Mr. Allan played at that edifice a week ago Sunday, when he created a very favorable impression. St. Paul's church is to be congratulated on securing the services of so talented a musician. Mr. Allan's execution and technique are beyond criticism. The future organist of St. Paul's has a daughter who is leading soprano in one of the largest churches in Montreal.

Department of Railways and Canals. Ontario—St. Lawrence Canal Murray Canal.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed, "Tenders for Dredging Murray Canal," will be received at this office until 16 o'clock on Wednesday, June 5th.

The specification and form of contract to be entered into can be seen on and after Monday, May 20th, at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, or at the office of the Resident Engineer of the Ontario-St. Lawrence Canals, Cornwall, at which places form of tender may be obtained.

Parties tendering will be required to accept the fair wages schedule prepared or to be prepared by the Department of Labour, which schedule will form part of the contract.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and in the case of firms, unless there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm.

An accepted bank cheque for the sum of $500.00 made payable to the order of the Minister of Railways and Canals, must accompany each tender, which sum will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose tenders are not accepted.

The cheque of the successful tenderer will be held as security, or part security, for the due fulfilment of the contract to be entered into.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

A SOUND INVESTMENT IN TORONTO REAL ESTATE.

This is what we are offering the readers of "The Times" in our newest Sub-Division:

"CALEDONIA PARK"

Anyone familiar with Toronto will agree with us when we say that the best part of the city for investment to-day is the NORTH-WEST SECTION.

In "CALEDONIA PARK" you may purchase land where the district east, west, and south, is almost entirely built up.

The St. Clair Avenue car line will be in operation in about eight months, as the rails are now laid past our property. This, of course, will cause a decided enhancement in land values in the St. Clair Avenue district. "CALEDONIA PARK" lying just two blocks (about four minutes' walk) north of St. Clair, will naturally benefit very much.

The entire block is RESTRICTED to solid brick, or brick veneer houses, which will provide a district absolutely first class, and where houses will sell from $2700 to $4000 each.

A new brick school is just being completed at a cost of about $100,000, on the south side of INNES AVENUE, ONE OF THE STREETS IN "CALEDONIA PARK."

A local builder has just purchased a large strip of land and SIX solid brick houses will be commenced in a very short time.

Toronto investors, men who know values, are purchasing in "Caledonia Park," as they know there is money to be made at the opening low prices of—

$14 to $25 Per Foot

Write us for complete information. We will gladly forward plans and descriptive folder to any address. We know what we are offering, and can, with confidence, recommend "CALEDONIA PARK" lots to the Investor. Ten days' selling has disposed of $60,000.00 worth of lots.

WE REPEAT—We will refund the railroad fare to any purchaser within 150 miles of Toronto.

You can buy in "CALEDONIA PARK" on VERY EASY TERMS: 20 per cent. down and 20 per cent. every six months.

One feature worthy of note is that these lots are DEEP. We are aware that some properties on the market at the present time are only about eighty feet deep. OUR LOTS AVERAGE 124 FEET IN DEPTH TO A WIDE LANE.

Reservations may be made without risk to the purchaser. We will hold for three days what we consider the best available land. You can look the property over yourself, and if absolutely satisfied, make the purchase. We have many clients who act upon our judgment. They have realized splendid profits. You can do the same.

ROSEDALE LOTS

Most citizens of Peterboro' are aware that Rosedale, of Toronto, is the High Class Residential District of that city. Where naught but blue blood is to be found, and where residence therein is a passport to high society. It was sub-divided and put on the market by a Scotch syndicate about 35 years ago, at $20.00 per front foot, and it is now selling at from $75.00 to $250.00 per foot. About the same time the high class citizens of Peterboro' determined to keep step with Toronto, quickly selected and sub-divided that beautiful block of land north of Smith Street, east of Jackson Park, west from Normal School, and Chemong Road. Having gone so far, they wearied of well-doing, leaving the task of putting on the market to your humble servant, in the late afternoon of life, and because of that lateness, and of the superior High Class Property, I am offering at a fraction of it's value five years hence. I most respectfully solicit your early investigation, believing that when you see the property, hear my price and terms, you will be pleased to accept at once. And as I want the assistance of every good man and woman in this meritorious work of furnishing home-foundations and the safest and most profitable way to invest and save, small or large sums of money. And in return for this assistance I agree to pay 5 per cent. of the net price, at which each lot is sold, to the Treasurer of the Church to which the buyer belongs. I will do this as a precedent for others to follow my example. Payable out of half money received from buyer. Bear in mind, I only own 38 lots in what I have properly named "The Heart of Rosedale", and you or your descendants will buy that property soon, or later at 5 or 10 times my price. Is it not in your interest to buy now, and use or sell later at big profits as many others have done? It is always safe to buy wheat or gold dollars, when they are offered at half value, and that is what you are doing when you buy lots in "The Heart of Rosedale."

Unavoidable delay compels me to name June 5th, as the opening day for sale of those lots. In the meantime, I suggest that every auto owner in the city, in his own interests, not only to go himself, but to take all his big friends with him, to carefully inspect and fully verify my statements.

How to find it—Second block north of Smith St. and west of Dixon, marked by small flags, and five minutes' walk from car line at Jackson's Park.

Plans, and further information will be available in a few days.

CITY AND DISTRICT

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES REPORTERS.

Local Option in Lindsay.

Lindsay has opened its local option campaign. On Sunday, Rev. Dr. McTavish, of the Dominion Alliance, spoke there. He spoke in the Cambridge-st. Methodist Church in the morning, St. Andrew's Church in the evening, and held a mass meeting at the Academy of Music at 8.15 o'clock.

Choral Society.

St. George's Choral Society will hold the final rehearsal for Wednesday's choral concert in the Armouries in connection with the Summer Fair on Tuesday evening, at 8 p.m., in Coleman's parlours. This concert will be given under the direction of Mr. R. J. Devey.—B. Read, Secretary.

Chink Makes a Record Run.

During the raid on the Chinese laundry Sunday night, a Chinaman in white trousers and white pajama shirt escaped during the melee. He got into the Windsor Hotel yard and made a record Marathon to Hunter street and thence south on Water street. Those who saw his flight thought, with his wide bagging pants, and flowing shirt, he was a woman, until he showed that a Chink can certainly run.

Another New Local Launch.

Mr. Thomas Palmer, has launched the smart little gasoline launch he built at his residence, 390 Queen St. This craft is trim and smart looking. It is 16 feet long, by 4-foot beam. Mr. Palmer anticipates she will make ten miles an hour. With appropriate ceremonies, and a bottle of ginger beer as she slid into the river, the latest addition to Peterborough's small craft was christened "Punge."

You May Have Catarrh And Not Know it

HEAD AND THROAT BECOME DISEASED WITH CATARRH FROM NEGLECTING COLDS AND COUGHS.

Catarrh is Treacherous—When Fully Developed is a Horror—Note its Symptoms.

"Is your breath bad?"
"Is your throat sore?"
"Do you cough at night?"
"Is your voice raspy?"
"Does your nose stop up?"
"Have you nasal discharge?"
"Do you spit up phlegm?"
"Has your nose an itchy feeling?"
"Have you pain across the eyes?"
"Is your throat irritable, weak?"
"Do you sleep with mouth open?"
"Are you subject to sneezing fits?"
"Do your ears roar and buzz?"
"Are you hard of hearing?"

If you have any of these indications of Catarrh, cure the trouble now—stop it before it gets into the lungs or bronchial tubes—then it may be too late. The remedy is "Catarrhozone", a direct breathable cure that places antiseptic balsams and healing medication on every spot that's tainted by catarrhal germs.

There can be no failure with Catarrhozone—for years it has successfully cured cases that resisted other remedies. "No one can know better than I the enormous benefit one gets from the very first day's use of Catarrhozone," writes T. T. Hopkins, of Westvale, P.Q. "I had for years a stubborn case of Bronchial Catarrh ear noises, headache, sore eyes, stopped-up nose and throat. It affected my appetite and made my breath rank. Catarrhozone cured quickly."

Get Catarrhozone, use it, and you are sure of cure—beware of imitation and substitutes. Large size Catarrhozone, with hard rubber inhaler lasts two months, and is guaranteed. Price $1.00, at all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Lots of 'Lunge in the Scugog.

Mr. Watson, Fishery Inspector, says that lunge are plentiful in Scugog Lake. He says there are plenty of maskinonge, but the bass are about exterminated. He claims there is no truth, as stated in a Lindsay paper, that hundreds of dead fish had been going over Lindsay dam this spring. Mr. Watson had investigated this rumour and had ascertained that dead fish had been found in the lower lake.

Wife of Former Local Man Wins.

Settlement was made in the case of the late Albert Parrish, formerly of this city, who was killed in Vancouver a short time ago, while engaged as a machinist with a large concern there. The terms of the agreement stipulate that the widow of the late Albert Parrish, who resides in Peterborough, shall receive the sum of $1500 and costs. The case was settled without having to resort to litigation proceedings.

Wanted a Gun For Muskrats.

Revolvers are a drug on the Peterborough market. Sales have fallen off considerably within the past year in the city. Only one man applied for a license to carry such a weapon. He said he was going out trapping. The application was refused, as those in authority evidently thought an oak club would kill a mink or muskrat, when caught in a trap, and not drowned before the trapper arrives.

Another Peterborough Pitcher.

It is an open secret that a few of the opening players of the White Caps were let out. Another pitcher to assist, in the person of John Ridgeay of the Columbia team of the Carolina League, who pitched against the Torontos on their spring training trip this year, left the South yesterday afternoon for Peterborough, and will arrive on Thursday. He is in good form and will be a great help to the Petes.

Mr. Walter Stocker on Directorate.

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Poster Advertising Association, held in Port Stanley, the following officers were elected: President H. A. Williams, Montreal; Vice-President, Geo. H. Belton, London; Secretary, W. S. Seane, Chatham; Directors, C. L. Ruddy, Toronto; L. C. Gould, Midland, W. Stocker, Peterborough; A. B. Ware, Montreal. Delegates were present from Halifax to Vancouver.

DINNER AT THE FAIR.

The ladies in charge of the Fair certainly know that the nearest way to a man's heart is through that portion of his anatomy covered by the third vest button. Those who served the palatable supper last night, will serve a dinner to-day at the Armouries from 12 to 1. Those wanting to see the Fair and get a good square meal, should enjoy that given, or, as it is for a most commendable charity, sold, for half value. The ladies of St. John's and St. Peter's churches, are doing their share of the work, in a good cause.

A Lindsay Simple Simon.

We have all heard of "Simple Simon" who "went a fishing in his mother's pail." Lindsay, a few days ago, had a man of the same patronymic, who acted even simpler. He got a load of tangle-brain aboard and ran amuck on the streets. Armed with a big flask, after having acted queer previously on the same day, and in loud tones, with alcoholic laden breath and numerous oaths, started to count the pedestrians passing. Several ladies were insulted by this imbiber of Scugog red-eye. At last a young man, who remonstrated with him, got a bunch of fives in his face. A big crowd gathered. "Simple" was arrested and fined $20. He gave Montreal the honor of being his home.

OBITUARY.

Abraham Crouter.

The friends in this city of Mr. Abraham Crouter, 551 Waterford St. heard yesterday with regret, of his death in St. Joseph's Hospital. Mr. Crouter was 75 years of age. He came to this city twenty years ago, and was born in Madoc. In religion, he was a member of the Methodist church. He is survived by four sons George, Albert, James and Sidney, all of Peterborough, his wife having predeceased him. The remains will be conveyed to Havelock to-day and interment will take place in the Centre Church burying ground.

Mrs. W. Spencely.

The funeral of the late Mrs. William Spencely of Auburn, N.Y., who formerly resided in this city, will take place to-day. The remains will arrive on the 6 p.m. C.P.R. train. Interment will take place in Little Lake cemetery.

DEATH.

SHERIN—In Bowmanville, on Monday, May 27th, Mr. Thomas Sherin aged 86 years, father of Mrs. Frank Mahon. Funeral in Bowmanville on Wednesday.

HOWE'S GREAT LONDON 3 RING CIRCUS

The following from the "Toronto "Globe," word for word," June 6, '11

CIRCUS AN ATTRACTION FOR TWO HUGE CROWDS.

New Thrillers Provided for the Public by Howe's Aggregation.

Two large crowds enjoyed two performances provided by Howe's Great London Circus yesterday. The big main tent was filled in the afternoon, and, although rain impeded, the management had to stop selling tickets before the show was timed to start in the evening. Five hundred were turned away.

The show includes a complete menagerie, numbers of elephants and camels, including a year-old camel calf, all of which took part in a parade in the morning.

Conspicuous amongst the performers were the Eddy family, consisting of father, two sons and two daughters. Their first appearance in the iron-mouthed act was thrilling. Suspended high in the air, literally by the skin of their teeth, hanging from wires by their mouths, they played banjos and mandolins. Following this Eddy and Miss Karline, the youngest members of the troupe, executed a clever and daring dance on the tight wire, and to cap it all, Eddy turned a back-handed somersault on the wire, unassisted by a balance pole. He is said to be the only man able to do this.

Other noteworthy acts were those of the acrobatic Fyeno troupe, consisting of eight Japs ranging from a child about nine to a grown man. Joseph Wallace and Cecil Lawanda did some very clever trick riding, and Mrs. Wallace and Miss Nellie Lawanda bestrode a couple of beautiful Kentucky horses, which waltzed, two-stepped and ended up with a cake walk to the accompaniment of the first class circus band.

Among the elephants is one called Mum, who has passed the allotted span of three score years and ten. A short time ago she distinguished herself at Ingersoll by escaping from the show and getting stuck in a bog after a strenuous cross-country run. The only remaining sign of the escapade is a mark across her trunk, where she tried conclusions with a barbed wire fence.

This splendid English show will be at Peterborough on Thursday, June 6th, 1912.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Dr. Ives, of New York, is in the city visiting friends.

Mr. Fred McCorry of Toronto, is visiting friends in the city.

Hundreds of people made enquiries at the local newspaper offices yesterday afternoon, enquiring as to the ball score. When at the end of the third it was shown that the Petes stood 2—0, a yell went up from the small boys.

Company's Show Room will be open on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings during May and June, from 8 to 10 p.m. for the convenience of those wishing to secure gas appliances or to arrange for gas connections.

Judging by the telegraphic reports received yesterday, Premier Whitney's Anti-Treating Law is going to be strictly and fully observed. This will mean the absence from some of our local hotels of gentlemen, well clad, thirsty, but without the price.

Mr. Stratton Claims Innocence.

At the Farmers Bank investigation held before Sir William Meredith, Hon. J. R. Stratton gave a sweeping denial of all connection with or knowledge of the transactions, subsequent to the formation of that institution. In response to an enquiry, Mr. Stratton replied: "I want it distinctly understood that I assisted in no way. I saw no member of the Government, no member of Parliament, no officers, or clerk of any department; I wrote no letters; I did not communicate with the Government or anybody else in connection with the Farmers Bank obtaining a certificate from the Government."

The Fair Protected From Fire.

Last night a Times reporter, who had been up at, admired and duly written up Peterborough's Summer Fair, went down later to the fire hall and put a few questions to Chief Howard, the efficient local fire fighter. Chief Howard assured the Times man that no danger from fire need be apprehended. Yesterday Chief Howard, with two assistants, made a thorough examination of all fire apparatus and appliances at the Armouries. He and his assistants, found some slight irregularities that were corrected and changed whilst you might count "one, two, three." The Chief sent two chemical engines, generally called "Babcocks" to the Armouries. A trained fireman will be on duty until the end of the fair.

Splendid Trout Caught Along the G.T.R. System.

On display in a St. James Street window in Montreal, is a magnificent specimen of a 16½ pound salmon trout recently caught in the Algonquin National Park of Ontario, by Mr. J. W. Swan, official photographer of the Grand Trunk Railway System. This beautiful specimen was landed with a 6 oz. fly rod, after a struggle of over one hour. The reports from the Park this year are very gratifying, and splendid fishing is being had, including speckled trout and salmon trout. The Dominion Government in co-operation with the Grand Trunk planted several hundred thousand Atlantic salmon fry in the waters of Algonquin National Park two years ago, and it is gratifying to know that results are being noticed, and that several fine specimens of land-lock salmon are now being captured.

SAINT VITAL SECURITY COMPANY
Limited

Room 2, Avenue Block, 265 Portage Avenue,

Winnipeg, Man., May 27th, 1912.

GENTLEMEN:—

Is your money earning you THREE HUNDRED PER CENT?

Each one of us is striving towards the goal of self-improvement, the chief factor of which is FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE.

To those who desire to invest their money in an absolutely safe way with a certain prospect of splendid returns, we can offer an exceptionally good proposition.

The SAINT VITAL SECURITY COMPANY, LIMITED, has recently been incorporated and have purchased a well-located piece of property in SOUTH WINNIPEG in the Parish of Saint Vital, to be immediately sub-divided into lots and placed on the market, netting 300 per cent. on money invested.

So far it has been operating privately, and the amount already subscribed exceeds our most sanguine expectations, but there are still a few shares left, which we can now offer to the public.

If business men recognise it as a sane and safe investment, there can be no question as to its bona-fideness.

If you are interested, write for further information. We court the fullest inquiries

Yours truly,
SAINT VITAL SECURITY CO., LIMITED.

THREE CHARGED WITH TITANIC DISASTER ‖ United States Senate Blames Captians Smith, Lord, and British Board of Trade. ‖ GOOD NEWS FOR MEXICAN INVESTORS

W. R. TRAVERS IS CHARGED WITH CONCEALING PAPERS

Liquidator Declares That Manager Removed Valuable Box of Documents From Vault.

Toronto, May 28.—Liquidator G. T. Clarkson made serious charges against W. R. Travers at the resumption of the Farmers Bank inquiry this morning, and stating that he removed a box containing papers in connection with the Keeley Mine and other matters from the vault in the head office of the bank.

"Where are those papers now?"

"In the possession of Mr. Travers' son."

Travers had stated that the missing papers were not in the box.

Has Not Been Called.

"Has Mr. Travers' son been called as a witness?" asked Commissioner Sir William Meredith.

"No, he has not been called."

"What capital did the bank have when they opened the doors?"

"About $143,465."

"But you are not counting the loan from the Trusts & Guarantee Company."

"Then the capital would be $244,376, but their actual capital was $143,465. They also had stock securities of $20,027?"

"Can you tell me how much of the $4000 odd shown in the organization account was paid in commission?"

$42,000 in Commission.

"Yes, $43,878." Mr. Clarkson declared that the biggest item was $11,000, which went to Mr Lindsay.

Taking up the question of subscriptions return, Mr. Hodgins showed that while the return totals $678,000, some of the subscriptions had been ante-dated, some worthless and others afterwards cancelled.

"Now, Mr. Clarkson, on the last page of the return is $35,000 of subscriptions which came in admittedly after the 23rd of October. In all there is $65,400, and I would like to know whether or not they were ante-dated."

"I think they were received after the meeting."

Conditions subscriptions amounting to $13,500, and subscriptions amounting to $10,000, which could not be pressed, were also included in the return.

"Then here are a number of worthless subscriptions. Were they known to be worthless at the time they were taken?"

"It is my opinion that they were."

NEW STOCK TO BE ISSUED TO AID MERGER OF LAKE LINES

Montreal, May 28.—The merger of the Lake steamboat lines and the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, was definitely put through this morning at a meeting of R. & O. shareholders here, over which Sir Rodolphe Forget presided.

The lines taken in by the R. & O. follow: The Niagara Navigation Company, the Northern Navigation Company, Inland Lines, Turbine Steamship Company, Hamilton Steamship Company, the Thousand Island Steamboat Company, and the St. Lawrence River Steamship Company.

The shareholders endorsed the requirements of these concerns and the issue of any extra stock required to complete deals outstanding.

When the merger is complete in all details the R. & O. will have a capital of $10,000,000, and a fleet of 70 boats.

The new stock will be offered first to shareholders whose names are on the R. & O. books, at 4 p.m., May 21st, at par.

The R. & O. started operations 68 years ago with one passenger boat and one barge.

MR. LAFLEUR ARGUES THAT THE MARRIAGE TIE NOT RELIGIOUS RITE

Ottawa, May 28.—Continuing his argument before the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon, on the marriage question, Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., referred to the meaning of the word marriage used in conjunction with the word divorce, and said that the same wide meaning must be given to marriage.

The Quebec Code.

Taking up the question of the Quebec civil code, Mr. Lafleur held that no ambiguity could be read into any of the sections. Section 128, which reads, "Marriage must be solemnized openly by a competent officer recognized by law," stated the law clearly, and no possible reference to any previous statement of the law is necessary.

"Where in is there any ambiguity in the first paragraph?" asked Mr. Lafleur. "These are merely precautions taken to enable the officiating clergyman to prevent clandestinity. An outsider—that is, a competent officer outside the participants' parish—may marry them, but first he must make sure there is no clandestinity. The publication of banns is necessary in the Roman Catholic Church.

Not Always Clerics.

"No question has ever been raised as to the validity of a marriage of a Protestant and a Roman Catholic" continued Mr. Lafleur, answering a question put by Mr. Justice Duff regarding the domicile of Protestants and how this was determined in Quebec Province.

Continuing, Mr. Lafleur held that it was wrong to say that in Quebec marriage is essentially a religious ceremony. He failed to find anything in the civil code to this effect.

"What about the word celebrate?" asked the Chief Justice. "In many foreign countries the word celebrate is used in connection with the going to the Mayor or civic official and being married. Afterward the couple usually go to the church and have the nuptial benediction said," replied counsel. "All decrees recognize marriage where approval of parents could not be secured, and so far as the law is concerned, there is nothing there but the consent of the parties. The only thing that makes marriage a religious ceremony is when the minister is a member of some church. It is a theological point. It cannot be said that a religious ceremony is the essence of marriage. It is imposed in most churches, but it is a religious obligation only.

"If a Jew only was competent to marry a Jew, a Methodist only a Methohist, and so on," continued Mr. Lafleur, "would there be no officers competent to celebrate marriage between two unbelievers? If we restrict one, we must restrict all."

Referred to Hebert Case.

Turning to the meaning of the word impediment as contained in section 127 of the Quebec code, Mr. Lafleur said, that if what is called clandestinity is an impediment then the Lancaster Bill can hardly be said to be ultra vires of Parliament, because so far as the legislative jurisdiction of Parliament is concerned it extends to contracts. It was a subversion of all ideas to say that the incompetency of any civil official constitutes an impediment to marriage. By this he meant to say that Parliament could legislate and remove this clause if it contained such a meaning.

PRINCESS PATRICIA WILL START NEW WHEEL AT NIAGARA FALLS

Niagara Falls, May 28.—His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, the Duchess and Princess Patricia are visitors at the Falls to-day. The Royal party arrived here early this morning, and at 10 o'clock began a trip around Niagara Gorge which ended at 11 o'clock. They took luncheon at the Clifton Hotel, crossing the upper bridge from the American side. Following the luncheon the party will visit the plant of the Electric Development Company (Toronto Power Company), where Princess Patricia will turn on the water in a new unit which will start the wheels going and generate additional 12,000 horsepower in the company's plant. This current generated by this wheel, will be transformed to Toronto.

The visit of the party to Niagara Falls is decidedly informal and no preparations were made for any official reception.

WAS NOT DISMISSED FOR PARTISANSHIP

Ottawa, May 28.—The truth about the alleged dismissal of a postmaster four years in his grave has come out. The story was that John Macpherson, postmaster of Tracadie Road, Guysboro County, N.S., had been dismissed for partisan conduct in the recent election, whereas Macpherson had been dead for four years, during which time the office had been conducted by his widow.

The official statement now out, shows that the widow never reported her husband's death to the Department, and had been running the office without any authorization. Dismissal followed discovery.

LOCAL HEBREW WEDDING

Charming Local Jewish Girl Married to the Peterborough Rabbi.

Yesterday evening the Knights of Pythias Hall was the scene of a unique, charming and largely attended wedding. This ceremony was possibly the first marriage consummated between members of the Hebrew faith. Shortly before the time for the ceremony to be celebrated, some two hundred relatives and invited guests of the contracting parties arrived at the hall. As customary in synagogues and other Jewish places of worship or celebration, the men of that faith sat apart, hats on heads. There were a number of gentiles invited to the ceremony. The occasion was the marriage of Miss Annie Florence, daughter of Mr. Florence, the well known dealer of 267 Hunter St., to the local Rabbi, Rev. Philip Black.

After the hall had become comfortably seated, the proceedings began. They are very like those of the 20th century churches, only, most things are reversed. The Jews, with their old traditions, dating back to forgotten history, somewhat like the followers of Confuscious, pay special reverence to their parents.

To resume. The bride, Miss Florence, charmingly attired was brought into the bridal hall with her parents and friends; instead of the groom arriving first. The bridal party were seated in chairs in the audience. Then the groom accompanied by his parents and near relatives, was led to the altar by the Rabbi, from Toronto, who officiated at the ceremony. The groom was next led by the officiating Rabbi, to where the bride was seated. The bride was then led to the altar by her parents and immediate friends. The groom's parents then led him to the altar to meet and wed his charming little dark eyed Hebrew bride.

A glance at the assemblage, to an investigating eye, showed that the Hebrew relatives present, whilst possibly not all millionaires, are scions of an ancient race, a race that the present Caucasian is a Niagara Power to the Pyramids of Egypt.

The officiating Rabbi then intoned the usual wedding service in Hebrew, the groom placed the ring on his pretty little bride's finger and they were man and wife. The marriage concluded with a ceremony that, strange to say, greatly resembles the Communion in the Gentile churches. A glass of wine was poured out, and both bride and groom partook with all due ceremony.

After the marriage was over, the bride and groom and invited guests were usshered to a room in the floor below the Knights of Pythias Hall. Here an elaborate meal was supplied to all present. It is unnecessary to say that the Hebrews present partook with relish, not only on account of the festive occasion, but —It seems that, according to the Jewish belief and practice, those immediately concerned in the wedding are supposed to fast for forty eight hours previous to marriage. Not only that! The respective places of business of father and mother of both bride and groom are closed tight during the whole day of a wedding.

After the wedding feast had been enjoyed, good wishes exchanged and the bride showered with hopes for the happiness and a blessing given by the Toronto Rabbi, the happy couple drove to their present abode, 264 McDonnel street.

PRINCE WILL VISIT FRENCH WAR VESSEL

THE PRINCE OF WALES AS A "MIDDY"

The Prince of Wales, who has been staying for some time in Paris with the Marquis de Breteuil, intends to leave for the great French naval station at Toulon on June 19, and will embark on board the French dreadnought Danton the flagship of Vice Admiral Augustin Boue de la Peyrere.

The Prince will spend three days on board the battle ship witnessing the evolutions of the French fleet in the Mediterranean. These are to be carried out under the direction of Admiral la Peyrere, former Minister of Marine.

LAFLEUR CLAIMS PARLIAMENT NECESSARY POWER IN QUEBEC

Ottawa, May 28.—Continuing his argument for the promoters of the Lancaster Bill and the questions referred to the Supreme Court by Parliament, Mr. Eugene Lafleur, K.C., this morning before the court, said that in closing he only desired to draw attention to several statutes relating to the conferring of power to perform marriage in the Province of Quebec.

"How is power to be expressed that never was conferred?" asked the Chief Justice.

"My submission is that these statutes conferred by implication the power to marry," replied Mr. Lafleur. "None of the congregation were authorized to celebrate marriages, although authorized to keep registers."

"How?" asked the Chief Justice.

"By the Act of 1895."

"What about the years from 1759 to 1895? No legislation validated the marriages of Roman Catholics."

"Surely the English law covered the Anglicans," observed Justice Duff.

"I am speaking only of the Roman Catholics," said Chief Justice.

"Research would surely reveal that such instructions had been given," Justice Idington remarked.

"I can't find it anywhere," Mr. Lafleur replied. "It may have been the result of the treaty and it may be in the governor's instructions, but I am not certain."

Justice Duff: "Governor Murray's instructions seem to me to reserve the whole matter to the Government."

Justice Idington: "It might be implied by treaty."

Mr. Lafleur referred to the order of Governor Murray regarding the Church of Scotland, which validated previous marriages before the conquest of Canada in that church.

CAPTAIN LORD IS BLAMED PANTOM SHIP CONCERNED

Senator Smith Sends In His Reports. Captain Smith Is, Largely Blamed.

Washington, D.C., May 28.—Blame for the Titanic disaster is chargeable directly to the failure of the dead Captain Smith to heed repeated warnings of icebergs ahead, but responsibility for unnecessary loss of life must be shared by Captain Lord of the steamship Californian, through his disregard of distress signals. This is the finding of the Senate Committee which investigated the sinking of the Titanic, as prepared in a comprehensive speech delivered by William Alden Smith, of Michigan, the chairman of the committee.

Senator Smith declared that responsibility also rests upon the British Board of Trade, "to whose laxity of regulations, and hasty inspection, the world is largely indebted for the awful fatality." In denouncing Captain Lord of the Californian, the Senator said, the Titanic's distress signals were plainly seen from the deck of his vessel a shortd istance away.

Prosecution May Follow.

America will leave to England the chastisement of those guilty, asserted the Senator, and he quoted British law to show that Captain Lord might be prosecuted for a misdemeanor.

Other conclusions presented in brief were as follows:

Before the Titanic departed on her maiden voyage there were no sufficient tests of boilers, bulkheads, equipment or signal devices.

Officers and crew were strangers to each other and not familiar with the ship's implements or tools, and no drill or station practice took place, and no helpful discipline prevailed.

The speed of the Titanic was 24½ miles and hour at time of the accident, although officers of the Titanic had been advised of the presence of icebergs by the steamship Baltic.

Passengers were not advised of danger, although President Ismay of the White Star line, who was taking the vessel's maiden voyage, was informed. No general alarm was given nor any organized system of safety undertaken.

Of the 1,324 passengers and 899 members of the crew on board, there was room in lifeboats for 1,176 persons, and because of the lack of orderly discipline the boats took off only 704 persons, 12 being rescued from the water.

Committee's Findings.

The Titanic Committee agreed upon these principal conclusions:

The supposedly watertight compartments of the Titanic were not watertight, because of the non-watertight condition of the decks where the transverse bulkheads ended. The steamship Californian controlled by the Titanic, was nearer the sinking steamer than the 19 miles reported by her Captain, and that her officers and crew "saw the distress signals of the Titanic, and failed to respond to them in accordance with the dictates of humanity, international usage, and the requirements of law." The Committee concludes that the Californian might have saved all the lost passengers and crew of the ship that went down.

Eight ships, all equipped with wireless, were in the vicinity of the Titanic, the Olympic farthest away —512 miles.

The mysterious lights on an unknown ship, seen by the passengers on the Titanic, undoubtedly were on the Californian less than 19 miles away.

TORONTO FINANCIERS RECEIVE REASSURING NEWS FROM MEXICO

Toronto, May 28.—Advices from Mexico received at the head office of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here indicate that the Madero Government is about to regain full control of the situation. The news will be welcomed by a wide circle of Canadian, English and European investers in Mexican power, traction and other enterprises.

Two Serious Troubles.

The troubles which the successor of Diaz has had to face have been two-fold. First, there is the political revolt in the Province of Chihuahua, which, if successful, might easily have resulted in secession and in the setting up of an independent government in that part of the country. Secondly, there is the scattered insurgent movement of the illiterate natives against the wealthy tracendados or land-owners. Once the Chihuahua movement is put down the government may concentrate its forces on the work of restoring general order in the other Provinces. Madero has strengthened his army and appears now to be making rapid progress towards a complete control of the situation.

The following letter from a source friendly to the existing government, has been received by Sir Edmund Walker. It is dated May 21st, at Mexico city and reads:

Temporary Defeat.

"The political situation in Mexico is much improved. Orozco managed to work up a real revolution in Chihuahua, and due to the mistake of the Government in sending out an inexperienced general at the head of the Federal army, gained a temporary triumph at the battle of Corralitos. The Government has settled down at last and has adopted a systematic and comprehensive plan for crushing the Chihuahua revolution and for maintaining peace throughout the country. I think what you said to the Secretary of Hacienda had a good effect, at any rate a number of his friends are continuing to talk the same tactics to him. He sent me word yesterday that he had resolved to devote the resources of the Government to the establishment and maintenance of an army. He also informed me that already he had about 45,000 troops ready for the field; 31,000 Federals, 10,000 rurals and 5,000 volunteers.

He proposes to build the army up to 60,000 and I think with this force there will be no difficulty in maintaining peace throughout the country."

QUEBEC UNFAIR TO NON-CATHOLICS

How Protestants Are Obliged To Pay For Schools

DIFFERENT IN ONTARIO

If Protestant Ontario Were to Follow Quebec's Example, There Would Be Cause for Trouble—The Case of the Two Provinces Well Put.

We hear a good deal these days about religious intolerance from our Roman Catholic friends, and in order that our readers may know how such matters exist in Protestant Ontario as compared with Roman Catholic Quebec we publish the following article from the pen of the talented editor of The Orange Sentinel. Protestants do not seek special privileges for themselves. They are always willing to accord to their Roman Catholic fellow citizens all the rights and privileges that they themselves enjoy—but not one whit more. This is in happy contrast to the unfair treatment which they receive in Quebec. The following is the article referred to:

"How would the Roman Catholics of this province like to contribute half a million dollars a year to teach the Protestant catechism and doctrine in the Public schools of this province?

"If the Legislature should pass amendments to the Public School Act which would take half a million dollars a year from Roman Catholics in the shape of taxes to teach the children in the Public schools that Roman Catholicism is idolatry, and that its doctrines are derived from paganism, and that no Roman Catholic could possibly be saved from eternal woe, what would our Roman Catholic friends say about that?

"It is not hard to imagine that from every Roman pulpit, in every Roman newspaper, in every way that the church could express dissatisfaction it would be done. School laws which compelled them to do such a thing would be described as tyrannical. Their consciences would not permit them to pay taxes for inculcating a distrust of them and spreading abroad the most extreme Protestant explanation of Roman Catholicism.

"And yet that is what the laws of the Province of Quebec compel Protestants to do. We printed an article from the Presbyterian Record in our issue of April 26th, which described the method of apportioning the taxes

HE FELL SIXTY FEET DOWN TO HIS DEATH

Toronto, May 28.—Slipping from the roof of the elevator which he was cleaning on the fourth floor of the Canada Life Building at 7.45 this morning, William Hurst fell 60 feet to his death down the elevator shaft.

Hurst operated the east elevator in the building and shortly before the tragedy happened he had climbed on to the roof of his elevator which was stationary at the fourth [illegible] for the purpose of cleaning [illegible] person was near him [illegible] and how he met his death is largely a matter of conjecture.

It is supposed, however, that he missed his footing and fell backwards between the elevator and the shaft. The body struck the floor of the boiler room with a terrific thud close to where Edward Brecken, the engineer was working at the time. He could render no assistance, however, as the unfortunate man's neck was broken and his head smashed to a pulp. The remains were removed to the Morgue and the Chief Coroner notified.

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St. directly opposite Creasman's store.

PAINTS.

THE LAW OF QUALITY IS AS SURE AS the law of Gravity. Gravity keeps both your feet on the ground. Quality informs your judgment when you are on the "Ground Floor" in the matter of value. Martin-Senour's Paint is the Ground Floor of paint value. It makes good every time. It flows freely, has great covering capacity, shows a beautiful finish, and wears like iron. It will more than meet your expectations in quality brilliancy and durability. Campbell & Best, 134 Hunter St. Next to post office.

POSTAGE STAMPS

The Story of Their Making Is an Interesting One.

ENGRAVING THE STEEL DIES.

How This Delicate Work Is Done and the Processes by Which the Designs Are Transferred to the Plates—Printing and Gumming the Sheets.

The manufacture of postage stamps involves a process not altogether simple. There is much labor given to the making of the little wafers with which everybody is so familiar. The first step toward the production of the stamp is, of course, the engraving of the die with which it is printed. Only steel of the finest quality is used for the purpose, and upon this the engravers slowly and laboriously cut line by line the portrait or the emblem that the government has selected for the particular stamp in hand.

Engravers call this die a "negative," for the reason that it is a reversal of the design that the stamp will exhibit.

Upon the completion of the die proofs are "pulled." Should these prove satisfactory the die is then hardened and fixed in the bed of a press of great power. Then a steel roller whose circumference is several times the diameter of the die is passed over it, immense pressure being applied, so that every line cut on the surface of the die may be impressed upon that of the roller as many times as the circumference of the roller is larger than the area of the die. The result is that there are reproduced on the roller four perfect copies of the die, but copies that are reversed. Engravers call these impressions "positives."

The next step is to harden the roller in order that it may give the impressions once more, this time to the plate from which the real printing is to be obtained. This plate, which is also of the finest steel, is of a size large enough to print a sheet of stamps, numbering from 200 to 300, at a single impression. Great pressure is brought to bear upon the surface of this plate, once for each stamp in the subsequent sheet, and then the plate is hardened. It follows, of course, that such impressions are "negatives" and that the prints obtained from them—the stamps themselves—are "positives."

It should be stated at this point that the reason why the printing is done in this way instead of from a single die lies in the fact that such enormous numbers of stamps are required. Then, too, the printing could not be done from the roller, inasmuch as on the roller the lines are in "relief" instead of being "incised." Furthermore, it would not be practicable to employ several dies or a great number of them engraved. The expense would be too great, and no two stamps would be absolutely alike.

When the workmen have obtained three satisfactory printing plates these are fastened to the bed of a special kind of printing press. Peculiar care is exercised in the process of inking. Upon the starting of the machinery the first plate is inked and wiped automatically until the plate fairly shines. This wiping takes away all the ink except that which clings to the lines of the 200 or 300 engravings.

The printers lay over the plate a sheet of dampened paper, a slight degree of heat is applied to the plate in order that the ink may "swell," and then more pressure is applied. During all this time the second plate has been receiving its ink, and subsequently the third is brought into action, with the result that, although all three plates are on the same press, each one of them is at a given moment undergoing a different process from its fellows.

When the printed sheets have been properly dried they are sent to a gumming machine. In this they are passed between a dry roller on one side and a roller moistened with mucilage on the other. From the rollers they emerge, wet side up, on to an endless web that conveys them through a steam heated box.

From this box they reappear to receive the perforations, which are made by passing the sheets between a cylinder provided with steel pins and a cylinder perforated with holes to match the pins.

The last step in the manufacture of the stamp is the pressing of the sheets to overcome their tendency to curl by reason of the mucilage used. This pressing is accomplished by hydraulic power.

Eating One's Boots.

"Rawhide or even leather, if boiled for hours, will make nutritious soup," says a writer in an exchange on the subject of what a man lost in the woods may find to eat. "Many a man has bridged the awful gap by boiling his boots, whence the phrase to express the final extreme, 'I'll eat my boots first.' Mark Twain was once put to this final resort and recorded afterward that 'the holes tasted the best.'"

Real Energy.

A scientific writer points out that the energy of the match is great enough to heat 7,000 times its weight in water 1 degree F. If this be true consider the energy contained in an artfully placed carpet tack!—New York Telegraph.

If you know how, a thing is not hard; if it is hard, then you don't know how. —Chinese Proverb.

Wanted a Gun For Muskrats.

Revolvers are a drug on the Peterborough market. Sales have fallen off considerably within the past year in the city. Only one man applied for a license to carry such a weapon. He said he was going out trapping. The application was refused, as those in authority evidently thought an oak club would kill a mink or muskrat, when caught in a trap, and not drowned before the trapper arrives.

To The Investor:

You want to make money.

You want to be independent before you are too old to enjoy the best things in life.

You know some who have done this, and others who are on the high road to wealth and ease.

How can you do it most surely without any chance of failure? By putting your spare money where it will earn the greatest increase.

Real Estate never rests. From the moment you buy machinery, or any of the necessities of life, depreciation sets in. There is no business in the world except that of Real Estate that has no depreciation account on its books. Andrew Carnegie said: "The wise wage earner of to-day invests his money Surburban Real Estate." Another well-known millionaire stated that "the best way to acquire wealth is to get possession of a good chunk of earth a few miles from a growing city and wait for the city to grow out to it."

No one can afford to pass over without thought such opinions as these.

Examples of the increase in realty values in the Cities of Western Canada are of interest. Four lots on the corner of 2nd street and 7th Avenue, Calgary, increased from $500 to $70,000 in a few years. In 1901 the North East corner of Portage Ave and Magee street, Winnipeg, sold for $12.50 per foot. To-day it is worth $650 per foot. On the 2nd of December 1909 a 50-foot lot on the corner of 25th street and 2nd Ave, Saskatoon, sold for $500. Sixteen months later on April 20th, 1911, the fortunate owners sold out at $30,000.

$2400 was the figure paid in 1907 for a lot on Fairford Ave, Moose Jaw. To-day it would find a ready sale at $20,000, and these profits were made by using judgment, courage and spare money.

Real Estate is the most solid security that human ingenuity ever devised, but you must not let your wishbone change places with your backbone. You must satisfy yourself by investigation of the city in question that it is RIGHT. You must be sure the proposition and the people behind it are RIGHT, then go ahead. Don't wait for others to get in and make you pay oart of the increase, but get in first.

BRITISHERS WIN.

Englishmen Win Preference in Contract for Big Auto Pumping Plant.

Vancouver, May 28.—English firms, even if their tenders are a trifle higher, are to be awarded city contracts in preference to those not British born. This decision was arrived at by the city council last night, when Mayor Findlay, by the casting vote, and, despite the advice of Fire Chief Carlisle, gave a Manchester firm the contract for an auto pumping engine.

A syndicate of Toronto capitalists has purchased eighty acres of land adjacent to the town of Trenton.

A DUKE OUT WEST.

Brooks, Alta., May 28.—The duke of Sutherland, accompanied by J. S. Dennis, assistant to the president of the C.P.R., and head of the natural resources department, arrived here on Saturday afternoon. The duke immediately proceeded in one of the railway company's autos to his farm, about three and a half miles from town.

The duke has come to visit settlers who have come out to take up land in the Brooks colony, and to see how they are getting along. Also he is planning a further extension of the colony.

SHOPLIFTER SENTENCED.

Young Boston Girl Alleged to Have Stolen $125.

Boston, Mass., May 28.—Miss Grace Jensen, 26, of 65 Prospect street, Cambridge, became hysterical in the municipal court yesterday when a sentence of six months in the house of correction for shoplifting was imposed, and she had to be taken from the court room. Judge Wentworth continued the case until to-day.

It is alleged by the police that the woman secured $125 worth of goods from three department stores during the last week by impersonating customers who had a charge account at the store. She would wait until she heard one of these customers charge a purchase and then do the same thing at another counter.

THE BIG DOLLS' DISPLAY.

The prettiest Dolls' House ever seen in Canada will be that on exhibition at the Peterborough Summer Fair. There will be dolls of every kind and complexion; every style of dress and architecture (speaking from a physical doll's point of view) white dolls, darkey dolls, boy dolls, girl dolls, baby dolls, sailor dolls, dirty dolls, fairy dolls, chauffeur dolls and Campbell kids; dolls in cradles, dolls in beds, dolls in hammocks. The greatest display of dolls hats ever seen—lace hats, muslin hats, velvet hats, seal skin hats; dolls' carpet sweepers, dolls' hand mirrors. In fact everything the children love will be in the dolls' ecase at the Fair.

Chink Makes a Record Run.

During the raid on the Chinese laundry Sunday night, a Chinaman in white trousers and white pajama shirt escaped during the melee. He got into the Windsor Hotel yard and made a record Marathon to Hunter street and thence south on Water street. Those who saw his flight thought, with his wide bagging pants, and flowing shirt, he was a woman, until he showed that a Chink can certainly run.

Mr. Stratton Claims Innocence.

At the Farmers Bank investigation held before Sir William Meredith, Hon. J. R. Stratton gave a sweeping denial of all connection with or knowledge of the transactions, subsequent to the formation of that institution. In response to an enquiry, Mr. Stratton replied: "I want it distinctly understood that I assisted in no way. I saw no member of the Government, no member of Parliament, no officers, or clerk of any department; I wrote no letters; I did not communicate with the Government or anybody else in connection with the Farmers Bank obtaining a certificate from the Government."

HEAD OFFICE AND FACTORY:—AURORA, ONTARIO

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sisman Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:

18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ...	$27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year	7,000.00
Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital.	$20,000.00

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application, 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved; the application lists may be closed without notice.

SHOULD LAWYER DEFEND CRIME?

The American Bar Association is now taking up an important point for consideration. The question, under discussion, is, should a lawyer, knowing his client to be guilty of murder, or other serious crime, defend him? If so, to what extent should he go in the defence?

Most lawyers, particularly in the United States, take the position that if the client pays a satisfactory fee for his defense it is the duty of the lawyer to do everything possible to circumvent the law and to obtain his acquittal.

Others believe that a lawyer should not by a hair's breadth do anything to save the guilty from the consequences of crime or wrongdoing.

Others again, believe that a lawyer is justified in undertaking the defense of a person he knows to be guilty, but that in such a case the lawyer does his whole duty if he sees that the forms prescribed by law are adhered to and the trial conducted according to the rules and practices of the courts.

These hold to the opinion that a lawyer is not called upon to bully witnesses, deceive juries, play the mountebank or appear with high-sounding periods to the lowest motives of mankind to save any person who is obviously guilty.

It has come to be recognized as part of the public prosecutor's duty first to satisfy himself of the defendant's guilt before he indicts. He must shield the innocent as well as punish the guilty.

The American Bar Association, in 1907, appointed a special committee composed of the greatest lawyers and jurists in America, to draw up a code of ethics for guidance of lawyers, and in the code that was adopted were the following paragraphs:

"A lawyer may undertake with propriety the defence of a person accused of crime although he knows or believes him guilty; and, having undertaken it he is bound by all fair and honorable means to present such defence as the law of the land permits, to the end that no person may be deprived of life or liberty but by due process of law.

"But the office of attorney does not permit, much less does it demand, for any client violation of the law, or any manner of fraud or chicanery. No lawyer is justified in substituting another's conscience for his own. A lawyer should not do for his client what his sense of honor would forbid him to do for himself. He may counsel and maintain only such actions and proceedings as appear to him just."

PANAMA TOO PREVIOUS

From the most recent official reports it appears more than likely that the Panama Canal will be completed some time before the date set aside for that achievement. In every branch of excavation and construction the engineers are ahead of the schedule, and they seem to be getting farther and farther ahead, unless in some cases where they are purposely slackening their efforts in order to let other departments catch up with them and so bring all to completion simultaneously

The time required for the excavation of the Culebra cut was designated years ago as the time in which the canal could be completed. That cut was the crux of the affair, and on April 1 there remained only a relatively small number of cubic yards to be dug out, which it is confidently expected will be excavated before July 4th.

The rest of the work is in an equally forward condition. At the twin locks at Gatum, ninety-three per cent. of the concrete is in place. There remained at the end of April only 135,000 cubic yards to be laid, and they were putting it down at the rate of 2,360 yards a week. At that rate a little more than a year may be required for completion, though it is said that the pace can easily be accelerated. At Pedro Miguel the concrete of the locks is 93 per cent. done. Only 54,000 cubic yards remain to be laid, and it is going down at the rate of 2,100 yards a week, so that six months more may see that job done. At Miraflores only 62 per cent. of the concrete is laid for the big twin locks, but only 532,000 yards remain to be laid, and is being laid at the rate of 24,800 yards a week, so that less than six months will be required for completion.

DIZZY HEADACHES CURED IN ONE NIGHT

If Troubled With Head-Fullness, Ringing Noises, Specks Before the Eyes, the Stomach is at Fault.

"I had terrible pains in my head. My appetite faded away and when I did eat anything it disagreed and made me very sick for hours after each meal. The active pains in my stomach and the dizzy headaches I had to endure almost set one wild. Sometimes attacks came on so severely that I had to go to bed. I would feel so worn, depressed and utterly miserable that for hours I wouldn't speak to my family. My system was poisoned with wastes and nothing helped me till I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Without this grand system-cleaning remedy I would be sick, but each day brought me better health and spirits. I was cured and made as strong, ruddy and healthy looking as one could wish, and will always use and recommend Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"MRS. B. C. CURRAN,
"Westport P.O"

Thousands who are in an ailing, low state of health, need nothing else but Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They cure blood disorders, pimples, rashes bad color, biliousness, fiver, stomach and kidney troubles. Mild, certain and safe. Beware of imitations and substitutes. 25c per box or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

THE MATCH INDUSTRY.

It has been estimated, according to The Scientific American, that for each minute of time the civilized nations of the world strike 3,000,000 matches. This is said to be the average for every minute of the 24 hours of the day.

Fifteen hundred billion is the number used for the entire year, and those persons who live under the American flag are charged with the consumption of one-half of this amount.

The importance of this industry which turns out the little splinters of wood tipped with sulphur or some other material ignited by friction, is only recognized when the average smoker tries to contemplate his predicament if he had to go back to the time when he had to coax a spark from a tinder box.

Small and insignificant as it is, the match demands as much attention in the choice of wood involved in its manufacture as any other forest product. Only the choicest portions of the best trees are suitable. Sapwood, knotty, or cross-grained timber will not do.

Instead of being a by-product, the little match is turned out at hundreds of mills over the country, where the by-products are bulky objects, like doors, sash, shingles, sidings, posts and cordwood.

The pines, linden, aspen, white cedar, poplar, birch and willow are the most suitable match timbers.

Editorial Notes

All that a presidential campaign manager has to do to prove his claims is to refer to his tabulated figures. He can prove what he likes.

A number of California women have declared that they will not vote for a man who parts his hair in the middle. Their ideal is a man who does his hair with his hands.

Now that not a single ship, flying the Stars and Stripes appeared in the Thames last year, the American congress is going to introduce a bill prohibiting Canadian ships using the Panama Canal. How about the hundreds of launches, flying the American flag which annually pass through the Trent Canal?

The British government is becoming alarmed at the dimensions of the Scottish emigration to the Dominion. Up to the present British politicians have exhibited an academic interest in the movement, and now it is directing their attention to small holdings as a possible influence to stem the tide.

There are bills before the United States congress providing for the coinage of half-cent and three-cent pieces. The five-cent belt of the United States that has entered at places where copper is a medium, is drawing in its horns. The small coin is growing in favor and the territory is increasing, but whether such a coinage will develop a Latin thrift remains to be seen.

It is well known that commodity prices, speaking of them collectively, and of animal meats particularly, are very high. Indeed, the recent trends have been such as to induce the inference that the spending power of the masses for other things than foodstuffs has probably been reduced in no small degree. That commodities in general are dear is clearly reflected in Bradstreet's index number as of May 1 last.

THE MARKETS

Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher, Liverpool Exchange Closed—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Reports that the first new wheat of 1912 had been harvested to-day in Texas wiped out nearly all of an advance due to fear of damage in Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska. The close of the market here was weak and varied from the same as Saturday night to 1-2c gain. Corn finished 1-2c to 1 1-8c down, oats ranging from 1-4c to 3-8c off to a rise of 3-4c and provisions unchanged to 2 1-2c up.

The grain markets of England and Europe were closed yesterday over the Whitsuntide holidays.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 27.—Business in grain for export was dull, owing to the holidays in England. The local demand for oats was good and sales of 50,000 bushels extra No. 1 feed at 50½c, c.i.f., Montreal, for June shipment from Fort William and 30,000 sample oats at 47c c.i.f. A few round lots on spot were placed at 51c to 51½c for extra No. 1 feed. There is a fair demand for Manitoba feed barley. The market for winter wheat flour is strong and prices have advanced 5c per bag. Spring wheat grades are firm, business generally is quiet.

Corn—American, No. 3 yellow, 86c.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 55c to 55½c; do., No. 3, 51c to 51½c; extra No. 1 feed, 51½c to 52c.

Buckwheat—No. 2, 74c to 75c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.80; seconds, $5.30; strong bakers', $5.10; winter patents, choice, $5.25 to $5.35; straight rollers, $4.80 to $4.90; do., bags, $2.30 to $2.40.

Rolled oats—Barrels, $5.25; bag, 90 lbs., $2.55.

Potatoes—Per bag, car lots, $1.70 to $1.75.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, May 27.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 109 carloads, comprising 1924 cattle, 1169 hogs, 206 sheep and 116 calves.

Exporters.

Mr. Howard bought for Swift & Co. 100 steers for Liverpool, 1276 lbs. each, at $7.80, average price.

Butchers

The best steers of export quality, bought for butchers' purposes, $7.30 to $7.90; mixed butchers' steers and heifers, $7 to $7.40; medium butchers, $6.50 to $7, common, $6 to $6.50; inferior, light cattle, $5.50 to $5.75; cows, $4 to $6.75, bulls, $5.50 to $6.60.

Milkers and Springers

About a dozen milkers and springers, all of which were bought by Fred Rowntree at $45 to $70 each, and one at $85.

Veal Calves

Over one hundred veal calves were on sale, the average price for which would be about $6.75, but prices ranged from $4 to $7.25 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs

Wesley Dunn reported prices as follows: Sheep, ewes, $5.50 to $6.25; spring lambs, $4 to $6.50 each; and there was a bunch of yearling lambs, which sold at $7.00 per cwt.

Hogs.

Hog prices were lower. Selects, fed and watered, sold at $8.75, and $8.60 f.o.b. cars.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 27.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending May 25 were 2600 cattle, 425 sheep and lambs, 2750 hogs and 1275 calves. The offerings on the market this morning for sale were 750 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs, and 800 calves.

An easier feeling developed in the market and prices were fully 10 to 25c per cwt. lower than this day week, which was attributed to the fact that owing to the high prices ruling of late a good many more drovers were induced to come on here instead of going to Toronto and in consequence the supply was larger than it has been for the past two or three weeks. Really good cattle are scarce and drovers state that it was difficult to pick a carload of such stock up in some sections of the country. The quality of the stock was generally good, but, notwithstanding this fact and the good attendance of buyers, trade was rather slow as the high prices of beef of late have tended to decrease the consumption some, consequently the demand from butchers was principally for small lots. A few full loads of choice steers changed hands at $7.50 to $7.75 and good stock at $6.75 to $7.25 per cwt.

There was no change in the hog market, prices being firmly held under a good demand from packers for all grades offered. Trade was active. Selected lots sold at $9.75 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

Sheep, lambs and calves were in good demand. Supplies were somewhat limited and the tone of the market was firm with sales of ewes at $6.50 per cwt., and spring lambs brought from $4 to $7 each.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $7.75 to $8; medium, $6 to $7; common, $5 to $5.80; choice cows, $6.25 to $6.80, medium, $5.60 to $6; bulls, $5.50 to $6.75; milkers, choice, each, $80 to $90, common and medium, each, $60 to $75; springers, $50 to $60.

Sheep, ewes, $6.25 to $6.50; bucks and culls, $5.25 to $5.50; lambs, $7.25.

Hogs, f.o.b., $9.75.

Calves, $1.50 to $8.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Cattle—Receipts 22,000; market steady to 10c lower. Beeves, $6.10 to $9.25; Texas steers, $6 to $8.15; western steers, $6.25 to $7.90; stockers and feeders, $4.60 to $6.80; cows and heifers, $2 to $8; calves, $5.50 to $8.75.

WILL MAKE TREMENDOUS PROFITS

They will repeat the achievements of those who bought in Old Transcona and other Western towns that have developed unusually fast.

NORTH TRANSCONA will grow at a rate that will be a record even in Western Canada.

During the past two years a few manufacturers, recognizing the strategic importance of this location and the inevitable development of Transportation facilities at this point, erected plants which are now in active operation.

But the greatest development projects have been outlined and made public during the past few months, and in consequence a modern city will spring up in the immediate future in NORTH TRANSCONA.

The Canadian Pacific Railway have commenced actual construction of the largest individual railroad yards in the world. Roundhouses, shops, elevators and other necessary buildings will be erected.

Foley, Welch & Stewart have been awarded the contract for the first ninety-five miles of yard trackage to be completed this year.

The contract has been awarded for the construction of the first of the enormous elevators, which will be the largest in the world.

The Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works have started construction of their immense plant.

LES MAJESTIE

German Observances re Heads of Government Carried Into the United States.

Exeter, Mass., May 29.—A new feature in American political campaigns was in evidence here during the present Taft-Roosevelt struggle for the nomination. This precedent in political campaigning was established by Justice Stewart E. Rowe, when County Solicitor Guptill charged William Adams, Fred Taylor, Jacob Hook and Edgar Knights with conduct so insulting to the President of the United States as to amount to disorderly conduct.

It was alleged that the offenders strung a banner on the night before the Republican caucuses bearing the inscription: "To h—l with Taft, we want Roosevelt."

Sentence was suspended and the offenders ordered to pay costs.

IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA

Proceedings of the 37th Annual General Meeting Of the Shareholders.

HELD AT THE BANKING HOUSE OF THE INSTITUTION IN TORONTO, ON WEDNESDAY, MAY 22nd, 1912.

IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA —— IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA

The Thirty-seventh Annual General Meeting of the Imperial Bank of Canada was held in pursuance of the terms of the charter, at the Banking House of the Institution, May 22, 1912.

THE REPORT.

The Directors have much pleasure in submitting to the shareholders their Thirty-seventh Annual Report and Balance Sheet of the affairs of the Bank as on 30th April, 1912, together with Profit and Loss Account, showing the result of the operations of the Bank for the year which ended on that day.

The net profits of the Bank, after making full provision for all bad and doubtful debts, for interest on unmatured bills under discount, and for the payment of all Provincial and other taxes, amounted to $1,004,340.23, in addition to which there was received by way of premium upon new stock (issue 1910) the sum of $230,440.75, making in all $1,234,780.98 which has been applied as follows :—

(a)	Dividends have been paid at the rate of 12 per cent per annum, amounting to	$ 712,349.22
(b)	There was paid to the staff, by way of special bonus, in commemoration of the Coronation of His Majesty, King George V	33,802.50
(c)	Employees' Pension and Guarantee Funds have been credited with	7,500.00
(d)	There was donated to the Northern Ontario fire sufferers	1,000.00
(e)	Bank Premises and Furniture Account has been credited with	60,026.26
(f)	Reserve Fund has been credited with the balance of premium received upon new Capital Stock (issue 1910)	230,440.75
(g)	Profit and Loss Account has been increased by	189,662.25
		$1,234,780.98

New branches have been opened during the year as detailed hereunder :—

In Ontario, at Windsor, Thorold ; Dundas and Bloor, streets, Toronto; Queen west and Roncesvalles avenue, Toronto; Queen street and Kingston road, Toronto, and at Timmins, in the Porcupine district.

In Quebec, at St. Roch (Quebec), and at St. Lawrence Boulevard,

In Manitoba at Portage Avenue, Winnipeg.

In Alberta, at Medicine Hat, Rocky Mountain House and Millet.

In British Columbia, at Invermere (in the Windermere District), and Main and Cordova streets, Vancouver.

The branch at Moyie, B.C., has been closed.

The new Capital Stock, issued to shareholders in 1910 having been taken up and paid for, it may be thought advisable within the current year to make a further issue of stock out of authorized but unsubscribed capital. The Bank must be in readiness from time to time to take on their fair share of the ever increasing business of the Dominion.

You will be asked to contribute to the Pension Fund of the Bank out of Profit and Loss Account a further sum of $20,000. Your Directors have been enabled out of the present fund to assist all deserving officials who have been forced by advancing years or ill-health to retire from the service, but provision should be made for the increasing staff and for the further calls which are certain to result therefrom.

The Head Office and Branches of the Bank have been carefully inspected during the year and your Directors have much pleasure in expressing their satisfaction with the faithful and efficient manner in which the staff have performed their duties.

The whole respectfully submitted.

D. R. WILKIE,
General Manager.

THE PRESIDENT : Gentlemen,—I have much pleasure in rising to move the adoption of the Report.

ANNUAL STATEMENT.

The profits of the year have been at the rate of 16.93 p.c., as compared with 15.18 p.c. for the year 1911, and with 14.05 p.c. for the year 1910. The total gain in deposits and circulation has been from $51,052,453 to $60,631,738. On the other side of the account, liquid assets are $31,537,448, as compared with $28,315,850. Other current loans, discounts and advances amount to $40,171,065, as compared with $33,571,232. These figures indicate very satisfactory growth and are evidence of a judicious selection of business and also of prosperity amongst our customers.

NEW CAPITAL.

Reference is made in the report to a possible further issue of stock out of the authorized capital not yet subscribed. It would not have been wise to have placed an issue of shares upon the market before the issue of 1910 had been fully absorbed, but this condition having been arrived at, your Directors feel justified in contemplating a further issue in the near future of an additional $1,000,000, payable over the next eighteen months, making it comparatively easy for shareholders to meet the calls upon their allotments. During the past year, owing to the circulation of the Bank's notes being restricted by the Bank Act to an amount within the paid-up capital of the Bank, we were compelled for several months to make use of Government notes and notes of other banks, the circulation of our own notes being on the border of the legal limit. The effect of this restriction, which is right enough in the abstract, can, however, be overcome by availing ourselves of the provision of the Act under which we can add to the amount of our paid-up capital to any extent we may think prudent. We think it wiser that we should avail ourselves of the provisions of the present Act by enlarging our Capital than await the amelioration of the terms of the Act itself.

SHAREHOLDERS.

Our shareholders number 1,470, as compared with 1,392 in 1911. A gratifying increase which, while broadening our influences, gives stability to the market value of our shares.

STAFF.

The staff now numbers 818, as compared with 691 in 1911. The Coronation Bonus distributed amongst the staff, afforded them much satisfaction and comfort, and, I am sure, meets with your approval.

NEW BRANCHES.

We have not found it possible to reply favorably to all the applications we have received from deserving places for Branches of the Bank and have been obliged to content ourselves with the few that are referred to in the Report. In extending the number of Branches we have not only to consider the question of our available supply of capable and tried officials, but we must also be careful not to break away from our own lines of communication—our "trade routes." We have now, including sub-branches 120 offices, as compared with 107 in 1911.

BANK PREMISES.

During the year we have expended upon Bank Premises the sum of $260,026.26, and from profits of the year, as stated elsewhere, we have applied the sum of $60,026.26 in reduction of that account. I think that a careful valuation of our Bank Premises would result in finding that we have made ample provision for any possible depreciation in value, and that we have brought the account to a figure which would be readily realized by a sale of the properties even if for other purposes than banking.

RENEWAL OF BANK CHARTERS

The decennial revision and renewal of bank charters has had to be postponed until next session of Parliament owing to causes with which you are all familiar. The present charters have been extended until 1st July, 1913, before which date the revision of the Act and the extension of our charters will be, it is expected, disposed of by Parliament. It is, perhaps, fortunate that there has been a delay of three years in revising the Act. Within that time several very important defects have come to the surface, and possible abuses which were not thought of when the Act was last amended have made themselves not only seen but felt. We have had time, too, to consider suggestions that have been made regarding the auditing and inspecting of banks. A suggestion that the Government should undertake the responsibility of inspection is one that the Government has not so far seriously entertained, recognizing, no doubt, the difficulty if not the impossibility, of carrying out a system that would not be faulty and misleading and embarrassing to the Government itself. It has also been suggested that the duty should be undertaken by the Bankers' Association. Thorough inspection could not be carried out any better by the Association than by the Government ; its value and importance might be exaggerated on the one hand, and on the other it would be unreasonable to hold the Association as a whole responsible for the reputed solvency and worthiness of its members. Moreover, no bank under present conditions of competition, and with the readiness of some to retire from business, and of others to add to their size and importance, with mergers and amalgamations following, one on the heels of another, should be called upon to place its affairs under the review of officials appointed by rival institutions. One can imagine what might happen to even a sound institution whose business and connections were coveted by a Bank more influential than itself in the Councils of the Association. The very proxies given to Directors to assist in carrying on a Bank might be used to destroy its separate existence. Mergers may even throw the control of the Association into comparatively few hands. Would you not, rather than be at the mercy of inspectors selected by your competitors, prefer to have the report of auditors and inspectors, men of repute, selected by yourselves and responsible to you, and whose appointment and reappointment would be subject to your pleasure ?

BANKING DEVELOPMENT.

During the past twelve months, ending 30th April, 1912, the paid-up capital of all the Banks has grown from $100,000,000 to $112,038,900. The Rest Accounts from $85,000,000 to $100,638,000. Circulation from $83,000,000 to $95,145,000 (with a maximum for the year of $106,260,000). Public deposits in Canada from $837,000,000 to $960,000,000. Deposits outside of Canada from $60,000,000 to $85,000,000. Total Liabilities from $1,046,000,000 to $1,211,000,000. In 1911 there were 2,436 branch Banks in Canada; there are now 206 more. Bank Premises Accounts have grown from $27,000,000 to $34,000,000. The total Assets of all the Banks on the 30th April, 1911, amounted to $1,247,000,000, and on 30th April, 1912, amounted to $1,439,000,000, of which "Current Loans," representing advances to manufacturing, lumbering, mining and agricultural concerns, and ordinary mercantile business, have expanded from $710,000,000 to $833,000,000. The statement which I made at our last Annual Meeting, that the whole amount deposited with the Banks of Canada by the public of Canada (less a portion of the cash reserves) is loaned back again to the public of Canada by the Banks of Canada still holds good.

GOLD RESERVES.

Complaint has been made of late through the public journals that there are large and abnormal holdings of gold by the Receiver-General for account of the Chartered Banks. There must be some misunderstanding regarding the gold in the Dominion Treasury. There is no gold stored for the chartered Banks, but what is no doubt referred to is the accumulation of gold held against issues of Dominion notes in the hands of the Banks. These notes are held as part of the cash reserves of the Banks. The total amount of Government notes held by the Banks on 30th April was $96,188,465. The total deposits in Canada with the Banks on that day were $960,766,531, in addition to which there was the liability in connection with the notes in circulation of $95,146,371. It would not appear that the Dominion notes in the hands of the Banks were excessive in amount or formed too large a proportion of the liabilities against which they are held as a reserve. It is true that there was also held by the Banks gold and silver coin amounting to about $37,000,000, but a considerable portion of this amount is no doubt held abroad against foreign liabilities; but even taking the whole amount as being available in Canada the total cash reserves of $133,000,000 would only be about 10 p.c. of the total liabilities of the Banks. As the tendency of Canadian Banks has been in the past to hold insufficient cash reserves, it is to be regretted if the effort to improve conditions and strengthen reserves is discouraged and adversely criticized. We feel particularly interested in the argument, as our own cash reserves represent nearly 22 p.c. of our obligations to the public. Within the past few years the Government has reduced the amount of gold which it is obliged to hold against its Dominion note obligations outstanding to 25 p.c. of the same up to $30,000,000; in excess of that amount, reserves must be held against the outstanding issues dollar for dollar. It is a debatable question if the time has not arrived when the Government might not with safety extend the amount of their note liabilities against which a reserve of 25 p.c. or perhaps 50 p.c. would be considered sufficient.

ROYAL MINT.

The completion of the branch of the Royal Mint at Ottawa, and the issue of Canadian gold and silver coins is an incident in the life of the Dominion that should not be passed over without some notice being taken of it. The total cost of the building and equipment, including the refinery, is $540,000, a trifling sum when compared with the immense satisfaction which we now have in the manufacture of our own coin within our own borders. The coins struck are a credit to Dr. Bonar and his assistants. I have specimens here if any gentleman desires to see them. The new ten-dollar Canadian gold piece and the new Canadian five-dollar gold-piece are marvels of beauty and execution, whilst the "Sovereign" although in every respect identical with the same coin struck in London by the Royal Mint, and recognized as on a par therewith, has a more attractive appearance. The silver coins are also to be admired. We need no longer be dependent upon a foreign Government for our gold currency, and with the enormous profit to the Government in the manufacture of silver currency there is every reason why the Government should continue to encourage the 'deportation' of foreign coins of that metal. Few elements tend more to build up a national sentiment than a national coinage. Royal or National Mints exist in every important country of the world, even countries of much less importance than Canada have such establishments, to wit, Argentina, Chili, Colombia, Denmark, Holland, Honduras, Norway, Persia, Peru, Siam, Switzerland, all of them have found it desirable, and directly or indirectly profitable to encourage the manufacture of their own coinage in their own country.

CROPS

We have advices from reliable authorities in the West that the acreage under crop in the three prairie Provinces is 16,350,000 acres, as compared with 16,000,000 acres in 1911, but for the unseasonable and disappointing autumn, the increase would have been much greater. The yield of agricultural products in those three Provinces in 1911 was valued at $229,323,000, as compared with $146,000,000 in 1910. The value would have been greater had it not been for the wretched weather with which the harvest had to contend, many millions of bushels having been damaged by weather conditions before and after harvest, and many millions left unharvested until winter had set in. On the other hand the advance in prices which took place after the close of navigation has compensated to a great extent for the loss occasioned by the bad harvesting season. The area of field crops occupied in all Canada in 1911 was 32,853,074 acres, the value of the crops has been estimated at $566,711,600, as compared with 32,711,062 acres in 1910, with a valuation of $507,185,000. The average yield of wheat per acre in the western Provinces in 1910 was only fifteen bushels, as compared with 20.68 bushels in 1911.

MANUFACTURING.

We have from all sides most satisfactory reports on the condition of manufacturing industries. Many factories are working overtime — in fact we have not one report that is not encouraging. The exportation of manufactured goods is increasing, and with increased capacity of railways, additional harbor facilities, and the opening up of new markets, our manufacturers should soon be able to give the consumer in Canada the benefit of the lower cost of production. I must make one exception, however, in speaking of the prosperity of manufacturers. The lumber producers, particularly in British Columbia have had to contend, through, some say, the laxity of Customs officials with importations of American lumber free of duty upon which duties should have been collected. This has since been remedied, and our latest reports indicate a turn in the tide, and with every prospect of a good harvest and increasing immigration our lumbermen and sawmillers are looking forward with confidence to a profitable season. The total value of American lumber imported into Canada free of duty for the twelve months ending 31st March amounted to $11,697,055, of which fully $5,000,000 worth came into direct competition with the product of our own mills. In addition to this amount there was an importation of manufactured lumber valued at $2,431,127.

PANAMA CANAL

Constant reference is made in the West to the benefits which will be derived from the opening of the Panama Canal. Even now considerable shipments to Great Britain of the produce of British Columbia and of Alberta have been made by sea from Vancouver to Salina Cruz, thence via the Tehauntepec Railway and the Gulf of Mexico. It is difficult to estimate what will be the effect upon our western Provinces of low carrying charges from Vancouver to Liverpool, via the Panama Canal, with all the year round navigation.

POPULATION.

The steady emigration to Canada from the Mother Country, from the Continent of Europe and from the United States continues, and with increased energy. For the year ending 31st March, 1911, new arrivals numbered 311,084. The new arrivals to the same date 1912 numbered 354,237. Of the new arrivals 138,121 came from the British Isles, 133,710 from the United States, 82,406 from the Continent of Europe. It is surprising to note the large number of settlers who have been attracted by the agricultural lands and salubrious climate of British Columbia, but Alberta and Saskatchewan and Manitoba have also been discovered by immigrants on the lookout for happy homes. The total population of the four Western Provinces, including British Columbia, at the census of 1911, which is, however, supposed to indicate only 90 p.c. of the then actual population, amounted to 1,741,000, as compared with the Maritime Provinces, 940,000 Quebec 2,002,000 ; Ontario, 2,523,000. We do not begrudge the Great West their increasing influence in the Councils and in the framing of the policy of the Dominion. With fair consideration the one for the other, East and West will grow great together in honest and harmonious rivalry. The banking system of Canada has done more, with the exception, perhaps, of railways, to build up the West than any other influence, and to-day we find that of 1,453 branches of the nine leading banks doing business in Canada, 682 are West of Kenora, as compared with 771 to the East thereof. Any additional restriction upon the powers of Banks to circulate their own notes would be followed by the closing up of many branches, and would occasion, at least, a serious setback in the development of the Great West.

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION.

Railway extensions continue to be made at a marvellous rate. The additional mileage constructed during the year ended 30th June, 1911, was 669, sevety per cent of which was in the Western Provinces. The total railway mileage in Canada in actual operation on 30th June, last year was 25,400, in addition to which there were about 1,600 miles in actual operation but not officially recognized. For this result we have to thank in the first place the perhaps too generous subsidy policies of the Dominion and Provincial Governments, but we must not overlook the fact that we are dependent, in a great measure for the capital to develop our resources, upon our credit in the Motherland. We should not abuse that credit, and although some will say that the transmigration of capital is the result of perspicacity and confidence on the part of the investor, yet the confidence itself is, in the main, the result of sentiment and affection of mother for child. Let us not betray it.

MINING.

The output of the Cobalt silver camp for the year 1911 was valued at $16,500,000, as compared with $14,500,000 in 1910. The total value of the output of the Cobalt mines to the end of last year is estimated at $64,800,000. The exploitation of the Cobalt district has led to the discovery of the Porcupine District, from which source it is expected many millions of gold will be won during the present year. Nowhere are good roads needed more than through the agricultural portions of Northern Ontario, and it is satisfactory to note that large sums of money, no less than $5,000,000 from the Ontario Provincial Treasury alone, are about to be expended throughout the Province, resulting in closer social and business relations between its inhabitants, and in readier and less expensive access to the markets and to the lines of railway and steamboat communication.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS

The total exports of merchandise and agricultural products during 1911 amounted to $290,000,000, as against total imports of $462,000,000. The balance of trade has been settled by the immense sums brought into the country by immigrants, and by borrowing abroad in connection with railway, municipal, manufacturing, timber and other enterprises.

REAL ESTATE SPECULATION.

The extraordinary advances in the prices of city property not confined to any one Province is alarming. From Pacific to Atlantic values have advanced 200 p.c., 300 p.c., 400 p.c., and even 500 p.c. Enormous profits have been realized, and enormous obligations incurred. How and when the rise in values is to end it is impossible to say, as even sober, level-headed financially responsible men are amongst the most enthusiastic speculators. Bankers find it difficult to prevent customers engaged in legitimate pursuits using their commercial credits in the purchase of land for which they have no legitimate use. I should not be surprised to hear of failures and defalcations as a result of speculation in real estate, and a waste of capital which must result from the investment of borrowed money in ventures that bring in no immediate revenue, the reinstatement of the invested capital in legitimate business being dependent upon realization at still higher figures than cost.

I beg to move the adoption of the report.

The customary motions were made and carried unanimously.

The Scrutineers appointed at the meeting reported the following Shareholders duly elected Directors for the ensuing year :—Messrs. D. R. Wilkie, Hon. Robert Jaffray ; Wm. Ramsay, of Bowland, Stow, Scotland ; Elias Rogers, J. Kerr Osborne, Peleg Howland, Sir Wm. Whyte, (Winnipeg) ; Cawthra Mulock, Hon. Richard Turner, (Quebec) ; Wm. Hamilton Merritt, M.D., (St. Catharines) ; W. J. Gage.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors Mr. D. R. Wilkie was re-elected President and the Hon. Pobert Jaffray Vice-President for the ensuing year.

CALLED JUDGE A GRAFTER

Girl Testifies to Remark Made to Her By Williams of Archibald.

Washington, May 28.—The alleged relations of E. J. Williams to Judge Robert W. Archibald of the commerce court in the Katydid culm bank deal were the subject of inquiry to-day by the House judiciary committee, with Miss Mary Boland of Scranton, Pa., stenographer to W. P. Boland, accuser of the jurist, as the principal witness.

Miss Boland swore that instead of W. P. Boland having dictated the letter of March 13, 1912, in which a reference was made to a "silent partner" in the Katydid culm bank deal now alleged to have been Judge Archbald, Williams was the author of it. Williams corrected his testimony Friday so as to make it appear that Boland dictated the letter. Miss Boland said that Williams asked her to write the letter one day when Boland was absent and told her what he wanted to say. She said she did as he asked and submitted the letter to him for approval. She said he signed it and she tore off the letter-head, because it was written on the paper of the Marion Coal Company with which Williams had no connection.

Miss Boland read to the committee memorandum she had jotted down in her note book within the few months, of remarks Williams made as he dropped into Mr. Boland's office. The notes were not stenographic reports, but mere memoranda.

Many of them credited Williams with saying he had just left Judge Archbald's office after talking about culm bank deals or was going to see some one at the judge's request about culm deals.

AIRSHIP SERVICE.

Will Make Regular Trip Between England and France.

Paris, May 29.—The Compagnie Generale Transaerienne announces its decision to establish a service of hydroaeroplanes between Calais and Dover to enable passengers to cross the Channel in about fifteen minutes.

The company announces also that the dirigible Astra will soon inaugurate the new tourist service above Paris and the surrounding country. The full service will be put in operation shortly.

HAD BAD SORE FOUR YEAR

ZAM-BUK HAS HEALED IT

Mrs. Wilson, 110 Wickson Avenue, Toronto, says : "About four years ago a sore spot appeared on the right side of my face. This spot increased in size until it became about half an inch in diameter and very painful. I went to a doctor, but the ointment he gave me did not have any good effect. The sore continued to discharge freely and was most painful. I had it cauterized, tried poultices and all kinds of salves, but it was no good, and I continued to suffer from it for four years!

"A sample of Zam-Buk was one day given to me, and I used it. Although the quantity was so small, it seemed to do me some good, so I purchased a further supply.

"Each box did me more and more good, and, to my delight, before I had been using Zam-Buk three weeks, I saw that it was going to heal the sore. In less than a month it was healed !

"I know a lady in the east of the city, whose husband suffered for years with an open sore on his leg. On my recommendation, Zam-Buk was tried in that case. The other day, when I saw her, she told me that it had healed the sore completely.

"My daughter, who lives in Lethbridge, Alta., has also used Zam-Buk with the same satisfactory result. I think it is, beyond all doubt, the finest healing balm known."

Such is the opinion of all persons who have really tried Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, scalp sores, ring-worm, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. In case of skin disease use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

THE IMPERIAL BANK.

The Imperial Bank of Canada at its 37th annual General Meeting, demonstrated that such Canadian financial institutions compare a little more than favorably with banks of other countries. The Imperial Bank, during the past fiscal year, has had the most successful record since its inception. It is possible that a further issue of stock may be made. The Bank has found it necessary to deny applications from many places applying for new branches. The general statement of the Bank shows that their securities are of the highest character, the most conservative form of investment and the class that ensures every shareholder that his dollar is worth one hundred cents at least. The staff of the Imperial Bank of Canada has been well selected and is composed of men of the highest standing in Canadian financial circle.

HAYS' BIG MEN.

Chief Lieutenants Have All Been Mentioned to Succeed Him.

Three men have been mentioned as successors of the late Charles M. Hays as president of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways—Mr. E. H. Fitzhugh, first vice-president of the G.T.R.; Mr. E. J. Chamberlin, vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and Mr. F. H. McGuigan, formerly one of Mr. Hays' right-hand men on the G.T.R.

Earl Hopkins Fitzhugh, who stood next to Mr. Hays and who had followed his chief through most of his career, was born in Missouri in 1853, started out as a banker, and then entered the service of the St. Louis, Kansas City, and Northern Railway as a clerk. When that road was absorbed by the Wabash he made the acquaintance of Mr. Hays, and when Hays went to the Grand Trunk he soon sent for Mr. Fitzhugh. The latter came to Toronto as superintendent of the middle division of the G.T.R., and won rapid promotion. He was one of the men brought in by Mr. Hays to galvanize the old road into action, and he helped a whole lot.

When Mr. Hays left the G.T.R. to become president of the Southern Pacific he took Fitzhugh with him, and brought him back when he returned to the G.T.R. in February, 1903. In 1904 Mr. Fitzhugh became third vice-president of the G.T.R., and in 1910, first vice-president.

Mr. Edson J. Chamberlin, who succeeded Mr. Frank W. Morse as vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific three years ago, is somewhat older than Mr. Fitzhugh. He is a native of New Hampshire, and was general manager of the Canada Atlantic when that road passed into the hands of the Grand Trunk. He has lived in Canada since 1886, and is an able, all-round railway man.

Mr. McGuigan, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the big appointment, is better known to the public than either Mr. Fitzhugh or Mr. Chamberlin, because of his rather picturesque qualities. He came up from the ranks, and he is the sort of man about whom many stories are told. It is said he called J. J. Hill a liar on the occasion of his rupture with that magnate when he left the Great Northern, after a very brief stay in St. Paul, after he severed his connection with the G.T.R. It is also said that he applied the same epithet personally to an Ontario Cabinet Minister in connection with the construction of the Hydro-Electric line, which he recently built.

Mr. McGuigan's success and the fact that he is looked upon as big enough to fill Mr. Hays' position may be traced to his persistence when young of always fitting himself for a better job than he held. One day when he was a boy carrying water on the Great Western down near St. Thomas there was talk of a strike. An engineer laughingly said to him:

"You'll lose your job, son, if the men go out."

"Oh, I guess not," said young McGuigan, "probably I'll get your job."

"What do you mean?" asked the engineer.

"Why, I'll drive your engine," was the reply.

"What do you know about the engine?" said the driver, "go ahead and show me."

Whereupon McGuigan, the water boy, took hold and ran the locomotive! He had kept his eyes open and found out all about it.

A Studholme Story.

Mr. Allan Studholme, M.P.P., the only Labor member in Ontario's Legislature, is a much better speaker than he was when he first entered the House. He used to play the very dickens with the English language.

The Labor member from Hamilton simply couldn't be kept from a front bench, which he now occupies. In his early, extra-ungrammatical days in the House, he was a back-bencher, but it was his habit as he warmed up in a speech to emphasize each good point he made by a step forward, landing finally at an empty front bench, from which he finished his oration. One day he had accomplished this advance movement, and was eloquently holding forth at some one else's seat, at the front. Likewise he was smashing the rules of grammar and pronunciation recklessly.

Hon. Richard Harcourt, as ex-Minister of Education, was one of those most affected by Mr. Studholme's language. At last he signalled a page, and the latter soon returned with an enormous book—the biggest dictionary in the Legislative Library—which he slammed down on the desk in front of Mr. Studholme. The latter glanced at the volume, and instantly noted the significance of its arrival. But he was not upset. With the good-natured complacence which, among other qualities, has endeared him to the press gallery, he merely remarked: "My language may be none of the best, but—," and continued with his speech.

Dearth of Seals.

A despatch from St. John's, Nfld., by wireless to Montreal, states that the sealing fleet off the east coast of Newfoundland reports the worst season in the history of the sealing industry. The total catch so far is only 80,000 seals, which is less than one boat secured in 1910.

The fleet sailed on March 14, and comprised 2,080 men and many vessels. On March 20 they struck an ice "pan," with 30,000 seals which they speedily slaughtered. Then followed a hunt by the steamers, plowing through the ice for the main herd, which usually floats down on ice from the Polar regions.

The search was kept up for hundreds of miles through the ice in every direction, but without success. The fleet is now sailing south, and hopes to find the main herd. The average catch is 300,000 skins, representing a million dollars. With the best luck it is not expected to exceed one-third this year.

NEGRO SHOT.

Boy of Thirteen Years of Age Was Too Quick on the Trigger.

Shreveport, La., May 28.—Levi Garrison, a negro aged 40, was shot and killed last night by John Hanson, a negro aged 13 years, following a quarrel between Garrison and the boy's mother, with whom the elder negro lived, according to a message from Keithville, this parish. When shot by the youth, who surrendered, Garrison held a double barrelled shotgun with both triggers pulled back to shoot the boy.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties.—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Tenders for Station and other Buildings.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned and marked on the envelope, "Tender for Station Buildings," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway at Ottawa, Ont., until 12 o'clock noon on the 31st day of May, 1912, for the erection of station and other buildings required along the line of the Transcontinental Railway as set forth below, viz.:—

Section No. 13.—At Moncton, in the Province of New Brunswick.
Section No. 14.—From Langelier to Chagnie, in the Province of Quebec.
Section No. 15.—From Monk to Parent in the Province of Quebec.
Section No. 16.—From Fowke to Clarke in the Province of Ontario.
Section No. 17.—From Carling to Murphy in the Province of Ontario.
Section No. 18.—From Collins to Gordon in the Province of Ontario.

Plans and specifications may be seen and full information obtained at the office of Mr. Gordon Grant, Chief Engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and at the following District Offices:

For Section No. 13.—Mr. C. O. Foss, District Engineer, St. John, N.B.
For Sections Nos. 14 and 15.—Mr. A. E. Doucet, District Engineer, Quebec, Que.
For Section No. 16—Mr. H. M. Balfour, District Engineer, Cochrane, Ont.
For Section No. 17.—Mr. T. S. Armstrong, District Engineer, Nipigon, Ont.
For Section No. 18—Mr. A. G. McFarlane, District Engineer, St. Boniface, Man.

Tenders must be made on the forms supplied by the Commission and be signed and sealed by all parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a Chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada payable to the order of The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for a sum equal to ten per cent (10 per cent) of the amount of the tender.

By order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

Dated at Ottawa, this 29th day of April 1912.

Department of Railways and Canals. Ontario—St. Lawrence Canal Murray Canal.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed, "Tenders for Dredging Murray Canal," will be received at this office until 16 o'clock on Wednesday, June 5th.

The specification and form of contract to be entered into can be seen on and after Monday, May 20th, at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, or at the office of the Resident Engineer of the Ontario-St. Lawrence Canals, Cornwall, at which places form of tender may be obtained.

Parties tendering will be required to accept the fair wages schedule prepared or to be prepared by the Department of Labour, which schedule will form part of the contract.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and in the case of firms, unless there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm.

An accepted bank cheque for the sum of $2,000 made payable to the order of the Minister of Railways and Canals, must accompany each tender, which sum will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose tenders are not accepted.

The cheque of the successful tenderer will be held as security, or part security, for the due fulfillment of the contract to be entered into.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

By order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

A SOUND INVESTMENT IN TORONTO REAL ESTATE.

This is what we are offering the readers of "The Times" in our newest Sub-Division:

"CALEDONIA PARK"

Anyone familiar with Toronto will agree with us when we say that the best part of the city for investment to-day is the NORTH-WEST SECTION.

In "CALEDONIA PARK" you may purchase land where the district east, west, and south, is almost entirely built up.

The St. Clair Avenue car line will be in operation in about eight months, as the rails are now laid past our property. This, of course, will cause a decided enhancement in land values in the St. Clair Avenue district. "CALEDONIA PARK" lying just two blocks (about four minutes' walk) north of St. Clair, will naturally benefit very much.

The entire block is RESTRICTED to solid brick, or brick veneer houses, which will provide a district absolutely first class, and where houses will sell from $2700 to $4000 each.

A new brick school is just being completed at a cost of about $100,000, on the south side of INNES AVENUE, ONE OF THE STREETS IN "CALEDONIA PARK."

A local builder has just purchased a large strip of land and SIX solid brick houses will be commenced in a very short time.

Toronto investors, men who know values, are purchasing in "Caledonia Park," as they know there is money to be made at the opening low prices of—

$14 to $25 Per Foot

Write us for complete information. We will gladly forward plans and descriptive folder to any address. We know what we are offering, and can, with confidence, recommend "CALEDONIA PARK" lots to the Investor. Ten days' selling has disposed of $60,000.00 worth of lots.

WE REPEAT—We will refund the railroad fare to any purchaser within 150 miles of Toronto.

You can buy in "CALEDONIA PARK" on VERY EASY TERMS: 20 per cent. down and 20 per cent. every six months.

One feature worthy of note is that these lots are DEEP. We are aware that some properties on the market at the present time are only about eighty feet deep. OUR LOTS AVERAGE 124 FEET IN DEPTH TO A WIDE LANE.

Reservations may be made without risk to the purchaser. We will hold for three days what we consider the best available land. You can look the property over yourself, and if absolutely satisfied, make the purchase. We have many clients who act upon our judgment. They have realized splendid profits. You can do the same.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tenders for Dredging, Toronto Harbour, Ont." will be received until 4.00 p.m., on Tuesday, June 4, 1912, for dredging required in Toronto Harbour, in the Province of Ontario.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained on application to the Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the work. Dredges and tugs not owned and registered in Canada shall not be employed in the performance of the work contracted for. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for five per cent. (5 p.c.) of the contract price which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

ROSEDALE LOTS

Most citizens of Peterboro' are aware that Rosedale, of Toronto, is the High Class Residential District of that city. Where naught but blue blood is to be found, and where residence therein is a passport to high society. It was sub-divided and put on the market by a Scotch syndicate about 35 years ago, at $20.00 per front foot, and it is now selling at from $75.00 to $250.00 per foot. About the same time the high class citizens of Peterboro' determined to keep step with Toronto, quickly selected and sub-divided that beautiful block of land north of Smith Street, east of Jackson Park, west from Normal School, and Chemong Road. Having gone so far, they wearied of well-doing, leaving the task of putting on the market to your humble servant, in the late afternoon of life, and because of that lateness, and of the superior High Class Property, I am offering at a fraction of it's value five years hence. I most respectfully solicit your early investigation, believing that when you see the property, hear my price and terms, you will be pleased to accept at once. And as I want the assistance of every good man and woman in this meritorious work of furnishing home-foundations and the safest and most profitable way to invest and save, small or large sums of money. And in return for this assistance I agree to pay 5 per cent. of the net price, at which each lot is sold, to the Treasurer of the Church to which the buyer belongs. I will do this as a precedent for others to follow my example. Payable out of half money received from buyer. Bear in mind, I only own 38 lots in what I have properly named "The Heart of Rosedale", and you or your descendants will buy that property soon, or later at 5 or 10 times my price. Is it not in your interest to buy now, and use or sell later at big profits as many others have done? It is always safe to buy wheat or gold dollars, when they are offered at half value, and that is what you are doing when you buy lots in "The Heart of Rosedale."

Unavoidable delay compels me to name June 5th, as the opening day for sale of those lots. In the meantime, I suggest that every auto owner in the city, in his own interests, not only to go himself, but to take all his big friends with him, to carefully inspect and fully verify my statements.

Plans, and further information will be available in a few days.

SAINT VITAL SECURITY COMPANY
Limited

Room 2, Avenue Block, 265 Portage Avenue,

Winnipeg, Man., May 27th, 1912.

GENTLEMEN :—

Is your money earning you THREE HUNDRED PER CENT?

Each one of us is striving towards the goal of self-improvement, the chief factor of which is FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE.

To those who desire to invest their money in an absolutely safe way with a certain prospect of splendid returns, we can offer an exceptionally good proposition.

The SAINT VITAL SECURITY COMPANY, LIMITED, has recently been incorporated and have purchased a well-located piece of property in SOUTH WINNIPEG in the Parish of Saint Vital, to be immediately sub-divded into lots and placed on the market, netting 300 per cent. on money invested.

So far it has been operating privately, and the amount already subscribed exceeds our most sanguine expectations, but there are still a few shares left, which we can now offer to the public.

If business men recognize it as a sane and safe investment, there can be no question as to its bona-fideness.

If you are interested, write for further information. We court the fullest inquiries

Yours truly,

NEW YORK'S OLDEST HOUSE.

Built About 1692 of Dutch Brick Imported From Holland.

Attention is called in the real estate board of brokers' bulletin to the building at 122 William street, which is said to be the oldest building in New York city. It was built in 1692 or thereabouts of narrow Dutch brick imported from Holland and laid in cement. When the city opened the streets in the vicinity of the William street building it owned the property and placed restrictions in the deeds, such as some modern developers make, that the lots should be improved with buildings at least two stories high.

There is a shed in the rear of the building which, the bulletin says, marks the first spot of first bloodshed in the Revolutionary war. This section, then known as Golden hill, was the camp of the Sixteenth regiment of foot (British grenadiers), and almost two months before the battle of Lexington the Sons of Liberty attacked them, with a result of five British soldiers wounded and one American killed and three wounded. The event is down in history as the battle of Golden hill.

The building is on the east side of William street between John and Fulton streets. It has been owned for many years by the Gilford family.

Chinese Laundry Tickets.

The Chinese laundryman at the beginning of each week makes out a batch of checks in duplicate, to be used as wash tickets. He selects the name of some god or goddess or of some object, as the sun, the moon, etc. To this he prefixes a number, as "Moon No. 1," "Moon No. 2," and so on. In the space between the two legends—for the signs are repeated twice—he has his own name—as, for example, Wah Lee. When a customer takes a bundle of washing to the laundry the Chinese, first tearing a ticket in two in ragged fashion, puts one half of it on the packet for reference. The other half he gives as a receipt to the person who has brought the package of laundry. It must be presented when the laundry is demanded.—New York Herald.

Speaking Scotch.

The race of Scotch speaking people is passing away, and not many are left to tell the story in the rich brogue of the national tongue. And there was always a story to tell, so that one on this very subject comes in pat here. A youth who had been educated in England returned to his family in Scotland and was shown off by admiring friends

"Is he not charming?" remarked one to the young man's sister.

"Oh, yes, but he speaks English now," she answered in real distress.

An old lady being asked if a person she had lately seen was "Scotch" answered with much bitterness:

"I canna say. Ye a' speak sae genteel now that I dinna ken wha's Scotch."—London Mail.

Tennis the Game of Kings.

Tennis is the game of kings. The oldest of existing ball games—it is mentioned in the Arthurian romances—tennis was originally the pastime of the kings and nobles, and it was long before its descendant—lawn tennis—became popular with all classes. The game reached England from France and Italy, and by the time of Henry VII. we find a royal tennis court at Windsor. Henry VIII. was an expert at the game.—London Chronicle.

The Goat.

"Why do you insist on keeping that man as a member of your bridge club? He plays a wretched game."

Lindsay Regiment for Camp.

The 45th Victoria Regiment will entrain at the G.T.R. station, Lindsay, for camp at Barriefield, Kingston, for twelve days' training on June 10th at 10.30 a.m.

Children's Festival Chorus.

The members of the Children's Festival Chorus will meet to-night at 7.50 in the Conservatory of Music Hall and from there proceed to the Armouries, where the programme will be given on the main band stand.

Local Option Fight in Lindsay.

The local option campaign opened in Lindsay last Sunday, after it was defeated there some years ago. Rev. Dr. McTavish spoke in several of the Churches. He took as his text in the morning: "Take up the stumbling block out of the way of My people." He then went on with the usual arguments in such campaigns. In the evening many had to be turned away from the doors of the Academy.

Fire By Lightning in Victoria Co.

Lindsay Warder: Mr. Newman Smith, who resides on the 3rd concession of Somerville, suffered a severe loss by the electrical storm of Thursday night, when his barn and contents, which consisted of a quantity of fodder and seed grain, was destroyed by fire. In the castle stable underneath the building were 300 hens, 8 horses and 5 head of cattle. The building was struck about 11 o'clock, before the family had retired.

Mr. Alfred Johns Was Lindsay Man.

Mr. Alfred Johns, whose sad demise was chronicled in these columns yesterday, was a former citizen of Lindsay. The "Post" says in part: "The deceased was a former resident of Lindsay and worked for the G.T. R. and also assisted in the construction of the William street pavement. He is survived by his wife, who is a daughter of Mr. Alex. Marshall, formerly of Lindsay, and four children."

Yesterday's Rain Discussed.

A whole lot of people yesterday afternoon used unparliamentary lan-oners here are used like white men. guage on account of the rain storm. They included those having Peterborough's Summer Fair at heart and the "Fans" bound for the ball game. Now, just let them all, and sundry, consider what that rain was worth to the average farmer. What, for instance, would be such a downpour be worth in the more arid parts of the West? Why every drop would mean more to each ear of corn. Providence pretty nearly knows how, what and when it hands out its gifts.

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees With Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients.

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find Grape-Nuts and albumin water very nourishing and refreshing. This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice or flavoring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress.

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients.

"Personally I regard a dish of Grape Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone — well or sick." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

In any case of stomach trouble, nervous prostration or brain fag, a 10 days' trial of Grape-Nuts will work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding, and in this way ending the trouble. "There's a Reason" and trial proves.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Throat Becomes Diseased from Neglecting Colds

Then Catarrh Sets in, Mucous Drops Into the Stomach, Coughing, Headaches and Debility Follow.

That the best method of curing catarrhal disease consists in using Catarrhozone is now freely admitted. Catarrhozone is infinitely superior to cough medicines, tablets, sprays and emulsions, which for the most part are of no practical value except to ease the cough for the time being. Often liquid cough remedies contain, opium, morphine and cocaine. With Catarrhozone you take no drugs—you employ Nature's way—just inhale Catarrhozone's soothing, healing vapor and relief and cure follow promptly.

Weak Throat, Racking Cough Cured.

"For five years I suffered from a severe bronchitis. A harsh, dry, racking cough kept my throat in a raw condition from one year's end to another. Before going to sleep at eight I always had a bad attack, and in the morning before each breakfast I suffered greatly. My voice was harsh and raspy, and some times I found it difficult to make myself understood. Catarrhozone seemed to soothe and heal from the first day. It cured me, and now I wouldn't think of being without a Catarrhozone Inhaler—It means life to me."

The above experiences is related by Mr. Alexander P. Savary, of Hamilton, Pa., and proves the effectiveness of Catarrhozone, which will cure every cough, cold, bronchial or catarrhal attack. The dollar size of catarrhozone contains two months' treatment and is guaranteed. Smaller size, 50c, sample size 25c. All dealers, or the Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Lindsay Men Victims of Horses.

By somewhat strange coincidence, within twenty-four hours, a former Lindsay man, Mr. Alfred Johns, met his death by injuries inflicted in Peterborough, by a horse, and another Lindsay man on Sunday, was seriously hurt by a similar quadruped. It seems that in Lindsay, on Sunday morning, a young man named Martin Quillen, who resides in South Ops township, hitched up a colt in order to drive to mass at St Mary's church, when the animal bolted and ran away. The young man was thrown out and his right leg broken between the knee and the ankle. He was carried to his home and Dr. McAlpine sent for.

BRIGHT PALMIST AT LOCAL SUMMER FAIR

One of the most popular attractions of the Summer Fair is the Gypsy booth. The ladies in charge have secured a professional palmist, who will be pleased to tell all enquirers what the future has in store for them. Madame Zambar, from London, England, is to be the palmistry treat, and no doubt will be in great demand. Madame Zambar has had wonderful success in delineating character and promising the best for the future. Her charge is merely nominal, but no reading will be made for less than a quarter. Madame Zambar will be in the palmistry tent each afternoon and evening while the Fair lasts.

To-morrow evening, in His Majesty's Theatre at the Summer Fair, a one act farce, called "A Pair of Lunatics," will be given by Miss Helen Davidson and Mr. Gerald Rackham. This is very laughable, and is full of witty sayings and comical misunderstandings. Those who arrange to visit the theatre on Wednesday night will surely enjoy the program arranged.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. R. Jones, of Bowmanville, was in town yesterday.

The Misses West, lately of England are guests of Mrs. Grant.

Mr. Ernie Best of New York, is in the city for a few days.

Did the ball game come off yesterday afternoon? Ask the weather propget, he is the man to blame.

Those Peterborough born and Canadian raised Italians, with their pea-nut stand, did a land office business at the Summer Fair.

Say you fan! Doesn't it seem hard luck, just as the Petes had won their first game of the season, old probs pulled the string and Riverside Park was a veritable swamp.

Three new players have been added to the Petes. After their win from Ottawa, with this help, they should do something, or possibly, it would be fairer to say, it is to be hoped their bad luck in the past will turn.

American papers of recent date give big illustrations of "Cages of prisoners, treated like wild beasts in Fez, Morocco." Now, by a funny coincidence, the cages shown are almost facsimilies of those in the temporary police headquarters. However, fortunately, otherwise the pris-

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Robert Brown.

One of the formerly best known residents of this district, in the person of Mrs. Sarah Little, widow of the late Mr. Robert Brown, passed away at her home in Dummer township on May 19th.

The late Mrs. Brown was in her 79th year. She moved here with her husband from Ireland some 53 years ago. In religion, Mrs. Brown was a staunch member of the Methodist church. The deceased leaves to mourn her loss seven sons and three daughters, Joseph, George, Robert, James, William, John and David, Mrs. Thomas F. Edgar of Peterborough and Mrs. J. M. Tighe and Miss Eliza.

Mrs. R. F. Christie.

Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie has received information of the death of Mrs. R. F. Christie, a near relative, at Pinchen Creek, Sask. Mr. Christie spent the winter in Peterborough and his wife in Toronto. They returned West this spring. Death is supposed to have come from a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Patrick O'Brien.

Yesterday morning early Mr. Patrick O'Brien, Stewart street, passed away at the alloted age of man's existence.

Deceased is survived by three sons and three daughters, namely, William James, Joseph, all of this city; Mrs. John Fagan, of Cloknet, Minn., Mrs. Wm. Hutchinson, of Toronto, and Mr. Edward Phflan of Peterborough.

The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, and from thence to St. Peter's cemetery for interment.

QUEBEC UNFAIR

of public companies, banks and corporations in Quebec. The editor of the Record showed that under this system Protestants pay an enormous sum to Roman Catholic schools. It is not done to give an education to the children, but to teach them that Roman Catholic doctrines, among which is the instruction that heretics, or Protestants, are altogether outside the bounds of salvation. The most vigorous statements with regard to Protestantism are found in the catechism. The reflections upon Protestantism contained in the questions and answers are couched in the language of bigotry. But strange to say, the men who thus take enormous sums every year from the pockets of Protestant tax-payers in Quebec to teach the children of that province that Protestantism is damnable—to teach them to despise Protestants—are continually prating about their generosity in granting the Protestant minority their rights.

"If the Roman Catholic minority received the same treatment in Ontario that the Protestant minority receives in Quebec they would be crying to Heaven for justice. We venture to say that it is not of the essence of Roman Catholicism to treat a minority fairly, let alone generously. Romanism teaches that wherever a heretic can be despoiled in the interests of the church, it is an act of merit to take from them for the propagation of the Roman faith. Let indifferent Protestants who think that the present criticisms of Roman Catholicism are inspired by bigotry ask themselves how long Romanists would be satisfied with the same treatment that they mete out to the minority in the Province of Quebec!"

A NEW TIMES FEATURE

I had a Million What Would I Do With It?"

Throughout the whole City of Peterborough, this, and adjoining counties is heard. "The Peterborough Times has improved a hundred per cent." There is an old saying, "The proof of the pudding is in the eating." Now, the proof of those statements of great improvement is shown like in a theatre, in the "box office." or, as the paper calls it, the subscription list. Within the past year, especially since the opening of the rural mail routes, subscriptions have been added to the Times' list by hundreds. This is no idle boast. The Times is ready to display its increased list at any time to any one.

To add another item of popularity to the Times among its present and future subscribers, a special feature will be added on Saturday. This consists in a request for replies to the question "If I had a million what would I do with it?" Here is a chance for the man or woman of deep religious sentiments to display their practical faith. A chance for local men, who, if translated into the millionaire ranks, and, if philanthropic, incline to show how money should be spent. A chance for manufacturers to show how to increase their plant and thereby help the City. A chance for merchants to show how to increase the volume of their business. A chance for ladies to show how to make the house beautiful and how to dress better. A chance for sports to show how to win at the races, games etc., and, last of all, a chance for the man without a cent in the world, no visible coin in sight, and no prospects of getting it, to show what he would do if he did get a million. Answers are requested from every class and sex in the community. All names should be endorsed on the back of the communications, but not necessarily for publication.

Finest Turnout of Any Circus

The Great London Shows Consolidated, which comes to Peterborough Thursday, June 6th, will bring special importations in the way of all kinds of new circus acts which have been secured in conjunction with a long string of the pick of American performers.

Every department has been increased extensively, and it is claimed the exhibition of blooded horses is the best ever offered, among which are the wonderful Dublin Grays, the Big Six, who have captured all the prizes at the prominent horse shows. They are valued at $25,000.

The parade, said to be "the finest turnout of any circus has ever made in any country," will traverse the principal streets, morning of the show day.

VOL. XXXIX, NO. 136 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1912 PRICE, TWO CENTS.

HARD COAL WILL KEEP AT HIGH PRICES FOR SOME TIME

Quarter Million and Probably More Will Be Paid By Toronto People Alone for Next Winter's Supply.

Toronto, May 29.—Nearly a quarter of a million dollars will be spent in Toronto alone during 1912 for coal, above the expenditure last year. Increased prices, and the absence of the customary summer drop will make the coal bill an even greater source of worry and vexation to the householder than in previous years, and if prices continue to soar, Toronto inhabitants will find it cheaper to emigrate for the winter to warmer climes.

Many reasons are given by the local dealers for the increases. Higher prices at the mines, and the diminishing output owing to the scarcity of labor, are probably the greatest factors in the rise, but the increase of wages granted to local carters also plays a part.

According to Mr. Cameron of the Standard Fuel Company, the price at the mines is 45 cents a ton higher than a year ago last April. The output also is greatly diminished, only 60 per cent. of the previous average being mined.

Further Increase Probable.

Not only will the customary summer price be done away with, but further increases are in sight. Early in September a further rise in price will be made of 25 cents, and Mr Milnes, of the Milnes Coal Company, stated that the price may jump even before then, and much higher.

"I would not be surprised to see an increase go into effect in a month or two," he declared. "With all the increases in the cost of production, transportation and delivery it is imperative that we raise the price to cover expenses."

No Immediate Change.

"Prices will remain the same as they have been during the past four months," Mr. Rogers, of the Elias Rogers Coal Company said this morning. "Of course, prices will go up as they usually do later on in the season and then it is likely that 25 cents a ton increase that has taken place in the States will be added on here as well. No change in price is at present anticipated. There will be no summer reduction in the price."

CHINESE LEPER BOY IS STILL IN THE TORONTO HOSPITAL

Toronto, May 29.—Sing Foo, the little Chinese boy who was taken from Lansdowne Public school some months ago while suffering from the preliminary stages of leprosy, is still a patient at the General Hospital. He now occupies a private ward and is reported to be progressing nicely. The disease, however, has obtained such a hold upon him that his recovery is dispaired of, and the hospital is merely waiting the decision of the Dominion authorities as to his disposal. It is expected that he will be deported within a short time to the leper colony of Tracadie on the Nova Scotia coast.

During the recent medical council assembly he proved to be one of the most interesting patients and attracted much attention as he shuffled unattended about the halls of the medical school. On examination of his body showed aterrible spread of the disease.

Danger of Contagion.

"The danger of contagion is apt to be over estimated," said Dr. R. D. Rudolph, who had the boy in charge "This case is of mild character and is undoubtedly due to pridisposition"

"How is leprous contagion effected?" he was asked.

"By breathing the germ and by physical contact," was the reply.

A few minutes after this the youngster appeared in the hall and went down stairs, sliding his hands on the banisters used by the rest of the convention.

As to where the lad contracted the disease Dr. Rudolph is not prepared to state, but thinks he may have received it by contact in China before he emigrated.

PRINCE ARTHUR IS TO VISIT CANADA

New York, May 29.—According to a London cable this morning Prince Arthur of Connaught is to be granted special leave from the army in order to pay a visit to his parents in Canada in the autumn. He will join the King at Balmoral in September and may go west afterwards, so as to get some sport during the fall.

DUCAL PARTY HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 29.—Members of the Ducal party had a narrow escape yesterday while inspecting the plant of the Electric Development Company, when a heavy stone fell in their path. The Duke and Duchess and Princess Patricia had just passed when the heavy stone, which was being unloaded for the work, crashed down. Col. Lowther was only two feet from it when it hit the ground.

PUBLIC OPINION

MIXED MARRIAGES.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir.—That the public may know something of the domineering spirit of the Church over their adherents, I would ask you to kindly give place to the following, taken from the Catholic Register. Were a Protestant to write in this strain to a member of his flock, he would probably be compelled to send in his resignation. The question and answer is as follows:

"Gertrude, Port Arthur—I am a Catholic young woman, aged twenty, and have spent three years in a convent. Where I live there are no desirable Catholic young men. Am I justified in keeping company with and later on marrying a young man who is not a Catholic, but who is at least my equal?

"Ans.—We have been waiting a long time for this question, and it has finally arrived. The convent-bred Miss Snob who thinks a few brief months under our Sisters' care has raised her several degrees above her brothers and her brothers' companions is not unusual. Well, let us take a passing look at Gertrude's extra accomplishments. From the standpoint of knowledge she is probably on a par with or perhaps lower down than many worthy Catholic girls who are helping to solve the family problems by teaching, or who are employed in clerical work of some kind. The probabilities are that she knows a good deal less than hundreds of girls who are thus engaged. Probably she can paint or rather daub a little and as amateur artists have done much to increase the sum total of the country's insanity, we will let that pass for what it is worth. It is at the piano, however, that Gertrude probably shines. Maybe she can play a dozen tunes, or sing one of those soul thrilling ballads that scare the birds off the trees in the next lot, and this accomplishment, together with the fact that she has been "away to school," gives her an idea that she is a grand young lady. She is naturally too good for housework now, and her mother is likely doing the darning and ironing, while the young aristocrat lies in bed, dawdles about the house in curling papers or pounds the piano. Her brother's chums are not good enough for this young snob. Oh, no! This "convent" butterfly cannot see anything worth appreciating in a plain, sensible, hard-working chap, and this accounts for the strange fact that so many of them have swelled the figures in the mixed marriage column.

"Now, it is possible that nothing we can say to Gertrude will have any effect as far as her future is concerned. If the picture we have formed of her be correct, the best we can hope is that no Catholic young man will be unlucky enough to get her. And grant, for the sake of argu-

JUDGE IDINGTON SAYS ENGLISH CHURCH MAY MARRY HINDOOS

Ottawa, May 29.—Arguments were continued in the Supreme Court in the hearing of the Lancaster Marriage Bill reference this morning, Mr. P. B. Mignault, for the opponents to the bill, resuming. He quoted the codifiers of the Quebec Civil Code on the Title of Marriage as saying "the celebration of marriage is entrusted to the ministers of the church to which he belongs."

Referring to article 128 of the Quebec Code, which rules as to marriages being celebrated openly, Mr. Mignault said there was an endeavor to give a certain elasticity to the word "open" in this clause of the code.

"Marriage must be celebrated openly," he stated. "Clandestinity annuls marriage. For the purpose of securing the publication of banns of marriage in non-clandestinity the law of the Province contains ample safeguards requiring the publicity. The only way to prevent clandestinity is to secure the celebration of marriage where the parties are known."

Ministers' Powers Limited.

"A vast number of bodies have secured legislation from the Legislature to keep registers." Mr. Mignault continued, "but I insist on the contention that all the statutes are special statutes and that general powers are not given. It was not the intention of the Legislature to givae powers beyond their own respective churches."

Justice Idington—"The Church of England has had power since the conquest of Canada, 1759, and would not distinguish between Hindus, Buddhists, or any other race. And yet we are asked to believe that they have no right to marry Roman Catholics. Has the Church of England any right to marry Roman Catholics in your contention?"

Mr. Mignault—"NO AUTHPRITY CAN BE CITED IN FAVOR OF THAT PROPOSITION. It involves the consideration of what was the law after the conquest. There is no evidence that the English law, excepting criminal, was introduced into the Province of Quebec. I state this on the authority of the late Justice Lafontaine. Never was the English civil law the law of the Province of Quebec."

Justice Idington—"It rests as to how much the conquering nation affects the law of marriage in this case."

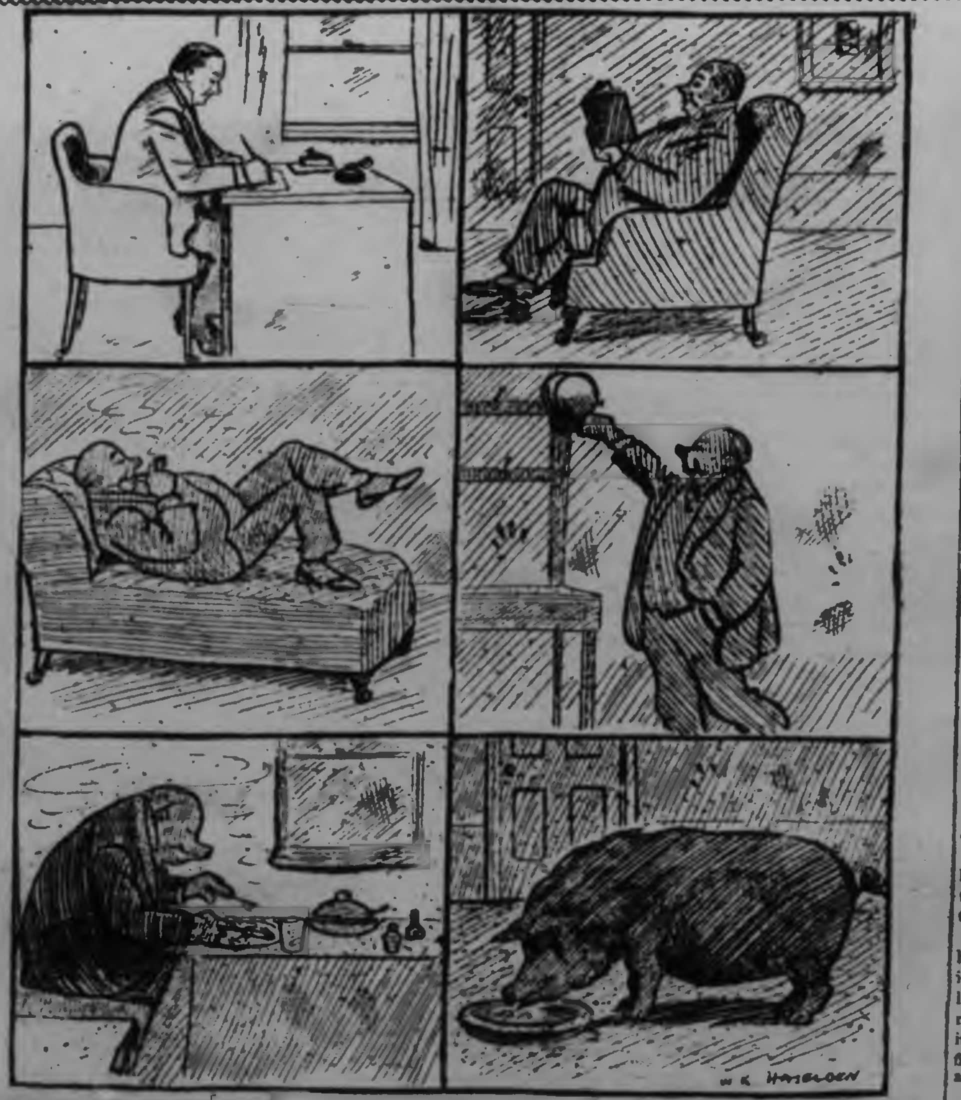
Only Political Laws Changed.

Mr. Mignault—"The law and the customs of old France were maintained after the conquest. The question arises as to whether the law of marriage is a part of civil rights. The effect of conquest generally is to supercede the law of the conquered country by that of the conquerors. By that I mean that laws political in nature are superceded, but the private or municipal laws are maintained in force."

The Chief Justice—"That is the fundamental foundation of the questions submitted to us."

Amid a crossfire of questions levelled at him by nearly all the justices, Mr. Mignault endeavored to make plain the condition of the laws both before and after the conquest of Canada.

THE WEATHER.
Cloudy and cooler.



Why Mr. Man should not kick at housecleaning. (By Mrs. Housewife.) The cartoonists have often given man's view on the housecleaning nuisance. The above picture gives the woman's. She says that if there was no housecleaning, men would sink into degradation and return to a mere animal again.

CITY SCAVENGER SCRIVER REFUSES TO CONTINUE HIS CONTRACT

Asks Property Committee to Raise His Contract Price From $2,750 to $6,000 for a Year's Collection of City Garbage. Says He Will Not Take His Rigs Out Today.

The City's Property Committee met last night. There were present Alderman Jas. Graham, presiding; Mayor Bradburn, Aldermen Brown, and Morgan. Sanitary Inspector Spence and Garbage Collector Scriver were also present.

Sanitary Inspector Spence wrote that the reason for the unsatisfactory collection of garbage is due to two causes, viz.: First, the garbage collector has not sufficient men in his employ to make frequent collections; and secondly, citizens do not leave their refuse in convenient spots for collection. (In other places garbage receptacles are left on or near the sidewalk.)

Garbage Collector Scriver complained that his men had to carry garbage in some instances a distance of from 30 to 100 feet.

To his Worship, Mr. Scriver replied that he could not do the work thoroughly on account of not having enough men and teams.

His Worship—"Why haven't you sufficient force?"

Mr. Scriver—"I only contracted to supply two teams and the men in charge of same."

The Mayor—"You were not asked to figure on supplying two teams, but to collect the garbage from a given district, no matter how many teams and what help are required."

Mr. Scriver—"Mr. Duncan told me I was to figure on two teams only being required."

The Committee here pointed out that it made no difference what Mr. Duncan or any other person told Scriver, his tender was accepted under the conditions advertised, which certainly did not specify how many teams or men were to be used. Any tenderer had to exercise his own judgment in this regard when figuring.

Sanitary Inspector Spence thought the work could be done satisfactory with two teams supplemented with a third for heavy days. Especially so were the by-law amended to compel citizens to leave their garbage near the sidewalk. The collector could make four trips a day, which would be sufficient to assure proper collection.

Mr. Scriver—"It can't be done. The proper execution of the work calls for five or six rigs. Taking Mr. Duncan's assurance that two teams only would be required I did not figure high enough. My expenses up to date amount to $450, and I won't continue the work for the money I'm getting."

In reply to Ald Morgan, Mr. Scriver said he would continue his contract for $6,000 provided the collection of ashes was eliminated, and citizens compelled to leave their garbage convenient for collection. Mr. Scriver's tender, upon which he was awarded the contract, was for $2,750.

The Committee would not consider Mr. Scriver's proposition, and he was informed that action will be taken to compel him to carry out the terms of his contract.

Mr. Scriver—"Do you expect me to go on collecting to-morrow morning?"

The Chairman—"Certainly."

Mr. Scriver—"Well, the rigs won't go out to-morrow morning; the rigs will stay in."

Incidentally, it might be here mentioned that Mr. Scriver's bonds are not sufficiently signed. The necessary papers have been furnished by a Guarantee Company, but Mr. Scriver has not yet attached his signature.

Inspector Spence Complains.

While the public is permitted to dump unobjectionable matter along the river bank, east of Water street, and near the National Hotel, for filling in purposes, Sanitary Inspector Spence reported that offensive animal matter is being dumped there. He asked what is to be done to stop this nuisance? The posting of warning notices apparently having no deterring effect. "This morning, said Mr. Spence, "I found 50 lb. of fish deposited there and spent much time in discovering the culprit."

The Mayor—"You should have prosecuted."

Mr. Spence—"I gave the party opportunity to clear the fish away, which was done."

The Mayor—"That was your opportunity to make an example in warning to others. You have the power to prosecute for such violation of the health act."

The Sanitary Inspector will act on his worship's suggestion in future, and take action against anyone depositing objectionable matter at this spot in question, or on any other vacant land.

Tenders For Coal.

The Committee will advertise for coal for the city's public buildings, and they were authorized to purchase same.

Lawn Service.

A lawn service for the Queen Mary Hospital will be arranged for.

Park Matters.

The Committee decided not to have a cedar hedge planted around the park at the corner of Charlotte and Park streets, and flower beds provided. Mr. Holly, however, will be asked, however, to prohibit the boys from playing ball in this little park.

Acting Chairman Ald. Graham was authorized to have a fence erected on the south side of Mark street park. And the Clerk was instructed to notify Mr. J. C. O'Connell to clear his stuff off the lot at once.

Fence at Protestant Home.

The question of putting a fence around the new Protestant Home grounds was referred to the Mayor and Acting Chairman Ald. Graham.

EACH SAYS HE WILL WIN ON FIRST BALLOT AT CHICAGO

Washington, May 29.—The Washington headquarters of all the Republican candidates will close this week, and managers and their assistants will establish themselves in Chicago Monday for the opening of the battle before the National convention on June 16th.

Senator Dixon, campaign manager for Col. Roosevelt, returned to Washington from New York to-day and made the prediction that Col. Roosevelt would have more than 600 delegates on the first ballot in the Chicago convention. Included in this number, he said, would be more than 30 from New York.

President Taft's manager, Rep. Wm B. McKinley, of Illinois, asserted this morning that the President's actual strength at present was 574 delegates, exclusive of the delegates at large in Ohio and Texas. He was emphatic in his prediction of a nomination for the President on the first ballot.

HOUSES ARE HIT BY LIGHTNING

Acton Powder Mill Blown Up in Storm.

THIRTEEN INJURED.

Cars as Well as Houses Struck and Several Small Fires, in Addition to Railway Station, are Burned.

Boston, Mass., May 27.—Fires, collisions and runaways were among the features of the fiercest electrical storm that Greater Boston has experienced for some time. The storm closed a day remarkable for freak weather. Midsummer heat, oppressive humidity, a high wind, and intermittent dust storms were followed by two unusually severe storms.

The storm caused a street car collision in North Saugus, resulting in injury of 13 persons; destruction by lightning-set fire of the Webster railroad station and of a barn in Reading; damage to two houses in Wakefield, one in Melrose, one in Salem, and one in Swampscott.

At Acton two mills of the American Powder Co., a corning mill and a pressing mill were blown up. The buildings were wrecked and many windows in the neighborhood broken, but no one was injured.

Lightning is supposed to have struck one of the buildings and the other was set off by concussion. Workmen had been about the buildings a short time before, but had left with the outbreak of the storm. The loss is estimated at $5000.

It was a rear end collision in North Saugus. During the height of the second storm, which [illegible] the worst of its fury over [illegible] Melrose and Saugus, lightning struck a Bay State railway electric and blew out the fuse. The car came to a stop on a bad curve near the Wakefield line. There was a heavy downpour and except for the frequent flashes of lightning everything was dark.

A special car crowded with passengers who had been to a land sale in North Saugus followed the regular car. As the lights on the stalled car were out the motorman of the special car came around the curve and was on top of the other car before he saw it. He put on the brakes, but his car slid with locked wheels over the wet rails and drove into the halted electric. There was a crash and shrieks.

Drs. Parker, of Saugus, and Wells, of Wakefield, were summoned by automobile, and put in a busy half hour giving attendance to the injured.

The heavy storms of the early evening in Greater Boston were duplicated pretty much everywhere throughout the country yesterday. There was a wave of torrid weather from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast and local thunder storms were frequent. Telegraph and telephone wires were hampered badly by them.

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 388 George St. directly opposite Creasman's store.

THE BUTCHER-BIRD.

He Preys Upon the Small Fry of the Canadian Woods.

Once you see and recognise a shrike, you will never forget him, says Mark Robinson in a recent article in Toronto Saturday Night. He is light grey in color, with dusky wings and tail marked with white. There are also some dusky markings about the head. In size and build he suggests the blue jay. The shrike is heavy in flight as a rule, but when in pursuit of prey, he appears to move with much more speed than most birds. The song of the shrike suggests in many ways that of the "whiskey-jack." But it is much more harsh and grating.

Among birds the shrike is a bandit and a murderer, though his disguise is a very innocent and inconspicuous one. The upper bill is slightly hooked and very powerful, and the shrike possesses strength enough to drive it into the brain of the unfortunate birds it captures. The legs are very strong, and have long toes, armed with long curved claws, in which they carry their prey.

I first saw the shrike some years ago near the old Bulmer farm, east of Stayner town. It was in the month of June, and I have noticed them there at that season ever since. They would seem to have a breeding-place near by. While they are a somewhat rare bird, they are seen more frequently in the late autumn, hovering over stubble fields and turnip patches, as they come from the north following the migration of the smaller birds. During the past season I noticed a pair nesting in Minesing, a pair in my father's garden at Edenvale, and a pair near the old haunts at the Bulmer farm. I believe the shrike is becoming more plentiful throughout the Nottawasaga Valley.

Some years ago Mr. James Rupert, of Edenvale, called my attention to a bird which he described as a sparrow-hawk, and which was clearing his barns of English sparrows. I visited his place and found that it was shrikes which were doing this work. They made their raids early in the morning, and again shortly before dusk at evening. We never saw the shrikes approaching the barns. The first sight we would get of them would be dashing through a loft-door. The sparrows would fly about in confusion, plunging into the sides of the straw mow in their endeavor to escape from the shrike. The shrikes would follow them, and a hard struggle would always ensue, for the English sparrow dies hard, and many an old cock-sparrow saved his life and won his liberty by sheer pluck, in a fight where the odds were heavily against him. The younger birds, however, fell easy victims, and were carried away to the woods along the river. Almost every autumn since then a pair of shrikes have visited those barns.

On another occasion, late in November, I noticed a large flock of red-polls feeding in some scrub cedars. Suddenly they flew about in great confusion, and, after circling a small bunch of willows a few times, departed to the neighboring woods. I went to find the cause of the disturbance, and saw a red-poll hanging by the neck in a forked branch of the willow. The stain at the base of the head showed it to be the work of a shrike, which was hovering close by.

The shrike must have some deadly enemies, probably among the hawks and owls. Its breeding habits would indicate a rapid increase, and yet they are one of the rarest of our birds. They feed upon frogs, newts and small rodents, as well as birds, and it may well be that they often fall victims to weasels while hunting for prey.

A Man-less Land.

One hundred years ago, Canada was a manless land. There were a few settlers in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, in Quebec and Ontario (to use modern names), and they were a few Red Indians and fur-traders in the West. But what impression could even a million people make on a stretch of territory which is almost the size of Europe?

That this is a true statement of the then situation is amply proved by the history of the years which have elapsed. That million people has grown to eight milions and the country is still largely manless. British Columbia has twenty million acres of grain land, of which only an infinitesimal fraction is surveyed. Ontario has a "clay belt" stowed away in its northern vastness which has an equal acreage and in which there are not yet a thousand farmers. Every other province is in much the same condition.

Compare this country with Great Britain. Canada has thirty-one times as much territory as the United Kingdom. If there were as many people to the square mile here as there, Canada would have a population of more than a billion. To-day, Canada has eight millions or less.

Give every man a thousand acres, and there would be two million land-owners in Canada, which would mean a population of from fifteen to twenty million. Give every man a hundred acres and there would be twenty-four million land-owners and a population of fifty million. Is not then Canada a man-less land?—Canadian Courier.

Canada Loses Good Man.

Among the notable but least mentioned passenger who perished in the Titanic disaster was E. J. Sjostedt, a native of Sweden, who for several years has been engaged in geological and mineralogical work in Canada, principally in the copper bearing district of the north shore of Lake Superior. Some months ago he made up his mind to visit his native country, and the Department of Mines deemed it advisable to accredit him as its representative to make investigations into the treatment of copper ores in Norway and Sweden. He was on the return trip when he met death on the White Star liner.

Where Eggs Are Costly.

Ranchers in the Bulkley valley were selling their eggs this spring at $1.50 a dozen.

Local Option Fight in Lindsay.

The local option campaign opened in Lindsay last Sunday, after it was defeated there some years ago. Rev. Dr. McTavish spoke in several of the Churches. He took as his text in the morning: "Take up the stumbling block out of the way of My people." He then went on with the usual arguments in such campaigns. In the evening many had to be turned away from the doors of the Academy.

BEAUTIFYING OTTAWA.

Government Is Spending $100,000 a Year at the Dominion Capital

To embellish and beautify the capital of Canada the Dominion Government is now spending no less than $100,000 each year, the money being disbursed by the Ottawa Improvement Commission, of which Sir Henry Bate is the chairman.

More than one million dollars has already been spent on driveways and parks, and in the next five years probably one million more will be expended on the scheme of beautification along broad and comprehensive lines.

The Ottawa driveway, one of the principal works of the Improvement Commission, is universally recognised as one of the finest, if not, indeed, the finest, on the continent of North America.

Bit by bit, the driveway system has been gradually extended year by year, until it now reaches from the Experimental Farm, on the extreme west of the city, to the Rockliffe rifles ranges, in the east, two miles beyond the city limits.

From the Experimental Farm to Cartier Square—the Champs de Mars of Ottawa—the driveway parallels the Rideau Canal. A quarter of a mile farther on the driveway resumes in Major's Hill Park, and circles around the rugged Nepean Point cliffs, overlooking the Ottawa River, and continues right up to the very door of Canada's Royal Governor-General in the Rideau Hall grounds. But the driveway does not stop there. It extends for a mile and a half farther down the Ottawa River to the rifle ranges, where the annual D. R. A. matches are held.

The driveway itself is a splendidly macadamised roadway, the most popular route for motor cars and carriages in the city. On either side, the driveway throughout its entire length is bordered with beautiful lawns, shrubbery, flower-beds, shade trees and rustic work. Here and there miniature lakes add to the attractiveness of the general scheme.

All but one of the members of the commission are appointed by the Dominion Government. The exception is the Mayor of Ottawa, who is ex-officio a member.

The length of the driveway at present is 13.28 miles, and it is being added to year by year. Right now the Improvement Commission is considering a scheme to illuminate the driveway with the "white way" lights from Rideau Hall to the Experimental Farm, a distance of some four miles. One feature of the driveway is a speedway at Rockliffe Park. It is a mile in length, and is used for speeding motor cars.

The general impression through the country seems to be that the Dominion Government is giving Ottawa something for nothing. However, Ottawa gives good value for the money that is spent within its borders by the Improvement Commission. The Government buildings are exempted from taxation, and the city gives fire protection and water gratuitously.

Hon. Mr. Monk, the new Minister of Public Works, said the other day that the new Government intended to continue on an even larger scale the policy inaugurated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues for the embellishment and beautification of the national capital.—Vincent Park in Toronto Globe.

Bulgaria and Canada.

For many years before 1909, a very large number of Bulgarians, Macedonians and Greeks left their own countries to settle in the United States, but from the beginning of this century there has been considerable preference shown by these sub-Balkan people for Canada. In the year 1900, the immigration department figures showed a quite small number of these, but this has annually increased until in 1911-12, 4,484 Bulgarians and Macedonians alone had arrived here, and about one-third of that number of Greeks. Many Servians are with this immigrating company also. The majority of them find their starting spot at Belgrade, in Servia, and thence they travel to Buda-Pesth. From Buda-Pesth they proceed to Havre, and travel via London or Liverpool to Quebec, come on, the large majority, to settle in Toronto. Here they get employment as street laborers, on railroads, or, many of them at first as waiters in restaurants. These blossom out later into proprietors of the cheaper feeding places in the city. There are not a few of the small capitalists among them who open up as grocers, butchers, tailors or shoemakers, and some go further west and become prosperous farmers. Many of them become nationalised, marry and add to the mixture of Canada's population. Very few of them go back to Europe.

These facts are gathered from a new newspaper, The Balkan Star, the first number of which was published, printed in the native character, on the 6th of April. It is a well-got-up sheet of four pages, and is evidence, by its existence of the fact that these people, native of the Balkan states, have already become a considerable item in Canada's national life.

French Mail Rates.

The direct parcel mails from Canada to France, which went into operation recently, will be made up at Montreal and Halifax during the winter, and will be despatched by steamers of the Allan line sailing direct to Havre.

The rate will be—1 pound, 18 cents; 2 pounds, 26 cents; 3 pounds, 34 cents; 4 pounds, 42 cents; 5 pounds, 50 cents; 6 pounds, 58 cents; 7 pounds, 66 cents; 8 pounds, 74 cents; 9 pounds, 82 cents; 10 pounds, 90 cents; 11 pounds, 98 cents, and each parcel sent to Algeria or Corsica will be subject to a charge of ten cents in addition to these rates.

A Long Walk.

Two men recently walked from Tete Jaune Cache to Fort George. It took them twenty-one days to walk the three hundred and fifteen miles down the Fraser river.

Now that not a single ship, flying the Stars and Stripes appeared in the Thames last year, the American congress is going to introduce a bill prohibiting Canadian ships using the Panama Canal. How about the hundreds of launches, flying the American flag which annually pass through the Trent Canal?

CANADA WAS FIRST.

Here Was the Premier Steamer to Cross the Atlantic.

It was the proud boast of those who designed and built the "mighty Titanic" that she was the "last word in marine engineering." That "last word" now lies at the bottom of the Atlantic, a shattered mass of steel and wood, surrounded in her vast sepulchre by many of the bodies of her heroic victims.

We have not the "last word" yet, but we have the first word, and it is interesting to look back and learn what it was.

To Canada belongs the honor of having constructed and navigated the first vessel to cross the Atlantic propelled wholly by steam power. That first of steamships was the Royal William, and its first trip across the Atlantic was made in 1833—twenty-four years after the St. Lawrence River was first navigated by steamboat, and three years before the earliest of Canadian railways was opened between Laprairie and St. Johns.

The Royal William was built by a joint stock company, and in the list of owners appear the names of the three brothers, Joseph, Henry and Samuel Cunard, of Halifax, N.S., founders of the famous Cunard Line. The Royal William was built at Quebec during the years 1830 to 1831, and the work was carried on in the yard of Campbell and Black, shipbuilders.

A native of Quebec designed the ship and superintended its construction. He was Mr. James Goudie, born in Quebec in 1809, and who died in 1892.

In the spring of 1831, the ship was launched with much ceremony. The dimensions were: Length, 176 feet; hold, 17 feet, nine inches; breadth outside, 44 feet; breadth between paddle-boxes, 28 feet. The ship was fitted with three masts, schooner rigged; and the builders' measurement was 1,370 tons, with accommodation for sixty passengers.

The launching having been successfully carried out, the vessel was towed to Montreal, where her machinery was put in and she was fitted out for sea. Her first voyage was from Montreal to Halifax, and for a time thereafter the ship traded between Montreal, Quebec and Boston.

Then came the voyage that gave the Royal William a permanent place in history — the voyage across the Atlantic. On August 5, 1833, the ship left Quebec for London, calling at Pictou, N. S. for coal, and to have machinery overhauled. She started again from Pictou on August 18 with seven passengers, 254 chaldrons of coal and a light cargo.

Off the banks of Newfoundland the Royal William encountered a severe gale which disabled one of the vessel's engines. However, the voyage was completed, the Royal William reaching London twenty-five days after leaving Pictou.

The subsequent career of the Royal William was out of the commonplace. Ten days after reaching London the Royal William was chartered by the Government of Portugal, and in the following year it was sold to Spain, and was converted into a war vessel, being given the name, Isabel Sigunda, and was employed against the forces of Don Carlos, pretender to the Spanish throne.

In a paper read before the Canadian Institute, Toronto, in December, 1892, Sir Sandford Fleming asserted that "to his mind it is incontestably established that the memorable voyage of the Royal William in 1833 must be held to be the first passage across the Atlantic under steam. She undoubtedly proved to be the pioneer of Atlantic steamships."

During the meeting of the Intercolonial Conference in Ottawa, in June, 1894, a brass tablet was affixed to the wall of the corridor leading to the library of Parliament, the tablet being to the honor of the men who built and navigated the Royal William. The brass plate was the gift of the Royal Society, and the presentation was made by the secretary, the late Sir John Bourinot, clerk of the House of Commons.

The tablet was then unveiled by His Excellency, the Governor-General, the Earl of Aberdeen.

Recorder Weir.

Recorder Weir is to Montreal what Col. Denison is to Toronto, and T. Mayne Daly was to Winnipeg—the dispenser of justice in the police court. He is known far and near for his "neatness and despatch"—particularly "despatch"—in dealing with prisoners. His reputation as a judge made him much sought after by debating societies in Montreal. A committee called him up over the phone to ask if he would be kind enough to render the award in a debate.

On the day of the debate the Recorder was unusually busy. He had sent various prisoners down for terms befitting the crimes. That evening he was on hand promptly at 8 o'clock. He heard the debate, analysed the merits and demerits of the speakers, pointing out the various shortcomings and achievements of the sides, giving a point here and there for this or that argument, and rendered his decision accordingly. At the conclusion of his remarks the applause was loud and long-continued. The Recorder was forced to rise to his feet again.

"This is, I believe," he said, "the first time I ever received an encore. My decisions, you know, are not usually received with such favor." Then the Recorder resumed his seat amid loud laughter.

Brave Indian Child.

At Nut Lake, Sask., the heroism of a little Indian girl saved a young white woman from death. The latter, Miss Hamilton, with two Indian children, a boy and a girl, were asleep in the house of the Indian agent, when fire broke out. Sounding the alarm the little girl roused Miss Hamilton and her brother, and sent the latter for their father, Keekeeshedues, on horseback. When the Indian man arrived he rushed into the house to rescue papers and was burned to death.

Fire By Lightning in Victoria Co.

Lindsay Warder: Mr. Newman Smith, who resides on the 3rd concession of Somerville, suffered a severe loss by the electrical storm of Thursday night, when his barn and contents, which consisted of a quantity of fodder and seed grain, was destroyed by fire. In the castle stable underneath the building were 300 hens, 8 horses and 5 head of cattle. The building was struck about 11 o'clock, before the family had retired.

TWO STRANGE WOMEN.

What They Would Do if Closeted Together For a Night.

Edna Ferber writes a fiction story in the American Magazine in which the principal character is Emma McChesney, a traveling saleswoman. On one of her trips she took her son with her, a boy of seventeen. This boy had to spend the night with a stranger in a country hotel. Next morning his mother asked him about his roommate. The boy knew very little, not even the name of the man with whom he stayed, whereupon Emma McChesney broke out as follows:

"Men are the cussedest creatures. This chap occupied the same room with you last night and you don't even know his name. Funny! If two strange women had found themselves occupying the same room for a night they wouldn't have got to the kimono and back hair stage before they would know not only each other's name, but they'd have tried on each other's hats, swapped corset cover patterns, found mutual friends living in Dayton, O., taught each other a new Irish crochet stitch, showed their family photographs, told how their married sister's little girl nearly died with swollen glands and divided off the mirror into two sections to paste their newly washed handkerchiefs on. Don't tell me men have a genius for friendship."

SUSPENSION BRIDGES.

They Were Common in Peru in the Days of the Incas.

Suspension bridges, some of them of considerable length, were common in Peru in the days of the Incas. They were formed of cables of twisted osiers passed over wooden supports and stretched from bank to bank, then bound together with smaller ropes and covered with bamboo. The road from Cusco to Quitto is still noted for frail bridges of this sort, which are in constant use and span deep chasms.

The Chinese also, according to Kircher, have for centuries been familiar with the "suspension" theory and have constructed chain bridges in which the weight of the roadway is supported by the tension of the chains.

The first iron suspension bridge in Europe was built over the Tees, near Middleton, in 1741, for the use of miners. Two chains were stretched in a straight line, steadied by ties from the banks below, and the roadway for foot passengers was supported by the chains.

The modern suspension system practically dates from 1816, when bridges, both over 100 feet in length, were successfully completed at Galashiels and Peebles.—London Standard.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

T. HERBERT LENNOX, K.C., M.P.P., President The T. Sisman Shoe Co., Ltd., President.
WALTER COLLIS, ESQ., Leather Manufacturer, Toronto, Ontario, Vice-President.
W. G. FISCHER, ESQ., Commission Leather Merchant, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary-Treasurer.
WM. J. BALDWIN, ESQ., Mayor of the Town of Aurora.
W. PERCY GILLESPIE, ESQ., W. Percy Gillespie & Co., Investment Brokers, Toronto, Ont.

In offering these shares for investment, we feel that we are inviting the public to purchase stock in an industry in which the profits are very large, and the demand for the product is ever increasing.

It is a well known fact that the shares of our Canadian Tanneries are very closely held, and the public seldom have an opportunity of procuring any.

On March 11th, 1912, the Burgesses of the Town of Aurora voted in favor of granting The Collis Leather Company, Limited, a cash bonus of Ten Thousand Dollars, the Company's property is exempt from Taxation for Ten Years (except school tax) and it has also been granted water from the Town free for all time.

The factory is now under construction, to be completed on or before the 1st Day of July, 1912, and will be 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, and four storys high.

The Company's specialty will be the manufacture of calf leather.

Mr. Walter Collis has had over Thirty Years' experience as a tanner, and thoroughly understands all departments of the business. Mr. Collis will have direct charge of the Tannery.

The capacity of the factory will be Eighteen Hundred calfskins per day, or an average of Eighteen Thousand Feet per day. A most conservative estimate of the net profit is one-half cents per foot.

Estimated Net Profits:
18,000 ft. per day, one-half cent per foot, $90.00, with 300 working days per year ... $27,000.00
Less business insurance and depreciation per year 7,000.00
$20,000.00

Or approximately 20 per cent on entire issued capital.

The Company has purchased from Mr. Collis all his Tanning formula, and will issue in payment thereof One Hundred shares of fully paid up stock.

Of the total amount of shares offered for sale, the Directors have subscribed for more than one-third.

The terms are 25 per cent on application, 25 per cent in Thirty, 25 per cent in Sixty, and 25 per cent in Ninety days.

We reserve the right to allot only such applications, and for such amounts as may be approved the application lists may be closed without notice.

Lindsay Men Victims of Horses.

By somewhat strange coincidence, within twenty-four hours, a former Lindsay man, Mr. Alfred Johns, met his death by injuries inflicted in Peterborough, by a horse, and another Lindsay man on Sunday, was seriously hurt by a similar quadruped. It seems that in Lindsay, on Sunday morning, a young man named Martin Quillen, who resides in South Ops township, hitched up a colt in order to drive to mass at St Mary's church, when the animal bolted and ran away. The young man was thrown out and his right leg broken between the knee and the ankle. He was carried to his home and Dr. McAlpine sent for.

ONE TELEPHONE SYSTEM ONLY.

Canada recognizes the telephone service of the country can be only handled satisfactorily, and economically for subscribers, by one concern—the present Bell company; this has again been proved. A few days ago, we noted the evident unsatisfactory conditions in the far Western Provinces, which has attempted to operate government telephone service. We quoted extracts from Western papers firmly clinching this contention.

Now, another proof has been witnessed in the Province. Mr. Fred Reinke, proprietor of the Wentworth Telephone Co., has sold out his interests to the Bell Co. The Wentworth Company had struggled along until it had 320 rural subscribers, with 4 changes at Ancaster and Lynden. Mr. Reinke promoted the company, and evidently became sole owner.

Possibly, the most serious point for general consideration, is the future companies that may be formed to act in opposition to the Bell. We have seen it here in Peterborough at least once. A good smooth talker with a sufficient smattering of telephone expressions, including "transmitter," "return circuit," "conduits," etc., enters a town or village. After looking round for a day or two, during which he has spent more or less money treating prominent citizens, he opens his campaign in earnest. He assures the citizens, especially those with money, that the charges made by the Bell Co. are exorbitant. He shows clearly, on paper, or over the bar, how the residents of that district, with his assistance, could erect and operate a better service for less charge to the subscribers. One of his first moves in the game, is to be nominated "official promoter." This involves a good salary and a block of stock for promoter's fees. The good people, dazzled by the promise of cheaper service, and big interest on stock, draw their money from the bank or cupboard teapot. Poles are erected, a brand new switch board arrives, looking like veritable wealth ahead. Gangs of men climb the poles stringing wires and attaching cable boxes. Girls are employed, generally of leading family, a necessity with all telephone companies, and, more stock is subscribed for. The office opens, and the service begins. At last John Smith is anxious to get Dr. Jones at once, over the phone. Unfortunately, the Doctor is on the Bell Company's lines. This "contre-temps" occurs daily, if not hourly. When the first day for payment of dividends arrives, the directors are sorry, but expenses, at the opening of the plant have absorbed all the receipts. Two or three other semi-annual dividend days arrive, with no dividends paid. In the meantime, the promoter has sold the stock granted him gratis, and gone to fish for financial suckers elsewhere. Then the climax! The Bell Company is approached by the directors and the company is sold out to best advantage possible. The poor stockholder, after a dream of golden dividends, takes what he can get, and is out of the use of his money for two or three years. Is it fair? Is it honest? Is it Canadian justice that so palpable a fraud can be perpetrated on a confiding public? Then, we hear of a telephone service to be operated by mechanical means, thus eliminating the wages of the Central operators. How much have such companies paid their shareholders to date? It is generally understood that a somewhat similar opposition concern, operating in this city, ran for some years, giving their subscribers free service. A good opportunity for such fortunate subscribers, as were connected with other "D.H." subscribers on the system. Still, dear at the price, when and where such free telephone users wanted to get REAL telephone service, i.e. when they want connection with the vastly larger Bell list of subscribers, but, especially when they want "Outside" or long distance service. People with money to invest should keep their eyes on this and other towns, where opposition to the Bell, and, incidentally, their, the opposition's good, hard-earned dollars, have gone.

Couldn't Get Strong

SEEMED TO HAVE LOST ALL AMBITION, WAS PALE AND ANAEMIC.

Made Wonderful Recovery When Dr. Hamilton's Pills Were Used.

"I was never actually sick" writes Mrs. La Pierre, wife of a well known resident of Labeniene, "yet I never could get strong like other women. I ate well enough, but somehow blood rich and red I could never make. When I married I took a great pride in my housekeeping, but it kept me tired all the time. Mrs. Lechance, my neighbor, looked well—she told me her health had been made by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I only thought of pills as a physic, but now I know that Dr Hamilton's Pills are more, for they quickened my stomach, liver and bowels—made me stouter and stronger, gave me such color in my cheeks as I never had before. They do good to parts in ways I need not mention in this letter, but I sincerely believe Dr. Hamilton's Pills should be used at regular intervals by every woman—that's why I write this letter."

No medicine invigorates a woman like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c per box, all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

FREE TOLLS FOR COASTWISE.

In view of the fact, that some talk has been had, through Canadian papers, recently, to the effect that Canadian ships would be practically debarred from the Panama Canal, it is interesting to see the following, taken from a New Orlean's paper of latest date:

"By a decisive vote the U. S. House of Representatives declared for free tolls through the Panama Canal for American ships in the coastwise trade.

"In the course of the debate the fact was stressed that there is nothing in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty to require the United States to impose tolls on its coastwise shipping, which shipping is confined by law to American vessels and no foreign vessels can engage in that trade, hence the latter would not be discriminated against if our coastwise ships were exempted from tolls.

"All maratime nations repay to their merchant marine the amount paid by them for tolls through the Suez canal, and Secretary of War Stimson has suggested that there is no difference between repaying the toll charges and exempting American ships from tolls in the first place. The country is unwilling, however, to pay a subsidy to American ships in the foreign trade, and the repayment of tolls to such ships would be objected to as a form of subsidy. But the situation is different with regard to coastwise shipping which is exclusively American, and so long as foreign nations cannot enter into this trade there is no reason why they should raise any objection if our coastwise ships are relieved of canal tolls.

"The truth is no such objection has ever been raised, and it is not likely that any foreign nation will undertake to tell the United States what it shall do in its own affairs."

FRAUDULENT MARKS.

The Canadian Journal of Commerce, of last issue, has a strong article on fraudulent trade marks. This is a matter which concerns not only the manufacturers seeking protection for their goods, but the public in general. The article says, in part:

"At the last meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Great Britain the other day, representatives of the British Chamber of Commerce of Paris, France, were very outspoken in denouncing the frauds perpetrated by European Continental manufacturers and shop-keepers in their desire to take advantage of the prestige of British manufactures. Several illustrations were given, the most striking being those connected with the hat and cap trade, the goods being in every case of Italian or French manufacture. They found such names stamped on hats caps as "Linton and Co., London"; "Kempton" (with the British hat stamp); "Lingonnet," London (apparently meant for an imitation of Lincoln, Bennett); "English Hat Manufacturing Co., Ltd."; "Scotland's Caps, best in the world"; "London's Specialty"; "Willy's, London"; "English, made in London"; "Wallis"; [illegible] "Little and Co."; "Maxon, made in London"; "Stockport, London" (in this case a Belgian house); "Steak, Piccadilly, London"; "Bentley and Co., London." Several of these marks were accompanied by the British Royal Arms, and they had proofs that the goods were in no case of British manufacture."

Editorial Notes

After a painstaking analysis Dr. Wiley announces that his new boy baby is exactly 100 per cent. pure baby.

When the Roosevelt and Taft delegates get together at the Chicago convention they will make the Mexican revolution look as peaceful as a Bible class.

"When I think," says the Hon. Bill Taft "of what Roosevelt said of me a year ago I feel like blushing." When the public thinks of what the Hon. Ted is saying of him to-day it feels like hiding its head in disgust.

The Methodist Conference voted down the suggestion to lift the ban on dancing. Nevertheless we shall continue to hear the slogan, "On with the dance and let joy be unconfined."

"The objection of the clergy to the proposed new 3-cent piece is that it will reduce the church place collections," at least so says the United States press.

The general public ought to feel thankful that Dr. Wiley's baby is taking up a good deal of space in the newspapers that otherwise might be filled with the campaign speeches of Roosevelt and Taft.

The other day Senator Maritine delivered an eloquent eulogy of New Jersey applejack which convinced the Senate that his knowledge concerning the product was not gained from hearsay.

Jamaica is making a desperate fight against the "Panama disease," which has caused such havoc in the banana plantations of Panama, Costa Rica, Dutch Guiana and Trinidad. On twenty-six infected acres the plants have been cut down, and the roots dug up, treated with lime, exposed to the sun, and then covered with earth. An extraordinary precaution is disinfecting the feet of all persons and animals that pass through a plantation where the disease exists, in order that the bacteria may not be carried to adjoining properties.

DOGS ARE SPARED.

Friendless Dogs in New York Saved From Vivisection or Death by Efforts of S.P.C.A.

New York, N. Y., May 28.—Friendless dogs found friends yesterday in the judiciary committee of the city council. The amendment to the city code under which unredeemed canines may be disposed of by the city pound to hospitals and medical departments of universities for vivisection was defeated by a unanimous vote.

Mrs. Theodore Thomas, president of the Anti-Cruelty society; John L. Shortall, president of the Humane Society; Mrs. Harry Hammer, Mrs. Robert L. Gifford, Miss Ewing, Miss Mary Drummond, and a number of other humanitarians were present when the amendment was ordered filed, "disposing of it forever," as Chairman Dever explained. They cheered so they could be heard all over the fourth floor of the city hall.

Ald. Joseph Badenoch, father of the measure, told the committee that he thought it was a good thing.

"The state board of health and the city health department is favorable to the amendment," he said. Secretary Pritchard, of the city health department nodded. "I am one of the kindest hearted men in the world. I have taken men by the neck for abusing horses in the streets, and I've stopped many a man from abusing a dog."

BATTLESHIP AGROUND.

U.S.S. Nebraska Goes Ashore at Southwest Pass at Mouth of Mississippi.

New Orleans, May 28.—The battleship Nebraska ran aground late today in the southwest pass at the mouth of the Mississippi river while bound from New Orleans to Hampton Roads. The ocean tugs R. W. Wilmot and W. G. Wilmot left New Orleans at 6.15 p.m. to give assistance. They will reach the Nebraska about 2 a.m. The position of the Nebraska is not regarded as dangerous.

At 8 p.m. the Associated Press received the following wireless despatch from Capt. W. W. Wood, of the Nebraska:

"Nebraska resting easier on outer bar, southwest Pass. Awaiting arrival of tugs. No danger. Wood."

ment, that her statement is true, has she not been taught in the convent that there are higher things in life than her own comfort and convenience? Has she never heard of whilst there of brave Catholic women who made notable sacrifices for conscience sake, of those who gave up a good deal more than she would be asked to sacrifice in order to serve God and keep His commandments. Thank God, Gertrude is not the average convent type, as most of the young women who have been trained by our Sisters reflect credit upon their teachers. It is greatly to be regretted that even a small percentage of them consider their convent training as a reason for being faithless to the best traditions of Catholic womanhood."

It would appear from the above that Gertrude will have to obey, or take the consequences.

CLAIMS NO INTERFERENCE, BY CLERGY.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir.—Might I be permitted a brief space in your paper to correct an erroneous impression which perhaps may have been created in the minds of some of your readers, by certain statements contained in your recently published letter of Dr. Derby regarding schools in the County of Prescott. I have been principal of the Plantagenet High School for five years, and during that time there has been absolutely no interference on the part of the local clergy or others, in the affairs of either the High or Public schools. The Roman Catholic priest of this place has never visited either of these schools, and has never to the slightest extent, interfered in the management of either. That statement is true, also, of all the other schools in his parish. I am likewise acquainted with the conditions in many of the surrounding schools, and throughout the county, and I have invariably found that the clergy have made it a point to leave school affairs in the hands of the school trustees.

I do not deny, as Dr. Derby states, that there are certain influences at work which seek to curtail the usefulness of our High School, which are striving indeed to abolish it, but to my certain knowledge, Dr. Derby makes a mistake when he lays the responsibility for this at the door of the clergy. He certainly should look elsewhere for his "occult force." It is not at all difficult to find.

As for the case he speaks of in a certain village, where the teacher taught English only "on Fridays," that, in my opinion, must have been an abnormal case even then, in 1903, and certainly would rarely be found now. One has only to consult Dr. Merchant's report to see that such conditions, and the bilingual situation in general, are now known in detail to the Department, and we can safely leave their settlement in the hands of the Government.

—J. C. Walsh.

Reply.—The above letter was received from Mr. Walsh, principal of Plantagenet, Ont., high school. —Ed. Times.

THE GREAT AMERICAN GAME.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—A few days ago I spoke to a local gentleman regarding baseball. The man I spoke to was an evident Englishman. He said, "No Sir, I do not go to the baseball games. I am an Englishman, and want a game of cricket or lacrosse. Baseball is an essentially Yankee game. You can hear Yankee expressions used at every game. The very accent of the players demonstrates their American origin. I have nothing to say against baseball, but give me one game of lacrosse or cricket before all the whole season's games of baseball."

—J. C. Ressor.

Reply—We would respectfully reply that whilst lacrosse is supposed to be Canada's national game, and thousands of our citizens enjoy it in preference to baseball, the whole thing is THE MAJORITY RULES. Now if 421 people pay admission to a game of lacrosse and 3777 pay their way to a game of baseball. Why? What are you going to do. The public provide the money for athletic sports, and if that same public will pay $2.75 for every 20 for a game of baseball and only 21 for lacrosse or cricket, it is up to the English and English minded or John Canucks to see that conditions are changed, should the public demand it. At present, it seems that Canada, whilst in no way thereby is bound to any American connection by patronizing baseball. It is a good game. As played here an honest, an honorable and an enjoyable game. Put the soft pedal on your prejudices and try one or two games. Keep away, for the first few games you take in, from the players' bench. A certain percentage of them hail from the U. S., and bring the accent of their district. Just the same, would an Englishman going from Yorkshire to, say, California, take his speech with him, and little harm it would do him. Good clean sport is sport all the world over, whether Canadian, Yankee, Lancashireman or Montenegarian do the yelling.—Sport Ed. Times.

THE PICTURE SHOWS.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir.—It is with pleasure that I congratulate the Times on the manly stand it has taken in regard to the moving picture places. You have compelled these places to keep the aisles and fronts clear, which is necessary in case of fire or panic.

Now, sir, I would like to have you begin a campaign for a higher license to these places. I would have the licenses placed at $1000 each. They might be made payable quarterly or half yearly, if necessary, but they should be increased.

I hope you will take the matter up at once and fight it through.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,

—Ratepayer.

Reply.—The Times is preparing a statement for publication regarding moving picture shows, which will include licenses charged in other places—towns and cities throughout the country. We certainly think it would be in order to boost the licenses. —Ed. Times.

THE BASEBALL GAME.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir.—I have read several of your interesting articles and letters in your paper about baseball. I quite agree with the sentiments you express editorially when you say: "It is up to the public and the majority of the public to decide whether they want lacrosse, cricket or baseball." You hit the nail square on the head with your argument, expressed editorially. As far as I am concerned, I cam from the "Midlands," where cricket is "all the go." I have taken every place on an eleven, from shortstop, bowler, to catcher, and love that good old English game. Since coming to Canada I have seen several games of your national game, Lacrosse. I have seen the Montreal Cognawanglis, Tecumsehs, Torontos and other crack teams play. As a result my ideas have changed, as has my present home, to Canada and her games. Lacrosse is a gentleman's and a clean sportsman's game.

On the other hand, I closely watched the last three or four games of baseball played in Peterborough, and must admit that, from the boys who carried the bats to basemen and umpires, everything was strickly straight and sportsmanlike. I could see no fraction of a doubt, but what the game was not only interesting, but played fairly.

Still, one thing struck me a little the wrong way, just as a cat is supposed to feel when its fur is rubbed from tail headwards. This is what. Nearly every player I could hear speak used a marked Yankee accent. Does this mean that baseball is helping to Americanize Canada. Why, Mr Editor! I even heard a local reporter, whom, I was told, was born and bred in this city, as he got excited and jumped up and down from his seat yelling at each play, use not only Americanisms, but use a marked (what I am told is) Down East Yankee twang. Does this mean that baseball is Americanizing Canada?

—B. B. Butcher.

Reply.—In response to our subscriber's query, we might say, once more "the public must decide what sport they want." Also, as far as the reporter referred to is, from the writer's description, we think, he must have mixed up some "FAN" with a supposed reporter. — Ed. Times.

CHINAMEN COMMITTED FOR TRIAL FOR GAMBLING

At yesterday's session of the Police Court, eleven descendents of the Manchu dynasty were on trial.

Three of them, Lee Hang, Lee Yew and Lee King, were charged with being keepers of a disorderly house—to wit, a common gaming house, at 464 George street.

Mr. J. W. Curry, of Toronto, and Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the defence. Crown Attorney Wood acted for the prosecution, and Charlie Lee King of Toronto, performed the duties of interpreter.

The Crown asked for an adjournment on the ground that P. C. Kidd, a material witness in the case, had unexpectedly been called out of town, and only one witness for the Crown remained. The Magistrate ruled otherwise and the case proceeded.

Detective Newhall, the chief witness, noted how he, and other policemen entered the premises by way of a second story window. A card game was in progress. The officer submitted to a severe cross examination, but maintained to his first story. The keepers of the house were committed for trial. Bail in the sum of $100 each was granted the three Chinese charged with being keepers.

FUNERAL HELD UP.

Green Sweater With Burial Certificate, is Mislaid.

Boston, May 28.—A funeral cortege arrived at a Dedham cemetery, drove up by an open grave and the mourners gathered about. Then there was a hitch. The burial certificate could not be found. One of the undertaker's assistants had put it in a sweater coat pocket and the sweater had been stolen.

While the mourners waited beside the body the police of Boston were notified to watch for a man wearing a green sweater. Policeman Murphy, of station 1, found Joseph Lunkazabeht wearing a green sweater, in the pocket of which was the burial certificate.

Judge Creed sentenced Lunkazabeht to four months at Deer Island for larceny. The defendant has served time in state prison and other places for larceny and burglary.

ZANFRETTA FAMILY WITH HOWE'S GREAT LONDON SHOWS

There are many novel acts with the Great London Shows which are certain to be well received in every city lucky enough to secure a visit from the consolidated enterprises. There are acts which were never seen in America until this show opened its season of 1912, for the reason that there was no amusement enterprise great enough to afford the large salaries which the artists demand, and no institution with sufficient prestige to attract the attention of such celebrated performers.

The Zanfretta Family of acrobats, for instance, perform feats which have never been seen in other shows.

The Great London Circus will exhibit in Peterborough on June 6.

A Times reporter armed with a big umbrella, took a walk yesterday morning to the ball grounds. Riverside Park looked more like a swamp than a place to play ball.

The George street choir will render a select programme in the Theatre at the Summer Fair on Thursday night. The programme will be found elsewhere in this issue.

LAND OF NORTH WIND

KEEWATIN IS A VAST AREA OF LAKES AND RIVERS.

For Just 300 Years Port Nelson Has Been on the Map of Canada—The Winter There Is Colder and the Summer Is Just as Hot — The Indian's Strongest Drink Is Tea—Hudson Bay Co. Supreme.

"I will share my kingdom with you—
Ruler shall you be thenceforward;
Of the northwest wind, Keewaydin,
Of the Home wind, the Keewaydin."

When Mudjekeewis, the West Wind and ruler of all the other winds of heaven, gave the Northwest Wind to his son, Hiawatha, after the famous trial of his strength in the great fight, as told in the legends of the Objibways, and translated into literature by Longfellow, Port Nelson as a port had not yet been placed upon the map. Indeed, it is doubtful if there were as yet any such things as maps, unless Hiawatha himself made a map of his territory on a sheet of birch bark. Possibly, indeed, the port itself at that time lay fathoms deep under the sea. Not until Sir Thomas Burton came there, first of white men, in 1612, did Port Nelson get itself on the now known map, and not till Sir Thomas' mate, Mr. Nelson, died there, some time during that winter of 1612-1613, did Port Nelson get even its name.

Thus for just exactly 300 years has Port Nelson been on the map of North America, and for just exactly 242 years it has been in business as a port. Until now, that business had but little concern with settled Canada, however, being chiefly dealings of the native inhabitants of the woods and prairies of the far Northwest, with a company of honorable gentlemen in London. The present outstanding feature of the new Government's achievements during its first session at Ottawa just closed, has been the gracious granting of a section of Keewatin to Ontario as another vacant lot to add to the provincial back yard, together with railroad right to Port Nelson, across Manitoba's portion of said territory, same said territory consisting of Hiawatha's ancient land grant, the home of the Northwest Wind. Manitoba gets another and bigger portion, together with partnership rights in Port Nelson, the former fur trade seaport on Hudson Bay.

One hundred million acres or more of spruce bush, clay levels, sandhills, granite escarpments, big and little, inland lakes and rivers great and small, level sweeps of muskeg, bearing thinly scattered stunted spruce, feathery tamarac on scraggy jackpine—Hiawatha's land—unsurveyed except for the main rivers, and the salt water coast line. Still, after all, these vivid changes throughout the other home lands of the Crees and the Objibways — undespoiled, lonely, and primeval!

Keewaydin still spreads a blanket of snow three feet deep every winter over those lonely little lakes. Old Nokomis still puts out her rabbit snares in the forest along the frozen shores, still sets her fish nets through the ice. And in the spring, when Shawondasee, the South Wind, breathes upon the ice, and the rivers break and the eager buds of the silver birches and the northern poplars swell into tender young leaves, every valley becomes a dimple of delicious green, each nesting its own small fragment of the sky as reflected in Keewatin's innumerable lakes. The summer comes late to those little Keewatin lakes, but when it begins to come it comes without reaction or delay. The water lilies spread their green pads and the immaculate blossoms burst from the bud about as early as do ours here in the southern part of the province.

Midsummer comes contemporaneously with ours, and is almost as hot. The moose wades out deep into the tepid water to escape the flies, and to dive down for lily roots. The woodland caribou mother leads her spring calf into the lake to teach it to swim, so that the migration will not be hindered when in the fall the time comes to move further southward. The wooly little wild ducks hatch out to float and flutter around the mirrored ponds, and the glimmer-glass bays. The partridge broods rustle through the ground leaves and learn to fly up into low branches of the thick-set spruce or the glistening birch trees. The mink and the muskrat go about their business of catching clams, building houses, and rearing fur-bearing families for old Skutawaboe and his family to trap, when, in a few short months, Keewaydin, the Northwest Wind, freezes the country up again. In Keewatin—as we spell it now—winter comes by the end of October, and winter is the period of old Skutawaboe' most active industry. In the meantime Skutawaboe and his family and all his relatives are down at Port Nelson or Fort Severen or Fort Albany, camping in the clearance outside the company's fences down by the shore, living on flour and pork and fish and dissipating on tobacco and tea. For despite his name "Firewater," Skutawaboe doesn't drink much stronger stuff than well-boiled tea. He lives too far away from the refining influences of civilized society. He can t get it, in short. The Hudson Bay Co. won't supply it—they went out of the rum business in Sir George Simpson's time. He may get an odd drink or two, if he ever finds himself down as far as Sioux Lookout on the Grand Trunk Pacific construction, twenty miles or so south of the former boundary between Keewatin and Ontario, and about 180 miles north of Fort William. Or a "sport" might occasionally pass him his flask some time in the fall when old Skutawaboe had helped him find a moose or a caribou.
